

LINCOLN NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Largo and Happy Throats Attending St. Theresa's Fair.

A COMPLICATED FORECLOSURE.

Yes Today's Proceedings in the Nebraska Supreme Court—A University "Seminar"—State Political Points—General Notes.

LINCOLN HERALD OF THE OMAHA BEE, 1029 P STREET, LINCOLN, Oct. 19.

The attendance at St. Theresa's church fair increases from night to night. It has been a success from the first. The happy throng that gathered at Holman's hall last night numbered at least 1,000 people, and so on the evening was a great success. The various contests excite no little interest. Indeed they are intensely exciting in nature, provoking a friendly rivalry and a healthy circulation of nickels, dimes and dollars. This is the great object sought in the introduction of the fair. The articles that invite expenditure are many of them, very beautiful, and the winning ladies in charge of the various departments have very little difficulty in securing investments, some of which are rare chances, and hinge upon the turn of dice. To-night the voting commences for the gold headed case, which is to go to the most popular congressional candidate for the First district. It is thought that the voting will be spirited, and the odds will open at 8 o'clock, and close at the last hour to-morrow night. Some of the boys propose to give the sport a lively turn, and Mr. Morton wears the case his followers will wear it. The "green" is a conspicuous color in and about the hall, and the rich brogue of the descendants of the Emerald Isle is frequently heard in the walks and talks throughout the room.

APPEAL COURT PROCEEDINGS. John P. Brown was admitted to practice. The following cases were argued and submitted: Howell vs. Craft, Union Pacific railway company vs. O'Hara; Smith vs. Gibson; Lipp vs. Hunt; Richardson vs. Doty; Omaha Bell railway company vs. Johnson; Omaha vs. Kautzer; Slovian vs. Bodwell.

The docket to-day shows the following cases filed by Deputy Clerk Wheeler: Valentine Lipp vs. South Omaha Land and Syndicate; appeal from Douglas county.

State of Nebraska ex rel Edward Whitcomb vs. Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway company; quo warranto.

William Andrews and A. G. Fischer also file actions in quo warranto against the same company, quo warranto.

Waltham H. Warren et al vs. Ella W. Peabody et al; appeal from Fillmore county. City of Omaha vs. Ella Schaller; error from Douglas county.

AN INTERESTING CASE. An interesting suit was commenced in the district court of Lancaster county to-day to test the virtue of a mechanic's lien. The suit is brought by Joseph Kirkup, William A. McCallum and Walter Kirkup, trading under the firm name of William Kirkup & Son, against the Cincinnati Ice Machine company, a corporation existing under the laws of the state of Ohio and the Nebraska Stock Yards company, partners trading as Frommhold & Voigtmann.

The petition recites that the plaintiffs entered into a verbal contract with the defendants to pipe and otherwise repair and improve a building known as packing house No. 1, situated within the corporate limits of the city of Lincoln; that the contract was done and performed as per agreement, but that the defendants have failed to pay to the plaintiffs for their work and material furnished, or any part thereof; that the contract was fully performed between the 6th day of May and the 24 day of July, and that the work done and the material furnished amounts to $4,780.92.

The petition further states that while the contract between the plaintiffs and defendants was first made other parties appear with a mechanic's lien duly filed, taking priority to that of the plaintiffs, which, under the agreement, have no right to exist as first claims, and the plaintiffs ask judgment and the right to precedent foreclosure of lien and the costs appertaining to the suit.

THAT SALOON CONTEST. The Otto & Claus license case was heard yesterday evening at the adjourned meeting of the city council. C. E. Magson presented the case of Hardy & Pitcher and J. E. Philpot that of the applicants. A petition signed by a large number of the business men on South Eleventh street, remonstrating against the issuance of the license, was presented for the consideration of the council. The council that the fight is waged against the room the would-be saloonkeepers propose to occupy, rather than against them as business men, and it is a contest of procedure and determination. The applicants claim that they have expended over $1,000 in fitting the room up, all of which the petitioners propose to make up to them rather than have liquor sold at the particular place, but the proposition goes, only providing the application is voluntarily withdrawn. The council took the case under advisement pending the decision of Otto & Claus on the proposition of the business men who are fighting the application.

POLITICAL POSTERS. The indications are always favorable for party success whenever either side is forced upon the voters. At the present time, however, the indications are not so clear. The conservative democratic vote is on the eve of a general stampede to the republican banner. The attitude of the party in power on the tariff question is so at variance with the real sentiment of the voters, that it is forced to exclaim, "Whither do we drift? Reflection alone is necessary to fully answer the question. The election of Harrison and McKinley is almost a foregone conclusion. During the early part of the campaign I was in the east, and I must say that out of darkness has come light. Since the convention the tide has drifted in favor of the republican and the party of the people. I have been over the state considerably since coming to Nebraska, and am well pleased with the outlook for both the state and legislative tickets.

"I have not been going much during the past week," says Attorney E. L. Case, "but I am firmly convinced that the ticket that is being done for the ticket is toiling for the right. The only question is the majority. Whoever have the majority will win. I am wide awake, and I think that fears that the democrats will make material gains on the legislative ticket in the different senatorial and representative districts are groundless. I can't see it that way. I find that the party is thoroughly united, but the ball must be kept rolling. There is no telling what might be done if the old maxim, 'Whichever is the price of liberty' is forgotten. The whole ticket will be elected. It is nonsense to talk of anything else."

A UNIVERSITY "SEMINAR." Under the direction of Prof. George E. Howard, of the historical department of the state university, a class has been formed within the last week which is of no little importance as an indication of the character and extent of the work of the university is doing. It corresponds to the "Seminar" of the English universities, and consists entirely of post-graduate students who pursue original investigation and study under the supervision of the professor, but more as companions than as pupils. The class now numbers several and the results of its work will be looked for with much interest.

CITY NEWS AND NOTES. Secretary Laws went to Minden to-day. He is another political tour of the state. The Lancaster Bar association held an interesting meeting last night. It was decided to secure a lecture from Mr. Thompson, of England, during the winter in Nebraska.

The remains of Gas Kidwell were expressed to his parents at Martelle, Ia., at 1 o'clock to-day. Word came yesterday evening from his parents that it was their wish to have him laid to rest in the old home churchyard. Another Lancaster tragedy is now a matter of history.

John Bergeson, who was arrested on the charge of having assaulted one Frank McArthur with intent to commit highway robbery a day or two ago, was released to-day, the informant having failed to appear against him. He was arraigned before Judge Houston, plead not guilty and was discharged.

The death of Joseph H. Ballard, of Cortland, is announced. The deceased was formerly in the hardware business in Lincoln, and was well known to many of our citizens.

The remains were brought to Lincoln and interred in the cemetery. It is estimated that a large number of citizens followed them to their final resting place.

A Large Estate. A broad land is this in which we live, dotted so thickly with thriving cities, towns and villages! Amid them all, with ever-increasing popularity and helpfulness, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, giving hope and cheer where there is disease and despair. Wherever there is humanity there is suffering; wherever there is suffering there is the best field for this greatest American remedy. Consumption (which is lung-scrofula), yields to it if employed in the early stages of the disease; chronic nasal catarrh, yields to it; kidney and liver diseases yield to it! If you want the best known remedy for all diseases of the blood, ask for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and take no other.

THE TRUSS FELL. Eight Workmen in the Ruins—One Fatally Injured.

Part of the truss work at the eastern side of the Coliseum, now in course of erection at Twentieth and Grant streets, fell with a tremendous crash about 10:30 yesterday carrying with it four of the carpenters and burying four others just outside the debris. For a few minutes the wildest consternation prevailed and the workmen hurriedly rescued their imprisoned companions. The four engaged on the truss work on the outside were only slightly bruised, as the boards had fallen broken by a pile of lumber a few feet east of the wall. But of the four who were engaged in building the structure and were nearly twenty feet from the ground at the time of the accident, three of them were dragged out of the debris insensible. They recovered consciousness, however, and were properly cared for. Their names are J. C. Arnold, Alexander McBrine and Henry Orson. Arnold was badly cut over the eye and the blood was oozing from half a dozen cuts on his scalp. His legs were so badly bruised that he could not walk. Orson was also badly cut over the face and his right ankle so badly sprained that it will be some days before he can walk. McBrine is probably fatally injured. When the structure fell, he was hurled from the scaffolding on which was standing and fell on a pile of lumber. The wall fell on top of him, crushing him. His injuries are all internal, and there is a hemorrhage from the lungs which the physicians consider dangerous. Chris Nelson was near the top of the wall, and when he felt the structure giving way he had the presence of mind to hurriedly crawl through a window and ride down on the falling mass, instead of being crushed under it. He was only slightly jarred and shaken up. The accident is due to lack of proper bracing, and Thursday the workmen noticed the structure tottering in the wind and remarked its danger. Yesterday some person removed one or two of the braces on the outside, and while a strong wind was blowing the whole structure fell.

Had a bilious attack and one of those indescribable cases of constant weakness. Took quinine and other remedies without relief. Took Dr. Jones' Kidney Tonic; am strong and well. Asa Thompson, Logan, Ohio. Goodman Drug Co.

An Injunction on Grading. Thursday night an injunction was served on Mayor Broatch and Contractor Murphy, restraining them from grading and paving on Eleventh street from the viaduct to Williams street. Some time ago the property owners on Eleventh street requested that the Omaha street railway company be given the right to lay tracks, beginning at the south end of the viaduct to Williams street, which was refused, and now they are dissatisfied with the grading of the street. It required a four foot cut where the grade was established recently, from the present point, which the contractor made in order to lay his blocks. Yesterday the contractor was still at work. Mayor Broatch appeared before the board of public works yesterday afternoon and requested that the contractor be requested to quit work, which was complied with.

$5,000 Reward $5,000. For a better or more pleasant remedy for the cure of consumption, bronchial troubles, cough, croup and whooping cough than SANTA ANNE, the California king of consumption. Every bottle warranted. If you would be cured of that disgusting disease, catarrh, use CALIFORNIA CAT-RRICURE, $1 a jar; by mail $1.10. Santa Anne and Cat-RRICURE are sold and warranted by Goodman Drug Co.

Death of an Old Omahian. Dr. William Edwards, an old citizen of Omaha, died at St. Joseph's hospital at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Dr. Edwards was in the drug business in Omaha nine years ago at the corner of Sixteenth and Douglas streets. He was also the agent for the Babcock fire extinguisher, and in running to a fire fell and injured one of his legs. For nine years past Dr. Edwards has been living at 1416 North 24th, where he had almost constant trouble with his leg, and two weeks ago came to Omaha for medical attention. It was found necessary to amputate the leg, from the effects of which he died. He will be buried to-day at Forest Lawn cemetery.

Two Fatal Falls. New York, Oct. 19.—(Special Telegram.) The Tex Brez, a Delta Donkian, an Irish immigrant eighteen years old, fell from the rear platform of the Sag Harbor express on the Long Island railroad Wednesday afternoon and was killed. She had embarked at Long Island City, and being a stranger and unaccompanied to railroad travel, asked frequent questions as to her destination, which was replied to by the conductor, who was a Miss. When she heard the name of that station called the inexperienced and impatient girl arose and went out on the platform. There she lost her balance and pitched head first off the train, the customary guard chain across the rear platform being absent. She was still breathing when the train hands picked her up, but her neck was broken and she died in a few moments.

Edvard, the six year old son of James McArthur, living at No. 1240 Broadway street, fell five stories from the roof of the house to the street below yesterday and was instantly killed.

Axes to Grind. Storekeepers and druggists with private "axes to grind," although well aware of the superiority of SCZODONT to all preparations for the teeth, sometimes recommended other articles as "equally good" or "the same thing" or "superior." Insist on having SCZODONT.
