

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

OFFICE NO 12 PEARL STREET. Delivered by carrier in Any Part of the City...

MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. Plumbing company. Start the new year with a clean, neat set of books...

Best hard and soft coal and Missouri wood. E. E. Mayne, 619 Broadway.

This evening Unity Guild gives a dime social at the residence of Mr. Ryan, on First street.

Many of the smaller election bets have been already settled. The larger stakes are being held for the more certain count.

"Tam Tammany" was the expressive way in which one of the democratic Teutons expressed his opinion of New York yesterday.

Preparations are being made to open the skating rink in about a week. A hard pine floor is being laid, which will give an excellent surface.

Yesterday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brackett were present with their son, Ned, a little, either ten and a half pounds.

The little wanderer found on the street Wednesday afternoon by Dr. Seybert has been returned to her mother, Mrs. Ellors, who lives in the western part of the city.

The sewerage system is now completed and ready for use. Residents between Fifth and Ninth avenues south of Main street can now make connections for their house sewers.

The election went the wrong way, and the Democratic Globe will not appear after to-morrow morning. The management is considering whether to continue a morning or evening edition.

Names of probable candidates for the postoffice are getting too plenty to publish, except in directory form. It seems evident that the present democratic incumbent, Bowman, will step out before his full term is up.

Albert Turner, the darkey arrested on election day for illegal voting, has been taken to the county jail on the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

It is said that Dan Carrigg has his eye on the postoffice. He is reported as having been looking through the new government building, and that he likes it first rate, except the color of the carpets. He prefers the green.

The electric towers for a few nights have been in darkness for hours, when the city needed light. Whether the trouble has been with the machinery, or because of the overloading, is not known.

Ed Britton yesterday carried away the Cleveland street banner, which has during the past campaign haunted a pretended portrait of the man of destiny in the faces of the corners and goers on Broadway. He reports that he was the only pull-bearing, not another democrat in the city joining in the ceremonies of laying Cleveland away.

Miss Mealy Stevenson, the pianist, in whose brilliant career so many here have taken so deep an interest, this being her home, will give a concert in the opera house on the evening of the 23d. She will be assisted by Mrs. Fanny Kelllogg Raeh, who has won a national reputation since the days of her girlhood, which she, too, spent in Council Bluffs.

Wickham & Co. have 2,500 tar barrels stored in the western part of the city, and they are doomed to speedy destruction. If Cleveland had been re-elected, E. A. Wickham proposed to burn the entire pile in honor of the event.

The democrats are "taking their medicine" very philosophically. The older ones remember the experiences of twenty-four years of defeat, and are quite resigned, but the younger ones chafe under the collar, and cannot conceal their chagrin and disappointment.

With defeat comes loss of ready cash as well as loss of revenue to many of them, for they bet quite liberally on the result. Said one of them yesterday, "When you touch a man's pocket he begins to holler. As far as I am concerned I don't care who is elected, but I hate to see my good old money rolling into somebody else's hands. No use talking, I do feel tough, and don't you forget it." The poor fellow need not feel lonesome, as there are thousands of others in the city who feel the same way.

C. D. Hardin, government inspector, was here yesterday examining the books of Commissioner Hunter, as required by law.

Fred Keller returned yesterday from a business trip to Pueblo. He will remain in this city during the winter and return to Pueblo in the spring.

L. H. Josslyn, of Janesville, Wis., arrived here yesterday expecting to spend some time with his daughters, Mrs. H. W. Tilton and Mrs. P. M. Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Finkelshtein, who were married at Austin, Minn., have returned from the wedding trip and taken up their residence in this city.

Mr. J. E. Hurley, who has most acceptably filled the position of night operator in the office of the Pacific Mutual telegraph company, has accepted a position in the Omaha Herald office and will receive the night telegraph. He assumes the duties of his new position to-night.

A Few More Days For a Good Ready—Gathering Up Business Statistics—A New Bridge For the Creek.

The Local Ticket.

But little additional news could be secured yesterday in regard to the local election. Considerable interest was expressed regarding the justice, but it is hardly probable that there will be any change from the first reports.

E. H. Sheafe & Co. make long or short time loans on real estate, in sums to suit, at lowest rate of interest. Office Broadway and Main street, upstairs.

See Forrest Smith's special column.

Dr. C. C. Hazen, dentist, opera house block.

Boots, shoes, Kinnehan's, 323 B'way.

Another Bridge Needed.

When the county supervisors meet next Monday to canvass the county vote, it is hoped that they will also take some definite action regarding the building of a suitable bridge over Indian creek on Broadway. For years Council Bluffs has furnished a large part of the money expended in building bridges throughout the county, as the law required the money appropriated for the bridge fund turned over to the county to be expended by the supervisors.

MOORE'S

Life on the Prairie. Hamlin Garland: Some days were always spent in stacking the oats in the barnyard, where the straw could be banked up for winter use.

Neighbors passing by on their way to town stopped to "gag" in their western fashion.

"Say! Adams!" "Hello!" "Y'r stack's tarrin' over."

"You bet it is. You'll slide off in another minute. Say!"

"Say it yourself, y've got y'r mouth open."

"Goin' to have a shindig t' wind up on."

"Mebbe."

"Wall, don't leave me out, I'll bust yer biler. Who's goin' t' play fr y'?"

"Dave McTurg?" "Hm."

"That's bully! When y' goin' to thrash?"

"Oh, in a week or two."

"Wan' to change works, of course?"

"You bet! When you goin' to start in?"

"Monday. Come over."

"I'll be there—I breakfast."

"Yaas, you're likely to. If y' do, I'll—"

"Say, drive on there. Howdy s'pose Adams is goin' to build the big hotel with you a clockin' away like an ol' gunny hen. Git!"
