CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.-[Special Telegram to THE BEE. ]-Wheat opened 11 (@11 c higher than it closed vesterday and advanced another 13ge and closed at a little reaction from the outside prices attained. There was extensive realizing by the longs to-day and an enormous covering of short wheat by the bear interest. There was also considerable new baying by late investors. First cables were generally higher, and closing cables do not indicate that placidity of spirit on the part of the foreign grain trade which old world advices a few days ago pictured. Forcigners delight to be considered languidly indifferent to American markets, and they are usually at home in that role. They seem to be getting over their languor, however, if reliance is to be placed on private cables. Liverpool is quoted higher, and continental markets are described as excited, with a greater disposition to bid for wheat. With Chicago and eastern mark its from 9/d12/ above the export basis, and Duluth and Min-10c above Chicago, the neapolis formality of bidding would seem idle wasto of energy, like an unless old world bidders expand their views suddenly or we drop with a terrific slump. The northwest continues to bubble over with native strength. Duluth bid \$1.1254 to-day for September, \$1.10% for December and \$1.12 for May. Recents show that the attractive figures lately ruling in Duluth do not draw any considerable quantity of wheat past Minneapolis. The terrific advance in prices at all primary markets may be exing. The afternoon was devoid of interest, pected to yield results presently in the shape of a largely increased movement from first hands, unless it should be that there is no wheat or that farmers are following the advice that has been dinned into their ears from all quarters, and hold back for better prices. The next two or three weeks will test the temper of farmers on this point pretty thoroughly. The opening was ragged. There was trading in December at 96% @37c, and in May at 99% @99% c, at the same moment in different parts of the pit. The market slowly but steadily ascended the scale until 98% c was reached for December and \$1.01 for May September went from \$1.00 to \$1.02, and Oc tober seared to 97%c. The advance was not accompanied with as great excitement as might have been expected. Trade was very large, the current running deep and strong, but it was neither noisy nor uproarous. The shorts were too earnest to think of having a band precede them and the bulls didn't have time to think of it. From the top range mentioned in the foregoing, the market worked back le, December going to 9% for an May to \$1.00. The bulk of trad-ing was within  $\frac{1}{2} \frac{\partial \omega}{\partial x} c$  of the top, however, and the market had plenty of smp through-out. The wild and wooly bull feeling in the northwest was the principal inspiration here for both bulls and bears. The pace for the last few days has been exceedingly rapid. But there are yet a few who have the temerity to attempt to break the current at this stage The markets were too broad to-day for special heed to be paid to individual oper-ators, though some curiosity as to what Hutchinson was doing was manifested, and it was generally admitted that he was a lib-eral seller. His realizing, whether great or small, produced no apparent effect. The market was virile from start to finish. Com-mission merchants did a big business to-day. They did quite as much selling as buying. The closing range was practically at the top and fully 214c over yesterday's final quota-tions. Late cables reflected the improve-ment here, though in a minor key. The corn market generally was under the influence of the excitement in wheat. Re-ceipts were under expectations to the extent of about 40 cars, which somewhat helped the strength, and to-morrow's promise of only 475 cars was a further stimulating feature. Trading was fourther stimulating feature. Trading was fairly active and closed at the best prices of the day. It opened quiet but firm, at an improvement of  $\frac{3}{3}(\underline{a})_{3}^{2}c$  on pre-vious prices. There was not much life in early trading until wheat had made a considcarly trading until wheat had made a consid-erable advance, when the shorts took the alarm and began bidding briskly, which quickly advanced the price 1%c above the opening for the October option. The opening price for October was at 41c, with a few sales at 40%c. It soon advanced to 42%c and sold off again to 41%c, but near the close again became quite strong and made 42%c for October, which was the best price of the day October, which was the best price of the day November closed at a discount of 1% c from October, and December and year each gained 14 c on yesterday's last quotation, the final price to day being 3814 c. May closed at 3834 (638%c. Oats were moderately active early in the session, ruling quiet later and averaging a fraction higher than yesterday. Receipts continue liberal, but at the same time the day's advance in corn was sufficient to call out a little strength in this cereal with most of the trading in May, which sold up to 3c. Cash and near futures showed a slight improvement with some buying to cover shorts, while intermediate months were dull, shorts, while intermediate months were dull, with no influence to induce buying aside from that already noted. Fair business was done in No. 2 in store at 23%(a23% c, or 3%(a24% c ad-vance, with cash sales chiefly by samples. The provision trade was considerably stronger. No great activity, characterized trading, yet for near and forward delivery the bull side was retarded in a remarkably friendly way, and the entire market was better supported than for several days. The uneasiness which the yellow fover better supported than for several days. uneasiness which the yellow news has lately occasioned disap-peared to a great extent, and in its place quite a confident feeling was witnessed. In the day's speculation January pork and October short ribs were the two most active lines. Future lard was quiet, though sales of cash reached the large aggregate of 3,600 tierces. The cash sold brought \$10.50, and with the exception of 100 therees, which were rebought by a refiner, was taken for immediate export. Cash short ribs were also sold freely for shipment at 5% 7% above the October market. The day's prices all around, save on cash, October and November lard, averaged and rested higher than variantly to be the divergence of the divergence of the second secon than yesterday. Lard for the dilveries stated closed unchanged. For October pork the advance established was \$1.213/2, for November, year and January pork 23%c, for year and January lard 5c, for October short ribs 20c, and for January short ribs 7%c.

Hos-There was an unsettled and un-casy feeling from the start on the part of salesmen, and they submitted to a downturn of logific from the very start, and from that time on at every turn the general market seemed to grow weaker, finally closing 156250 lower than yesterday on nearly all classes. At the close fair packing sorts were selling at $5.90, and buyers for packers ad-mitted that their strings would not go over $6.00, and perhaps under. Some very good grassers sold at $5.00065.80, and best ship-ping heavy at $5.3500.45. A few Philadel-phias and fancy heavy sold at $6.50, or say 30/240c lower than a week ago. Light as-sorted are down again to $6.10/26.15 for prime, and a few fancy sold at $6.25. Com-mon light mixed sold at $5.75/25.85.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 - [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-STOCKS-A quiet opening at or near the last figures of yesterday was followed by some exhibition of weakness, and the general list declined fractionally early in the forenoon. After this there was an im-"provement in values, but the market was dull and the volume of business not large. There was some waiting to learn the result of the St. Paul meeting in London, but when the result was made known it was without visible effect. The English stockholders voted to not with J. S. Morgan & Co. for a consolidation to protect their interests, and it was said that stockholders representing 180,-000 shares had deposited their holdings with that firm. The Rock Island directors declared on yesterday their regular dividend of 11g per cent, and this morning that stock opened 1% higher, though it subsequently lost part of the advance. St. Paul opened 14 higher, at 65, sold off a little and then advanced to 66, under good buying, after which there was a fair reaction. Towards noon the market became very duli and quiet. with a rather heavy tone, prices in most of th list standing a little higher than at the open-and price changes, as a rule, were inconse quential. At the close Union Pacific showed a gain of 114 and Hocking Valley of 1 point. Cattle. Tuesday, Sept. 25, 1888. The western ranges are still pouring their cattle into the market and there is no appar-ent let up to the heavy run. The receipts for the first two days of this week were still heavier than on the same days last week To-day's market was slow and draggy, al though quite a good many cows and feeders changed hands. Native cows sold all the way from $1.50 to $2.25 and the quality was good. Feeders ranged from $2.15 to $3.00 for natives and $2.55 to $2.70 for westerns. Good butchers' stock and feeders sold at prices that were about steady, with the de-cline of the past few days. Western beeves moved very slowly. A bunch of over 200 head sold at $2.80, or 200/200 lower than last week. A shipper paid $4.30 for a load of Hogs. The market was slow to open and when it did open it was at a decline of 15c. The demand was light, there being no shippers on the market, and the trade was slow even at the decline. The bulk of the hogs were sold but the market closed flat with no one try-ing to buy. The most of the hogs sold at $3.00 and under, and it required something extra to bring over $3.00. One load and a piece of a load of fancy heavy hogs reached $6.30. The general quality of the hogs was good. The season of the year has arrived good. when a break in the market is to be expected at any time. Sheep.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-UATTLE-Trade was rather slow, yet the chances were that about all desirable stock would be sold before the day closed. There were fair shipping orders and beef packers seemed to want more stock than yesterday, and taking into account the unprecedented run of last week, and the increase for this week so far, the market is in fair shape. Had the run been any way light to-day values would have ruled higher, and, as it was, some prime natives sold for more money than they would have brought yesterday; but such are scarce. But there seems to be all that is wanted, as a few cars seem to satisfy the demand. Texans and rangers formed at least two-thirds of the receipts, consisting of eighty cars of Texans and 259 cars of rangers, averaging twenty-two to the car. This class sold about the two to the car. This class sold about the same as yesterday. There may have been "soft spots" here and there, but in a general way there was no change to note. If anything the tendency was lower. Common natives also sold about the same as yester-day, but it should be borne in mind that values on common stock are down to low water mark. Cow stock remains down as low as at any time this year or last. Veal calves are in large supply and selling at ex-trade is slightly better than last week, and buyers seem willing to pay good prices for prime stock. The receipts included 7,000 Texas and western cattle; choice beeves,
