Opening of Court. The November term of the district court convened yesterday, with Judge Carson on the bench. The forenoon session was taken up in calling the docket. The grand jury, consisting of James Rainey, of Silver Creek; A. T. Whitteley, of Kane; N. Kirch, of Kog Creek; O. H. Dutrow, of Crescent; V. Pratt, of Norwalk; Thomas Leonard, Hazel Dell, and M. Goodwin, of Kaue township. The latter was appointed in place of Henry Hayward, of Garner, who is now absent on a western hunting trip.

The following assignment of cases was made during the afternoon for the remainder of the week: Wednesday, November 14, Nos. 5,890, 5,841, 5,842, 5,884. Thursday, November 15, 5,857, 5,861, 5,862. Friday, November 16, 4,996, 5,923. Several other cases were assigned for trial later in the term. There are forty-six criminal, 213 equity and 350 law cases on the docket. The term will be a lengthy one, and will run well into the holidays. About one hundred of the 600 cases on the docket are saloon cases and will be vigorously prosecuted by the prohibitionists. There are also nearly thirty cases to be submitted to the grand jury. The criminal docket will not be taken up until the latter part of this month and will require about two weeks.

Exact Election Figures. The board of supervisors continued their labors yesterday in canvassing the county returns. It seems that they had several more surprises in store. Underwood's majority for supervisor was cut down to a minority, and Covell was found to be elected constable over Leibold by one majority. Chamber's

Another Compromising Letter. New York, Nov. 13.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—Judge Denny's trouble in Corea was the writing of a letter. He was appointed from Oregon as United States consul at Shanghai. During the Arthur administration he found himself out of a job and was appointed American adviser to the king of Corea at a salary of $15,000 a year. In an evil moment Denny wrote a letter showing that Corea was not a vassal of China. The letter got into print and his recall has been demanded by the Chinese government. Our government, however, is in no way responsible for Denny, as he was appointed by the king of Corea.

Two Little Tycoons Married. Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 13.—(Special Telegram to The Bee.)—"The Little Tycoon" opera company that played here last evening had a little surprise for itself in the marriage of the leading tenor, Mr. Aldrich Libby, of Boston, to Miss Kate Powell Terry, an understudy from Philadelphia. The couple had been more loving toward each other than the requirements of the play strictly called for, and the marriage was a surprise to most in the company. They received hearty congratulations after the curtain fell and the secret came out.
