

THE CITY.

The public schools will not close today. Somebody who has lost a fine nickel plated cap of their carriage will find the same at the police headquarters. A snare drum stolen from James Pellhubg of the Lincoln democratic corps, was found yesterday in a tenth street pawn shop.

The case of Quinlan & Boyer against Teacher, for keeping a noisy and boisterous house in Florence, was dismissed; the plaintiffs paying the costs. Commencing today, the policemen are instructed to arrest any person caught trying their horses to telephone and other poles that are painted.

The board of education had a bare quorum last evening, and after allowing the salaries of the various teachers and janitors for September they adjourned until Wednesday evening.

A surprise party was given at the Windsor Hotel on Friday evening by Mrs. Sol Prince and Julius Furth to Mr. Samuel Dreyfus and family, who have lately come to Omaha to make this city their home.

Personal Paragraphs. R. R. Cowden, of Lincoln, is at the Murray. W. P. Noble, of Salt Lake City, is at the Paxton.

The chief of police has received a letter from persons in East Carlton, N. Y., asking the following questions concerning the workings of the high license laws in Omaha.

The engine tumbled. About half-past 10 yesterday the men employed on the waterworks at Florence were attracted to the scene of a terrible accident by the thundering crash of an immense structure which was being used for lowering the pile-driving engine from a platform about sixteen feet high on to a set of rollers.

A barber's shaver. J. P. Kinney, a barber from Blair, is in the city looking for a former employee of his who has skipped out on him a number of razors and other valuables.

The Blue Serenaded. After the serenading at the Fremont Flambau club, led by the Fremont band and commanded by Marshal Parrey, marched to the Bee building. The band tendered a serenade and the flambau club went through a series of maneuvers in their pretty drill.

Florence and Her Marshal. It is rumored that Florence is to have another marshal. Six marshals in about as many months is the record of this little city.

A Big Tax Sale. County Treasurer yesterday sold about four hundred pieces of property for delinquent taxes. Over five hundred pieces were on his list originally, but 100 had been redeemed by the owners.

The open sewer at the corner of Eighteenth and Cumine streets is a regular mantrap. The latest victim was J. B. Ryan, the well-known newspaper man who, with a friend, was endeavoring to drive over the narrow cross street yesterday morning.

The Actual Count. An enterprise morning paper announced Sunday that there were 13,000 people in line in the democratic parade Saturday. By actual count there was less than one-fifth that number.

Quarrelling Neighbors. A woman named Minnie Burke, living on Thirty-first and Cumine streets, was arrested yesterday on the charge of striking Mrs. Louis Lavine on the back of the head with a brickbat.

A Bungling Burglar. A burglar giving the name of Peter Adam was arrested yesterday for breaking into a room occupied by Pat Murphy and rifling the pockets of Pat's pantaloons while that gentleman was enjoying a comfortable and sound sleep.

An Erasing Shepherd. The chief of police is in receipt of a letter from Peoria, Ill., asking concerning a Free Methodist preacher who is said to have placed his name on the list of candidates for Peoria, Ill., and while doing so to have written only a few lines about that city, he married a second wife. His first matrimonial alliance was made under the name of Miller. On second marriage he assumed the appellation of the name of Phillips.

He has a stiff knee and walks lame. He has no money, and wears a shabby coat. He adopts a new style every time he changes his name or gets married.

His Wife Seeks Him. Mrs. John Edward Hirst, of Ute, Missouri county, Iowa, has written to the chief of police here concerning her husband who, she fears, has been murdered, as he has mysteriously disappeared. He came to Omaha to transact some business a few weeks ago and had considerable money on his person.

Juggling With County Affairs. The tussle between the sheriff and the county commissioners is having plenty of time to catch its breath. The board resolved to sue the sheriff, but has taken no further steps in that direction.

Knocks Out Prohibition. The chief of police has received a letter from persons in East Carlton, N. Y., asking the following questions concerning the workings of the high license laws in Omaha.

MURPHY'S ESTIMATE. How One for $5,000 Passed the Council Twice. As to the final estimate for Hugh Murphy for paving in district 127, as mentioned in THE BEE, being twice passed upon by the board of public works, the following has been ascertained to be about the true state of the case.

RAILROAD AFFAIRS.

General Gossip in and About the Depots and Headquarters. Union Pacific train No. 3 was nine hours late yesterday owing to the turning of the snow sheds at Wilcox station, Wyo.

Brakeman H. L. Cassidy fell from the top of one of Hamilton's passenger cars Sunday afternoon and was badly bruised. Engineers Montgomery and Aylesworth, late of the B. & M., have settled positions on the Union Pacific and left for Laramie last night.

The special car Electric of the Western Union telegraph company came in yesterday over the Rock Island and left at the Tenth street depot. It brought M. G. Bristol, superintendent of construction, F. J. Sherrill, secretary, and J. J. Dickey, of Omaha, who have been on a tour of inspection.

The filling in of the trestle work approaches to the Union Pacific bridge has commenced and will probably take all winter, as thousands of tons of car material will be used. The earth is taken from the bluffs along the Northwestern road in Iowa.

Engineer Holm of the Union Pacific is considered by the general public as one of the most careful on the road, but it was his misfortune to be in the cab when William Darmond was struck and killed yesterday.

The resignation of Superintendent Blickensderfer is now an assured fact, as his letter resigning the position has been accepted. In view of the fact that he is especially among the yard men, who universally speak well of him, his retirement from the Union Pacific will probably not go into effect until Monday next.

For Robinson's Canteen. A soldier at Fort Robinson, commenting on the abolition of the post canteen, pays his respects to the institution at his own fort in the following terms:

The rumor concerning the discontinuation of post canteens in the army was received as authentic and approved by all concerned, especially so by the enlisted portion of our small army at this post.

While perusing the columns of THE OMAHA BEE the other day, I noticed in particular an article which I did not detect and which, in the least, but that the canteen at that post will be a great loss as it is handled in a systematic manner, reflecting great credit on those who did their best to benefit themselves, but those whose custom has helped to make it a success.

The canteen at this post was "intended" to work on pretty much the same principle, and for a time did a business that would astonish a veteran "regular of the regiment."

The men obtained orders signed by their respective company commanders and in return were given a ticket which represented the amount desired, with which they could buy anything in the line of eating and drinking.

In this manner, a soldier's monthly pittance was kept in his pocket, and he was enabled to purchase whatever he desired, and to do so in a systematic manner, reflecting great credit on those who did their best to benefit themselves, but those whose custom has helped to make it a success.

As time progressed, the canteen gradually opened, and we saw that we were blindly led to this so-called place of amusement, as it was called, and that the canteen was a deposit our $3 a month in beer and peanuts, and generally left with the knowledge that our $3 was in safe keeping, and that as soon as a dividend was declared, we would live on the best the market could offer.

Until then we could expect to be regaled by a case of beer every holiday and a few bunches of decayed bananas. Over the question arises: Where is this dividend paid? Surely not in the vaults of the "post amusements hall." Are we or are we not entitled, in the face of justice, to a part of the proceeds derived from our own custom? This query remains unanswered, and is very liable to remain so unless the "dividend" is declared, but as the receipts are not forthcoming with which to purchase our Thanksgiving turkey, we have come to the conclusion that the locks of the vaults have been tampered with, and that the position has long since been made.

Now, so conditioned, we are, we are not entitled, in the face of justice, to a part of the proceeds derived from our own custom? This query remains unanswered, and is very liable to remain so unless the "dividend" is declared, but as the receipts are not forthcoming with which to purchase our Thanksgiving turkey, we have come to the conclusion that the locks of the vaults have been tampered with, and that the position has long since been made.

one at the post, will be sufficient to soothe those who have been deprived of the greater piece of confidence business ever enacted. We hail with delight the promulgation of the order abolishing this work to be done, both by father and mother. Implant in the minds of the boys a deep and abiding respect for purity, a reverence for women, which shall ever act as a check upon vulgarity and the animal passions, so strong in all.

The minister pleaded for more sympathy for fallen women and urged that society hold sinning men equally guilty with their victims. In no other way, he argued, will we have it done by a regular grading provides a home for the homeless men, he continued. Give to them the advantage of associating with virtuous women. Give them the social life which is so much needed in the evening. Every evening spent in good company is just so much time snatched from the devil. A regular meeting of a church service will not do. What is needed is innocent amusements which will elevate a taste for purity. Most fallen women are led astray by the deceit of men, and the girls should be taught to resist temptation.

Cleveland & Harrison agree on one point, that the best out is Jarvis' old Brandy.

How They Were Informed. County Treasurer Bolin, a property owner on West street, when asked if he was aware of the extra grading expense when he signed the petition asking that the street be paved this year, said: "Yes, I knew of it, but the general impression among the property holders was that it was to cost no more than 15 or 20 cents per yard."

E. D. Van Court—We knew that it was going to cost something extra—the most of us understood it that way.

Mrs. Josie Comstock—I was not aware of it by a long way; on the contrary, I was assured that it would not cost a cent more than it would have if done by a regular grading contractor. I think the whole business, including this charging 35 cents, when we could have had the work done for 15 and some say as low as 12 1/2 cents.

Emerson Betts—Knew it would cost something extra, but nothing like 35 cents. Spencer—It was not until it was too late for us to do anything, in fact, didn't know it was to cost any extra.

George Board—I thought it was all regular, but the latest suspicion that we were to be gouged.

NO EVENT

Next to the presidential contest has created more excitement than our great Overcoat sale. It is the talk of the town, and every mail brings us scores of letters from outside ordering Overcoats. We have not said half enough about these garments in our last "Ad." Hundreds of customers praised the Overcoats more than we did, and acknowledged that what they saw outstripped their best expectations.

Of the three special lots advertised last week, two are nearly sold out and the only one we have a fair quantity of, and all sizes yet are the $7.75 SATIN LINED CHINCHILLAS. There isn't anything that will compare with them at double the price in Omaha, and you will say so if you see them.

We propose to keep up this grand Overcoat sale for a while, and to replace the broken lots will add to-day and offer for the coming week three more styles, which we can conscientiously recommend as bargains just as great and unparalleled.

Elegant wide wale woven back cassimere Overcoats in 2 shades, blue and brown, well trimmed and made at $6.00. This is an extraordinary bargain; $6.00 would not pay for the Cloth alone in the garment. We have sold the same Overcoats right here early in the season as a bargain for $10, and they can not be bought elsewhere for less than $12.50 to $15.

A large lot of strictly all wool Chinchilla Overcoats, the Chinchilla made by one of the best mills in the country and warranted Indigo wool dyed, with elegant serge lining and satin sleeve lining at $8. We challenge any reliable Clothing House to produce a like garment for $12. Our price this week is $8.

The third is the bargain of the season. A lot of rich and velvety Venetians and Elysiums, in beautiful mixtures, lined throughout and sleeves with finest silk; a garment which is not often found in ready-made stores, at $15. You would not have a coat made to order any more if you see these. They are perfect in every respect and a merchant tailor would charge for a similar coat, $50 to $60.

Next week we promise some extraordinary thing in suits and pants. Watch our "ad." Close, economical and intelligent buyers who are judges of qualities and values are doubly welcomed to this great sale.
