He did not return, and it was evident to the firm that the team and buggy had been stolen. The man was traced to Omaha, and vesterday Mr. Wells arrived in this city. The police had been given the case several days ago, and succeeded in locating Wells' property. Davis had sold the team and carriage to Thomas Kirk, who resides on Half Howard street, between Twenty Second and Twenty Third streets, who had given a valuable horse for them, in addition to a certian sum in cash. Davis got wind of the fact that he was suspected of crookedness and levanted, leaving his horse at the Park barn, where it was found by the police. Mr. Wells' property was turned over to him, and Mr. Kirk gets his horse back, but is out whatever money he paid Davis.

THE NEW COLLISEUM. Its Grand Opening Will Occur in

October. A large gang of workmen began work Thursday afternoon on the grade and foundation for the new coliseum, at the corner of Twentieth and Spruce streets. The work will be pushed right forward with all possible expedition, as per contract, it must be in readiness for occupation by the 25th of October, upon which evening it is designed to open the establishment with a glittering programme, which is to include bicycle, horse and pedestrian races, pole jumping, skating contests, horses vs. bicycles, walking matches, dumb bell lifting, and a full and complete list of athletic attractions. John S. Prince, the manager, has already made engagements with W. J. Morgan, champion long distance rider of the world; W. W. But the bids were not opened. The opening was put off for two or three days, and yesterday we went down to watch it. There were about half a dozen contractors present and I think five councilmen. They immediately resolved themselves into a committee of the whole and adjourned to another room. We followed them, and when we got in one of them said that they had better lock the doors. We didn't care about their locking the doors are resolved they let us rooms in ing the doors provided they let us remain in. But they soon told us that we would have to go. A DEN OF THIEVES,

Broken Up and Its Occupants Run

Away. There has come to light the sudden decampment of a quartette of rascals doing business at 1620 Ciming street. Their names are George Horne, --- Dickinson, Harry Milliner and F. H. Willard, and they found the darkness of night a convenient time for

They pretended to be painters, but their real business has proved to be to rob and swindle people who were foolish enough to trust them. They rented the upper part of Mr. G. P. Muldoon's wagon shop at the number above mentioned, and in a shanty immediately in the rear kept four deprayed women, and the midnight orgies of the disreputable octette became so obnoxious to the neighborhood that they had to be suppressed neighborhood that they had to be suppressed by the police.

The most cunning of this band is George Horne, who comes from nowhere in particu-lar and is a fugitive from officers in half a dozen different cities. He stays in a city just long enough to make a good haul and then skips. It is chaimed that he is a forger, bigamist, thief and deadbeat. His field of exploits before coming to Omaha was Wichita, where he forged the name of a per-son with whom he pretended to go into partson with whom he pretended to go into part-nership, and securing a nice roll of money, nership, and securing a nice roll of money, skipped. A number of other persons also were swindled. Previous to this he was in Yankton, Dak, where he robbed a partner of about $150 in cash and some elegant clothing and then fled. After the aving Wichita he wandered to Omaha. He begged the firm of Wherry & Eaton for a job, and they, taking pity on him, as he appeared to be a worthy and intelligent man, set him to work, although they did not need his services. In the course of time they discovered the wolf they had with them, and he was discharged. Meanwhile, he had secured admission to the social organization known as the Sign Painters' cial organization known as the Sign Painters' association, but was later expelled for treachassociation, but was later expelled for treachery to the society. During this time he gave himself up to the vilest debauchery, which was varied by one of his wives appearing suddenly on the scene, much to his discomiture. He managed somehow to induce her to go away, and since then another wife arrived and with her he has been living of late, on Cass near Seventeenth street. But he again left her, and she says this is the fourth time he has decamped between two days and fied for unknown parts on account of his crookedness. Horne is rather tall, with light hair, large features, bleared eyes, pimpled face and talks like a man of education. He is about twenty-six years old. Dickenson is not as great a scoundrel as Dickenson is not as great a secondrel as Horne, on account of mental incapacity. He has been a feeble ally of Horne in all his thievery. He is of short stature with thin, dark moustache, staring eyes and a complex ion painted red with whisky. He is probably thirty years old. The other partners in this quartette were only admitted into the gang a few weeks ago but seem to prove yaluable allies.

F. H. Willard is about forty, although he looks considerable younger. He abandoned a wife and family in Conneaut, O., some time ago. He is about six feet high and his short black hair is sprinkled with gray.
Harry Miller, who has been the bogus contract maker of the gang, is about twenty-five years old, about five feet, of dark complexon, smooth face and short black hair. To him is credited the exploit of securing the Maguire outlit of strumpets who occupied the shanty in the rear of the shop.

After getting credit at all the different establishments in the city that they cov. 2, colecting money in advance from a number of green persons, they seized everything they could by their hands on and disappeared Mr. G. P. Muldoon, from whom they rented the rooms they occupied as a place of busi-ness on Cuming street, is the main sufferer. Not only was he foolish enough to trust them for several months' rent, but also went their security for considerable money, and now is forced to pay it. It is reported that they bought tickets for Columbus, O.

COGEN'S CLUB.

A Thrilling Battle in a Coming Street Horse Car.

Ed Cogen, driver of horse car No. 6, was on trial in the police court yesterday, charged with assault and battery. The affair occurred on Monday afternoon last, but Cogen was not arrested until Thursday. The facts of the case were about as fol lows: C. F. Hermann, inspector of public works, and Patrick Fox, a paving contractor boarded the car at the turn table at Fortieth street. On entering the car, Mr. Fox went forward, as he claims, and deposited a dime in the box for the fare of himself and Hermann. There were several ladies and two little children in the car at the time. After traversing several blocks, Cogen, the driver, rang the bell and looked back at the two gentlemen mentioned. Fox stepped to the forward part of the car and told the driver that he had paid their and told the driver that he had paid their fare. The driver insisted that he had not, and to avoid troubte Fox dropped a second dine into the box. He then stepped back and apprised Hermann of the action. Her-mann said it was wrong, and arising in-formed the driver that he would re-cept him to Superintendent Smith. There-formed the driver that he would report him to Superintendent Smith. Thereupon Cogen wrapped the reins about the break and came into the car. He grabbed Herman by the collar, and said:

"I don't care a —— for you or Smith either, and I know you haven't paid your fare, so I intend to put you off."

Herman resisted and the two men clinched, and after smashing each other several times. and after smashing each other several times and breaking one of the car windows, the the driver got loose and ran to the forward part of the car and re-turned with a club. The women screamed and fled from the car, and Cogen leaped upon Hermann and dealt him a frightful blow on the head, cutting a deep gash and knocking him to his knees. He recovered, however, and undertook to grapple with the fellow, and in the struggle they tumbled from the car into the street. Here they were sepa-rated by Mr. Haddock, foreman of a tele-phone gang.

HOLINESS IN YOUTH.

The New Sunday School Union Will

The ministers, Sunday schools, superintendants and a number of adult members of the various Sunday schools of the city held a meeting Thursday night in the Kountze Memorial church for the purpose of discussing the plan of forming a Sunday School union in the city for the general benefit of each

The honor of presiding over the meeting was conferred upon Mr. P. L. Perrine, of the First Presbyterian Sunday school.

Rev. J. S. Detweiler was called upon to state the object of the meeting. He said that it was called for the purpose of organizing a Sunday School union, the object of which would be to hold weekly meetings for the general discussion of school work and the studying of the lessons for each Sunday. Superintendent Tukey, of the First Con-gregational school, and Dr. Leisenring, were each called upon for their opinion of the proposed departure in religious work. Each thought that the idea of such a union of religious workers would be a good one and pledged his support and that of his teach-

At the conclusion of some remarks by N. M. Howard on the scheme, Mr. Tukey moved that the organization be at once perfected by the election of a president, vice president and secretary. The motion was well received and the following officers for the new union were selected: Rev. Mr. Detweiler, president; Mr. Howard, vice president; William Franklin, secretary.

The officers were instructed to select a corps of teachers for the work and the meetings of the union will be held, for the present at least, every Saturday afternoon at 4 ent at least, every Saturday afternoon at o'clock in the Kountze Memorial church. An effort will be made at an early date to COMPARISON SOLICITED-A wise dis crimination should be exercised by all who take medicine. The proprietors of Hood's Sarsaparilla solicit a careful comparison of this medicine with other blood purifiers and medicines, being confident that the peculiar merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla are so apparent that the people will unhesitatingly prefer it to any other preparation. Sarsaparilla is not a mixture of molasses and a few inert roots and herbs, but it is a peculiar concentrated extract of the best alterative and blood-purifying remedies of the vegetable kingdom. The enormous sales of Hood's Sarsaparilla and the wonderful cures effected, prove even more than has been claimed for this medicine. If you are sick the best medicine is none too good. Therefore, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

to Prosecute Them. There is no law allowing the sale of liquor within that two-mile circle outside of the city limits, which is known as the "Burnt District," yet, there seems to be no law by which the numerous road houses now in that belt can be reached, and compelled to, obey the temperance law. The city has no authority over them, and the county commissioners say they cannot reach them.

Mr. Higby, of Walnut Hill, has made complaint about the houses in the western part of the city, and as soon as he is able to obtain reliable evidence against them, that they are selling liquors, he will ask County Attentions. Mr. Simeral has been asked to enjoin all the keepers and allow the case to be taken to the supreme court to test the question as to whether the owners cannot be made to pay a

The celebrated Lowy-Cole-Smith case, which has been pending in the United States court for some time, has been dismissed and the case has been settled on the decision ren-

Smith, Haiman Lowy and Louis Cole, is entitled to all the money-about $73,000-which is on deposit in the United States National bank in this city to Lowy's credit. This money is the proceeds of the re-

The dismissal paper flied also waives and releases all errors that may have occurred in the decree of the supreme court of Illinois in the case which was begun the 28th of May, 1888, and described in the petition in May, 1888, and described in the petition in the case of David K. A MULE TEAM SHORT.

How a Young Man Failed to Comply With Instructions.

H. S. Runnels, a farmer living near the city, knows more of town boys now than he did four days ago. He paid rather dearly for his experience, but knows he had it. He was in town last Wednesday evening and was driving a team of gray mules in a common farm wagon. He was near the Eleventh street viaduct about 7 o'clock in the evening and concluded to have his team put in the barn for the night or to be fed. He gave the mules to a boy about fourteen years old and told him what barn to leave them in and that he would call for them. The boy took the team and according to Runnels' belief, has taken them for keeps, as se never drove them to the barn and has not the never drove them to the bark and has not been heard from since.

The police were given a description of the thief as also of the team and that of the wagon has been left with the sheriff. A reward has been offered for the return of the outfit and the arrest of the thief.

Proprietors,

The line of Fall Overcoats we are displaying this season, if you were positive how well they are trimmed and made, and if you knew how cheap a really first class garment is being offered, it would be no trouble to sell you one. No such exhibition of stylish and elegant overcoats was ever made in Omaha, and the prices are irresistible. The season for these garments being very short, we have decided to sell them quick and marked them so that they shall go quick.

We will show you an elegant light-weight Overcoat for $6.00, made of fine all Worsred Goods, lined and trimmed in first-class manner. Coats for which other houses are asking $10 and $12, are no better

Another Overcoat at $7.00 is made of a splendid all Wool Cassimere of a fine grey color with best

At $9.75 we can sell you the most stylish looking Overcoat you have ever seen. This is made of the new wide Wale Overcoatings-a splendid material for wear and looks. The Coat is silk faced with satin sleeve lining and regular tailor made. We have them in several of the latest shades; it is one of the richest looking garments ever shown, and any other hou e would charge about $15.00 for it.

Many other of the choicest and finest grades, we have not room to describe all. Come and look at them: we know we can please your taste and save you money.

We have not yet mentioned anything about our Hats this season, but the fact is, our Hat trade opened up with such a boom that several lots to which we intended to draw attention, were broken up in sizes before we had a chance to advertise them. We are now getting in duplicates already and will try to keep our assortment fall during the season. Is it any wonder we are doing the Hat business of the town; when we are selling them at about one-half the prices, other houses do. The average Hat dealer can not compete with us. He buys a dozen hats of a kind from a jobber, where we buy them in large case lots direct from the manufacturer. We rather sell hundred hats with 25c profit on each than sell twenty-five hats and make 50c profit. THIS IS THE POINT.
