NEW YORK, Nov. 39 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- The movement for a withdrawal of the democratic members of the Grand Army of the Republic on the ground that the organization is used to further the political ends of the republican party seems to meet with little sympathy outside of Indiana, where it began. TOO MUCH THANKSGIVING.

Old Friends Indulge in a Lively Little Battle.
New York, Nov. 30.—[Special Telegram to

THE BRE.] -There was a sensational fight at the Gilsey house cafe yesterday afternoon. Colonel William Henry Brown, of the Evening News, and James N. Enewl, of H. B. Claffin & Co., were the principals, and too much Thangsgiving celebration was the cause. Colonel Brown was sitting with seme friends when Enewl, with whom he grew up at Youngstown, O., came in and asked him to have a bottle of wine with him. Brown Enewl insisted until Colone Brown told him he was drunk, and that he would have nothing to do with him until he got sober. This remark angered Mr. Enewl, and in anger he replied:
"Bill Brown, who are you, anyway?"

Whereupou the colonel quickly arose from s chair and, letting drive with his right landed squarely upon Enewl's left optic The blow was a savage one, and but for the stability of the counter Mr. Enewl would have measured his length upon the flooring of the cafe. Mr. Enewl quickly recovered himself, and was about to again meet the colonel when he was persuaded to leave the place. When Mr. Enewl had left Colonel Brown resumed his conversation with his friends, Mr. Enewl left for his apartments at 11 Waveriy Place. Before going, though, he invited a reporter to be present at Colonel Brown's office some time to-day and see him do the valiant colonel up.

Depew Not in the Pool,

New York, Nov.30.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-Chauncey M. Depew has for the third time denied that he was present at any meeting at which the railroad clearing house was discussed. "I was not present at the conference," he said, "and know nothing about it. No road in which I am interested has anything to do with it. We are not interested in the matter of the rumored clearing house, and it only concerns some of the southwestern lines. No trunk line and none of the northwestern lines, as far as I know, have been consulted on the subject. Undoubtedly a clearing house is formed or is being formed for the southwestern roads, but that is all I know about it."

"You are also reported to have held a mys-terious conference with President Roberts of the Pennsylvania read," was suggested. "Mr. Roberts and myself certainty conferred together recently, but we only talked over matters relating to the traffic arrangement affecting our roads, and our conference had nothing to do with the formation of the clearing house you referred to, or to any pool, trust or anything else except what have mentioned."

Anarchists Not Thankful. CHICAGO, Nov. 30 .- A meeting of 250 peo

The speakers were guarded in their utterances, but the spirit of the assemblage was shown by the distribution among those present of a number of copies of the hand bill of Herr Most which caused the disruption of the international in 1883, driving out those who did not believe in e. The principal speaker was Alber He said the present system of so ciety was not worth giving thanks for, but was worth cursing to the lowest depths of hell. Whom should they thank? God? Salisbury Advocates Woman Suffrage. London, Nov. 30 .- In his speech at Edin burgh yesterday, Prime Minister Salisbury declared himself in favor of woman's suffrage, and said that he hoped the day was not very far distant when woman would be allowed to vote. THE IOWA RAILROADS. Capital Stock, Gross and Net Earnings, Taxes, Etc.

DES MOINES, In., Nov. 30.- | Special Telegram to THE BRE. |- The eleventh annual report of the board of railroad commissioners was to-day submitted to Governor Larrabce It shows the capital stock, debt, general raffle, carnings, etc., of the railroads of lows for the year ending June 30, 1888, to gether with a digest of the decisions of the upreme court of the state upon questions of feeting railroads and their relations to the people of the state.

The total number of miles of railroad in Jowa is 8,346.31. The report of the capital stock and debt is based upon the entire lines operated by the companies reporting, and no ccurate division of the property or indebtedness has been made that will conform to state lines. The number of stockholders living in Iowa is 589, or one stockholder in forty-eight of the total number returned. The aggregate debt of the roads that form the Iowa lines is $529,-513.046.60, of which $514,748,340.30 is funded debt, $14,764,705.41 is floating debt. The lebt per mile is $24,125.91. The debt representing the roads in lowa is $174.006,755.29.
The interest paid on the railroad property in lowa is $7,067,202.15, or 4.06 per cent on the entire indebtedness. The Minneapolis & St. Louis, with some other lines, have failed to most their lines. neet their interest this year for the first line. The increase of mileage in the state luring the past year is 348.81 miles. The nileage of lowa has increased from 4,157.15 miles in 1878, to 8,340.31 miles in 1888, an increase of 4,189.16 miles in ten years.

The capital stock reported for lowa in 1878 was $153,600,784.47. In 1888 it was $321,-921,298.14, an increase of stock and debt of $168,319,513.67. The total earnings of the roads in Iowa freight and passenger business, for the year ending June 30, 1888, are $37, 275,580.68, which was a decrease from the previous year of $254,143.94, the increase in passenger earnings being $602,233.41c and the decrease in freight earnings, $556,357.35. A portion of the decrease in freight earngs is due to the strike upon the Chicago Burlington & Quincy railroad, competitive through freight in many cases taking more outherly lines, but this will not account for all the decrease, as the tonage over the Mis sissippi and Missouri river bridges is larger than in the year 1887. The gross earnings for Iowa for the year ending June 30, 1888, were $37,295.586.82; the operating expenses $26,297,163.92; the net curnings, $10.995,422.90. or $1.317.88 per mile on the reported mileage The earnings for lowa were a decrease of $234,143.80, or a decrease of the net earnings from the previous year for Iowa, of

The railroads in this state are parts of systems belonging to several states, and are treated as undivided property. The commissioners have at-tempted to separate the general items so as to compare the property, expenses and earn-ings of the railroads of the state with each other. The capital stock representing Iowa's 8,346.31 miles is $147,854,622.85; indebtendess, $174,066,775.29; cost of property, $276,736,-079.21; the proportion of earnings applicable this, $37,295,585.68; operating expenses, $20,397,168.92; interest paid in lowa, $7,394,-522.64; dividends, $4,318,092.46; total number of employes in the state, 30,236; amount paid employes during the year, $13,619,417.16.

Had Too Many Complaints.

Dunuque, Ia., Nov. 30. - Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-A case that has attracted considerable attention was decided in the district court here to-day. The plaintiff was Mrs. Hines, an aged lady, of Manchester, Delaware county. Some time ago, while get ting off a street car in that city, she fell and received some injuries. She afterwards had some female complaints, which she alleged were caused by her fall; and so held the company hable and sued for $15,000 damages The jury has been considering the case for some time, and to-day decided in favor of the defendant, holding that the plaintiff claimed too much in the way of troubles and trials. They didn't think it possible for a woman to have all the complaints she al leged from a slight fall from a street car.

The National and State Tickets. DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 30 .- | Special to The BEE. |-The official canvass of the votes for state officers shows but little variation from the vote for the national ticket, despite the threats of the railroad men that they would cut the whole state ticket. Secretary of State Jackson runs only 21 votes behind the national ticket, while Attorney General Stone runs 902 ahead of it, Auditor Lyons falls behind 507 votes, but that is chiefly due special effort made by his opponent, a Swede, to get complimentary votes from his countrymen. Judge Granger, for the supreme runs 1,493 behind the national ticket. and that shows about the extent of the rail road influence in that direction, as he was singled out by the roads for special cutting, not being their favorite. The majority for the republican railroad commissioners, Smith and Campbell, is over 49,000 each, while Mr.

Dey's majority over Mahin is 1,004. He Got One Year.

History of the Valparaiso Failure.

VALPARAISO, Neb., Nov. 20.- | Special elegram to THE BRE !- The following is a mief history of the Scoville & Craft failure as near as can be learned at present: About the middle of November or a week before the smash-up came, Mr. R. K. Johnson, a sember of the town board, necoming susicious, wrote to the firm in Lincoln in chose hands the village water bonds of $1,500 had been placed for sale, and told them to hand over the bonds or proceeds to no one without an order from the town board This firm immediately answered by telegram that the proceeds had already been paid to F. A. Scoville, who was the town's attorney. Mr. Johnson thereupon gave E. B. Pheips, the treasurer, an order on Scoville for the money, and on presentation Scoville scraped up $1,000 and said that was all he had received, but that he would go to Lincoln, get the rest and pay it over. This occurred on Friday. Saturday Scoville went to Lincoln, but did not get any money. In the meantime Mr Johnson had received several drafts on the State bank, of Valparaiso for collection, which about exhausted the cash on hand, but Scoville declaring that the bank was only a little that the bank was only a little short of each for present use, succeeded in getting several of his friends to deposit to help him through the run, which had com-menced. Mr. Johnsen had spent nearly the whole of Sunday warning the farmers against selling their corn to Scoville who was also running an elevator, as their checks might not be paid. Several farmers had stored a mantity of each with him for better prices and that went with the rest. The bank man-aged to keep up Monday, and at noon on Tuesday Scoville and Grafts got a livery team and started for West Oak, saying they were going to make arrangements to but orn at that place, leaving their clerk, H. E. Rice, a young man about twenty-one years of age, in charge of the bank. Mr. Rice kept open until 4 o'clock, paying off what corn hecks came in, but no other checks or drafts. The next morning Scoville and Crafts had not appeared, and the bank did not open Men began to gather on the corners and shake their heads as the fact became appar-ent that they were gone for good. Some few, among whom were D. M. Deane, J. L. Magee & Son, had taken time by the forehead and had attachments placed on some of the property. C. T. Brown, of Lin-coln, attached a car of corn in the elevator and shipped it the next day. Mr. Dean at-tached an elevator belonging to Scoville at Dwight. The constable was put in charge of the bank, and an inventory taken of the papers, accounts, etc. An enormous quantity of notes and mortgages was found, with nearly every man's name living in the vicinity attached. The amounts of the notes found have not been footed up, but it runs far into the thousands. Many of the notes have been paid, but the notes were kept and receipts given in their place. One was found ith a memorandum pinned upon it, stating that "this may come handy some time. note for $2,000, given by F. A. Scoville to D. E. Green & Co., was found, which had been sent to the bank for collection. It can be proven that Crafts had shown his proficiency n imitating other's signitures, so that no doubt exists that many of the notes are

After leaving West Oak Scoville and Crofts seem to have utterly disappeared, as 50 clue has come to light of their route. The team has not been heard from. Doubtless detectives are after them, but they do not make their reports public.

A would-be detective came up from Linoln, got about $50 in cash from some of the mourners, and snatching a type cut of Sco-ville from our printer, J. P. Miller, disap-peared with it. A summons was served on him before he got out of town, and on the day set for trial, came up, paid his costs and

H. E. Rice has been in the bank for a year or so and says he knew nothing of their crooked work, only doing what he was ordered to do, and is placed in rather a hard position. Attachment suits will now be coming off for some time.

The Scoville and Crofts families are still occupying the building. Efforts are being made to open up the hotel, bank and elevator for business again, as their standing idle damages the trade of the town. Several ousiness men are now doing their banking in Lincoln or Wahoo, while several farmers living near here have been hauling their orn to other towns.
The railroad company has notified those interested, that the elevator must be opened up or another man would be sent in to buy grain, as too much of their trade is going to

Taken all in all, the failure is going to affect the town's business for some time. Collections are slow, so many being losers in

THE SOUTHERN QUESTION.

Harrison's Administration Will Not Recognize Such a Thing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 .- [Special Telegrafu to THE BEE. |- A Herald special from Indianapelis says: Senator Stewart stopped off here yesterday to shake hands with General Harrison on his way to Washington. General Chalmers, of Mississippi, who arrived in the city last night, accompanied Senator Stewart to General Harrison's home this morning, where the south and its troubles were freely discussed. When General Chaimers returned to the hotel I obtained from him the first direct expression from the president-elect with reference to his future policy. The subject was introduced, so General Chaimers says, by himself. He said to General Harrison that all he desired to ask from the new adminis-tration was that it provide for and insist on a fair election and a fair count of the votes cast in the south. This brought from Gen-eral Harrison the following direct statement, spoken in a forcible and earnest manner:
"It is a fallacy to recognize such a thing as a southern question. While I am president I shall only demand that the people of the whole country shall obey the laws of the nation without reference to the section in which It is an insult to me for the southern people to intimate that it is my de sire to deal harshly with them. It would also be an insult to them for me to anticipate that they do not expect to obey the laws as they do and shall exist."

General Chalmers was deeply interested in General Harrison's manner and words and he says he is entirely satisfied that th president-elect will deal fairly and justly with the southern people.

THE GEORGIA EXPOSITION. General Harrison's Reply to a Letter of Invitation.

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 30 .- The following letter was received by the Augusta National exposition people to day:

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 26, 1888 .- To Patrick Walsh and others, committee, Augusta

Gentlemen: It gives me pleasure to ac-knowledge the receipt of your communication of November 14, inviting me on behalf of the board of directors of the Augusta national exposition to visit the exposition, and to meet the citizens of Georgia, who will be assembled there at some time convenient to me. I notice also with interest the kindly terms in which, on behalf of your people, you extend and press upon me this attractive in vitation. I assure you that were it possible or me to leave home to make such a visit would give me great pleasure to observe, in connection with your exposition, the development your state is making in the arts and manufactures. The commerce between our people, which is now so much facilitate by our great railroad system and general diffusion of manufacturing interests throughout the states, will, I am sure, still more closely unite in interest and in sympathy the people of our whole country Will you please express to your board of directors, and also to the gentle-men who have kindly united in the request presented by you, my sincere thanks for the invitation and my regret that I am not able to enjoy the hospitality which they so cordially extended. Very truly yours,

BENJAMIN HARRISON. The Day at Harrison's Home. Indianapolis, Nov. 30.-General Harrison and the usual large number of visitors today, but there were no notables among his callers. The presents that came to him today were of a practicable and useful character, and included oranges, potatoes and celexy. The celery came from Utah and was of a superior quality. The general took his usual walk late in the afternoon down town and return. At 8 o'clock to-night he received delegation from Elgin, consisting of Mayor Price, twelve aldermen and the city en-gineer. They are here to examine the electric light plant, and took advantage of the occasion to visit the president elect. General Harrison received them in the parlor, and cordially shook hands with each mem-ber, chatting with them some time. The Seventieth Indiana regiment has appointed a committee, which will investi-gate the cost of a trip to Wash-ton at the time of General Harrison's inauguration and determine the number in the regiment who will make the journey. Charter members of the Indiana commander. of the Loyal Legion held a meeting to-night at the residence of Colonel Charles Millard, and appointed a committee on reception and arrangements for December 19, when the officers of the grand commandery of the order will be present and inaugurate an In-diana commandery. A banquet will be given n honor of the distinguished visitors. Gen eral Lew Walince will deliver an address of welcome, and ex-president Hayes, com-mander-in-chief of the legion, will respond. General Harrison, who is a member of the order, is expected to be present.

The statement is published here, with other political gossip, that Chairman Quay and Mr. Blaine are about to visit General Harrison, but inquiry from sources close to General Harrison fail to ellet any confirmation of the report.

PROGRESS IN SHIP BUILDING.

The Country Will Soon Rank Second Among the Nations in the Possession of Improved Unarmored Vessels.

Secretary Whitney's Report,

ney has presented his annual report to the president. After giving a brief review of the condition of the mayy as it will exist or the 4th day of March, 1889, in comparison with the same as it existed on the day of March, 1885, and furnishing a list of the armored vessels heretofore authorized by congress, he secretary says: "The efforts of the de partment in ship construction have necessarily, since March, 1885, been devoted to unarmored vessels, and as to these, the department is able to report that when the ships in course of construction, and those authorized, shall have been completed, the United States will rank second among the nations in the possession of unarmored ruisers of commerce destroyers, having the lighest characteristics, viz: of size, tons and upwards, possessing a speed of nincteen knots and upwards." The importwhich has been placed branch of the naval armament will be appreciated from the statement that England France possess sixty-five vessels of the class known as un-armored cruisers. "We cannot at pres-ent protect our coast, but we can return blow for blow, for we shall soon be in condition to launch a fleet of large and fast cruisers against the commerce of an enemy, able to inflict serious and lasting injury With regard to the production of power by with regard to the production of power by machinery, the report says: "All contracts for the construction of ships which have been entered into since March, 1885, call for the production of power machinery equal to the highest standards. It is believed that, at the present time, the de-partment has reached a point where entire eliance can be placed upon it for the produc vessels equal in character to these of any other country."

"It is gratifying to be able to report," says the secretary, "that, notwithstanding the large expenditures for the new navy in the three years, the redu ther directons has made other otal expenditures of the department less for these years than for the three years ending June 30, 1884, the ordinary expenses of the department having been reduced over

Under the head of "Coast and Hurbor Defense Vessels," the secretary states that, "in the last annual report of the department, considerations were given leading to the con-clusion that it would be unwise for the department to follow the course of European powers in building unprotected torpedo ponts; and in the present uncertainty regarding the practicability of submarine boats, and while waiting a practical trial of the dynamite gun boat, it had been icemed wise for the department to build one light draught, heavily armored narbor defense, floating battery, or ram, for which designs had been prepared by the bureau of construction and steam engineering in consuitation with the chief of the bureau of ord-

The business methods of the department are discussed at some length, and a history given of the efforts being made to simplify, systematize and improve them. The system of property accounts for the navy, referred to in the last annual report, has been in successful operation since July 1. The report says that by a careful watching of the disbursements at foreign stations, and calling the attention of the pay officers to the subject of their drafts, by which greatly improved rates have been procured, the department is able to report that on items of com-mission, interest and exchange, whereas a net loss of $103,493 was mas made in the two years and ten months ending April 24, 1885, for the three years ending June 30, 1888, a net gain of $703 was made. The report goes on to say that, with the increase of the number of cruisers, it has been recognized, in view of the recent introduction of nigh explosive projectiles and the increase of power and rapidity of the fire of rapid fire and other guns, that renewed attention must be given to armored vessels, and the prevailing opinion in England, France, Italy, Germany and Russia is strongly in favor of additional armored ships to be built at an early date. The secretary considers the subjects of improved powder, projectile and torpedo boats, saying, in regard to the latter, that the re-cent naval maneuvers abroad have shown that they must still be regarded as the most seful for coast and harbor defense.

The estimate for the navy and marine corps for the current fiscal year amounts to $23,003.624, and for the next fiscal year to $25,767,677. The appropriations for the current fiscal year amount to $19,942,481, being $6,825,000 less than the estimate for the next fiscal year. The secretary closes by giving the main points of reports submitted by the admiral of the navy the chiefs of the various nava bureaus and board of visitors to the United States naval academy, abstracts of which have been published from time to time.

TWO ROMEOS.

One Plans an Elopement, the Other Carries it Out.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., Nov. 30.-Elopements seem to be the order of the hour, and hardly a day passes that does not see two or three couples of runaway lovers wedded at Aberdeen, the Gretna Green of this section. A rather romantic one has just come to light. Cassius M. Clay Saunders, a country merchant of Figuring county, had made all ar-rangements to clope with Miss Jennie Emmons. At the eleventh hour, however, E'i McKee, a rival, persuaded the young lady to fly with him. The couple reached this city at midnight, and crossed the river at once where 'Squire Beasly was aroused from the slumbers to tie the nuptial knot. Mckeand bride were yesterday stopping at the European hotel, where they were assigned the room Saunders had spoken for Another Teller Gone Wrong. Indianapolis, Nov. 30-The Journal correspondent at Columbus, Ind., informed that paper that Will Schrieber, teller of the First National bank of that city, has fled to Canada, after robbing that bank of $8,500. The money was taken Wednesday evening, after the time lock, but before the vault door was closed. Schrieber made an excuse for entering the vault and, unobserved, concealed about his person seventeen packages, each containing $500. He stated that he would spend Thanksgiving day in Indianapolis, and as Thursday was a holiday, the bank was closed, and the theft was not discovered until this morning. There is a woman in the case, her name being Fannie James, and her home is in Chicago. Senrieber has been supporting her in a costly style, and she is known to have recently visited him in Colum-
