That is the case of Anna Holte vs Henry Holte. W. J. Scoble has sold his livery stable, 230 Broadway, to Mr. A. M. Hutchinson. The bill of sale was filed yesterday. Mrs. W. W. Chapman and Mrs. F. D. Moore walked over the new bridge Thursday, being the first ladies to cross that structure. The funeral of Mr. N. Ehing, the man who was killed a few days since by a landslide at Big Lake sand bank, occurred yesterday afternoon. A centrally located, finely furnished room to rent to one or two gentlemen. Must furnish references. Address T. 16, Beez office.

Yesterday was the last day of service of cases to come up for the next term of the district court, which convenes on the 6th of next month. The trades display next Tuesday promises to be an elaborate and attractive one. Already it is difficult to find any horses not engaged for that day. Among the business places decorated Thursday evening were none more worthy of mention than the houses of the New York Plumbing company and H. Baird. The prediction is made that on Tuesday next, the day of the bridge opening, there will be more people in Council Bluffs than ever seen in this city on any occasion before. Judge Thornell opened an adjourned term of court at Avoca, Thursday. The term will continue until the middle of next week. The cases to be tried are all on the law and equity docket. A plot of Evans' bridge addition to the city of Council Bluffs was filed yesterday with the county recorder. It embraces the tract of land between Avenue A and Avenue B, and Twenty-eighth and Thirty-second streets. The Fourth ward democrats met at the court house last evening to organize a club. The attendance was very large, and was the greater part of those who should have been present were attending the meeting in the Third ward. The democratic club of the Third ward held a meeting at Lacy's hall on South Main street last evening. McFadden's martial band discoursed its liveliest music, and the disciples of the great inventor tried to work themselves into a frenzy of enthusiasm. Senator William Groneweg addressed the meeting. James Rosner objected to stepping back out of the way of the parade Thursday evening, and tried to raise a racket. He was arrested and locked up for disturbing the peace. He was arraigned for trial yesterday afternoon. He pleaded not guilty, and had his case continued until this afternoon to enable him to secure witnesses. The music lovers are promised a treat at the Congregational church on Thursday evening of next week. Among the special attractions will be the presence of Mrs. Wadsworth, of Lincoln, who has been residing here, was such a favorite singer. She will give several numbers. A very fine programme is being arranged. Ivanhoe commandery will act as a mounted escort for Governor Larrabee on Tuesday next, having received special dispensation to perform that duty from the grand commander. It is hoped that members of the commandery living in adjacent towns and all visiting Sir Knights will report for duty to the eminent commander at once. Mr. T. J. Evans, general manager of the Omaha and Council Bluffs bridge company, states that the new bridge will be thrown open for travel at noon to-day. Sixteen of the new cars are being tested on the Northwestern and were unloaded at the Broadway depot. It is expected to have the machine in running order and in successful operation on Monday next. The large float of the Young Men's republican club in Thursday evening's parade attracted considerable attention and excited a great deal of comment. One of the floats represented a caged lion and workmen passing quietly on their way to work. This was headed "Protection." On the other, representing "Free Trade," was a liberated lion, a broken cage and the angry beast was dragging some of the workmen to the earth, and the others were fleeing as fast as possible. It was a clear exposition of the merits of the two sides of the tariff question, and many a laboring man, previously in doubt of the matter, decided that he would vote to keep from under the lion's paws.

See W. C. Stacy's ad. We do not intend to endorse any except articles of merit, but we take pleasure in referring to the "Garden" stories as far as possible. It is superior to any other published in this city. They are believed to be unequalled by any in the world. See especially by F. C. De Vol. See Forrest Smith's special column.

Attention, Sir Knights. All Sir Knights of Ivanhoe Commandery, Knights Templar, are hereby summoned to meet in their assembly this (Saturday) evening at 7:30 o'clock, to make arrangements of act as an escort to the governor of this state on Tuesday next. Visiting Sir Knights will be welcome. By order T. J. MACKAY, E. C.

The baby show at the Catholic fair is a big success. See it to-day. On the 30th the W. C. A. ladies will serve dinner for 25 cents at the Pacific house. A lunch counter will also be conducted. Personal Paragraphs. James Mitchell, of the Thomson-Houston Electric company, of Chicago, is in the city. Mrs. Wadsworth, of Lincoln, is in the city and will remain with friends here until after the concert in which she is to appear next week. Al Noack, who has been making Omaha his home for a year and a half, has returned to the Bluffs, intending to again make this his residence. Governor Larrabee, wife and daughter are expected to arrive in the city on Monday next, and during their stay will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Everett. Colonel A. T. Whittlesey, until recently of the Globe, has accepted a position as editorial writer for the Inter State Democrat, the latest journalistic venture of W. R. Vaughn, and will enter upon his new duties at once. He will continue to reside on this side of the river. E. H. Sheafe can make long or short time loans on real estate, in sums to suit, at lowest rate of interest. Office Broadway and Main street, upstairs.

CROOKS WORKING THE BLUFFS.

They Blow a Safe While a Policeman Sleeps in the Room Above. SEVERAL OTHER BURGLARIES. Republican Township Convention Today—Row Over Cattle—Wild Shooting in a Hall Room—Personal and Brief Items.

The Burglars Were Busy. The thousands of strangers in the city Thursday evening packed the streets so that complete police protection was impossible. The police force was absolutely powerless, although Chief Lucas kept all of his men on duty until after midnight, and they worked as never before to cover the entire city and protect persons and property. Crooks flocked to the city in large numbers, recognizing the great chances offered them for the successful pursuit of their nefarious schemes. The alleys, as well as the streets, were filled, and it was well-nigh impossible to make any headway through the business part of the city. At the lowest calculation over 30,000 people were packed into the business streets, leaving the residence portions of the city comparatively deserted, offering unusual advantages for plundering. It is hardly probable that the number of burglaries have yet been reported. While the family of Mrs. McKune were absent from the residence on First avenue watching the parade, the house was entered by the lawless prowlers, who ransacked the entire building for valuables. Beils were taken, so pieces of jewelry were scattered on the floor. The burglars evidently thought that the beds concealed the articles they sought, and left looking decidedly the worse for wear. There was some money concealed in the house, but it escaped the notice of the plunderers. They secured a silver watch and chain, cuff buttons, breastpin, etc., but their booty was rather light. They also visited the residence of Frank Stubbs, on South Eighth street, receiving two overcoats and some other clothing belonging to that gentleman. The thieves were done by the burglars, who were evidently skilled cracksmen, was at the hardware store of Odell & Bryant, on South Main street. Entrance was effected by prying up a rear window. The chisel used for the purpose was broken, and was left on the spot. It showed that the catch was not tight, and the burglars were confident the safe was not locked, but they either thought that it was or locked it themselves in trying to open it. They drilled a hole in the door with a combination lock, and then they tried to open it. The door was completely shattered and blown against the wall of the building. The cracksmen were then over the door, and they tried to enter, overlooking a few paper 25-cent pieces. The only things missed are three cheap revolvers. H. E. Fiebert, of the hardware store, next door was also entered in the same manner, but the safe was not molested, and only two revolvers were taken. Officer Thomas occupies the rooms over Odell & Bryant's store, and was awakened by the shock made in blowing the safe, but attributed it to a cannon cracker, as they had been exploding in that vicinity all the evening. His wife thought that it was produced by burglars, but "Dave" had been on duty for eight hours, and hardly thought that there was anything suspicious about the noise and went to sleep again. If the burglars had only whistled to him to let him know what was going on he would have made a neat capture, but they didn't do it. The gallant "cop" is very sore from the severe kicking he gave himself when he awoke yesterday morning.

Several parties who stayed out rather late were followed on their way home by suspicious characters, and presented a number of cases of highway robbery and sandbagging. There is a general feeling of antipathy toward the more serious lawless are reported. Considering the number of crooks who were in the city the showing is very good, and the citizens escaped very fortunately. The need of a larger police force was clearly demonstrated, and it is hoped a move will be made immediately to increase the number of the city's guardians.

Notice the beautiful finish given collars, cuffs and shirts by Cascade Laundry company. Odell Bros. & Co. loan money on real estate. Rock Spring coal, Gleason, 26 Pearl street. How a Policeman Celebrated. Celebrations, with all the fringes and furbelows, come high and are attended with more or less danger to the forehead fringes. At least one man found it so last Thursday night. He came from South Omaha, so he said, and his name was McCracken, so he said; and he was chief of police, so he said; in fact he said several other things which would not look well in the public prints. In company with a local correspondent of an Omaha paper, and a female, which the correspondent claimed to be a respectable lady of Omaha, and a young man of this city who ought to have been in better company, he took a hack here and proceeded to take in the town. In their rounds the "cop" concluded to on one of the "lines" that wanted a "side room," etc., where the respectable lady could be taken, etc. After several rounds of drinks, and the party decided to discharge the hackman and hoof it awhile. The hackman would not go without his hire and the party refused to pay. The police were notified, and while the chief was coming the Omaha parties skipped out. The patrol was ordered out, and the chief overhauled the party on the side of the bridge. A commotion ensued but the party would not pay, so they were brought back to the city. After a little skirmishing a friend of the party found out that he could spare, and the party was released. This was accompanied with the usual pleasantries of such occasions, and the party of profanity and obscenity, threats of "licking the chief" and other party separated. The final scene occurred on Broadway and at a time when hundreds of people were passing, and the party was released and the usual fine for drunkenness and disturbing the peace should have been given the whole party.

Fresh California canned goods at Tibbitt's, 345 Broadway. Dr. C. C. Hazen, dentist, opera house block. Morehouse & Co., blank book manufacturers. First avenue lots for sale at a bargain. Odell Bros. & Co. Chauntauqua Buildings. Dr. Gillette, of Cincinnati, who has been secured as superintendent of instruction for the Chauntauqua assembly, was here yesterday. At the board of trade rooms he held a conference with some of the officers of the association as to the plans for buildings, etc. It was decided to secure, if possible, duplicate plans of the main building of the Piedmont assembly. This building has a seating capacity of 6,000, and is very conveniently arranged. It is of amphitheatre form, and can be built probably for $8,000, so that it will answer all the purposes of summer gatherings. It is a unique appearing structure in many respects. It is proposed to get the plans as speedily as possible and have the site made ready this fall. Contracts can be let before the building can be put up early in the spring. Other buildings will be required, but this is the most important one at present. Dr. Gillette left last evening for Minneapolis. He will visit Council Bluffs from time to time, as advice and opinions are needed. Mr. J. C. Harkness, the general manager, being here all of the time, looks closely after all the interests of the association, so that the work will be pushed along as rapidly as possible in all departments.

We have no competitors in finishing collars, cuffs and shirts. Cascade Laundry Co. Boots, shoes, Kinnehan's, 326 B'way. The finish on our collars, cuffs and shirts cannot be equalled. Cascade Laundry Co. See the triplets at the Catholic fair to-day. Ten cents admits you. A family moving from the city and needing money will sell their first-class piano cheap for cash. First class make. Nearly new, $225. Call for five days at Swanson Music Co., 329 Broadway. See Forrest Smith's special column. In Police Court. Judge Aylesworth did a land office business yesterday, both in police court and issuing naturalization papers. The morning list of evil-doers was disposed of as follows: Frank Trimble, drunk, $7.00. The amount was added to the already large sum of money owing by this confirmed boozier to the city. George Wright, drunk, $7.00. Robert Morris had sufficiently recovered from his attack of neuritis to be sent to jail for thirty days. Sarah McBea, Mary McCarthy and P. N. McNeil were charged with disturbing the peace. They had indulged in a free-for-all fight at the corner of Avenue D and Twenty-third street, and were each mulcted in the sum of $10. M. F. Lewis was charged with assault with intent to kill. He is the fellow who is said to have done the stabbing in the case of Jim Healey, the clerk in the city hall. The witnesses were not ready and he was put under $500 bonds, which he failed to furnish, and was sent to the county jail. He is defended by John Lindt, esq. The case of Frank Jones, charged with drunkenness, was continued. Ave. B lots at $400, small payment down, balance on long time at low rate of interest. Odell Bros. & Co. The Catholic fair is a grand success. Have you been there? Have our wagon call for your soiled clothes. Cascade Laundry Co. Buy a lot on Broadway and realize 50 per cent a month on your investment. Odell Bros. & Co. Bradley's Wounds. Electrician James Bradley is confined to his home on Washington avenue by his injuries received at the hands of a bloodthirsty carver Thursday night. He has four ugly gashes made by the keen knife of his assailant. None of them are regarded as dangerous, although very painful. The muscles of the right arm are severed near the shoulder, there is a deep cut under the left shoulder blade, a long gash in the left breast over the heart, and a painful cut in the left groin. Mr. Bradley was taken to the hospital, but can not leave the house for several days. It will be a long time before he can resume work, as the severed tendons of the arm will heal very slowly. The man who should probably cause him the greatest trouble. His escape from death was very narrow, as the sharp blade missed his heart by a scratch. Baby show to-day. See it. Tickets are good to return on either the excursion train or on regular trains on October 30 or 31. Go to the fair to-night. Mrs. L. Simmons, dressmaker, 314 Broadway, over Eisenman's, on electric motor line. Special advantages to Omaha ladies. A Row Over Cattle. James Raffe, a farmer living in Lewis township, near the Wabash crossing on Morgan creek was brought to the city yesterday on a charge of disturbing the peace, assault and battery and releasing cattle under restraint. The prosecuting witness was C. A. Thilo, a neighbor, who said that the defendant's cattle had done a great deal of damage to his fences and crops, and he finally shut them Thursday morning. Raffe appeared with three hired men, and attempted to get them. Thilo interfered and Raffe knocked him down with a cattle whip, after which he drove the stock away from the fences, injured, and after getting his wounds dressed by a doctor, swore out a warrant for Raffe's arrest. A. T. Flickinger appeared for the plaintiff and Court E. Kalnoky, Jr. Private Several witnesses were examined, and the case was then continued until this morning at 10 o'clock, when the arguments will be made. Saint Bernard Place. The police arrested Charles Griffith Thursday evening for embezzling from his employer, George H. Meschen-dorf, a Broadway marketman. He has been in the employ of Meschen-dorf for about two years, and faithfully discharged his duties as deliveryman. About a week ago Meschen-dorf discovered that he was being systematically robbed, and began to investigate. Griffith mistrusted that he was being watched and skipped out. The police were instructed to be on the watch for him, and found him in one of the dives above the city. Meschen-dorf says that his losses will foot something like $75. The policy pursued by Griffith was to take out meat and sell it, making no return for it, and also to keep some of the money paid him on accounts by customers. He is now confined in the county jail. His case will come up for trial this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Loans made on city business and residence property. Notes bought. Kimball-Champ Investment company. S. B. Wadsworth & Co. loan money. A Drunken Shooter. At the colored ball at Bishop's hall Thursday evening, a colored man by the name of Bill Patterson was shot through the hand by a drunken white man named James Grady. The latter was employed as a porter in Wilson's gambling house and his victim works for a brother darkey named Burke. Grady was seen early in the evening by Captain O'Brien, of the merchant's police, and was brandishing a heavy Colt's 45-caliber revolver, which the officer took away from him and still retains. The fellow got another gun and continued on the warpath. He went to the dance hall and began promiscuously firing the only damage done was as above stated. He was arrested and locked up to await trial on the charge of assault with intent to be tried in the morning at 10 o'clock. The prisoner was taken to the county jail for safe keeping.

All marshals and aids who have agreed to serve, as well as all others desiring to serve as aids to the chief marshal at the celebration of the bridge opening on Tuesday next, October 30, are earnestly requested to meet in the court room at our hall in the city of Council Bluffs on Saturday evening, the 27th inst., at 7:30 o'clock. A full attendance is desired as business of much importance will be transacted. The meeting will be held in the court room at our hall, and they are to report will be determined, as well as many other matters important to a successful demonstration. W. D. Republican Convention. This afternoon at 3 o'clock the republicans of Kane township met at the Masonic temple for the purpose of nominating three candidates for justice of the peace; three candidates for constable; one candidate for township trustee; one candidate for township clerk, to be voted for November. Bismarck at Seventy-Three. M. Periver, of the Paris Figaro, who has been paying a visit to Friedrichsruh, describes the meeting between Prince Bismarck and Count Kalnoky, Jr. He said that he had just reached the station when the chancellor drove up in a small, open carriage, drawn by two horses. Two huge black Danish hounds ran in the dust alongside. The chancellor alighted with a very brisk and sprightly step for an old man of seventy-three. He went up to the station master and shook hands with him, raised his hat to a few people present, and stood leaning against one of the cast iron pillars supporting the veranda. I thus had an opportunity of having a good look at him. The Bismarck now before me was very different from the Bismarck I used to see in Berlin six or seven years ago, before Dr. Schwengener took him in a troop of his. The country folk have repeatedly noticed the difference. The chancellor's healthy appearance is not deceptive. All the people in whose midst he lives tell me that his health is better than it has been for years past; and a proof of this is that this year it has not been found necessary to send him no Kissingen.
