

THE CITY.

The Omaha club gives a reception in its new quarters on Thursday evening to its members and their families.

J. M. McCauley, who lives five miles north of Valley, is in the city looking for a mare stolen from his farm a few nights ago.

The little six-year-old daughter of Jack Switch was attacked and horribly mangled by a vicious bull dog belonging to Policeman Fisher, at Thirtieth and Grand streets.

Edwin H. Sherwood, of Sherman avenue, has sold his property on that thoroughfare to Mrs. R. Ashby, wife of Captain Ashby, of Wynmore.

The Bishop and Wheeler Loan company has filed articles of incorporation. The capital stock is $10,000.

The president of the board of public works has addressed a communication to the Omaha Motor railway, notifying them that before any further permits are granted them to extend their line they must complete the plan in the road on Burt between Twentieth and Twenty-second streets.

H. Johnson, a negro blackhead, was arrested yesterday as a suspicious character. The real cause of his arrest is the fact that he is a fugitive from justice.

Some time ago Johnson was sentenced to five days' labor in the city jail, and at noon on the first day Mr. Johnson quietly sneaked through the door and failed to return.

Mr. Geo. Monahan, proprietor of the Verona farce and comedy company, is in the city.

Mr. Edward Rosewater, editor of The Bee, left yesterday on a business trip to Chicago, Milwaukee and Minneapolis.

Six gold medals awarded Jarvis brandy.

Must Cut It Short. Two young women in Nellie King's house were arrested Monday night on the charge of not having paid the monthly fee.

The Midnight Law. The police have complained to the chief concerning the saloon belonging to C. S. Higgins, which they claim is run after midnight.

Jarvis medical brandy the best.

Business Changes. H. W. Curdroy's store, Red Oak, Ia., has been closed up on a chattel mortgage of $7,000.

Starving Horses. A case of heartless cruelty to animals by starvation comes to light through Special Officer Goldsmith, who alleges that one John Stephens has by misuse and starvation killed no less than seven horses within the past few months.

Nightly Raids. There are eleven houses of ill-fame in the prescribed district from which the several landladies have not yet moved their furniture, but promise to do so at the earliest opportunity.

The Potter Monument. The firm of E. P. Reynolds & Co., of Wynmore, Neb., have forwarded their check of $600 to a member of the Potter Monument commission in this city, to be applied on the Potter Monument fund.

Oldest and the best, Jarvis brandy.

C. C. Clark Injured. Cassius C. Clark, superintendent of the Strange & Clark heating company was thrown out of his buggy yesterday at one o'clock, at the corner of Eleventh and Farnam streets.

A Young Man Missing. Mrs. Mary A. Adams, 919 Pacific street, reports that her son, Emory Morris, who was discharged from the hospital six weeks ago, disappeared about the middle of last month, and has not been heard of since.

A Fondness for Dimmes. Burt Hines evidently realizes very keenly that winter is at hand. Yesterday afternoon he was caught in the act of removing a suit of clothes from a dummy in front of a clothing store on Douglas street near Thirtieth, and almost got away with it.

Beware of a silent dog and still waters. The impure blood flowing silently through the system is a dangerous enemy to health.

A Mother's Suicide. Mrs. Mary Stepanek committed suicide yesterday at her home on Nelson street by cutting her throat with a razor. Her husband and oldest girl went to work as usual, leaving four children at home. About 8 o'clock the mother sent the latter to a neighbors to buy some milk, and gave them 25 cents for that purpose. She said to the eldest:

"Mary, don't go to school today. I may die this morning." The children were gone "a little while," as they expressed it, probably fifteen minutes, and on their return found their mother lying on the floor in a pool of blood. They were frightened by the sight and ran to the neighbors screaming.

The child department is the first that greets the visitor in his promenade, and this is presided over by Mrs. Schiornick, with five charming young lady assistants.

The jewelry booth, to which a number of the leading jewelers of the city have contributed, is in charge of Mrs. Max Meyer. Next to this is the postoffice. Following in order are the furnishing goods booth, the art gallery, the display and Singer machine department.

Chief Clerk Wells, of the Nebraska division, and Acting Trainmaster Foley went west with the pay car.

John H. Jackson, the fireman who was fined $25 for trashing a seal, is back to work. The boys saw that the fine was paid.

William Bracher, one of the ex-Burlington men, came back to see the boys. He is now on the Union Pacific, as passenger agent at Fremont.
