A MORMON PRODIGAL.

He Wastes $18,000 on a Week's Debauch in New York.

New York, Sept. 20.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—The prodigal son of the great west came to grief again through New York. This time it was a son of a distinguished Mormon family who paid dearly for his experience. Seventeen thousand four hundred dollars is a good deal of money to pay for a week's pleasure, but this is what Alonzo K. Hyde, of Salt Lake City, claims to have gone through since he arrived here a week ago.

Yesterday afternoon a policeman saw a well-dressed man, about forty-five years of age, wildly intoxicated, and almost throwing money away in Pickett's hotel. He looked him up, after taking a trifle over $500 out of his pockets. When the man recovered somewhat he described himself as Alonzo K. Hyde, of Salt Lake City, and claimed to be a member of a celebrated Mormon family of that name, and was stopping with his wife and two children in the hotel.

He had been drinking heavily, and the money found in his possession was the remains of $18,000 which he brought with him a week ago. Before he was arrested in police court to-day a dispatch was received from Superintendent Murray, asking that he be held until the arrival of Mrs. Hyde, at Mrs. Hyde's apartment at court and he was much affected on discovering her husband in such a position. Justice Murray gave the man some good advice and allowed him to go away with his wife.

THURMAN'S CANDIDACY.

It Will Not Help the Democrats in Ohio.

New York, Sept. 20.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—General James A. Hall, formerly of Maine, now of Columbus, O., was at the Fifth avenue hotel to-day. To a reporter he said: "Colonel Bruce's visit west has had no effect whatever. He never changed a single republican vote. In Ohio the republican majority will be 40,000. The candidacy of Judge Thurman will not gain the democrats any votes in the Buckeye state, but will lose a good many. They do not at all approve the judge's outspoken free trade utterances, and will go against him on that ground."

"You think, then, the republicans will carry all the western states?"

"I think so," he replied. "We feel very confident of Indiana, although we hear the democrats are throwing barrels of money into the state and doing everything to roll up a majority. In that state, however, at the west, the people were stirred up over the tariff issue, and believe free trade and democracy synonymous terms."

BLACK DIAMONDS.

A Forecast of the Probable Demand and Supply of Winter Fuel.

Citizens of Omaha take time by the forelock and lay in their supply of winter coal. Weather prophets are not only prognosticating another severe winter, but all the signs point to an advance, and mayhap a scarcity in the coal market. Now, it seems, is the golden opportunity. The market is full of coal, and all dealers are more than fairly well supplied. How long this condition of things will continue there is no telling, but it is better to get it now than to wait for a winter set in there will be no other advance on the prices. The price now is, hard coal, $10.25 to $10.50, retail, delivered, and soft coal, Western 7 cents, Illinois 6 cents, and the same as it was last year at this time, although the price to dealers is fifty cents more per ton than it was last year. This additional levy has been added to the price of the coal, and at both the eastern and western supply points on account of an increase in the freight rates.

The use in the price in the local market may be looked for at any moment, owing to probable inadequate transportation facilities. From this on to the opening of winter all the roads are busy hauling grain, which pays better than coal, and the roads are not apt to put themselves much out of the way to accommodate the coal dealers. From that time on until spring it is always difficult for the dealer to get coal, and already notice has been sent out from Chicago of an advance in the price of fifty cents over the present price, as the freight rates are to go up 50 cents on a ton. The main shipping centers of the east are also reporting a shortage of coal, and it is evident that this portends the people can conclude for themselves.

The city of Omaha consumes a vast quantity of coal, but the dealers claim that it would be impossible to estimate the quantity necessary to run the city through a severe winter. The monthly consumption for the city is 100,000 tons, and the consumption for the shipments. The hard coal in this market comes principally from Buffalo, Scranton, Wilkesbarre and Lockport, and from the mines of Illinois, Kansas, Colorado and Wyoming. The western soft coal is said to be better than that of the Ohio, Hoeking Valley, Susquehanna and other eastern coals. The Kansas coal is inferior to other western coals. It is a fine steaming coal, but it is not so good as the Ohio, Hoeking Valley, Susquehanna and other eastern coals. The Kansas coal is inferior to other western coals. It is a fine steaming coal, but it is not so good as the Ohio, Hoeking Valley, Susquehanna and other eastern coals.

Mr. Buel having refused to give recognition for appearance for violating the order of the injunction, requiring him to vacate his home and the grade of the Missouri Pacific. The sheriff having taken him and his wife in charge the railroad ruthlessly took down his tent and the stars and stripes and moved on with their track laying. Hickman has been a scene of excitement all day long. The end of the affair is not yet, and interesting developments are anticipated.

Saunders County District Court.

WAHOO, Neb., Sept. 20.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—The district court has been in session since the 17th with Judge Marshall presiding. There are 105 cases on the docket of which ten are criminal and 150 civil. Seventeen of the civil cases are for divorces and divorce business is not very rushing, either. Only two of the criminal cases are of importance, viz., the case of George Reynolds, charged with criminally assaulting Bertie Walters at Ashland in August, and Oliver Ellis, charged with killing a horse and saddle from Harry Whitten at Valparaiso on the 19th of last March.

The most important civil cases are the cases of several farmers living along the Platte bottom against the Omaha & Republican railroad company for damages to their farms and crops. The cases were heard by the court on the 19th of last March. They seek to hold the railroad company liable on the ground that their railroad bridge across the river at Valley is improperly constructed and causes the water to gorge and the river to overflow. The damages claimed by the several plaintiffs will aggregate about $75,000. The court has reserved judgment on the cases until the 27th of next month.

Brewster's Bill.

BEWELL, Neb., Sept. 18.—[To The Editor of The Bee: At the late representative convention at this place, and after Mr. Hanna had received the nomination, Mr. Brewster, a friend of the railroads, who had been a candidate, asked permission to address the convention. It was granted, and he began a tirade against the nominee because he had not been a soldier, claiming that the convention had no right to nominate anyone except him, as he (Brewster) was the only old soldier in the race. In the course of his remarks he said: "For God's sake, never again let the republican party claim to be the friend of the soldier." This remark provoked the audience, and all the old soldiers in the audience except three were unanimous in condemning his speech. He said when he arose to vote and also from the floor, that he would vote for the nominee, but he certainly succeeded. His bitter enemy could not have done any better.

Resolutions were adopted by the convention endorsing Senator Manderson, and instructing the nominee of the convention to vote for his return to the United States senate.

Germany's Emperor a Hard Worker.

Boston Herald: Although the new emperor of Germany is young, mentally as well as in years, his energy and capacity to have a hard work are marvelous, and but for his supply of self-sufficiency might in time overcome even his mental narrowness and really make of him almost as great a man as he imagines himself. He is constantly giving proofs of a marvelous indifference to fatigue. On Thursday morning at daybreak he was deer stalking at Potsdam. Then came a hard day's work on state papers. Then, without sleep, he started with a suit of officials for military maneuvers at Drombrowska, a way off in Posen, where he arrived in the morning at 5 o'clock. He held a reception of dignitaries at that hour, rode off to the maneuvers and never left his horse till 9; then back to Drombrowska, gave a breakfast to twenty in his saloon carriage, and then started back to Potsdam and worked at state business until late at night. That is the sort of thing he is doing all the time, and which elicits the admiration even of those who most appreciate the danger of having him for a ruler, with only Bismarck to curb him.

COME TO GRIEF.

Capture of Wales, Who Advertises For High Priced Clerk.

About two months ago a man styling himself Dr. Wales, had offices in the Plaxton block. In one room he transacted a real estate business and in the other he operated under the name of a chemical company. He advertised for an assistant at a handsome salary, and when a verdant young man from Pennsylvania applied he was required to deposit $500 with his employer as a guarantee of his honesty. Wales gave him a mortgage on his home in Indiana, and was required to appear on the office furniture and a lot in St. Joe. The assistant was sent to Lincoln the next day on a wild goose chase, and the pseudo doctor fled the town. The office furniture was claimed by other persons, the St. Joe lot was mythical and the young assistant had a lot of experience for his money. A man of the name of William H. Wales was arrested in Indianapolis last Saturday, charged with a transaction similar to the Omaha operation, and he is believed to be the same man who fled from St. Joe.

Wales was in Detroit last March and advertised in the Free Press for an assistant at $75 a month. A young man named Charles E. Allen applied for the place and was required to deposit $500 as security for the money he expected to handle. His employer secured the deposit with a mortgage on a lot in Toronto, Canada. Wales immediately disappeared, and his victim discovered that the Toronto lot had been encumbered for more than its value before his mortgage was given. Allen put a detective on the track of the swindler, and he was tracked to Indianapolis, where his family resides. It is reported that he has had a similar advertisement in the papers of that city. Wales was taken to Detroit.

A Failure at Wahoo.

WAHOO, Neb., Sept. 20.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—Rayley Bros., who have been engaged in the general merchandise business in Wahoo for several years, and who were considered among our safest business men, have been closed up by M. E. Smith & Co., of Omaha, on a chattel mortgage for $4,700. The Saunders County National bank has a claim against them for $1,700, and their liabilities will probably be from $9,000 to $10,000, and they are reported to have been in business for some time and mismanagement are the alleged causes of the failure.

A Singular Accident.

WAHOO, Neb., Sept. 20.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—Mrs. Adolph Saland met with a very serious and peculiar accident yesterday. She was removing some sandburs that had attached themselves to her glove, with her teeth, and accidentally, while inhaling drew one of the burs down her windpipe into the left lung. All efforts to expel the burr from the lung have proved futile. Mrs. Saland is suffering intensely, and it is probable that the operation known as tracheotomy will have to be performed in order to remove the burr.

Twenty-seventh District Republicans.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Sept. 20.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—The republican convention of the Twenty-seventh senatorial district will convene in St. Paul, Saturday, September 22, and will undoubtedly nominate John L. Both are men of large means and very popular. The district is very close, and the republicans having a small majority.
