DUNDEE PLACE

It is scarcely a matter requiring explanation why Dundee Place will eventually supersede all other locations in Omaha for elegant homes. The reasons are obvious. The restrictions inserted in all the deeds are a most important feature; the natural lay of the land is equal in importance.

Dundee Place was the envy of lot buyers and home seekers when it was known as the Patrick farm, even though the ground was unbroken, lying as it does in the pathway of Omaha's greatest growth; with every condition favorable to make it a pleasant place to live. Its beauty and healthfulness of location are unpuestioned and unsurpassed. The ground is so high and so well drained that within a few hours after a storm all water disappears.

The lots as well as the streets and avenues are being graded and shade trees will be planted.

Many of our best citizens have secured building sites for elegant and permanent homes. No one can appreciate the advantages of this property as lately developed without seeing it.

This company will either build a house for you or make a liberal building loan with but one-third the price of the ground paid:

Our salesmen are ready at all times to show the property, it being but twelve minutes drive from our office.

Answer of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railway in the Quo Warranto Proceedings—New Notaries—City News.

LINCOLN BUREAU OF THE OMAHA BEE, 1029 P STREET, LINCOLN, Oct. 22.

And now comes the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway company in answer to the quo warranto action brought in the supreme court against it by the attorney general, on the part of the state, denying in toto that it is not a domestic incorporation and fully entitled to all the rights of eminent domain under the statutes of the state. The answer of the company is very modest. It does not seek to shift the case to the federal courts, where it is possible to pack juries, and where it is next to impossible to win a case against a railway company. The road wishes to be fully in accord with the exactions of the code and state constitution, and practically says so in its answer filed to-day. The answer sets up reasons at length why the road thinks it is legally incorporated, and if the court sustains it in the view taken, the attorney general will have accomplished his purpose in instituting the suit against it. The primary object in pringing quo warranto actions against this road and others was to get the opinion of the court as to whether it was legally and properly incorporated under the laws of the state, and so make it possible to bring and sustain suits brougnt against them in the state courts. Some of the railroad companies have been in the habit of swinging legitimate state court cases into the federal courts, and in so doing saved their slippery necks through the rotten method of impanneling the jury to try causes taken there. The actions in quo warranto, recently brought by the attorney general, are among the most important ever joined in the supreme court, and the roads are lying on a hard bed, and with a decision that sustains domestic incorporation or compels it, the last prop is taken away from them, and all actions arising against the companies under the constitution and statutes will in the future be tried and settled in the state courts, where it is impossible to continuously pack juries, and it will then be possible to secure justice.

A SLEEK SWINDLER.

During the sale season of the fall I. E. Wilson, who has been living on the Cadman farm, just south of the insane asylum, has been confidencing the farmers of the surrounding country most beautifully. He has attended the advertised stock sales far and near, bidding and buying in cattle whenever possible and at the close of the sale secured his purchase by giving a mortgage on the stock or his promissory note with the name of a friend who chanced to be present as security. In this way he succeed in purchasing over 1,500 head of cattle. As fast as the circumstances and conditions would permit, Wilson would run the same cattle off to some sale more distant, where they were again sold for cash and the money was stuffed into his illegally fattened pocketbook. The scheme became so transparent that suspicions were aroused and one of his victims succeeded in getting his just dues, but not so with the rest, for he folded his tent and quietly stole away on the 19th, and since then he has not been heard of. It was a brazen scheme and successfully worked. The matter has been put into a detective's hands and an effort will be made to run him to his lair. It is said that Wilson got away with over $3,000 by his treacherous game.

THE B'NAI BRITH SOCIETY.

The organization of the Independent Order of B'nai Brith (Sons of the Covenant) yesterday was an event of more than ordinary interest to Jewish circles in Lincoln. The order was established in this country forty-eight years ago, by a number of Jewish citizens of New York, and the object of it is to aid Israelite emigrants, support and educate those in want and to elevate the moral standard. There are now 377 lodges in existence, the latest acquisition being Lincoln City lodge No. 377, and the total membership will nearly or quite reach 26,000. The lodge here belongs to district No. 6, and embraces the states of Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan. The order now has a reserve fund of $100,000, and as the institution is purely benevolent it certainly is commendable. President Tansing and Secretary Hamburgher, of Chicago, instituted the lodge. They leave for home to-day.

NEW NOTARIES PUBLIC.

The following notaries public were commissioned to-day by the governor: Charles D. Francis, Neligh, Antelope county; Ohio Knox, Sidney, Cheyenne county; Charles E. Walters, Omaha, Douglas county; Samuel L. Christensen, Charlson, Dawes county; Luther M. Mahill, Max, Dundy county; W. S. CITY NEWS AND NOTES.

Governor Thayer returned home from O'Neill yesterday evening but left again to-day for Hastings, where he continues the work of the campaign.

The Catholic fair at Bohanan's hall closed to-night. It has been a marked success from the beginning, in both a social and financial way.

Mrs. John S. Finch returned home today from Tecumseh, where she has been visiting relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Finch will reside at 810 North Fourteenth street. They will be ready to receive their friends after this week.

Judge Houston was kept busy this forenoon fining vagrants and plain drunks. There was one case of assault and battery but there was nothin in it. The city bastile bids fair to be a resort during the long months of the winter. The city is full of loafers and vagrants.

The new Christian church will soon furnish shelter for its workmen. Builders are now engaged in roofing it. The mason work is well nigh done. When finished it will be one of the neatest and coslest churches in the Capital city. The architectural design is certainly fine.

Although stormy, the republican rally here to-night was a grand success. The Metropolitan rink was well filled, and the enthusiasm boundless. No finer crowd ever greeted a speaker in the city of Lincoln. The Irish-American club did itself proud. During the next two weeks the campaign will be prosecuted in Lancaster county with tireless vigor.

A Hotel Black List.

"Front! show this gentleman to room 406. Go with the young man, please."

That is what the clerk at a popular down-town hotel said to a timid, pale-faced stranger who had applied for accommodation, says the New York Mail and Express.

"One minute, boy," ejaculated the guest. "I wish to understand matters fully," and he hauled from an inner pocket a long, black book which he opened with great precision. After scanning a few of its leaves, he said:

"No, sir; not me. You can't get me into that room. I'm paying for the privilege, Mr. Clerk. What's the matter? Well, that room is marked, put on this black-list here. See? What does it mean? I'll tell you in a very few words. I may not be as practical as some of you New Yorkers, but up my way I am considered a practical business man. I am a great lover of the newspapers and as my business requires a great deal of travel I make a point of noting all the hotel suicides. The papers usually publish the number of the room in which a suicide or murder occurs. Well, I keep track of these particulars and enter them in this book. I find that room 406, to which you now wish to send me, was the scene of a suicide last fall. I possess a little nerve, but not sufficient to occupy a room that is marked. If you have no other I'll try some other hotel. All right, sir. Good day."

As the practical business man started out the clerk muttered something about cranks and the newspapers.

"James," said the grocer to his new boy, "you want to push them codfish; we're overstocked on 'em. Sell 'em at 30 cents, and if they doh't go I'll put 'em on the bargain counter next week." "You'll find them codfish very nice, ma'am," said James a little later to an old lady customer; "they're dirt cheap at 30 cents, an' it's the last chance you'll have to buy 'em at that price." "Is your codfish going up?" "No, ma'am; they're goin on the bargain counter nex' week fer what we kin git fer 'em." —The Epoch.

Minister (to grocer's boy)—"Little boy, by thrift and economy you may some day be able to embark in business for yourself and you must never forget that honesty is the best policy." Grocer's boy (dubiously)—"I don't know 'bout that, sir. I heard the boss say that he made $10,000 last year."

Wonders of the Human Body.

Publisher's Auxiliary: The skin contains more than two million openings, which are the outlets of an equal number of sweat glands. The human skeleton consists of more than two hundred distinct bones. An amount of blood equal to the whole quantity in the body passes through the whole heart once every minute. The full capacity of the lungs is about three hundred and twenty cubic inches. About two-thirds of a pint of air is inhaled and exhaled at each breath in ordinary respiration. The stomach daily produces nine pounds of gastric juice for digestion of food; its capacity is about five pints. There are more than five hundred separate muscles in the body, with an equal number of nerves and blood vessels. The weight of the heart is from eight to twelve ounces. It beats 100,000 in twenty-four hours. Each perspiratory duct is one-fourth of an inch in length, of the whole about nine miles. The average man takes five and one-half pounds of food and drink each day, which amounts to one ton of solid and liquid nourishment annually. A man breathes eighteen times a minute, and 3,000 cubic feet, or about three hundred and seventy-five hogsheads of air every hour of his existence.

"Alas! Alas!" the dude exclaims, "in my slender ankle I've got pains." "Don't fret," said ma, for whom he had sent, "I have some Salvation Oil."

"My time is up," said the doctor to the patient, whom he found using Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and he was correct, for his cough had been cured.

Customer (to grocer)—"I want to get a pound of old cheese." Grocer—"All right. I'll send it around in five minutes." Customer—"All right, and let it bring a couple of crackers with it."—New York Sun.

All doctors recommend Jarvis' Brandy.

Grocer—"Well, sonny, what can I do for you?" Sonny—"Me mudder sent me back wid the butter and wine. She sed she ordered new butter and old wine, an' she thinks you've got the wintages mixed up."—New York Sun.
