

EIGHTEENTH YEAR.

A RECEPTION AT RHINEBECK

An Immense Demonstration in Honor of Levi P. Morton.

THE OLD ROMAN'S CANVASS

Rain Interferes With the Enthusiasm at Tippecanoe-Blaine Reception at Chicago-Hewitt and Cleveland.

A Morton Delegation.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 18.—There was an immense demonstration at Rhinebeck to-night, the occasion being a visit of the various republican clubs to Mr. Levi P. Morton.

On arriving at Mr. Morton's residence the clubs massed on the lawn on the north side of the house.

George Esselstun, of Rhinebeck, as chairman, welcomed the clubs and presented them to Mr. Morton, who spoke as follows:

"Mr. Esselstun, friends and neighbors of Dutchess and Ulster counties. I humbly congratulate you on the success of your enterprise in quiet country towns, and the surprise of the people of Rhinebeck can, I think, only be compared to that of the rest of the country when the pilgrim fathers landed on Plymouth Rock, or when Robert Fulton's boat made its first trip up the Hudson river.

How glad I am to see you here in greeting you with cordial welcome and beg to assure you of my grateful appreciation of the honor conferred upon me by your visit this evening.

It is the best terms at my command. I do not see that there is much to be said, and I am therefore not an arguer, but I am glad to see you here in greeting you with cordial welcome and beg to assure you of my grateful appreciation of the honor conferred upon me by your visit this evening.

From the nominations made by the Dutchess county convention last Saturday, and those made at the state convention at Saratoga, there is no question as to the platform adopted by our state convention is supported in its entirety by all republicans.

You probably know that republicans of every other section are working in as complete harmony as in this. There are among you many who are not so well versed in the art of free trade, and you can practically estimate the value of close masses when entering a conflict.

Your experience will teach you the importance of every other section are working in as complete harmony as in this. There are among you many who are not so well versed in the art of free trade, and you can practically estimate the value of close masses when entering a conflict.

HAS HE A BOMB IN STORE?

Rumors That Cleveland May Spring Another Sensation.

REPUBLICANS ON THE LOOKOUT.

Employees in the Pension Office Kept Busy Night and Day as the Election Draws Near.

Keeping an Eye on Cleveland.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE OMAHA DAILY PRESS, Oct. 18.

There will not be much done before the session closes, and most of the men in either house will get away before Saturday.

Washington is extremely quiet now. Everybody is glad that the session is almost ended. It will on Friday in the Senate, says a member of the long session on record.

Unless the president sends the promised "bombshell" to congress between 12 and 1 o'clock on Saturday, the end of the session will be uneventful and witnessed by less than three dozen statesmen.

There are men in the city to-night who say the president may, when he is waited upon by the committee from both houses to notify the congress is ready to adjourn, and asks if he has any further communication to make to it, reply that he has and that he may send in a message rapping the republicans over the head for not taking action on the tariff, or for the attitude of the republicans on the Canadian question.

He could have a message read in both houses at the very last moment, and cut out an reply. The republican party is on the qui vive for any sensational move the president may make and they will clamorize if possible.

They realize that they are dealing with a sensational president.

THE PENSION BUREAU IS PARTISAN.

Clerks in the adjutant general's office say there never were half so many calls for records from the pension bureau as there are now, and that they are being worked night and day. It appears that pension cases have been held back until the eve of election and that they are being rushed through with lightning speed to impress the soldiers with the friendship of the administration for them.

The pension bureau is being worked for an it is worth now.

CONGRESS WILL ADJOURN.

Congress will adjourn on Friday day after tomorrow. The senate becoming weary and disgusted with the endeavors of the house to keep up the farce of a session passed an adjournment resolution on Monday.

McMillan, a democratic member of the committee on ways and means, called up the proposition in the house and it was passed by a vote of 150 to 100.

The democrats in both houses at the last moment showed an almost indecent eagerness to get away. They did this notwithstanding the fact that they have been pretending to want to stay here. In both houses the republicans advocated a recess till November 12 or 15, which would give the democrats more time before congress, under the constitution, reconvenes, Monday, December 3, but the democrats solidly demanded an adjournment.

As anticipated, the democrats in the house attempted, under the stress of circumstances, to attack the republican substitute for the Mills tariff bill and the republican endeavor to reform the tariff, by producing an alleged analysis of the senate tariff bill, showing a misstatement of fact, and the work of the senate committee on finance, but it proved a boomerang. Mr. Millan was compelled to admit, before the democrats, that the republican proposition to increase the duties on the luxuries and put on the list or greatly reduce the duties on the necessities of life, would produce a surplus of $100,000,000 in the treasury.

The republicans, who were in the majority, were reduced to a minority of 100 to 150.

Mr. Henry B. Mulford, of Omaha, son of John C. Mulford, of Willard's hotel, was married in this city at 6:30 last evening to Miss Anna Belle, daughter of Mr. Horatio Hill Pope, formerly of Georgia but now of Washington. The wedding was at St. Paul's church and only the immediate family and a few friends were present.

The bride and groom left for their home, intending to stop off at Chicago for two days, after which they will proceed to their home, where Mr. Mulford will resume his duties at the Union Stock Yard bank.

There is a good deal of squirming to-night on the part of the democrats in congress over Senator Teller's resolution to investigate the purchase of English made blankets by the war department. They are afraid the republicans will produce the evidence before the election.

The secretary of the army has postponed his reply to Senator Hall's inquiry respecting the Benet order to remove women and children from the arsenals and army, so as to give time to demonstrate to the public that it is practicable to make an investigation before the election.

Celestians Allowed to Land.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—A telegram received at the treasury department from the collector at San Francisco announces the arrival of his post of the American steamer Bertha with ninety Chinese laborers. The steamer Secretary Ennis, who is in charge, has inquired whether they went from San Francisco. The collector asks for a ruling whether the Chinese should be allowed to land. In reply Assistant Secretary Maynard says that these Chinamen may be regarded as never having left the United States, and may therefore be permitted to land. He advises, however, that strict proof of this be demanded.

BOSTON, Oct. 18.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—A novel robbery was committed in Boston yesterday afternoon. William Maynard is a jewelry broker at No. 170 Brattle square. One of the thieves then mounted the step-ladder and cut in as his services were demanded. The rascals then packed up watches and diamonds valued at $12,000, and made their escape.

The court house was crowded, and the liveliest interest was shown in the governor's address. Farmers for miles around came in to hear the good old republican doctrine.

Attempted Murder.

WATERLOO, Ia., Oct. 18.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—A determined attempt last night on the life of Elmer Hostetter, a young business man of this city, was frustrated only by the poor marksmanship of the would-be murderer. As Mr. Hostetter was returning home at a late hour a man sprang out and aimed a vicious blow at his head. He then drew a revolver, and, firing twice, turned and fled. Hostetter in turn drew his revolver and prepared to return the fire. One of the bullets passed through Hostetter's coat, hitting and grazing his shoulder, and the other struck his coat on the left side. Twice during the last three months Hostetter has suffered from injuries of this kind, and he has long been supposed to be marked out as a victim by some mysterious person. Public indignation runs high.

A Crazy Horse Thief.

GLENWOOD, Ia., Oct. 18.—(Special Telegram to THE BEE.)—Charles Thurman, who has been confined in jail here for several weeks on the charge of horse-stealing, appears to have become raving mad. He began on Saturday morning to curse and yell, and has kept it up, with only now and then a momentary cessation, ever since. He is now chained to his cot, and is surging at his chains and cursing constantly. The insane commission examined him Monday, but did not decide finally in his case, it being known that he is a native of Iowa, and has long been known to be a man of good character. It looks now as though he would have to be taken to the asylum at Mount Pleasant. He is from Kansas, and is believed to steal a horse from this county in June last.

Charles Sutton, a dime novel devotee, wearing long hair, and about seven feet high, was jailed here Saturday by Frank C. Jackson of Pacific Junction. He had stolen a horse from a livery stable at Taber. The horse was taken to the sheriff's office at Sidney, Fremont county, by Sheriff Davis.
