Charles Melson, one of the hod carriers on the Merriam block, took a tumble of several feet, but luckily escaped serious injury.

Unity Guild will hold its regular meeting this (Saturday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. Frank Levine, First street.

Council Bluffs will pin on a bright holiday attire on the 29th, the date of the bridge opening. All are praying for pleasant weather.

Great preparations are being made for the grand republican rally here on the 25th. It is expected to be the greatest gathering of the season.

Three drunks emptied their pockets in police court yesterday. H. Schroeder and Robert Sweet paid $7.00 each, and Charles Brophy $8.10.

An enjoyable german was given by Miss Francis Reynolds last evening at the residence of H. C. Cory, corner of Sixth avenue and Ninth street.

It is asserted that the Merriam block, now being built in Council Bluffs, covers more ground than any other mercantile building in either city. It is 100x200 feet.

Those who have not contributed for the expenses of the bridge opening should hand in their share to-day, without being solicited or urged by the committee.

W. H. Beck has purchased nineteen ponies for use on his pony express line, which will be put in running order as soon as the council takes final action in the matter.

Superior court convened yesterday morning for the September term. None of the cases on the docket were ready for trial, and no business was transacted during the day.

Someone has stolen a number of flambeau torches and parade suits from the democratic club rooms. The evening democratic paper charges it to the republicans, of course.

Cards have been received in this city announcing the marriage in Omaha of Mr. Will Poppleton and Miss Lottie Kennedy. The bride is well and favorably known on this side of the river.

The new Catholic church just dedicated at West Side, cost $2,000. In no city in the west have the Catholics spent so much money the past year in building improvements as in Council Bluffs.

Mr. S. J. Swanson met with a serious accident yesterday. While moving a piano into a building on Main street his back was severely strained, and he had to be taken home. Although not a permanent injury it will cause his confinement for a time.

Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock Roy Umbie, aged four years, died after a lingering illness of spinal meningitis. The funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. to-day at the home, corner of Avenue A and Twentieth street. The remains will be interred in the Garner cemetery.

MeAdams & Amberg have finished the paving of Fifth and Sixth avenues, and taken the street to Pierce street. They have the contract for paving that street and Bluff street, which they expect to conclude before cold weather sets in.

Chief Lucas was called out to Main street yesterday afternoon, where Milton Brown needed attention. A scuffle ensued and the young man had to be clubbed into submission. At the station the charge of "drunk and assaulting an officer" was placed against him.

The Baptist ladies have been considering the advisability of serving lunches or meals on the 29th or 30th, and thus realizing some funds for the church. As other societies have already arranged to do this the Baptist ladies very generously decide not to interfere with any competitive meals.

The moving of Broadway is proceeding altogether too slowly to suit the business men located at the particular places yet to be finished. "It is particularly desirable that it should be done before the 29th of the month," said a business man yesterday, "for we do not want to have to break our necks tumbling over rock piles."

Have our wagon call for your soiled clothes. Cascade Laundry Co.

THE SHIPPERS WILL PROTEST.

At the shippers' meeting last evening at the board of trade rooms nearly all the lines of goods shipped, either in or out of the city, were represented.

E. H. Merriam, chairman of the shippers' committee, stated the object of the meeting to be to secure testimony respecting railroad discrimination against Council Bluffs merchants.

Mr. Haar, of Harle, Haas & Co., wholesale druggists, said the shipments of that firm are mainly west and he had very little to complain of.

W. W. Wallace said he got out over the Rock Island and had it shipped to Omaha, paid charges across the river, and then saved 32 per cent over rates direct to Council Bluffs.

C. A. Beebe stated that roads would carry from Omaha to Sidney, Ia., 5c cheaper than they would haul the same goods from Council Bluffs.

Mr. Straub said he could get lime from Maquoketa over the Milwaukee via Omaha for 12c per bushel, while he had to pay 15c if shipped direct to this city.

Also, sand was shipped from Henton station to Glenwood for $13.00 and to Council Bluffs for $5.00.

Mr. Coker of the paper mill said the Union Pacific switching rate is $18 on a twenty-ton car, and he could save $12 a car by doing his own hauling.

Mr. Haas said the whole system was for the purpose of producing such injury to local business that men could not prosecute any trade in this state to financial advantage.

Mr. Alworth, local agent of the Chicago & Northwestern road, appeared in defense of that road's rates, which involved quite a discussion without accomplishing anything.

Mr. Haas said the railroads were hauling from New York to San Francisco for $1, while the rate from Council Bluffs to Omaha is $1.20.

These points will be formulated, and with the necessary documents will be presented to the commissioners when they visit this city.

Buried by a Snow Slide.

TELEPHONE CO. Oct. 19 - Yesterday, while Charles and William Weller, two miners, were digging their way through the snow from La Junta basin, a snow slide came down the mountain, carrying the men down 1,500 feet and burying them under the snow and rocks. William managed, with the aid of a pocket knife, to dig himself out and though badly wounded made his way to town. A rescuing party started and after two hours hard work found the body of Charles underneath several hundred feet of snow and rock, crushed to a shapeless mass.

Six gold medals awarded Jarvis' Brandy.

Signed by the President.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 - The president has approved the general deficiency bill.
