Yesterday's Game a Wretched Fielding Exhibition on Their Part-Des Moines Takes Two Games From Sioux City.

Kansas City S. Omaha 1.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 25. - Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-The Omalus were defeated for the fourth consecutive time to-day. Kennedy was hit hard and the vicitors gave him awfully ragged support, and besides they could not do any batting. The infield work of McGarr and Miller was wretched, while the whole team seemed to lose heart after the first inning. The Blues did some very pretty hitting in the early part of the game Long was given a base on balls and stole sec ond. Annes pulled in Manning's line hit and Bradley hit a single to second, Long scoring, while Bradley sprinted to second. He went while Bradley sprinted to second. He went to third on Kreig's single and reached home on Johnson's sacrifice. With two men out, in the second Long sent the ball whizzing along the left foul line for two bases. Man-ning got a base on McGarr's fumble and stole second, and then Bradley batted them in with a three-base hit. Kreig fol-lowed with a single and the left fielder scored. McGarrhit for two bases in the first and got to third on Cooney's sacrifice. Crooks Truck out and when Tebeau had two strikes McGarr made a darring attempt to steal home but was caught between the bases. Annis made the only run for Omaha, in the He went to first on a fielder's choice to second on Lovett's safe nit, and came in

Jimmy Burns, the former left fielder of the Omanas, who has been released to the Kan-sas City American association club, for $750, made his first appearance to-day in the game against the Brooklyns. He showed up well and Manager Watkins said to night that he was much pleased with his style of ball playing. Burns' old position was filled to-day by Camp, who struck out every time he went to bat and muffed the only ball that came his way. The score:

Local Sporting Gossip. The Omahas play in Davenport to-day.

Some isolated flocks of geese have already been seen upon the Platte. A fairly good crop of quail are reported in the wheat growing districts. The Indian teams will play a game this afernoon at the ball park for the benefit of the Florida yellow fever sufferers. Chickens have been extensively slaughtered this season, but are yet to be found in goodly numbers roundabout Emerson, Greeley Center, Oakdaie and other distant points. A large flock of pelicans, probably several hundred in number, were seen yesterday morning circling over the city. The birds seemed confused and hovered over the town for fully a quarter of an hour, when they swung off to the south with shrill, plaintive cries and disappeared. The Omahas lost again yesterday afternoon. A good healthy fine about this time all round would bring this indifferent aggregation to their milk. They are evidently making no effort to play ball, and the man-agement has received a poor return for their leniency and generosity.

Tommy Miller, formerly of this city, and George Siddons of Duluth fought at East Port, Ind., on the 17th. The fight was for $250 a side, Queensbury rules, and the nin rounds fought Miller had much the best of the battle, but finally jost on a foul, striking Siddons while he was upon his knees. Miller fought for the head, while Siddons played for the wind, and both men were considers bly punished.

Mallards and teal have begun to drop in and gunners are making preparations for the autumn campaign. Guns are being burn-ished up, boats hauled out, boots overhauled and other parapheralia being looked to for active service. Some good bags of teal have already been made, and from this on until cold weather they will become more pientiful. All the signs portend a great ducking season, the water is good and feed bountiful. Jack snipe have also put in an appearance, and reports are that the birds will be plenti

BLAINE ANSWERS QUESTIONS

What He Thinks of the Recently Published Conkling Letter.

THE ARMY RECRUITING SCANDAL

Charges Which Would Never Have Been Made Outside of a Political Contest - The Indiana Campaign.

Blaine and Conkling.

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 25.—The Kennebec Journal, under the heading, "Mr. Conkling and Mr. Blaine," will to-morrow publish such a response as Blaine desires to make to the recently published private letter of Roscoe Conkiling to his friend in New York state. Mr. Blaine was asked by a Kennebec Journal reporter if he had any reply to make and this was his response:

"Nothing could induce me to enter into a controversy over Conkling's grave. During our joint service in congress-some eighteen years in all-we had some exasperating controversies, but I never spoke or wrote a word concerning him except publicly, and now that he is dead my lips are scaled against every form of criticism or unkind expression, no matter what may be the imprudence or moustice of any of his surviving friends."

Then, in the progress of questions and answers, Blaine made several observations as to whether Conkling was the author of the letter or not. Blaine said that he, of course, knew nothing, but it was a great surprise to him that such a letter should have been written by Conkling. The date shows that the letter was written six days after the close of an exasperating personal debate with Conkling, and if Conkling had intended to say anything of the kind he would have been apt to say it then, and not immediately afterward in a private letter which was not given to the public for twenty-two years, and not until Conkling had been dead several months. The whole affair was not in accordance with Conkling's habitual courage in debate. When asked if he knew anything of Crandall or Haddeck, Mr. Blaine replied that he had never seen either of them and had never heard the name of either except on the occasion of his personal debate with Conkling in 1865. Though he had not charged his mind with the fact, so as to remember accurately, his strong impression was that they were both officers in New York under the enrollment act during the war, and that both had been dismissed from the service for misconduct in office.

Then Blaine was asked if he had anything to say about the charge that he had made money out of recruiting funds in the war, and he replied that it might with equal truth be charged that he made money by robbing the mails or by piracy on the high seas. Prompted further by questions Biaine said that the ruiting scandal of Marine, in the last year of the war, had been investigated by two committees and one public commission (whose efforts, Blaine said, he aided), and there was, Blaine says, "not a word of evidence or even suggestion or hint in any one of the three reports that he had any more connection with the matter than had Conk-ling or his unwise friend who publishes this letter and attributes it to this dead statesman."

Blaine next refers to the legislation prompted in congress by himself in 1864, to prevent recruiting frauds in all the states, Such preventive measures, Blaine said, had been passed, the majority being made up of republicans and "a few democrats like Hol-man, of Indiana. The negative was unani-mously democratic," concluded Mr. Blaine, and adds: "It will thus be seen that my official record of the state and nation refutes the whole charge." Outside of a political campaign, Mr. Blaine remarked that he would never have noticed the matter, and outside of a political campaign the charge never would have been made.

The Campaign In Indiana.

Indianapolis, Sept. 25.—General Harrison entered upon his thirteenth week of public receptions to-day. He put in the morning dictating letters and reading the newspapers Early in the afternoon he came down to the republican headquarters, accompanied by his son, Russell Harrison, of Helena, Mont. Visiting delegations came from Wabash and Parke counties, and numbered about twelve hundred, including 200 young folks, members of the Sunday schools. The reception took place in University park. Captain B. F. Williams, of Wabash, spoke for his delegation, and Dr. E. F. Leach, of Parke county addressed the general on behalf of the Sun day school scholars. General Harrison, in his response, touched upon the surplus question and expediency of purchasing bonds. The crowd then filed by and shook hands with the general.

To-morrow Tippecanoe veterans from Co lumbus, Springfield, Newark and other points in Ohio will be received, also the Foraker club of Columbus, and delegations from Tipton and Elkhart counties, Indiana. Among the prominent speakers booked for Indiana early in October are General Will-iam H. Gibson, Governor Foraker, General James S. Robinson, all of Ohio; General R. A. Alger and R. G. Horr, of Michigan; John A. Kasson, and W. P. Hepburn, of Iowa; General D. H. Hastings and James D. Weeks, of Pennsylvania; Patrick Egan and John Brennan, of Nebraska; Robert T. Lin-coln, General Maney, General W. W. Berry, Count Norrikoff, the Pole, and others. Governor Foraker opens his canvass on October 19, and speaks at Bloomington, III., October 20. Governor D. B. Hill makes his first speech at Mitchell, Lawrence county, on the afternoon of October 12, speaking at Indianapolis on the same night, and at La-fayette on October 13. Arrangements are being made to give the distinguished candidate a big reception at Mitchell.

The political war raging among the police officers of the city, which was engendered by the disturbance before the NewDenison hotel last Saturday night, when an attempt was made to arrest a Chicago drummer who was yelling for Harrison, received additional force to-day. Captain Colbert (dem.) this afternoon filed a formal charge against Sergeant Dawson (rep.), alleging insubordination. He also charges Captain Campbell (rep.), who was not on duty at the time, with encouraging Dawson in his disorderly conduct. The accused officers will have a hear-ing on Monday before a full board of police

All Satisfactory in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 25. - [Special Telegram to The Bee | - "If I ever had any doubt about how the state would go in November, it was dispelled by the recent poll of the state," said John I. Dille, secretary of the republican state committee, this morning.

Robert Garrett Fifteen Years Ago

and To-Day. NEW YORK, Sept. 24.-[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-"One fine autumn morning fifteen years ago," says a writer in the Commercial Advertiser of this evening, "the writer of this sketch stood at the corner of Charles and Baltimore streets, in the city of Baltimore, waiting for a street car. A young man who was a perfect athlete in appearance stood waiting for the same car. We got on the car together. The conductor seemed to know the handsome young man, and they chatted togetder for several blocks. There was a glow of health on the young man's cheeks. His eyes sparkled with intelligence. His face was broad and honest looking. There was a cheery ring in his voice. His step as he got off the car was quick and elastic. His whole make-up was that of a prosperous young business man. "Yesterday I was walking along the country road which runs near the border of one of the most picturesque little lakes in New of the most picturesque fittle lakes in New Jersey. It is a lonely spot, and at the point where I stood there was no sign of human habitation. As I stopped a moment admiring the wild scenery of the place I heard the grinding of carriage wheels. A moment later a carriage turned a bend of the road and passed me. Besides the driver there were three men in the carriage. Two of the men looked like prize fighters. The third man sat with bent head between them. He looked old and feeble. His hair was prematurely grizzled. His face was haggard, his cheeks were pale, and his eyes had a vacant, wild look in them. His form was lean and bent. His companions watched him narrowly. As the carriage passed me this man had his hands front of him. He seemed clasped in front of him. He seemed wrapped in deep study. A moment later he raised his head, threw up his hands, and with a frenzied look started from the seat as if to leap from the carriage. At the same time he uttered a terrific shriek. The two rough looking men caught hold of him and pressed him back into his seat. He sank back helplessly with a pitiful scared look. The carriage passed on around another bend in the road out of sight. The prematurely old man had again bent nearly double with his hands covering his face as if he was cry-

The young man that I saw fifteen years ago on a Baltimore street car and the bent, haggard man in the carriage yesterday were one and the same man. The man was Robert Garrett. But what a change has taken place in fifteen years. There was not the slightest trace in the form or face of the man in the carriage yesterday to indicate the young, sprightly and well dressed Robert Garrett of fifteen years ago, nor that the man had once been the president of a great railway and Garrett is now a prisoner in the old Miller mansion of Ringwood, N. J., and in spite of what is said by his physicians it is evident he never will be a well man again. He may live for years but his reason is permanently destroyed. He is as completely restrained of his liberty as a convict. He is never al-lowed out of the sight of the two men who look like prize fighters. They are hired to watch him and prevent violent outbreaks of his mania. Their services are frequently in demand for that purpose. Only a few weeks ago Garret had a violent spell in the Ringwood house. He then came near breaking tway from his burley attendants and jump ing from the window. A servant who was in the room at the time was knocked sprawl-ing by the demented millionaire."

Business men begin to feel the pressure and are commencing to resist the mob element.

The acting secretary of war has issued a general order by which officers of the army absent on leave from stations in sections of the country infected by the prevailing yellow fever epidemic, or from stations that cannot be reached without transit through the in-fected localities, or who are under orders to join such stations, are authorized to delay starting to join their commands under their orders or after the expiration of their leaves of absence until the epidemic shall have subsided. Surgeon General Hamilton has received

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 25.—Total number of cases to date 14, deaths 4; no new cases reported for the twenty-four hours ending at 6 p. m. yesterday. Have city surrounded by a n, and are doing all we can to prevent a spread of the disease. Tents arrived to day and refugee camps will be established as soon as possible. Wint Jounson. Surgeon General Hamilton has received a telegram from Live Oak, Fla., saying that the official report from Fernandina shows twelve new cases there and three at Ellan-

Nashville, Sept. 25.—A special from De-catur says: The deserted streets have closed the business houses. The empty houses and the general melancholy appearance of every-thing shows the real condition of things. Two deaths have been reported since last night—J. H. Weakley and his son, T. S. Weakley. They were from Brownsville, Tenn., and had been in Decatur only a short time. Two new cases were reported to-day. Notwithstanding the unfavorable showing this morning, the doctors still think that the worst is over. The supply of money and provisions is about exhausted and is coming very slowly. The relief committees are still calling for aid. No trains, either passenger or freight, are allowed to stop, and communication can be had only by telegraph.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 25.—The situation of the yellow fever refugees here to day shows little change. Benjamin Grant, from Decatur, has a mild type of the disease, and is being cared for at the cruptive hospital. Many are leaving for northern points as fast at the hargang is fundated and turned. as their baggage is funigated and turned over to them. A fund is being raised for those in need, and a concert will be given for their benefit. A proclamation issued by the state board of health to-day has raised the local quarantine on all Kentucky points. City of Mexico, Sept. 25.—It has been decided not to declare a quarantine against the United States until real cases of yellow fever appear in New Orleans and Texas, Santiago De Cuba, Sept. 25.—Yellow fever reigns supreme in this city and at the military hospital outside. La Autonomia, of this city, yesterday published the following item: Of the ninety-six men of the batalion of San Quentin on duty in Santo Espiritu, twenty-three have fallen victims to yellow fever, seventeen more have been attacked with it, and three of them are dangerously ill. Of the detach-ment of nine men on duty at Parades, all were attacked and seven died of the fever. The mortality has been terrible.

El Pais, of that city, one day reported twenty-four deaths from it. Both native and for-cigners have been swept away. The epidemic has been sweeping the island. An idea of the terrific invoads made by the yel-low fever may be gathered from the following: "Out of a full company of men all but eighteen have been swept away in this city." MEMPHIS, Sept. 25.—The local board of health, in session to-night, declined to modify the resolution placing on all trains on the west side of the river a strict non-intercourse quarantine regulation. Great excitement has prevailed all of the forenoon over the report of a case of yellow fever exist-ing in the city limits. Physicians in attendance on the case have not agreed on the nature of it, but will make a stricter examination in the morning. In the meantime several of the faint hearted are getting ready to leave. The report of the physicians to be made to morrow will be waited with eager interest by over sixty thousand people. JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 25 .- The situation to night is practically unchanged, except that the hopeful feeling that the worst of the epidemic is over continues. While new case developing very rapidly, the type of the disease appears to be milder even than before the equinoctial storms; and while many people are very sick, the death rate continues low. The official bulletin for the twenty-four hours end-ing at 6 p. m. reports 143 new cases, of which eighty-five are among the colored people. Only four deaths are reported. Total cases to date, 2,124; total deaths, 221.

At Camp Mitchell thirty-five houses are ready for occupancy, but there will hardly be accommodations for any great number of refuges in time to assist to any considerable extent in the effort to depopulate the city. All plans for depopulation thus far have failed, owing to a lack of practical methods for putting them into execution.

A special from McClenny reports eight new cases of yellow fever and one death. Evansylle, Ind., Sept. 25.—Evansyille from to-day on will invite all yellow fever refugees to come here until all danger of the scourge has passed. This was brought about brough the Business Men's association to night.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 25.—To-day was clear, cool and sunny. For the past thirty-six hours no new cases have developed and o deaths occurred. According to the state board of health census there are 2,220 people within the quarantine limits. Of these 427 are white. Only 404 of the whole 3,220 have and the fever, leaving 1,816 who are liable to

Sr. Louis, Sept. 25.-The switchmen's association adjourned this afternoon and will meet again next year at Columbus, O., the third Monday in September. The new officers chosen are: Frank Sweeney, Minneapolls, grand master; John Downey, Chicago, vice grand master; George S. Barley, East St. Louis, grand organizer and instructor; John W. Callahan, Town of Lake, Ill., chairman of the board of directors. The plan of federation as proposed by the Brotherhood of Lecomotive Firemen at Atlanta, Ga., was unanimously adopted. Knights of Labor will be taken in, but only so far as they can identify themselves with the various railroad organizations. They will not be taken in as Knights of Labor, but as railway employes only, and the order of railway telegraphers will be admitted on the same terms,

The Druggist Liquor Law.

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 25.—The new law for the regulation of the sale of liquor by druggists goes into effect October 1. Under t druggists who desire to sell liquors must make application to the district court, which application must be signed by a certain number of reputable citizens. Twenty-six of these applications came before Judge Givin to-day and twenty-four of them were rejected because the signers had not complied with the law in reading what they signed. Only one of forty one signers of one application knew what he was signing. New applications will not be heard in chese cases unit the sitting of a new congl. in January. All old permits expire by limitation October 1, and it is probable that not a single druggist in Des Moines will be able to handle liquors legally between these dates. What is true of Des Moines is also true of the entire state.

Emperor William at Delmold. Berlin, Sept. 25 .- | Special Cablegram to THE BEE.]-On his arrival at Delmold the emperor was enthusiastically received. At a banquet this evening the Prince of Lippe-Delmold proposed a teast to the health of the emperor, who in reply returned thanks for the manner in which he had been received, and recalled the fact that when a boy he stood before an unfinished monument of Arminus. He expressed his conviction that those sons of the land who, under the leadership of their prince, had shed their blood in the cause of German unity would continue to act in the same spirit.

Notes From Fleming FLEMING, Colo., Sept. 25 .- | Special to The BEE. |- Crop prospects in this part of Colorado are good. Corn and potatoes are yielding well. Corn on old land yields forty bushels per acre. They have as good potatoes here as I have seen in Nebraska. This place is still growing with good openings for store and hardware. Politics are dead here, although Harrison and Morton will poll the largest vote. Emigrants are beginning to arrive, looking for homes, and in a short time the vacant land will be gone. Bismarck Claims the Credit. VIENNA, Sept. 25 .- | Special Cablegram to THE BEE. |- The Neue Freie Presse says: "In a recent interview with Dr. Franz, president of the Austrian Evangelical council, Princk Bismarck, speaking with reference to the Austro-German alliance, said: 'It was my work exclusively. When, in 1878, I went to Gestein with the treaty still unsigned I was quite resolved to resign unless the emperor ratified it. The alliance has ever since aided my policy." The Zanzibar Troubles.

LONDON, Sept. 25 .- A late dispatch from Zanzibar says that three Germans were killed by natives at Killiva. The Germans killed ten of their assailants. The insurgents seized the town and rehoisted the sultan's fing. It is reported that all Germans in Lindi have been murdered and Europeans on the coast are in imminent danger.
