The judge held that the Florence park, the land in question, was city property. Young White was fined $100 and costs.

The decision was an important one, for upon it depended the right of the city to a great deal of ground in the same vicinity.

A Dangerous Leak.

Mr. Price, one of the foremen at the water-works, states that the leakage on the south side of No. 1 reservoir came very near destroying the whole basin. The latter was about one-third full when the water began to leak. The immense pressure of water would, without a doubt, have broken down the whole of the south side had not the men worked all night. The leakage cost the company $2,000.

Arrangements have been made for furnishing the I beams, but the commissioners will now see what Mr. Meyers thinks of the question. The gentlemen will remain in the city until Saturday evening.

Happy Jack was sent up to the county jail again yesterday for drunkenness.

MATTERS OF LIFE AND DEATH.

Being Inquired Into by the Federal Grand Jury.

The grand jury has returned four more indictments, three of which, it is said, are against residents of Omaha for using the postal card as a medium of dunning. It is also stated that one is against a certain individual in this city who is alleged to have sent obscene matter through the mails.

The jury is now taking testimony in the case of Miller Miles, who is charged with having murdered Sergeant Stance at Fort Robinson. The story of the affair, as related by one of the witnesses, is to the effect that last Christmas, Sergeant Stance, who was first sergeant of F troop, Ninth cavalry, went to Crawford, a small village located about seven miles from the fort. He left that point with the intention of returning late that afternoon. About four hours after his departure he was found murdered.

It was also discovered that two of the wounds were made by bullets of a smaller dimension than those of the other five. This led to the belief that two individuals were engaged in the commission of the deed. However, the entire affair was enshrouded in mystery as regards the parties perpetrating the crime. But developments soon transpired which resulted in the arrest of Miller Miles, who was a private in F troop of the Ninth cavalry.

The grand jury has returned two indictments against Whitney Watson. One is for burglarizing the postoffice at Mascot, Neb., and the other is for the larceny of postage stamps to the extent of $50 in value, therefrom.

The grand jury has returned an indictment against Steiner & Stramp, manufacturers of cigars, for violating the revenue law in connection with the placing of stamps upon cigar boxes when used.

The motion to dissolve the temporary injunction of the United States against the Hardware company was argued before Judge Dundy this afternoon.

The case of George Warren Smith against Meyer & Raabe, involving the construction of a lease, came before Judge Dundy yesterday afternoon.

The jury has so far failed to agree in the case of Moffat vs. Thiemann.

District Court.

Last August John Dougherty failed in the grocery business at Twenty-eighth and Farnam streets. The book and chattels at the time were mortgaged to Sloane, Johnson & Co., but when the latter demanded the accounts the books were found missing. Accordingly Judge Groff issued a writ upon John W. Dougherty and wife, Louis Peterson, John Hutchinson, Gustav Kroeger, Gustav Anderson, Constable Hardy and Sloan, Johnson & Co., compelling each of the above to produce the books in court if in their possession. The writ was served by Deputy Sheriff Heston yesterday.

Mary Nott has entered suit against the City of Omaha to recover $3,685, as damages, resulting from a change of grade of the street upon which her property is located. The complainant alleges that she is the owner of lot 12, in block 8, Kountze & Reutis' addition, which has been changed from its original grade. The grade was originally established in 1878, and the plaintiff arranged the houses to correspond with it. In the spring of 1887 the grade was changed, and the plaintiff to construct a heavy board wall around the lot. As a consequence, the property has decreased in value from $12,000 to $10,000, which, together with the additional expense incurred, places her damage at the above amount, for which suit is brought.

The case of the state against Bernard Graves, charged with receiving stolen property, will be called before Judge Groff today. He is charged with receiving the diamonds and jewelry stolen from the neau residence, sometime ago. The brother of the prisoner is now serving a one year term in the Fort Madison penitentiary of Iowa, having been convicted of the same crime.

James Ryan and Henry McCormick were arraigned before Judge Groff on a charge of forgery, and entered a plea of guilty. The magistrate questioned them in their past careers, both avowing that they had never been in jail before. They were sentenced to the penitentiary one year each at hard labor, and to pay a fine of $1 and costs of prosecution.

The case of Norris against Ford in an action to recover $5,000 damages for injuries received by falling into an excavation, has come to the jury.

Mary Jane Meade has filed a petition for a divorce from her husband, Jeremiah Meade, on the grounds of desertion. The parties were married in this city in February, 1880, in 1885 the respondent disappeared and his whereabouts are as yet unknown. The custody of a child is also asked.

Mrs. Jane Meade has filed her petition in the district court asking for a dissolution of the marital ties. Mrs. Meade was married to Jeremiah W. Meade some eight years ago and had issue to that union there is one child, Catharine, aged eight years. A divorce is asked for and the custody of the child.

The case of James Ledwith against L. H. Tower before Judge Hopewell, an action to recover $216 commission on sale of real estate was decided yesterday. The jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $250.37 and costs.

The jury in the matter of Anderson vs. Mack returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $225.43.

Charles Vollmer was returned to the custody of the jailer of Douglas county jail on Wednesday morning by the warden of Lincoln penitentiary. This action was taken by order of the supreme court. Vollmer was convicted of the murder of John Quinlan in April, 1887. The crime was committed near Muller's beer garden, this city. The jury found the accused guilty of murder in the second degree, and the sentence inflicted was twenty years in the state's prison. This sentence was reversed by the supreme court upon this point, principally that the instruction of the lower court to the jury that a verdict of manslaughter could not be returned, was not correct, the supreme court holding that such a verdict could be returned.

This will be the first case of murder ever tried before Judge Groff.

County Court.

W. R. Homan has entered suit against Bernard Riley and prays for judgment in the sum of $333.34, together with costs.

William Cunningham has commenced suit against Olof Paulson in an action to recover judgment in the amount of $26.76.

Howard E. Shock instituted a suit in replevin against Richard Joseph, and seeks to obtain possession of a horse and two buggies valued at $149.

Justice Notes.

Justice O'Connell rendered judgment for the plaintiffs in the following cases: William Kiddle vs. John Delaney, $70.40; Mederweiser vs. Frank Odell, $15.35; William Koble vs. F. Odell, $16.15; and Goodward & Garrett vs. T. H. Stewart, $36.40.

MR. LININGER'S GALLERY.

The Magnificent Collection Thrown Open To The Public.

Mr. G. W. Lininger has placed his private collection of paintings, statuary, bronzes and ceramics upon exhibition at his gallery, adjoining the Lininger mansion, Eighteenth and Davenport streets. The arrangement of the salon was hardly completed yesterday morning, and a brief inspection of the art treasures contained therein, was all that could be obtained for the time being.

There are about 200 exhibits in the collection, a great many being copies by artists of more or less celebrity. No. 46, "Invasion of Lorraine," one of Daubell's best efforts, fronts the visitor as he enters the gallery. The picture is hung at the west end and has a commanding position. It is splendidly executed. The costumes being admirably drawn. Immediately beneath this is No. 67, "Cavalry Charge," a small effort, but of full life and martial instincts. The royalist and roundhead distinctive facial peculiarities are to the life. The horse trappings are historically accurate.

No. 47, "Hamlet," is an exhibit possessing much merit. The criminal plot being upon the floor is exceedingly realistic, the "ghost" being marvellous in its effect. "Approaching Storm," No. 48, is marred by the very unreal description of the storm clouds. Nature never sent a storm cloud of the tint given by Mr. Ricci. "Torn Trousers," No. 45, is a perfect study, the best tints and pose of the figures being perfect in their conception. The shadows are also excellent in this picture of August Muller. "The Serpent Charmers," No. 52, "The Last House in the Village," No. 50, and "Corral in Snyke," No. 70, are admirable specimens, and will attract much attention. "Day of Naples," No. 105, and "Day of Naples," No. 104, are two delicate bits of artistic work. There may be some who will take exception to the water tints. Any one who has seen the delightful Neapolitan marine scenery will support both Scarpinato and Petrucci, who executed the two pictures. There are many other delightful features in the Lininger collection that will receive attention at another date. The exhibit will remain open until Saturday night.

Superintendent Dickenson and Government Director Hanna, of the Union Pacific, returned from the west yesterday. The new engines for the Omaha Stockyards company arrived over the Union Pacific yesterday. They are numbered 1 and 2, and will be shipped to the stockyards. They are furnished with the Ames' vacuum brake.

Engine No. 720 is again in hard luck, and had to drop a freight train at North Omaha. It was brought in by stockyard engine, and she went back to her old berth in the shops.

The dignitaries from Cores went west yesterday morning over the Omaha line. Burton Johnson, second assistant general freight agent of the Chicago & Northwestern, is in the city.

Henry Cassidy, assistant general freight agent of the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley, has returned from Chicago.

The boys at the St. Paul depot keep constant watch with one eye on the Union Pacific line track. The pay car has been expected for the last couple of days, and they are looking out for it to appear at any moment.

A railroad man yesterday said: "One of the best features of the law has been on the Union Pacific is that mileage tickets, which were formerly issued to commercial men only, are now thrown open to the public. The fare 2 1/2 cents per mile instead of 3 cents."

Nebraska is the only state in the union that allows the passenger 200 pounds baggage free, all other states only allowing 150 pounds. This is favorable to Omaha, as a traveler from the Burlington to Nebraska would be charged for an excess of 50, while Omaha would have 200 pounds. Extra baggage is charged at the rate of 12 per cent of the first class ticket rate in the amount of 100 pounds. Extra baggage tickets are issued at a discount of 10 per cent of the regular baggage rate.

On the B. & M. the interstate law had no effect, as their mileage tickets were always open to the public. Their baggage regulations are the same as those of the Union Pacific, except that their extra baggage tickets are sold in bulk for $15, which is a discount of about 37 1/2 per cent.

There is a movement on foot to reorganize a Temple of Honor at the garrison. The object of this society is to enlarge the number of temperance men among the soldiers.

The majority of the enlisted men heartily endorse the reorganization of General Scofield for a shorter term of service.

The Second infantry band will give a dance Friday evening at the garrison hall. A large number of invitations have been sent to city people.

There will be a public auction at Fort Omaha Tuesday, November 27, at 1 p. m., at which some condemned government articles will be sold, by order of Lieutenant A. R. Egbert, quartermaster.

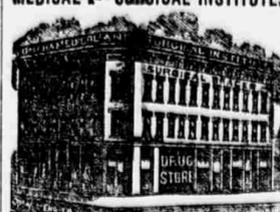

Standard shorthand school. 1607 1/2 Farnam.

K. of L. and Detectives. A private circular from T. V. Powderly is in the city, in which he instructs the various lodges to drop the names of all detectives from the rolls. The detectives don't understand it, as the K. of L. were among the first to offer a reward to them for the arrest of the Barrett brothers, who murdered the street car driver in St. Paul.

Advice to Mothers. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. 25c a bottle.

Cheated Out of the Reward. It is reported that the Barrett boys, who have been under sentence of death in Minneapolis for the murder of a street car driver, have secured a new trial. It is reported further that Officers Turnbull and Cornick, of this city, who arrested Pate Barrett, have been most shamefully treated in regard to the reward offered. The latter was $2,200 for the arrest and conviction of either of the murderers, and although Cornick and Turnbull risked their lives at the time of the arrest, yet the persons offering the reward now refuse to pay it or even to refer to them. The so-called Minneapolis detective to whom the officers delivered the prisoner, has instead raked in the rich plum.
