THE CITY.

On account of the council failing to obtain a quorum no meeting was held last night.

The Vinton school, which has been closed over a week on account of diphtheria, reopens to-day.

Mike Sheely, a switchman in the Union Pacific yards, had his hand crushed Monday night while making a coupling, and will lose four fingers. Locomotive 335 is back again on the dummy run. She has been laid up for repairs, and comes back looking as good as new. No. 300 has taken her place in the shops. Two young children, whose names could not be learned, were picked up on the streets yesterday afternoon, and not knowing the whereabouts of their parents, they were taken in charge by the police. A horse belonging to B, Yates, residing on Cuming street, broke away from where it was hitched on Fifteenth near Douglas street last night, and ran away, completely demolishing a handsome phaeton to which it was attached.

No other damage resulted. Alderman Lowry will present a resolution at the next meeting of the city council, making the hour for convening 8 o'clock in the evening, instead of 7:30. This movement will be made in order that all members may have sufficient time to reach the chamber before business opens.

The democratic county central committee met at the headquarters of the Samoset club last night in executive session. The outlook in Douglas county was discussed, and it is stated that the sense of the meeting was to the effect that every available means should be utilized in carrying the party forward Mortuary. The funeral of the late R. J. Clute took place Sunday from Thirty-first and Miami sts., the Rev. H. C. Crane and Rev. Foster officiating. Two hundred friends attended the services at the home. A number of Western Union telegraph operators were present, who presented a large floral wreath. A large design came from Ogden, Utah, opera-tors, bearing the signal "30." The family and friends left with the body at 8:50 in the evening for Hamburg, Ia., where it was laid at rest. Mr. Clute was esteemed by his brother operators whom he had labored with for the past eight years in the city.

Florence Inklings.

A stone-cutter named Weisman, who is employed by the waterworks company, created quite a sensation yesterday afternoon at sted quite a sensation yesterday afternoon at Florence. After filling himself full of rye he became desperate. In his round of the town he called upon several families; returning to his boarding house he made manifest his displeasure by breaking all the furniture he could lay his hands on. Weisman took especial pleasure in tearing his landlady's bed to pieces.

The marshal arrived and Mr. Weisman was placed in the city jail to cool off.

He was tried last night by the police judge, pleaded guilty to the charge of drunk and disorderly and was fined $6.60.

A man named Riggles also appeared before the magistrate and was taxed $4.50 for being drunk on the streets.

There will be a democratic rally at Florence Thursday night. The Calboun band has been engaged. Mr. Mahoney and Mr.

WARD'S GRIP

Not Strong Enough to Keep Hold of a Burglar.

Sunday night burglars broke into a rocery store on Tenth and Dodge streets, and in their hurry left a satchel filled with burglars' tools behind the building. The find was reported to the chief of police, and he posted Detective Ward there Monday night to watch for the return of the thief. Soon ofter dark the burglar was seen to come neaking up, and the moment he got his hands on the grip he found himself in the hands of the officer. Ward started for the police station with his prisoner, but near the corner of Dodge and Thirteenth streets the corner of Dodge and Thirteenth streets the latter showed fight, and a rough-and-tumble wrestle took place, in which neither was hurt. After rolling over each other a time or two, they got up and Ward allowed the prisoner to escape. The officer claims that the burglar had a revolver, while he was unarmed. The idea of an officer standing mard wat ning for a burglar without havguard, watching for a burglar without hav-ing armed himself, is ridiculed by the other policemen. Every officer on the force car-

PEERLESS DYES ATE IN SEST.

Commences TO-DAY, and as Overcoats have the call in clothing just now we begin with them and place on our counters to-day and for the coming week a stock of Overcoats new and fresh from the manufacturer and of this season's make.

Without boasting we will simply state that this is the greatest effort we ever made to show you what we can do. The goods we offer are worth not only double, but some of them positively three times the amount we ask for them.

They are on exhibition in our window, marked in plain figures and any Overcoat in our window that is marked, can positively be had in our store in any size from 33 up to 42. The finest of these Overcoats we can not do justice in this advertisement. You must see the garments, examine the rich silk and satin linings, see how they are made and try one on to appreciate the values we are offering this week.

Have you ever seen an elegant Satin Lined Overcoat for $7.75? We offer you one now. We do not boast of the satinlining alone but we offer you a good Coat which will give you perfect satisfaction in wear. It is made of good Blue Chinchilla, lined throughout up to the button holes with quilted satin-fine satin sleeve lining, corded edge and plush pockets. Other houses would ask $20 for such a garment. Our price is $7.75.

We offer a line of elegant heavy weight Kerseys and Costor Beavers at $8, These are of beautiful mixed shades. lined with fine silk serge, satin sleeve tining, silk velvet collars and admirably made. The real valve for this coat is $18; our price $8.

A third line which we marked $10 contains some very fine montagnacs and chinchillas, in blue and Oxford. These are lined throughout with very fine satin, a beautiful and showy garment, which could not be bought ordinarily for less than $25.

We cannot mention one-tenth of the bargains we offer. contains a line of garments which in richness of material and quality of workmanship, have not been shown in Omaha before, and we give a positive guarantee that every garment is offered for less than half its value.
