CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2) .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. ]-The steam was let off this morning and the wheat market slowed up a little. More than that, it reacted, and rather sharply, too, though there was a recovery later, and closing quotations are about midway between the two extremes reached on more active futures. September, on the contrary, not only held its own, but scored another gain. It opened at $1.03, sold down to $1.01%, advanced to $1.04%, hung around $1.04 for a while and closed at $1.04. The official opening range, after a wild and very irregular start, was 981/2c for December and $1.01 for May. The market was overwhelmed with realizing orders, and a bear contingent, headed by Ream, promptly got on top. They pounded away vigorously and helped knock off fractions until 96%c for December, and 99%c for May was touched. This marked a decline of 134c from yesterday's closing figures. The market looked weak at the reaction, May especially. But at the critical moment Hutchinson come to the front. December worked back to 973%c for quite a time, fluctuated within limits of %c with 97%@97%c as the battle ground. Towards noon there was renewed stimulation and prices shot upward. The early advantage gained by the bears was al-most entirely lost, but just before the close the crowd was plugged full of wheat, and the market staggered back 14c. The volume of speculative business on change in wheat was very large. There were seasons of duliness when it looked as though the excitement had entirely died out, but these periods were of brief duration. The average of business was quite up to the recent record. Professional speculative sentiment is again getting bearing the The weather was got in the constant. h. The weather was again threatening. Late grading of new corn into quality suitable for delivery on speculative contracts, together with numerous buying orders at the start, opened the market firm and 1/4c higher for October than the closing price yesterday. The quantity inspected out of store was also large, amounting to 467,424 bushels, which was well regarded by the bulls, and cables noted a better demand in England. There was also a decrease of 160,060 bushels in the amount on ocean passage, and the opening firmness was of short duration. A trader who figured prominently yesterday as a buyer had large quantities for sale, and, aided by other local speculators, hammered the market down from 43c, which was the opening for October, to 41%c. The inspection expected for to-morrow was 540 cars, and this was not considered excessive, though enough, and wheat at the same time firming enough, and wheat at the same time firming up caused a reaction to 41%, and the closing price was at 41% (241% of or October, 41% of for September, 40% of for November, and May at 38% c. These show declines since yesterday of about 1% in near months to 34 (25% of in more remote.

In oats there was little doing, with an easy feeling apparent, which developed into a fractional decline, with a part of yesterday's fractional decline, with a part of vesterday's improvement lost. Receipts were liberal, and in sympathy with the other heavy markets there was a tack of speculative demand. Prices were \(^{1}_{6}\alpha_{2}\end{c}\) lower, with May selling down to \(^{28}_{6}\alpha_{2}\end{c}\) lower, with May selling down to \(^{28}_{6}\alpha_{2}\end{c}\) lower, with May selling the premium. In store lots, receipts dated today sold at \(^{28}_{2}\end{c}\) or yesterday's inside prices. The provision interest failed to command any direct or positive support. On the contrary, the tendency was to hammer the market whenever a good opportunity was presented, and from the start the bear side was regarded with the greatest favor. Lower prices were made the rule and on most lines of product yesterday's improvement was in a great measure lost. Trading was also spasmodic and the condition of affairs was, on the whole, unsatisfactory for holders. Closings for the day showed a decline of 71/4c on September pork and January lard; 15c on October short ribs, 271/4c on November and year pork, 121/4c on November lard, 10c on year lard, 221/4c on January pork and 5c on January lard. October lard closed unregarded with the greatest favor. Lower on January lard. October lard closed un-changed, though the absence of English houses controlling it from the pit was taken advantage of just before the adjournment and several sales were made at a decline of

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—CATTLE—Trade was rather more active that yesterday and the general mar-ket about the same. The depression was somewhat less and the chances were that a greater number would be sold than yesterday. With 14,000 fresh there was at least 16,000 to 18,000 on sale. The few thousand weighed and sent to the shipping division did not seem to make much of a clearance. As to prices, there would seem to be little or no change and but for the oversupply of medium rangers values would have ruled stronger. "It is the great number of medium rangers that is taking the life out of the market," said many a salesman. On low grade and medium stock, either natives, Texans or rangers, prices are so low that it seems impossible for them to go any lower. But there is no saying what may happen if the run keeps up to the present volume. Cow stock remains slow at the lowest figures for this reason and some lots were sold today that barely paid expenses. The stocker and feeder trade was fair and prices on good stock remain steady; natives, $3.50@6.50; cows, $1.30@2.80; stockers, $2.00@3.10.

Hogs—Business was brisk and prices 5@10c lower, making a decline, as compared with this time last week, of 40@45c. Big strings of good mixed and packers were made up at about $5.90, and common mixed went as low as $5.75. Best beavy sold at $6.00@6.25 and fancy heavy $6.35@6.40, a few at $6.45. Light sorts were f@10c lower; prime $1.70@1.80. Yorkers, closely assorted, could have been had at $6.10@6.15, and com#### mon light at $5.75@5.90. FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-STOCKS-There was rather a strong opening this morning with some small advances exhibited and more activity than of late. New England, Northern Pacific preferred, St. Paul, Oregon Transcontinental and Louisville & Nashville were leaders in the action, and in early trading a further slight gain was made. Chesapeake & Ohio common certificates were strong, rising 1 point on large business for that stock. Prominent commission houses were conspicuous buyers of stocks and London was reported firm. After a small appreciation the early market became more quiet and prices reacted somewhat, displaying, however, a stronger tone after 11 o'clock, though no new feature of interest was developed as far as the general list was concerned. In the unlisted securities cotton oil certificates were active and strong, advancing rather freely, the "big four" also going up amid consider able activity and a display of bullishness. The general list made slight advances and at noon was quiet but firm to strong at small fractions better than opening prices. Toward the close the market gained in strength and activity, though the movement was confined to a few stocks. The "big four" closed 1 point lower than its best figure, which was a gain of 2 points. Cotton oil advanced about 2 points. The bull feature of the day was New England and Northern Pacific preferred, the latter gaining 1% points. New England sold up to 49, an advance of 214 points, and exhibited a good deal of strength. A director stated that at yesterday's meeting it was voted to issue and sell 2,500 shares of preferred stock for the purchase of equipments. Louisville & Nashville was another strong stock, advancing I point to 60, while

OMAHA LIVE STOCK

Cattle. Wednesday, Sept. 26, 1888. The reports from Chicago were unfavora-ble and the market here on western beeves was strong, 10c lower and very slow. A good many cattle were shipped out without ever was strong, 10c lower and very slow. A good many cattle were shipped out without ever having had a bid on them. The packers bought a few very good westerns, paying $3.60 for them. Butchers' stock sold at about steady prices as did also good feeders. The receipts were not as heavy to-day and that fact, together with the heavy shipments, has lessened the supply very perceptibly, but there are still a good many more cattle here than are wanted.

The market went off another 10@15c to-day and there were ten or more loads left over which were not wanted even at the decline. The best heavy hogs here sold at $0.00, but there were no fancy loads like the top yesterday. Good mixed hogs sold at $3.85@5.95, and it was hard work to get over $5.70 for light hogs.

The market was fairly well supplied with sheep and the bulk of them were sold.

Hon. William M. Evarts, writes Eli Perkins, is the only man who can be witty and not lose his dignity. Mr. Evarts sat at our table at the States yesterday. Among other things I asked the great lawyer about some of the witticisms which have been attributed to him. "The best thing the newspapers said I perpetrated," replied Mr. Evarts, "I wasn't guilty of at all." "What was that?" I asked. "It happened when I was sec-retary of state. Every morning the state department elevator came up full of applicants for foreign missions. morning, when the applicants for mission was extremely large, Catlin, the Commercial advertiser humorist, remarked: 'That is the largest collection for foreign missions you've had yet.' The newspapers attributed the saying to me, but Catlin was the real criminal." "After that you sent poor Catlin out of the country, didn't yon?" "Oh, no, I rewarded him by making him consul at Glasgow—and afterwards proposed him." "Speaking." afterwards promoted him." Speaking of Mr. Evarts' farm up at Windsor I told him I understood that he raised told him I understood that he raised a large quantity of pigs for the express purpose of sending barrels of pig pork to his friends. "Yes, I am guilty of that," said Mr. Evarts. "I've been sending Bancroft pig pork for years, and if his 'History of America' is successful it will be largely due to my pen." A few years ago Mr. Evarts sent his usual barrel of pickled pig pork to Bancroft with this letter: Bancroft with this letter:

"Dear Bancroft-I am very glad to send you two products of my pen to-day—a barrel of pickled pig pork and my eulogy on Chief Justice Chase. Yours, Evarts."

Chauncey Depew says: "Evarts once sent a donkey up to his Windsor farm in Vermont. A week afterwards he re-ceived the following letter from his little grandchild: "Dear Grandpa-The little donkey is very gentle, but he makes a big noise nights. He is very lonesome. I guess he misses you. I hope you will come up soon; then he won't be so lonesome. Minnie."

Evarts says when the Baptists came to Rhode Island they praised God and fell on their knees, then they fell on the aborigi-nese. When I asked the ex-secretary about the settlement of Rhode Island he said: "Yes, the Dutch settled Rhode Island; then the Yankees settled the Dutch."

A Missionary From Maine. Detroit Tribune: The man who drove "them steers" across Maine in a memorable state campaign, Solon Chase, of Chase's Mills, Me., arrived in Detroit. Mr. Chase is one of the quota got them down to an issue, and most of hem feel as a democratic friend mine did who said: 'I'm a democrat, but d-d the free traders. I don't want them in my cornfield.' Free trade will destroy trade and knock down prices, which is just as bad for my corn crop as f the corn was knocked down." that is the way the Maine farmers feel.

"I want to get hold of my greenback friends in this state and shall, for they'll all come out to hear what the old cuss has got to say. Then I have got them. Do they keep up that old farce of fusion here?

"Well, every greenbacker, whether he is a greenbacker, fusionist, or not, is trailing after the democrats, and the only way for him to straighten himself out and work for his best interest is to become a republican. I think I can make a few of the honest greenbackers look at the thing in its true light if I

Progress and Poverty.
The Contemporary Review: The hazy idea that one man's wealth involves another man's poverty still induces a good deal of preaching against "culpable luxury," without any clear idea of what the culpableness consists in. This un-guarded condemnation of luxurious expenditure is a heritage of simpler times and of simpler morals. When the world was poor, wealth had the form of a store of goods. From this store a man was always subtracting something for his subsistence; to it he was bound to add, on the whole, more than he withdrew. There was little command over nature; man had to do the hard work, with only his strong arms for tools; and, as no one could add much, no one had a right to waste much.
