Policemen's Assaults.

The number of fellows who seem to con test the right of a policeman to make an arrest seems to be on the increase. No less than three such cases had a hearing in the police court yesterday. He was finally overpowered and on arraignment was fined $3.50, with a promise of a heavy fine for the Flying Bawds.

Captain Green says that there is very little opposition to the recent decree of the mayor, ordering all occupants of bawdy houses in the district between Tenth and Thirteenth and Douglas and Capitol avenue to vacate. Already a number of them have moved and others are making preparations to do so. Some of the property owners are objecting to the measure and denounce it as tyrannical, but the majority of persons who own these houses think that the move will have the effect of increasing the value of the property. Captain Green intends to ar-rest all persons who have not complied with the order by the 10th of this month.

"What do you know about his having robbed the mails?" "Nothing definite. On being informed of the case, I handed the matter over to Attorney Pritchett with the request that the matter be thoroughly investigated and Turtle prosecuted.

A visit was made to Turtle's store room vesterday. Among the letters found was one addressed to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, which had been opened. It was dated August and referred to an inclosure of $1 for the purchase of a September lottery ticket, It also contained a stamped envelope for a reply. The stamps in both cases had been removed, and the address of the sender read "L. J. Allen, 1417 Jackson street."

The letter received by Turtle from his brother was just such an one as might be written by a relative, save for one clause, which read: "Jim, let me know if you can let me have another one of them boxes with let me have another one of them boxes with Her's stuff in it, as I would like to have it soon and I can't get any good stuff here." It was dated at Leadville, Colo., but one or two empty envelopes from the same writer showed that he had previously been living in Long Pine, Neb. A third letter was written on the billhead and was signed "Rou." It contained a request for the use of the prisoner's room on the night of September 3. Another envelope was found addressed to a Mrs. Hegeman. It had evidently been enclosed by that lady in had evidently been enclosed by that lady in some other letter, that required an answer, and she had sent a stamped envelope to ensure a reply, but as in other cases the stamps were torn off. said Detective Blaufuss, "and I would like you to correct that. Look at this," and he handed over a written order signed by the prisoner, authorizing the detective to deliver to Her & Co. all the liquors found in his room at 804 South Thirteenth street.

"And then about the letters," he added.

"When he admitted his guilt to Mr. Her, that gentleman promised to be as lenient as the law would allow, and advised him to tell all he knew about them, but he only said, 'If I can get out of the one, I guess I can get out of the other, too.'" At 1 o'clock yesterday Turtle was brought before Justice O'Connell on the charge of larceny, preferred by Her & Co. At the request of the complainants, the charge was made for petit larceny only, and Justice O'Connell dismissed the case. The prisoner was immediately re-arrested, however, on the order of which was the case. ever, on the charge of robbery the United States mails of the sum of $1, contained in a letter addressed to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. He seemed completely broken down, and was at once taken to the court of Justice Anderson. Before his arrival, the United States mar shal thoroughly examined his room, and found nearly a dozen of letters directed to persons in different parts of the country, Some of them were not even opened, but the majority had been tampered with.

On being taken before Justice Anderson the case was continued until to-day, and Turtle committed to jail in default of a $500 bend.

The account of Turtle's doings published in The Beg has led to a number of inquiries for missing letters. One was posted by E. M. Blair of Cuming street, and it has never reached its destination in Iowa, and another expected by Mrs. Pete Rigby of Eighteenth street, is numbered among the letters that never came.

A New Lutheran Church. The call for a meeting of Lutherans at L. H. Korty's residence on Poppleton avenue Thursday evening to take steps to organize a new Lutheran church society, was answered by about forty people. Every person present evinced the greatest interest in the project, and it was decided to form an organization which should accomplish the purpose of the meeting. A committee was appointed to secure a temporary place of worship, which will report at another meeting to be held on next Wednesday night at the same place Rev. L. M. Kuhns, who is to be the pastor of the church, was present and was greatly pleased with the interest displayed. He is the son of the first pastor of the first Lutherah church established in this city, which, it will be remembered, was located on Douglas street between Twelfth and Thirteenth. He was born in this city, hav-ing left, however, in 1872, and now returning to assume the same duties taken up by his father so many years ago. The latter is now in this city but is not officiating.

Omaha Swedish Band.

The Swedish people of Omaha are not go ing to be behind in the musical advancement of our city. They have recently organized a brass and reed band, composed of twentyone of their best and most talented young men. They have been practicing diligently during the summer, under an experienced instructor, and will soon be one of the leading bands in the city, and an organization ing bands in the city, and an organization the Swedish people can justly be proud of. The band is incorporated, have a full set of instruments and will come out this week in an elegant new uniform. They give a benefit concert on Saturday night of this week, assisted by some of the best musical talent of the city, at Crounse's hall, Sixteenth and Capitol avenue, the proceeds to go toward paying for the uniforms. The admission will be 25 cents. "DOCTORING OLD TIME."

A Striking Picture-A Revival of Old Time Simplicities.

In one of Harper's issues is given a very fine illustration of Roberts' celebrated old painting, known as "Doctor-ing Old Time." It represents a typical old-timer, with his bellows, blowing the dust from an ancient clock, with its cords and weights carefully secured. One of these clocks in this generation s appreciated only as a rare relic.

The suggestive name, "Doctoring Old Time," brings to our mind another version of the title, used for another purpose—"Old Time Doctoring." We learn, through a reliable source that one of the enterprising proprietary medicine firms of the country has bee or years investigating the formulas and medical preparations used in the beginning of this century, and even be fore, with a view of ascertaining why people in our great grandfathers time enjoyed a health and physical vigor so eldom found in the present generation. They now think they have secured the secret or secrets. They find that the prevailing opinion that then existed, that "Nature has a remedy for every existing disorder," was true, and acting under this belief, our grandparents used the common herbs and plants. Continual trespass upon the forest domain has made these herbs less abundant and has driven them further from civilization, until they have been discarded as remedial agents because of the difficulty obtaining them.

H. H. Warner, proprietor of Warner's safe cure and founder of the Warner observatory, Rochester, N. Y., has been pressing investigations in this direc-tion, into the annuls of old family his tories, until he has secured some very valuable formulas, from which his firm is now preparing medicines, to be sold by all druggists.

They will, we learn, be known under the general title of "Warner's Log Cabin remedies." Among these medi-cines will be a "sarsaparilla," for the blood and liver, "Log Cabin hops and buchu remedy," for the stomach, etc., "Log Cabin cough and consumption remedy," "Log Cabin hair tonic," "Log Cabin extract," for internal and external use, and an old valuable discovery for catarrh, called "Log Cabin rose Among the list is also a "Log cream." Cabin plaster," and a "Log Cabin live

From the number of remedies, it will e seen that they do not propose to cure all diseases with one prepartion. It is believed by many that with these remedies a new era is to dawn upon suffering humanity and that close of the nineteenth century will see these roots and herbs, as compounded under the title of Warner's Log Cabin remedies, as popular as they were at its beginning. Although they come in the form of proprietary medicines, yet they will be none the less welcome, for suffering humanity has become tired of modern doctoring and the public has great confidence in any remedies put up by the firm of which H. H. Warner is the head. The people have become suspicious of the effects of doctoring with peisonous drugs. Few realize the injurious effects following the prescriptions of many modern physicians. These effeets of poisonous drugs, already prominent, will become more pronounced in coming generations. Therefore we can cordially wish the old-fashioned new remedies the best of success.

ENGINEERS QUALIFICATIONS. What Boiler Inspector Standeven Expects of Them.

The charge of inefficiency made by Boiler Inspector Standeven against the engineer in one of our public schools, led to a question to that gentleman as to the qualifications of a man filling such a position.

"The whole thing is summed up in one word," said Mr. Standeven, "and that is, experience. He must be familiar enough with the action of boilers to know the amount of water necessary to make a certain pressure of steam, he must understand thorug hly all the regulations concerning the water line in the glass tube, and should know by the action of the steam when to clean out the boiler, when to add water, or relieve it of a surplus."

"Who examines the applicants, and by whom are the licenses issued?"
"Both are done by myself. But in case of "Both are done by myself. But in case of any party being refused a certificate and feel-ing aggrieved he can appeal to the other two members of the board of engineers. The board is composed of Mr. Gilbert, the gas in-spector, Mr. Perkins, a practical mechanical engineer, and myself. The other two mem-bers are never called on unless some party has been refused a certificate by me. I have issued 185 licences since I came into office issued 185 licences since I came into office July 16, 1887, and have refused but two applicants. In both of these cases the other members of the board sustained my action. I have issued licenses to persons who under stood but little of our language and did not know in English the names of the different parts of a boiler, but by the use of diagrams or cuts they have exhibited a thorough knowledge of the business." "Is the office of boiler inspector a self-sustaining one!"

"Yes, it is more than self-sustaining. Since I came into office a little over a year ago I have examined 370 boilers at $5 apiece. This, with the dollar charged for each of the engineer's certificates, has brought into the city a revenue amounting to $2,035." It is by copying after nature that man gets best results. A Variety of Views on the Advantages of the New Bridge. In view of the near approach of the opening of the new Council Bluffs and Omaha bridge, the following expressions of opinion have been obtained as to the advantages to be derived by the cities interested: B. F. Troxell—It will benefit consumers more than it will the commission men. It will enable produce to be run in here from points twenty-five miles around Council Bluffs, which will be sold direct to consum-

points twenty-five miles around Council Bluffs, which will be sold direct to consumers and retailers.

L. O. Jones—I will benefit both cities, I think, though I don't think it will bring many men over here to purchase. They consider their time more valuable than ladies, and when they want to make a purchase they go where they can do it without having to cross a bridge for the purpose. Of course some men will come over here.

C. J. Bell, manager of Dun's Mercantile Agency—It will cause more traffic, and traffic brings trade, and I think it will help the retail trade of Omaha. I don't think it will have much effect on real estate except just at the approaches of the bridge. If the means of transportation are good, reliable and cheap, citizens of Omaha may see fit to make the Bluffs their choice for residence property, but that won't be for years.

T. H. Moffatt—To them that have shall be given, and the tendency always is towards the largest market. The more means of transport that center in any one place, the more trade that place will do. The great Brooklyn bridge proved that, and this one will do the same on a smaller scale. I don't think it will have much effect on real estate.

Brooklyn bridge proved that, and this one will do the same on a smaller scale. I don't think it will have much effect on real estate, because rents in Omaha are coming down now, although people might prefer to build in the Bluffs on account of lower taxation.

A. C. Riddell, of Riddell & Riddell—I think Omaha will get the best of it because her merchants carry much larger stocks and purchasers prefer to have the largest possible assortment to select from. But it won't help the commission men any. We have decided upon weekly payments and some customers are kicking. It is quite possible that with cheap tolls and oneap telephone rates some of them will transfer their buying to the Bluffs, and if they do, it will leave us only the "shyster" trade, for the Council Bluffs dealers won't take any chances on poor men this side of the river.

Nels H. Nelson, of Branch & Co.—I think it will make things boom for a while and it will flood the city with cheap fruit and vegetables. Go down and look at the transfer trains now, and you will find them filled with peddlers. If the tolks are lowered you will find just as many more of them coming over find just as many more of them coming over here and selling wagon loads of produce along the streets.

Charles Metz—We haven't got a very large trade in the Bluffs, but if beer could be sold openly over there, it would help us a great deal. It will be a great help to Omaha.

J. T. Evans—It's a well-known fact, and you know it, that the largest cities always attract trade. It will be so in this case. Omaha will be benefitted; you will get more business, and Council Bluffs will enjoy privileges she does not now enjoy. It will be cheaper to live over there, and many people cheaper to live over there, and many people now residing in Omaha will move over there Then warehouses will be attracted, and the interests of each town will be reciprocal. Besides, all this feeling of antagonism as between two towns will be destroyed, and an era of good feeling will prevail.

Is being rapidly pushed to completion and we hope to open the same by the 15th inst. The changes and improvements which we are also making in the old store extend to every floor and department. We propose to have not only the largest, but also the best arranged and best lighted Clothing Establishment.

We have to apologize to our patrons for the present condition of our store, but it is unavoidable; we are not only crowded with goods but crowded with buyers at all times, and customers may find it a little inconvenient but they will find themselves amply repaid by the low prices we are making throughout our entire stock and the many bargains we are offering.

Our stock of Overcoats is enormous and the change in the weather has created quite a demand for them. We have everything imaginable, or at least desirable, and among our stock will be found many lots which are marked in price far below their intrinsic value.

The Mens' Suit stock is the heaviest ever shown and its variety warrants the assertion that whoever buys a Winter Suit without at least looking here, fails to consult his own interest. There is not an establishment in the west that offers the selection or names the prices we do.

Boys and Children are as amply provided for we still have some of the special bargain Knee Pant Suits at $2.50 a suit, which would be cheap at $5.00. We want every mother to look at this suit. In long Pant Suits and Boys' and Children's Overcoats we offer great inducements.

Underwear you can buy of us at lower prices than the regular retailers pay for them.

Gloves, Hosiery, Neckwear and all other Mens' furnishings at lowest possible prices.

Hats are almost given away, at least you would think so if you look at the constant rush in our Hat Department. The quantities we handle of these goods, and the way we buy them puts all competition out of the question.
