

THE DAILY BEE. PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily Morning Edition including Sunday... THE OMAHA DAILY BEE, published every morning...

THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY PROPRIETORS. E. ROSEWATER, Editor.

Table with 2 columns: Date and Price. Rows include Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Average.

Sworn Statement of Circulation. State of Nebraska, County of Douglas, J. S. George, Secretary of the Bee Publishing Company...

THE PROPERTY OF CORPORATIONS MUST BE TAXED AT THE SAME RATE AS THAT OF THE POOR MAN.

IF HASCALL be made president of the council, the people will openly resent the insult.

THE PLACE hunters are camping round about the capital, and will shortly move upon the citadel.

IN THE heat of the charter discussion let us suggest that the school board be taken out of politics.

THE next legislature should give the barncules a vacation, and elect clean men to official positions.

LINCOLN is likewise anxious to place the granting of liquor licenses in the hands of an excise board.

IT is quite evident that General Harrison is not losing any sleep over the composition of his cabinet.

WITHIN a few days at most the batteries now masked will be opened all along the line on the candidates for the speakership.

SPECIAL meetings in support of the Outwaste funding bill are becoming an Omaha fad. The taxpayers denounce them.

IF there be any member-elect of the legislature who has not yet received a railroad pass, good on lines in Nebraska, it is because he has refused to accept the bribe.

IT WILL be interesting to the next legislature to know just how many farms in Nebraska are mortgaged, and the total amount of mortgage paper drawing interest in the state.

IT is said the legislative lobby is busy preparing the chestnutty blackmail bills which are regularly introduced for the purpose of bleeding interested parties.

NOBODY can complain of the bank clerks and railroad earnings for the past three weeks. Their reports show gains over the corresponding time last year, although the record for that period was uncommonly high.

THE acquittal of Constable Paul Steffen for breaking the jaw of a person he was about to arrest, was unpardonable. No officer, whether he be policeman or constable, has the right to exceed his authority by a brutal attack in the ordinary discharge of his duty.

SENATOR HEGAN, of Texas, has appointed his wife private secretary at six dollars a day. There were other candidates for the place with good backing, but the successful one had the advantage in being the power behind the throne.

TWENTY thousand dollars were appropriated for the state board of transportation at the last session of the legislature. For all the good the board has ever done the people of Nebraska, the money could just as well have been thrown into the Missouri river.

THE committee on public lands and buildings is a rich plum in which many a member-elect of the legislature casts a longing eye. The railroad candidates for the speakership are fully aware of its advantages, and hold the chairmanship of it up as a tempting bait for support.

EVERY second man at the state capital is said to be an office seeker. The members of the legislature on the ground are bidding for the speakership or chairmanship of important committees, and the people of Lincoln are after any appointment they can get at the public crib.

THE settlers of the Des Moines river lands have cause to rejoice over the result of the test case just decided to recover improvements made on the company's land. The plaintiff, an evicted settler, has been awarded full value for his improvements while the company has been granted a fair rental during the settler's occupancy. The decision looks equitable and is one which will be received with universal approbation.

THE case has set a precedent and it will undoubtedly lead to an amicable settlement of the whole question.

A NATIONAL POLICY.

General Harrison is reported to have said to the committee of southern men who called on him Tuesday that it was not his intention to discriminate between different sections of the country by adopting a policy for one section that would not be applied to the other.

THE COMBINATION OF MILLERS.

The national convention of millers held at Milwaukee the present week adopted resolutions committing the flour millers of the country to a policy which contemplates dearer bread.

The policy of General Harrison will be to appoint to the federal offices in the south capable and honest republicans, who will faithfully and fearlessly discharge their duties, and within the limits of their authority see that the laws are respected.

The Illinois bureau of labor has compiled a table of statistics showing the extent to which that state is mortgaged. The total value of the mortgages exceeds four hundred millions, one-third of which represent liens on the lands alone of Illinois.

The outbreak in Missouri between whites and negroes brings more conspicuously to the front than could any political event the inevitable consequences of the treatment given to the negro by the people of the south.

Dr. Tanner, the famous father, is soon to marry the daughter of a Parisian millionaire. Hammer has been elected president of Switzerland. Now see the merry punsters nail him.

President Cleveland is said to be entirely untroubled by his defeat. But he will be moved March 4, all the same.

Garfield, the new pitcher of the Pittsburg base ball club, is now located in Omaha. The umpire will have a picnic with him.

Miss Chamberlain, the American beauty, is still the center of an admiring circle in England. She was one evening last week, one of the principal attractions in the royal box at the Patti concerts at Albert Hall in London.

Colonel Albert C. Rives, father of Anello Rives, brother of the late Senator Rives, has been appointed general manager of the Panama railway company and consulting engineer of the Panama canal, receiving a salary of $25,000 a year.

Senator Voorhees is said to seriously contemplate retirement to private life at the end of his official term, March 3, 1891. Possibilities are, however, that he may be re-elected in the Indiana legislature after he has been re-elected, has quickened his desire for private life.

Amos Henson is expected to visit Mrs. Gifford in the new year, as it was desired to be published. It is not unlikely that Mrs. Harrison may go to New York after the end of the present session, and extend to both General and Mrs. Harrison by Mr. and Mrs. Morton, and Mrs. Harrison may take advantage of the invitation.

A nine-year-old son of F. P. Loebe, of Sedalia, broke through the ice in the Blue river and was drowned.

Murderer Haunstone and DeMerritt, and Forger Welch pass the time merrily in the Custer county jail, playing high five.

Supervisor-elect Aischmede, of Seward, is lying in a critical condition on account of injuries received by falling from a load of wood. His jaw is broken in three places.

Fifty men and thirty-five teams gathered at the farm of Polly Hoken, in the town of Custer county, where was murdered by Haunstone, and husked 1,920 bushels of corn for him that day.

The export of gold to England continues. Nearly five and a half millions of dollars were shipped from this country during the past few days.

The city charter committee appears to be getting along quite well in its work of revision without the aid of a similar body from the council. Perhaps the railroads have instructed their tools in the council to stay away. It would certainly be to their interest to do so.

IT HAS been shown in the working of our fire and police commission that better government is assured to our city when the various branches of it are removed as far as possible from the contaminating influence of local politicians and patronage. The appointive powers present congress. A delay of another year would result in no advantage to the Indians, and it would defer enterprises, the completion of which will be of very great importance to Dakota and the entire northwest.

The national convention of millers held at Milwaukee the present week adopted resolutions committing the flour millers of the country to a policy which contemplates dearer bread.

Under the impression that the world's wheat crop was extremely short, the millers and speculators early in the fall bought all the milling wheat they could obtain.

The millers of the country have always disclaimed any intention to form a trust, declaring it to be impracticable. The policy they agreed upon in their convention certainly lacks some of the features of a trust, but its object is strictly in line with what trusts are formed to accomplish.

The Illinois bureau of labor has compiled a table of statistics showing the extent to which that state is mortgaged. The total value of the mortgages exceeds four hundred millions, one-third of which represent liens on the lands alone of Illinois.

The outbreak in Missouri between whites and negroes brings more conspicuously to the front than could any political event the inevitable consequences of the treatment given to the negro by the people of the south.

Dr. Tanner, the famous father, is soon to marry the daughter of a Parisian millionaire. Hammer has been elected president of Switzerland. Now see the merry punsters nail him.

President Cleveland is said to be entirely untroubled by his defeat. But he will be moved March 4, all the same.

Garfield, the new pitcher of the Pittsburg base ball club, is now located in Omaha. The umpire will have a picnic with him.

Miss Chamberlain, the American beauty, is still the center of an admiring circle in England. She was one evening last week, one of the principal attractions in the royal box at the Patti concerts at Albert Hall in London.

Colonel Albert C. Rives, father of Anello Rives, brother of the late Senator Rives, has been appointed general manager of the Panama railway company and consulting engineer of the Panama canal, receiving a salary of $25,000 a year.

Senator Voorhees is said to seriously contemplate retirement to private life at the end of his official term, March 3, 1891. Possibilities are, however, that he may be re-elected in the Indiana legislature after he has been re-elected, has quickened his desire for private life.

Amos Henson is expected to visit Mrs. Gifford in the new year, as it was desired to be published. It is not unlikely that Mrs. Harrison may go to New York after the end of the present session, and extend to both General and Mrs. Harrison by Mr. and Mrs. Morton, and Mrs. Harrison may take advantage of the invitation.

A nine-year-old son of F. P. Loebe, of Sedalia, broke through the ice in the Blue river and was drowned.

Murderer Haunstone and DeMerritt, and Forger Welch pass the time merrily in the Custer county jail, playing high five.

Supervisor-elect Aischmede, of Seward, is lying in a critical condition on account of injuries received by falling from a load of wood. His jaw is broken in three places.

Fifty men and thirty-five teams gathered at the farm of Polly Hoken, in the town of Custer county, where was murdered by Haunstone, and husked 1,920 bushels of corn for him that day.

The export of gold to England continues. Nearly five and a half millions of dollars were shipped from this country during the past few days.

The city charter committee appears to be getting along quite well in its work of revision without the aid of a similar body from the council. Perhaps the railroads have instructed their tools in the council to stay away. It would certainly be to their interest to do so.

IT HAS been shown in the working of our fire and police commission that better government is assured to our city when the various branches of it are removed as far as possible from the contaminating influence of local politicians and patronage. The appointive powers centered in the governor of the state carry with them direct responsibility. Officials thus appointed have no axes to grind, no political debts to pay, are less hampered in the discharge of their duties, and make far more efficient officers than if thrust upon the people by rings and combines in control of the city's affairs.

The kind the leader wants. Cleveland Leader. We have authentic and inside news regarding General Harrison's cabinet. It will be republican of the all wool and a yard wide kind, and we believe that this is all the republican party wants.

Not a Doubt Task. Chicago Tribune. It should not be a matter of extraordinary difficulty for the inter-state commission to establish standards of reasonable railroad rates.

Coming to Washington. Minnesota Tribune. When the Dakota patriots finish their fall plowing and market their wheat, they will begin to consider the propriety of a trip to Washington.

Blaine Denies It. Globe-Democrat. Mr. Blaine denies that President-elect Harrison has asked him to take a place in the cabinet.

Getting the Worth of Their Influence. Washington Post. Charles Francis Adams is of the opinion that railroads will combine in the future, and we shall have several systems of 20,000 miles or more, each under one management.

Good Suggestions. Denver Tribune. We are not aware that Boston has any particular right to express an opinion as to the names to be given new states, but the suggestion that North Dakota be called Pembina and Washington, Tacoma, is good.

Reaping the Whirlwind. Post Press. The outbreak in Missouri between whites and negroes brings more conspicuously to the front than could any political event the inevitable consequences of the treatment given to the negro by the people of the south.

Prominent Persons. Dr. Tanner, the famous father, is soon to marry the daughter of a Parisian millionaire. Hammer has been elected president of Switzerland. Now see the merry punsters nail him.

President Cleveland is said to be entirely untroubled by his defeat. But he will be moved March 4, all the same.

Garfield, the new pitcher of the Pittsburg base ball club, is now located in Omaha. The umpire will have a picnic with him.

Miss Chamberlain, the American beauty, is still the center of an admiring circle in England. She was one evening last week, one of the principal attractions in the royal box at the Patti concerts at Albert Hall in London.

Colonel Albert C. Rives, father of Anello Rives, brother of the late Senator Rives, has been appointed general manager of the Panama railway company and consulting engineer of the Panama canal, receiving a salary of $25,000 a year.

Senator Voorhees is said to seriously contemplate retirement to private life at the end of his official term, March 3, 1891. Possibilities are, however, that he may be re-elected in the Indiana legislature after he has been re-elected, has quickened his desire for private life.

Amos Henson is expected to visit Mrs. Gifford in the new year, as it was desired to be published. It is not unlikely that Mrs. Harrison may go to New York after the end of the present session, and extend to both General and Mrs. Harrison by Mr. and Mrs. Morton, and Mrs. Harrison may take advantage of the invitation.

A nine-year-old son of F. P. Loebe, of Sedalia, broke through the ice in the Blue river and was drowned.

Murderer Haunstone and DeMerritt, and Forger Welch pass the time merrily in the Custer county jail, playing high five.

Supervisor-elect Aischmede, of Seward, is lying in a critical condition on account of injuries received by falling from a load of wood. His jaw is broken in three places.

Fifty men and thirty-five teams gathered at the farm of Polly Hoken, in the town of Custer county, where was murdered by Haunstone, and husked 1,920 bushels of corn for him that day.

The export of gold to England continues. Nearly five and a half millions of dollars were shipped from this country during the past few days.

The city charter committee appears to be getting along quite well in its work of revision without the aid of a similar body from the council. Perhaps the railroads have instructed their tools in the council to stay away. It would certainly be to their interest to do so.

IT HAS been shown in the working of our fire and police commission that better government is assured to our city when the various branches of it are removed as far as possible from the contaminating influence of local politicians and patronage. The appointive powers able opposition to the agreement developed. Grey Wolf, head chief of the tribe, made a speech favoring the proposition, and was the first one to sign the agreement, being quickly followed by fifty others. It is still a matter of doubt what the outcome will be. The two newly formed bands of the tribe, so it will require in the neighborhood of two hundred signers to complete the arrangements of selling the lands. If they finally agree to dispose of the tract, it is very likely they will consent to sell the 30,000 acres which will be remaining unallotted, after the allotment, which is now in progress, is completed.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

IS HE THE WHITE TRAVELER?

All the World Interested in the Fate of Stanley.

THE EMIN BEY EXPEDITION.

History of the Enterprise, the Events Which Led to It and the Principal Characters Which Figure In It.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The False Prophet's Captives. Has Stanley fallen into the hands of the False Prophet? This is the question which millions of persons, in every civilized land, are asking themselves to-day, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.