Not a Mock Auction.

Julius Rotholz, the Tenth street pawnbroker, denies that he is in any manner con nected with the mock auction shops on that street, described in Sunday's Brg and pro-nounces especially unfounded, the suspicion, that he is the owner of the shop at No. 418%. He claims that he went out of the busi ness last July, and has since devoted himself to other lines.

Sebastopal.

The nightly productions of the wonderful spectacle, the Siege of Sebastopol, continue to be the great amusement feature. The various troops employed in the siege are grow-ing in skill and the whole performance now works without a hitch of any sort. Special set pieces are added to the fireworks display every evening, announcements of which will appear from day to day.

King in Name Only. A man named Will N. King, who has done

advertising soliciting in this city, is said to have left some of his friends unpaid in sundry sums loaned him, and amounting to about $350. It is also stated that he has obtained money under divers representations and various ways, promuent among which was the giving of worthless checks. His whereabouts at present are unknown.

Another Cemetery.

Omaha is to have another cemetery several miles out on the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley road. The site has been definitely located and A. N. Carpenter, the landscape engineer of Galesburg, Ill., who has laid out a number of public parks, is now at work upon the plans. These will be finished in a couple of weeks. The projectors of the enterprise are E. A. Benson, C. W. Conkling, F. L. Bloomer, P. W. Berkhauser, A. Cajori and several others.

Contracts and Estimates.

At the meeting of the board of public works the contracts for grading Jackson street from Twenty-seventh to Twenty-eighth, Thirty-sixth from Leavenworth to Park and Poppleton avenue from Thirty sixth to Beit line railway was awarded to Michael Elmore, his bill of 12% cents per cubic yard being the lowest.

Bagged With Boodle.

A meanly clad and sneaking looking fellow giving the name of Frank Rotholz was arrested yesterday on the charge of being a suspicious character. There were found secreted in various parts of his clothes $511.40. He claims to be a laborer, and says that this money was saved by him from his carnings. But his actions are considered condemnatory and the policy believe that they have my in some specific believe that they have run in some sneak thief who has been doing the fair.

A Burglary Frustrated.

Sunday night about 90'clock, while the family of Major Wilson with some visitors were enjoying a chat on the front steps in front of their residence, 1721 Davenport street, a burglar gained entrance to the second floor by climbing the posts to the veranda in the rear. He was accidentally discovered by Charles Wilson after he had lighted the gas. An alarm was given and a rush made for the intruder. He climbed down the pillars of the porch and made his escape, though he had not succeeded in taking anything away.

He Loaned $50. A granger named Peter Sampson, from Waterloo, is the latest victim of the bogus check racket. He met a most companionable fellow who claimed to be L. Banks Wilson, of Hedford, Ia., and who had exhibited a fine let of stock at the fair. The bogus Mr. Wil-son drew from his pocket a bogus check call-ing for $55, which he said had been given to him as first premium on his stock. After drinking freely with Sampson, Wilson in-duced him to loan him $50 on the check. After securing the money the sharper disappeared and has not been seen since.

now make the street one of the pleasantest in the city. A number of them think the thoroughfare distined for a business street and demand a full twenty-foot sidewalk, while others want to spare their leafy favor-ites for a few years at least and lay a six-foot sidewalk. Ultimately, however, the trees will have to go.

The relatives of Charles Collins, of Plattsmouth, are very much concerned over his disappearance. He has been visiting his brother-in-law, L. C. Irvin, 2710 Seward street, and Sunday evening about 6 o'clock he started to call on the family of George Tutbury, living at 1309 Webster. Mr. Tutbury's family were absent at the time but the reighbors away amay answer. time, but the neighbors saw a man answering the description of Collins, knock on the front door and then leave. Since then he has not been seen. He had $300 on his person and foul play is feared.

Unsightly Structures.

The contractors for the paving of South Twentieth street from Pierce to Center have had all sorts of obstacles to contend with. The street is a bog in the first place, and the operations of the water and gas companies in laying their mains have made the matter worse. The ramshackle, knock-kneed pile bridges used by the Union Pacific and B. & M. railways are an eye-sore and promise to remain so, because, though notice after notice to replace them with suitable structures has been served on the roads, the structures remain in their primitive unsightliness.

Caught Three Bears.

Judge Brewer, H. J. Davis, and Henry Sharp have returned from their four-weeks' bear-hunt in and about Medicine Bow park, Wyoming. They each have great stories about the killing of the three bears that the party scalped. Judge Dundy has the honor of having brought down the only real, live, loose cinnamon. The remaining two wild beasts were trapped and then killed. The judge, Elmer Frank and Henry Estabrook mained a few days longer to try and add one more scalp to the string,

It Was All a Mistake.

OMARA, Sept. 8 .- To the Editor of THE BEE: We wish to correct some misstatements made in your morning issue of the 7th, in which it is stated that Dion Geraldine did not allow his traveling men to enter the traveling men's parade. Such is not the case. On the contrary, Mr. Geraldine proposed to pay the expenses of all Deering men who wished to enter the parade, including uniform and fees. He also provided a coach and six horses, and said all could ride who aid not wish to walk. All rode from choice. The boys had a pleasant time, were glad to meet and greet Nebraska travelers, and were cheered by them when our coach passed through the open ranks of the travelers, There seems to have been a few travelers, however, we are sorry to say, who took exception to our using our pleasure about walking when a comfortable convey-ance was furnished free. Neither Mr. Geraldine nor his men intended any insult to the travelers, nor in any sense did anything to the detriment of their parade. We concede that their parade was a success without any of us being in the ranks and fail to see why any person should feel called upon to make this state-ment to the public. We, as the travelers, went into the coach from choice. It is true, some question was raised about our coach crossing the street on which the ine of travelers were standing. After we had finished our drive in the parade, we were trying to get to a point beyond where Mr. Heyn, the photographer, was waiting to take us in, coach and all, when a malicious attempt was made to prevent our coach from passing by parties in travelers' uniform, who loudly proclaimed that they proposed to get even with us for not joining the parade. They succeeded for a few moments in convincing an ignorant policeman that it was his duty to stop the coach, until one of the mounted superintendents arrived, who ordered room made and the coach passed on. In conclusion we would say, long live the

A NEW POLITICAL ORGANIZATION The Local German Citizens Organize a Club.

About two hundred Germans met at Germania hall Sunday afternoon for the purpose of organizing an independent German political club.

John P. Paulsen and Ernest Grebe were elected temporary chairman and secretary, respectively, and on motion of Philip Andres these same gentlemen were elected the permanent officers of the organization.

Manont officers of the organization.

A committee consisting of Fred Schnake, Paul Weinbagen and Phillip Andres was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws and report on the same at a meeting to be held next Sunday. A committee of five was appointed by the chair to select a name for the organization. Two were suggested, one being the Central German Democratic Club of Omaha, and the other the Omaha German Personal Liberty club. After a lengthy discussion on the subject the former name was chosen.

A number of enthusiastic speeches were made on the necessity of such a club in Omaha, the prohibition question and the general political situation Another meeting will be held next Sunday

He had run the Council Bluffs dummy for some time. He was a brother-in-law of H. D. and D. W. Shull. His funeral will take place to morrow, at an hour yet to be announced. The remains will e interred in Prospect Hill.

Patrick Quinlan.

At II o'clock yesterday Patrick Quinlan, an old and well-known settler, passed peacefully away at his residence, Twelfth and Jones streets. He was born in Ireland sixtyven years ago, and came to America in 14. In 1853 be located in Omaha and engared in the then very hazardous occupation of freighting across the pialns to Denver. He was one of the few that survived the daugers and hardships of the life, and after amassing a competency, he invested in Omaha real estate, and for the past few years has been living in ease. He leaves five children, one of whom is Mrs. Patrick Desmond of this city.

Mrs. J. Blickensderfer.

Yesterday Mrs. J. Blickensderfer, mother of Superintendent Blickenssterfer, of the Union Pacific, passed peacefully away. The remains were conveyed to Oukland, Mo., on the private car of the superintendent, and will be interred in the family vault. Members of the family now in Omaha accompany them.

Charles Bonner. Charles Bonner, flagman on the Union Pacific, and brother of J. T. Bonner of THE Pacinc, and brother of J. T. Bonner of The Bee, was buried yesterday. The funeral left his old home, the Union Pacific hotel, and after a requiem mass by Father Kelly at the St. Philomena cathedral, proceeded to the St. Mary's cemetery, where the remains were intered. He was only twenty-two years of age. His funeral was one of the largest seen in Omaba. The pall bearers were Dan Clifton, Edward Newhouse, Con Kennedy, Frank Beecher, Mike Shinker and William Bohan.

Kicked by a Horse.

Charles McCarthy was kicked in the head by a horse yesterday at Seventeenth street and St. Mary's avenue. It was thought at first that his skull was fractured. He was taken to the Child's hospital and at midnight was doing well.

MEYERS ON HIS METTLE.

His Roof Must be Built as He Designed It. Architect Meyers, of the county hospital, was present at the letting of the contract for the heating and plumbing of the building yesterday. There were three bids for the work, ranging from $31,900 to $33,900. This seemed too high to the commissioners and they consulted with him on the subject. "I think the bids are very close," said Mr. Meyers to a BEE reporter, "considering the work that is to be done. In the first place, the specifications call for the very best of material. As this is an hospital we cannot use lead pipe on account of its we cannot use lead pipe on account of its correding and making the water unhealthy and the amount of brass pipe thus required makes quite an addition to what the cost would be if lead could be used.

"Then, too, in the heating, we are putting in the steam in separate systems through all the wards and rooms. This requires several times the number of valves the duplicate system would call for.

"By the separate system, I mean pipes and valves are so arranged that the heat can be turned off at the general radiater from any single room without effecting the heat in an of the other rooms in the ward. According to the old duplicate system if anything go wrong with the pipes, all the rooms in the ward would be without heat. This adds considerable to the expense now, but it is noney saved in the end. Then again the ventilating apparatus and air valves are put in the very best and latest improved manner, and these, together with the inlaying of the room-heating radiators and the large amount of cooking apartments required for such a hospital, make this feature of expense greater than the commission ers could understand. I consider the bids

Mr. Meyers was asked about the roof, and how the question of building it would be set-how the question of building it would be set-tied.

"They will put that roof on according to the plans" he replied, "or they will not put it on at all. If you remember, this same firm had the contract for putting in the iron stairway in the court house here. They did not follow the specification, and had to tear out the stairs. They told me then that, they would get even with me, and they think now is their chance. When they come to unt in is their chance. When they come to put in the iron supports for that roof I will be on hand, and will test their material. The iron the plans call for will support 60,000 pounds if it is the right quality. There is an iron the same size that is only sure for 12,000. I will see that they use the 60,000 material and follow the plans to the letter or they will leave the work. They will be here in a few days to begin their work and then the fun will begin,"

Mr. Meyers stated that the work on the building was progressing nicely. He considers it a very good job so far and will see to it that it is properly completed. He will re-main in town two or three days longer looking about the building

GRUMBLING RETAILERS.

They Do Not Enthuse Over the Recent

Entertainments. "Now that the circus and fair are over and the multitudes of strangers who thronged our streets have gone, it may be well to look at results," said a business man yesterday. "Undoubtedly it is a good thing to have the country visit the city and spend its money here, and it is claimed that great benefits are conferred on our merchants and their trade is largely increased. This may be true to a limited extent. Our jobbers are brought face to face with their customers, friendships are formed and the capabilities of Omaha to supply the wants of the territory tributary to it is demonstrated by inspection of her vast warehouses stocked from cellar to ceiling with merchandise of all kinds. In this much the jobbers are benefitted, and it would seem wise to continue. "But the retailers are a numerous class and fully entitled to consideration and from their growling over the depletion of their customers' pocketbooks by the attractions of last week, it is evident that they are not gainers by the boom which was supposed to have been given trade in Omaha by the cirus, the fair and the siege. The crowds spent their money down town and the resilents up town also spent their money down town, and in most instances spent more than they could afford and the sufferers from this extravagance are the retail merchants of

"It is well known here among merchants that the curse of trade is the credit system. Nine failures out of ten which oc-cur are directly occasioned by crediting too freely. Our traders admit this, but they say if we do not credst we cannot keep our trade, and they cannot unless they will all unite and agree to a system of weekly credits. Several attempts with this end in view have been made, but with poor success. Another effort will be made, I understand, next month, by calling a meeting of retailers to other effort will be made. I understand, next month, by calling a meeting of retailers to form an association for self protection.

"It is a fact that the real estate beom cramped retail trade more than any other one thing. People bought real estate on the instalment plan, met the first payments and hoped to sell before the second came due. They could not sell as the suckers had quit biting, and so they stood off their butcher, baker and grocer. Then came the trade strikes, and now the circus to take $30.000 to $40.000 in cash from the pockets of $30,000 to $40,000 in cash from the pockets of their customers. With all these depletions of the circulating medium it is not to be wondered that the retail trade is inclined to growl. I do not now refer to down-town retailers, who made a very good thing for last week's hubbub, but not what they expected, as there was fully as much money taken from circulation and away from the city by the attractions as was brought here by visi-

Roeder's Fatal Bullet.

George Roeder, druggist, located or Twelfth and Harney, is the brother of the unfortunate young man whose tragic death was described in a St. Louis dispatch to this paper. He told a BEE reporter he could con ceive of no reason for the rash act except possibly an overdose of drugs of some sort as the young man had always been rather reckless in their use in experiments. He was not dissipated, nor to his knowledge in trouble of any kind. He was doing well it his business, and no cause can be assigned except possibly temporary insanity or the influence of drugs. nfluence of drugs. He was well known in Omaha, having

BOYS' SCHOOL SUITS.

We are showing a larger stock of Boys' and Children's Clothing than all our competitors combined, and feel satisfied that we can "lead the trade" in this department of Clothing never was as cheap as it is now, and never did we mark our goods with such a small profit as we did this season. The larger the business we do the cheaper we can afford to sell.

We will inaugurate the fall season with a grand Boys' Clothing Sale, and as at the opening of schools, boys' clothing are mostly in demand, we propose to make the coming week the most memorable one in our boys department. We mean to surprise you with our bargains and that every garment that we sell shall be a big advertisement for

Here are only a few of the bargains which we offer this week: Two piece Children's Suit, size 4 to 13, at $1.00. We cannot describe this suit, but we ask you to come and see it. You will be astonished what a suit you can get in our store for $1.00. Other houses would charge $2.00 for such a suit and pretend to give you a bargain.

Two piece Children's Suits, of good cotton mixed Cassimere, heavy weight, nice patterns and well made, at $1.60.

But the greatest of all bargains is the Knee Pants Suit we are offer this season at $2.50. This is a suit we are proud to show. To call the material "all wool" would not mean much, as we have sold all wool suits at that price before, but we can truthfully say we never offered SUCH a suit for the money. This suit is conscientiously made with special view to wear. The material is honest all wool cassimere -- no shoddy. The pants are made with double thickness of cloth in knee and seat, and every seam is sewed strong. It is a perfect wear resister. Besides that it is neatly plaited and finished. Other houses would charge $5.00 for such a suit.

We are equally well prepared to fit larger boys from 12 to 18, and prices are made just the way the Nebraska Clothing Company does business---GIVING GREAT-EST VALUE FOR LEAST MONEY.
