Expensive Bluster.

A hackman named J. Laderback, while inside the B. & M. baggage-room contrary to the rules of the company, was ordered to leave by the special officer of the company. A Big Cartridge.

Yesterday Clerk Wells startled the officials in the general superintendent's office by producing a formidable-looking cartridge, which he had found in the Union depot. It was of white metal, cylindrical in shape, about four inches wide, and one inch diameter, and is apparently filled with some heavy metal. It is capped in the usual way, and will be sent to police headquarters for analysis.

Tramp Telegrapher.

The Wells-Fargo Express company have paid to the proper party at Fairmont the $221 which was stolen from it by the defaulting telegraph operator at that place. His name was Cooper, but he has not yet been arrested, though Agent Potter says he has no doubt but that he will be, because the company has shadowed him with detectives. Cooper, it is claimed, was only a tramp telegrapher, having been in the employ of the railroad company for a short time only.

Going Into Retirement.

Colonel H. B. Burnham, who has been visiting his son N. J. Burnham for two weeks past, left Monday for his home near Richmond, Va., via St. Louis. Colonel Burnham was stationed in Omaha for fourteen years as deputy judge advocate general of the department of the Platte. He came to Omaha in November, 1872, and was retired two weeks ago, being one of the oldest officers in this department. The colonel owns a plantation near Richmond, on which is a typical southern mansion, and there he will devote his time to raising fine stock. His visit to Omaha has been made particularly enjoyable by the calls of his old time friends, and with drives out to the post.

French Leave.

B. F. French, the absconding proprietor of the Davenport hotel at Fremont, it is claimed, was seen in Omaha last Thursday and that is the last seen or heard of him. He pretended to come here to collect a bill of $70 on a hay account, but his failure to return and the number of people whom he has left in the lurch confirms the suspicion that he has fled to unknown parts. It has been ascertained that the total amount of his indebtedness is placed at $1,100. When he left he took about $125 in cash from the house and left his wife only $3 with which to run the hotel. His departure is a surprise to his friends and acquaintances as he was an old and respected resident of Fremont. It is thought that he has gone to California. His property has been attached.

Defeat is a school in which truth always grows strong. Though your disease baffle your physician, if you put your blood in good order with Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, you can rely on finally growing well and strong. Pure blood means good health.

Every day is a little life and our whole life is but a day repeated. 'Tis not best to suffer pain for even one little day, when one application of Warner's Log Cabin Extract will drive it quick away. Nothing better for external or internal application.

INDIANA REPUBLICAN.

J. M. Thurston Tells of Harrison's Great Popularity.

John M. Thurston has returned from his stumping tour and, in a conversation said that he had made four speeches in Indiana in four of the largest cities in that state, closing at Indianapolis last Saturday night. The enthusiasm throughout that state, Mr. Thurston says, is something simply wonderful. The republicans seem to be able to point out among the well-known people of the different localities many persons who have up to this time been strong democrats, who are now earnestly supporting Harrison and Morton. Mr. Thurston thinks there can be no doubt as to the result, and looks confidently for a republican majority of 10,000 in the state.

The delegations who are visiting General Harrison at Indianapolis are almost numberless. The John A. Logan club, numbering about seven hundred, called on him last Saturday, and another club from Cleveland, O., with nearly one thousand men in line, did the same. Delegations are arriving every day, and the wonderful manner in which General Harrison is responding to all the calls made upon him is something unprecedented in the political history of this country. He is convincing the people that he is one of the greatest men in the United States. His utterances show deep thought and statesmanship of the first order. Every epigram of his contains some vital political truth put in such a way as to come home to the intelligence of the classes.

Mr. Thurston has demands made upon him for his presence upon the platform in the eastern states, but doubts if he will be able to do much more on account of pressure of business in Omaha. He feels perfectly certain that we are going to carry every northern state for the republican ticket.

Notes.

The Irish-American Republican club meets this evening in the Barker hotel, and will be addressed by John L. Webster.

J. Sterling Morton left for Lincoln, where he spoke last night on free trade.

JEOPARDIZING LIVES.

Inspector Standeven Points Out an Incompetent Engineer.

August Funger, the engineer of the heating apparatus of the Dupont school, still insists on running the affair, although he was refused a license by Boiler Inspector Standeven on last Saturday. The inspector notified Mr. Piper, secretary of the board, of Funger's incompetency and asked for his immediate removal. This has been disregarded, and yesterday complaints came to the inspector from patrons of the school insisting on Funger's removal, as they did not wish the lives of their children jeopardized by an incompetent man tinkering with a boiler. Mr. Standeven has sent another request to Mr. Piper that Funger be removed.

UNIFORM TERMS.

They Are to be Adopted by the Whisky Trust.

P. E. Iler has returned from Cincinnati, where he attended a meeting of the trustees of the whisky trust, which was called to consider matters relating to the distributing houses of the association. The meeting was not largely attended and adjourned to Peoria, where it is thought the terms on which whisky must be sold will be determined. Heretofore the distributing houses have been selling whisky on thirty, sixty, eighty and ninety days, and some have been selling for cash. Under the proposed agreement a rule will be adopted which will govern the distributors which, it is said, will be of great advantage to the concern.

He is married, his father and mother residing in South Omaha. Thomson is the man who was so badly beaten by the strikers last spring, but he kept on at work until yesterday.

TAKEN TO PAPILLION.

There Robert Smith Will Be Heard on the Charge of Murder.

Thomas Smith, the alleged murderer of Thomas Sullivan, the brakeman found dead near La Platte, Saturday night, has been identified as the man who was attempting to steal a ride. Officer Havey says that Smith at first denied being the fellow, but in conversation Smith freely admitted that he was the man who was attempting to get a free ride and whom Sullivan requested to leave the cars. Smith says that he got on the train at Pacific Junction to come to Omaha when he was discovered in a stock car by Sullivan just after the train left Oreapolis. He told Sullivan that he was a railroad man and wanted to ride free. Sullivan told him he was a new man in the employ of the road and he could not allow anybody to ride free as the company watched their new employes very closely. He, therefore, would have to ask him at least to leave his end of the train.

Smith says he started to do so and clambered down upon the next car which was a flat one, Sullivan meanwhile warning him to look out or he might fall between the cars. No hard words passed between them. Smith next crawled into a car nearly filled with coal and left Sullivan standing on the stock car in which the brakeman had found him. That was the last he saw of Sullivan, and was surprised when he heard of his being found dead on the track near La Platte. Smith rode in the coal car as far as Gibson and got off there, as he said he knew the train would not stop again until it got into the yards, and he did not wish to go so far.

He says he put up at the Garni house, on Mason street, and stayed there over Sunday, never dreaming of the terrible crime that was laid at his door. All cross questioning fails to make him in any way contradict himself in the above story.

He says that at one time he was with Pinneo, the B. & M. detective, and that he spoke of this when first he asked the engineer for a ride, but did not try in any way to make the railroad believe that he was at present a sleuth for that company.

Yesterday Robert Whiting, the sheriff of Sarpy county, came up after Smith to take him to Papillion, where he will be given his preliminary hearing on the charge of murder in the first degree.

At the inquest held over Sullivan's remains, the verdict declared that the deceased came to his death by being pushed from the train.

Fined for a Threat.

Tom McKinney was charged what he considered the exhorbitant sum of $1 for riding a short distance in a hack Monday night and refused to pay that sum. The hackman grew insolent and Tom threatened to pulverize him. He then hunted up a policeman and caused Tom's arrest. Yesterday on arraignment McKinney admitted that he threatened to thrash the hackman, but claimed that any man would do so under the same circumstances. The judge did not regard this as a good excuse, however, and charged Tom $15 for his experience.

WACO, TEXAS, May 9, 1888.—Gentlemen: The wife of one of my customers was terribly afflicted with a loathsome skin disease, that covered her whole body. She was confined to her bed for several years by this affliction, and could not help herself at all. She could not sleep from a violent itching and stinging of the skin. The disease baffled the skill of the physicians who treated it. Her husband began finally giving his wife Swift's Specific, and she commenced to improve almost immediately, and in a few weeks she was apparently well. She is now a hearty fine-looking lady, with no trace of the affliction left. Yours very truly, J. E. SEARS,
