As there is no sutler's store at the garrison, those in charge entertain hopes that their petition for a re-establishment of the liquor department will be granted. The ground was made on the ground that it did not interfere with the sutler's right.

Hibbert's License Revoked. The mayor has written a letter to the chief of police notifying him that the theatrical license of Lew Hibbert, the proprietor of the New Casino, at Eleventh and Douglas streets, has been revoked, and asking him to see that there are no more performances there. The chief of police, in turn, has notified his men to see that the establishment is closed.

A Teacher With a Cold. "Can you tell me if it is legal for a teacher to dismiss her scholars early in the morning because she has a cold?" asked an inquisitive parent as he hustled a ten-year-old boy off home. "To me it looks as if it was a scheme to get a day's pay for nothing. No one expects a teacher to work when ill, but the school board has a supply of extra teachers for just such occasions."

He said he picked them up, and would do so again. There was no testimony produced against him, but Berkia gave him ten days in the county jail.

The Relocation Ordinance. The ordinance introduced in the council Tuesday night providing for the relocation of the city hall is the same that was passed several weeks ago, but which was declared illegal for the reason that Rakow's Exit. The mysterious Rakow, or Rotholz as he is better known, after being in jail several days has been finally dismissed, there being no evidence of any kind of his having made his roll by other than honest means. All who have been brought in contact with Rakow are satisfied that his mind is about gone, and he appears also to be suffering from great physical weakness. The police judge that he turned over to the city Treasurer Rakow's forfeited bond of $400, has written a communication to the city council rehearsing the facts in this case, and asking that the city treasurer be instructed to return the money to Rakow, as the cause of his failure to appear before the bond was forfeited was doubtless owing to the weak state of his mind. Besides, $400 was an enormous bond to exact of a man who was held on only the charge of carrying concealed weapons. The judge's communication bears the endorsement of the assistant city attorney.

Busses Bought Off. It will be remembered that last fall, immediately before the opening of Sebastopol, a line of busses was placed on North Sixteenth, running from Parkam and Fifteenth to the end of the pavement on Sherman avenue. The busses were removed, however, a short time since, and no cause was assigned for the removal. This was considered strange, especially in view of the fact that the enterprise was supposed to be successful.

"They were taken off because they were cutting into the horse car company. Jim Kern has the busses now up at his place and he got $2,000 from the horse car people for it."

"How do you know?"

"I was told by a man who said he saw the contract."

Michigan's Alumni. Probably no eastern college has contributed to the society of Omaha a larger number of prominent men than the University of Michigan. Several of the men who have grown up with Omaha, and whose efforts have helped to make it what it is, are graduates of that institution. Of the members of the Douglas county bar, about twenty-five are men from the institution. In all there are fully forty graduates of the university of Michigan in Omaha, while there are equally as many who spent more or less time there without remaining to take degrees.

For some time the organization of an alumni association in Omaha similar to those in New York, Chicago, Denver, Washington, and other large cities, has been discussed with the result that a meeting of all the graduates in the city is to be held at the Millard hotel this evening. From previous indications, the attendance is likely to be large, and the organization successful. A banquet will probably be indulged in by the members of the association at some time later in the winter.

Great Little Men. Some of the greatest men that ever lived were of small stature and insignificant appearance. The remedy will readily recall many instances. Very small is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, but they are far more effective than the huge, old-fashioned cathartics which have been abandoned by Physicians, and pronounced inert, able, and unwholesome. These little pills have been tried everywhere and have proved themselves to be a true specific for Syphilis has been sought for in vain for centuries.
