There have been several converts at the meetings being held nightly in the Bereau Baptist church.

Martin Carroll, of Denver, and, Miss Julia Stack, of this city, were united in marriage at St. Francis Xavier's church yesterday morning by Rev. B. P. McMenomy. The "Quiz" sociable at the Congregational church Friday evening is to be a most novel and pleasant entertainment. The casiest way to find out what a "Quiz" sociable is is to go there Friday night. Officer Kemp corraled three youthful wan derers on the street last evening, and locked them up to await the disposal of the court. They are tough little specimens, and have evidently passed the greater part of their time in the alleys and streets.

K. A. Norling, the painter and freso artist, has an office in the Rink building, corner of Pearl and Fifth avenue. Mr. Norling is the gentleman who did the interior decorating of the court house, German Catholic church, the court house; German Catholic church, Kiel hotel, and other prominent buildings.
Yesterday's police court delinquents were disposed of as follows: Jake Washington, disturbing the peace, $9,60. James Wilson, vagrancy, thirty days in the county jail. Jay Joseph, disturbing the peace, continued. Walter McCampbell, Charles Mackey and Charles Evans, vags, discharged.

The public is patiently waiting for the starting up of the motor line. There are many details to be carefully arranged, many finishing touches to be put on, to insure a certainty of regularity and promptness. The company want to avoid all false starts, and does not propose to commence running cars until everything is complete.

Officer Thomas discovered a cyprian named Minnie Lightfoot on "The Row" last evening. Minnie had owed a fine in police court for some time, but had removed to Omaha without paying it. She had occasion last evening to visit the Bluffs, and the officer corraled her. She was taken to the station, where a "friend" put up the necessary $10.10, and she was released.

The electric motor poles on Broadway are being replaced. The majority of them are too light, and bend under the strain. All those affected in that way, about sixty in number, will be taken out. This work will not delay the opening of the line, as there is other work that cannot be completed before December 1, and ressibly not by that time December 1, and possibly not by that time.

A rare opportunity for investors is given in A rare opportunity for investors is given in this morning's issue by A. A. Clark & Co., "The Brotherhood Farm." This is the celebrated "Brother Murphy Farm," located near Dubuque, Ia. No expense has been spared in its improvement. Here is an opportunity to make big money. It must be sold to apply on their indebtedness, and at the price and terms offered it is a rare bargain. Peter Wind, the well known contractor, i Peter Wind, the well known contractor, is the happy father of twins. The new arrivals, both girls, took up their abode in the Wind mansion, corner of Washington avenue and Little Curtis street, Monday night. All are doing well. The condition of the astonished father was rather serious at first, as the unusual amount of joy fairly took away his breath. He purchased double the ordinary number of cigars yesterday morning before starting out, and is recovering very rapidly. He was connected with the Ogden house for some time in the capacity of head porter, and was quite a favorite among the traveling men in years gone by. Lately he has been in the employ gone by. Lately he has been in the composition of William Lewis. The arrangements for the funeral are not yet completed, but the obsequies will probably occur to morrow obsequies will probably occur to morrow.

Edwin Duggs, who was engaged by T. H. Cotter to assist in getting out the new directory for the city, has been arrested in Omaha for obtaining money under false pretenses. He was discharged a short time ago, it is said, for trying to raise money on his employer's advertising contracts, and repre senting himself as a member of the firm. He is quite well known in this city, having been engaged in several directory enterprises here. He claims that he was "frozen" out of the last directory scheme, and that he is a much persecuted young man.

Mr. A. C. Graham has returned from a five weeks' visit in California, Washington Territory and Oregon.

George E. Judd left for his home in Cali fornia yesterday morning, after a visit with his brother, Dr. C. B. Judd, in this city. Mr. Henry Sperling left last evening over the Milwaukee for Minneapolis, where he will visit a few days, and then proceed to Scattle, W. T., where he will probably locate. If the climate proves to be all that he expects of it, his family now residing in this city, will remove there in the spring.

The Boys Drill Well.

The exhibition drill given by the Dodge Light Guards at their armory Monday evening, was attended by a large number of interested friends of the boys, among them being General G. M. Dodge. The affair was very successful, and will be repeated several very successful, and will be repeated several times during the winter. The present quarters are altogether too small, and arrangements are being made to secure the Masonic temple hall. The matter is nearly settled, and it is expected that the enange will be effected by the 1st of next month. The hall will be rented for balls the same as formerly and the engagements already made will hold good. The company hopes to get sufficient from renting the hall for such purposes to make good the difference in rent between this and their present quarters. The hall is this and their present quarters. The hall is sufficiently large for indoor drilling in bad weather, and will be a great improvement over the present armory.

A Petty Thief.

A hack driver named Culley, in the employ of William Martin, stole a pocketbook from the stand of a potion vender who holds forth at the corner of Scott and Broadway. The fellow fied up Broadway, closely pursued by Chief Lucas, who saw that some-thing was wrong. The thief turned up North Main street, where he met Officer Ollison, who captured him in the alley. The pocaetbook was afterward found in the yard in the rear of the Pacific house, where it had been thrown by the thief. He denied taking it at first, but afterward broke down and acknowledged the theft.

A Little Closer Look at the Obnoxious Expiring Gas Charter.

UNLOOSING CUPID'S

Will the Driving Park Be Sold-Grabbing a Pocketbook-The Drill of Ethe Guards-A Day in Court.

The Old Gas Ordinance.

At the last meeting of the common council Alderman Knepher introduced a resolution and ordinance, the adoption of which would effect the repeal of the present gas charter. The grounds recited in this resolution are the persistent violation by the present company of this portion of section 3 of the charter: Provided, that if any discovery or improvement be made in the preparation of gas from coal or other materials, either fluid or solid, by which the cost of making the same will be materially diminished, and the same shall be adopted in other principal cities of the country, then, in such case, the company aforesaid shall introduce such discovery or improvement in the city of Council Bluffs, and make such deduction in the price of gas as shall be effected by such discovery or im-

You will see a little further along that if the company fails to comply with any of its agreements, the council reserves the right to annul the charter.

"Thus," said the alderman, in explanation, by its own terms the charter is annulled, and all the council has to do is to so declare it. None of these provisions have been lived up to, and as a matter of justice to ourselves and to furnish protection for the future we ought to annul the charter."

In order to get further light upon the condition of things a Bes representative called upon Alderman Knepher yesterday. The scribe asked him why he was anxious for this action to be taken, when the charter ex-"It is that other companies may come in and submit bids for the future supply," he answered. "As it is now, no company will come here or submit a bid."

"Why is that! With the expiration of the charter will be the tree of the contract of the company will be the company will be the contract of the cont charter will not the present company be put on an equal footing with others and have to bid for the contract!"

"No. Here is the section that applies to the case: 'It is hereby guaranteed on the part of said city that the said " shall at the expiration of the privileges herein granted have equal rights and privileges with any other gas company that may be formed in the city of Council Bluffs.' Do you see now that if another company should come here and submit propositions as to expense, etc., of furnishing for another term of years, all this company would have to do would be to adopt the prices of the other company and the contract would be theirs."

"But if the present company will furnish as cheaply as another why not give them the contract!" suggested the reporter,
"I am willing they should be given the contract if they will do fairly by us, but the contract if they will do fairly by us, but the point is here: So long as the present charter stands no responsible company will come in here to bid against them. I want the present company to be put upon an equal basis with others—to be made bidders, in fact, for the contract, which by the form of the present charter they would not be."

"How do you know no other company will put in bids!" queried the scribe.

put in bids!" queried the scribe.
"I know it from this fact: About two weeks ago the agent for an eastern company was here. I showed him the charter, told him what we were paying; he saw the character of the gas and then said if we would annul the charter his house would put in a bid; otherwise they would not do so, because it was simply spending time in making a contract, the terms of which the present company could adopt without bidding, and go ahead with their manufacturing. That is what they all say .'

"But suppose you do declare the charter void, will not that throw the matter into the courts, and a great deal of delay be expericourts, and a great deal of delay be experi-enced in getting the matter settled?"
"No, I am sure that is not so. This gen-tleman told me that with this evi-dence of the violation of their charter the present company would hardly resort to litigation, and if they did so, and the contract was awarded to his comcontract was awarded to his con pany, they would stand between the city and uch litigation; or they would take it off the city's hands at their own expense."

"Your plan is-"
"First annul the charter, then advertise for bids. Let to the lowest possible bidder. who would take care of any contingent liti-gation. This is the only plan by which the ity can free itself from this terrible extortionate monopoly. Say, just wake up THE BEE readers a little on this subject and see if we can't get some action that will result if we can't get some action that will result in good to the city."

It appears that the present charter gives the exclusive privilege to the Council Bluffs company for twenty years, ending next February. The difficulty in securing other companies to come in and bid is that unless the present charter is annulled no company. the present charter is annulled no company can have an exclusive privilege here, for the old company is given equal rights with any one coming here

The Hearthstone Smashed.

There were no new developments yestern the Seibel adultery case. The defendant, Mrs. Lizzie Seibel, is out on bail and the case will come before the grand jury. A case is still pending in the district court in which Mrs. Seibel is the plaintiff and Mrs. Christie Evers defendant in a suit for $5,000 damages for defamation of character. The defendant in the latter case is alleged to have charged the plaintiff with being a "nasty, low, dirty woman who was running with other men. The case was to have some up at the August term, but was passed. It is probable that it will be dismissed. Mr. Seibel now alleges that his wife rankaway with another man and that his wife ratkaway with another man and is guilty of adultery. She denies this, and her story is substantiated by Mrs. Grove, proprietor of the Grove hotel. Mrs. Metcalf states that the woman walked out to her place two weeks ago and applied for a position as cock, saying that her husband had abused and maltreated her and that she had left him. She was given work and kept steadily at it until Monday afternooh, when her husband appeared and had her arrested her husband appeared and had her arrested. The parties have borne a rather unfavorable reputation, and it is expected that the testi-mony at the trial will reveal a somewhat complicated state of affairs. Mynster & Lindt are attending to the husband's inter-ests, and it is probable that a divorce suit will follow the prosecution for adultery.

The Driving Park.

The meeting of the stockholders of the Union Driving park Monday evening was a stormy one, and highly interesting as well. With one exception every stockholder was present, and each one had his "say so" before the meeting finally adjourned at midnight. There seems to be two factions among the stockholders, and one side is desirous of 'freezing out" the other. The freezers want to get full possession and have the snap all to bemselves, while the freezees are satisfied that the pic is a pice one and want a firger in it also. The arguments were lengthy and spirited, and some of the parties became quite warm. The members, after agreeing to pay off the present indebtedness of the conpay on the present indeoleaness of the con-cern, appointed a committee—consisting of J. W. Peregoy, D. Macrae, N. M. Pusey, P. Lacy and Chris Staub—to confer with the stock-holders and owners and ascertain whether an agreement can be made between the owners to partition the property, and to report at an adjourned meeting, to be held Monday even-ing, December 3, at 7:30.

Want Seventh Street Opened. The city council held a short session yesterday morning as a committee of the whole for the purpose of taking some action in regard to the opening of Seventh street over the Rock Island and Milwankee tracks. The street has been raised to grade on both sides of the tracks, and the railroad companies were notified some time ago to remove their obstructions from the street. As the tracks are several feet below grade, the street is entively impassable. Agent McClintock and Roadmaster Preston, of the Rock Island, were present and induced the council to exwere present and induced the council to ex-tend the time for the removal of the obstruc-tions sixty days. It was stated that the Rock Island depot is to be relocated, after which the company is willing for their tracks to be raised to grade. Mrs. Wilson Wants a Divorce. Papers have been filed with the clerk of the district court in the case of Wilson vs Wilson, which is to come up at the January term. The plaintiff, Alice W. Wilson, asks for a decree of divorce from the defendant Robert Wilson, on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment and habitual drunkenness, and prays for the custody of their three minor children. Since the papers were filed there have been several highly sensational reports in regard to the case, and some spicy counter charges are expected, and other suits threatened. The parties are well known in the city, and the case promises to develop into a very interesting one by the time it is called in court. Messrs. Wright, Baldwin & Haldane will appear for the plain

When arrested, and also when taken before the grand jury, he swore very strongly against the defendants, but in cour he was evidently anxious to secure their acquittal. Court adjourned at 11 o'clock until afternoon, and during the remainder of the day no business was transacted, with the exception of a few probate cases, which were passed upon. If we could afford to put in heavy plate glass, we could put in full sized lights, but ordinary glass would not amount to anything. The least thing would break the large panes, and the expense for constant repairs would be terrible. You haven't any idea of the breakage of glass in school buildings. It is one of our largest repair bills. We are making some of the windows two lights and some four, just to save the people's money. Of course, full lights of plate glass would look better, but for school buildings we could hardly stand it."
