For some days past Socretary Laws has been quietly working up statistics of some sort, and is doing the work without clerical help. Just what is to be unearthed no one seems to know, but he is getting back into estimates that have been allowed and paid for work on state buildings and other contracts, dating back long years, even to the beginning, when the first deposit of money paid by the state's taxpayers was put into the various institutions and homes. The secretary is ransacking records, nomes. The secretary is ransacking records, minutely noting the disposition that has been made of the state's funds, and he does it in a way that indicates, keep hands off. I know what I am doing, there has been rotten doings in Jericho and I am after the figures to prove it. Mr. Laws has a very quiet way of doing things, and there is just a chance that prove it. Mr. Laws has a very quiet way of doing things, and there is just a chance that his work has keen significance. It has been said that a rigid investigation of the archives of the state house could unfold a strange story, and it is barely possible that he again seeks to exemplify the old saying: "Truth is stranger than fiction." It is suggested, however, that the investigation is for the purpose of giving an accurate and condensed history of all the transactions that have taken place in public lands, buildings and general contracts since the organiings and general contracts since the organization and admission of Nebraska as a state and that it may unearth crookedness.

The wife of Agent Teas, of the Wells-Fargo Express company, had a fine gold watch stolen yesterday afternoon. The watch was a present to Mrs. Teas from her husband. She was showing the magnificent timekeeper to some callers during the day. Later she laid the watch down and on her return found it missing. A colored woman who called there about that time is strongly suspected, but no arrests have been made.

At the meeting of the "city dads" last night the assessment question of storm water sewer district No. 2 came up for discussion again. This matter is still unsettied. Attor-sey Webster was heard and he emphatically stated the assessment would not stand legal test as it now stands. On motion following Webster's argument the entire action of the council on this matter was rescinded and ra-ferred to the sewer committee with the city engineer and attorney to report at the next

Frank Daggett's Great Find.

Prescott (Ari.) Times: It was only recently that Frank E. Daggett, an enterprising prospector, was climbing the side of Lynx Creek Mountain, about twelve miles east of Prescott. The usual kit of a prospector, consisting of a pick and shovel, were swung over his shoulder. When well up the mountain he stopped beneath the protecting boughs of a juniper tree to rest. He boughs of a juniper tree to rest. He fell into a slumber, and, on awakening, gathered up his pick and shovel to pursue his journey, his objective point being a gold-bearing quartz claim on the other side of the mountain, which he intended to prospect. In throwing his pick on his shoulder it slipped, and, falling behind him, its sharp point struck his leg, causing great pain. He picked it up, and, with a vehement oath, stuck it into the ground impetuously, saying it could reground impetuously, saying it could remain there. Walking on a few steps, and the pain easing somewhat, he changed his mind and returned for the On pulling it up some shining metal was raised with it. He had accidentally struck his pick into a blind ledge, which is now known as the Amulet mine, from which there has been shipped $50,-000 worth of high-grade ore. He took as a partner J. M. W. Moore, an assayer in the district, who has recently pur-chased the discoverer's interest in the mine aud is now sole owner of the property. The main shaft on the property is 160 feet deep.

After the fifty-feet level a drift was run for sixty feet and the ore all stoped out from that up to the surface. At 100 feet drills were run in both directions, one twenty feet and one fifty feet. There are also two other shafts fifty teet deep and an open cut running from the face of the mountain to one of them about sixty feet. From these openings the above amount of first-class ore has been taken and shipped, the second class ore remaining on the dump, not bearing transportation. The owner and Charles A. Girder, a mining expert, visited the property recently and made careful measurements of the dumps, estimating that they contained 2,000 tons of second-class ore. A ton of it was taken promiscuously and sampled and assayed, giving a value of $35.50 per ten, or an aggregate value of $71,000. Marriage Licenses.

PRED'S MILL, TEXAS, June 20, 1878—The Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.—Gantiemer.; One of my children was troubled with theunatism and boils for about two years. We gave her various kinds of medicine, but without profit, and began to despair of curing her at all. I was persuaded to try your Swift's Specific. After she had used several bottles the diseases all disappeared, and she is now a hale, hearty and healthy girl twelve years old. Another child has Just become afflicted in the same way, and I am using the S. S. and anticipate a prompiand permanent cure. K. C. Waggoner.

Rich Hill, Mo., July 7, 1883—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: Our little girl when but three weeks old broke cut with exems. We tried the prescriptions from several good doctors, but without any special benefit. We tried S. S., and by the time one bottle was gone her head began to heal and by the time she had taken six bottles she was completely cured. Now she has a full and heavy head of hair—a robust, hearty child. I feel it but my duty to make this statement. Respectfully, H. T. Shore.

CHATTANGODA, TENNA, June Z. 1888—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlement in 1888 I contracted blood polson, and at once sought a physician, who treated me for several mentas. By his advice I went to Crab Orchard Springs, Ky., where his course of treatment was carefully observed. I recovered, as I thought, but the next spring pimples began to uppear on my face at 1body. These gradually increased to sores and running there. I was advised to try 8. S. s., and immediately after taking it I commenced to improve, slowly at first, but more rayidly afterwards, and soon nothing remained to tell of my trouble. My blood is now thoroughly cleansed, and my system free from taint, and I owe my present condition—e perfect cure—to your medicine. I cheerfully give this statement that others who have siffered as have may reap the same benefit.

HOMER, I.A., May Z. 1838—The Swift Specific Co., Atlants, Ga.—Gentlemen: About two years ago my general health gave way entirely. I was so debilitated that I almost despaired of ever feeling well again. All that the physicians done for me brought no permanent relief. Friends insisted that I should give S. S. & a fair trial, although I should give S. S. & a fair trial, although thought it would be throwing away money. After taking a thorough course, my health and strength returned, and I must say that S. S. S. a lone cured me, as I discarded all others while using is. As a tonic I can most heartly recommend it; for general debility, it certainly is a specific. W. F. Bantzra, J. F. Honem, I.A.—I know Mr. W. F. Bridges, and will say that his statement is correct.
