LINCOLN NEWS AND NOTES.

Candidates for Speaker Open the Battle at Lincoln.

THE OLD ROUNDERS ON HAND.

Apportionment of Temporary School Fund-A Proposed Constitutional Amendment-New Manufacturing Company Incorporated.

Lincoln Bureau of The Omaha Ban, 1029 P Street, Lincoln, Dec. 28,

It has become evident that a tremendou lobby will be on hand to take part in the initiatory work of the law makers of the state. Every scheme in the calendar will be re sorted to to secure the organization of the house in the interests of corporations, and especially the railroads. The earnestness manifested now is all sufficient to convince the most skeptical of this fact. Deweese and his spotters are conspicuously circulating around and about the corridors of the hotels. They approach members elect of the house and senate on arrival as cautiously as the expert confidence man. The early birds of the oil room gang are on the alert to pluck the uninitiated, and for no other purpose than to secure future influence over them. This of course, will be accomplished through the old methods whenever possible, but no stone will be left unturned to accomplish the end sought. Old hangers on are already arriving and every train brings familiar faces, hungry for another whack at the pubhe test, and if goes without saying that some of them will not knock in vain. They stick to the crib with the tenacity of the blood-

Apost of the candidates for speaker of the representatives are already on the Dempster, Olmstead and Baker ar rived last night. They are quartered at the Capitri hotel. Watson was here this morn-ing, but he left for nome over the Missouri Pacific on the outgoing train. He will re-turn in the morning to remain until after the fight on organization has passed into history will take a hand in the fencing to-It begins to look like the slashing and clashing of two years ago. The lobby will be in its glory to night. Jake Dew, Jud Wight, Dave Mercer, S. W. McGrew, and a host of others are all in the arena. None of them left any cheek at home, so it can read-ity be imagined how they are equipped.

It is impossible to measure the strength of any of the candidates. Every one of them will have some votes, but in a quiet way the shrewdest politicians express the conviction that Watson and Cady will have the strongest support at the outset. Dempster and Baker come next in the order named. Olmstead, McBride and Caldwell are not sieep-ing; they all expect to be out of the swim be-fore the combination is made that makes the man. At present all is at sea.

Editor Wells is doing his level best to succeed Walt Seeley as chief clerk of the senate. He has a number of friends here who are extending a helping hand. Seeley, however, is said to have the inside track, but the old saying may hold good: "There is many a slip twixt the cup and the lip." It is said that all of the prominent candidates for the various positions will be on the ground before to morrow night. Politicians and church goers will vie with each other in providing Sunday recrea-tions. Church Howe is here.

AN IMPORTANT RESOLUTION.

The legislature will be asked to pass a resolution for a constitutional amendment to section 9, article 8, of the constitution, which relates to the investment of the permanent educational funds. At the present time the funds can only be invested in United States securities and registered county bonds. For several years the scarcity of these classes of securities has caused an ac-thing is done soon there will be but a small part of this class of funds that can find investment. The resolution intends to secure vestment. The resolution intends to secure a constitutional amendment that will take in school district bonds, and so formulated that the temporary fund shall protect the permanent fund; that is, if a school district should repudiate its bonds, or fail to pay the interest on them, then the temporary fund apportioned to that particular district shall be retained until the bonds and interest are paid. The effect of such an amendment, it s said, would be to secure pienty of oppor-unities to invest a much larger portion of the permanent fund; it would also reduce the high rate on this class of bonds. For ex-ample, when registered county bonds could only be purchased at the minimum of 7 per cent by the state, nearly all county bonds were issued at that rate, and eastern bond dealers would pay a premium of 1 to 2 per cent. This the state could not do. Being cent. This the state could not do. Deing unable to pay a premium the state could not secure the bonds.

NEW MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

On the the bonds.

The Searle & Herith company, of O-gaha, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of the state, to-day. Article second says that the object of the company is to manufacture fluid extracts, medical citizers, syrups and solid extracts, pranching the company and solid extracts. and wines, powered and solid extracts, granulated drugs and a general line of pharma-centical preparations and specialties. The company has an authorized and subscribed company has an authorized and subscribed capital stock of $50,000, and will commence business on the first day of January, 1889, and continue thereafter five consecutive years. The incorporators and stockholders are as follows, viz.: G. D. Scarle, F. S. Herith and W. A. Krag.

A SPECIAL MEETING.

The state board of transportation held a short special meeting this morning. It was ordered that the old Waterlov case be dismissed, and after passing the following im-missed, and after passing the following im-portant resolution, adjournment was taken sine die:

Whereas, It has come to the knowledge of the board of transportation that it is the practice of some of the railway companies in this state, operating passenger and freight trains, to permit their employes to pass over the crossings of other railway companies without requiring them to bring their trains to a full stop, previous to passing over such crossings, and, Whereas, Such practice is extremely danzerous, and Therefore, It is hereby considered, or-dered and adjusted by the board of transpor-tation of the state of Nebraska, that each and every railroad company operating a line of railroad within the state of Nebraska. cause each and every train or engine on its or their said railway to come to a full stop not nearer than 200 feet and not farther than 400 feet from the crossing of another railway, and after making such stop, to require that such train or engine shall not proceed until the engineer has sounded two long blasts with the whistle. and the conductor is satisfied that the track

Catarrh Cured.

A clergyman, after years of suffering from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, and vainly trying every known remedy, at last found a recipe which completely cured and saved him from death. Any sufferer from this dreadful disease send-ing a self-addressed stamped envelope to Prof. J. A. Lawrence, 88 Warren St., New York City, will receive the recipe free of charge.

THE LICENSE BOARD.

Some of the Work it Will Find to do To-Day.

City Clerk Southard said yesterday morning, that 216 saloon keepers had applied for licenses within the prescribed limitation of ime, allowing tourteen clear days notice for publication of their applications. Of these, ne said about one hundred and sixty had had their applications advertized. Mr. Southard further said that any saloon keeper who had failed to file his application in time would be barred out. "Won't the liceuse board give a little 'lee way' in cases where, say a day has been missed by a saloon keeper in making applica-

"No sir," replied the city clerk, "it can't be done. The law says so and so, and we must do our duty, no matter what hardship As there are some two hundred and eighty

As there are some two hundred and eighty liquor dealers doing business this year, if this plan is carried out, there will be a considerable diminution in the number of gin saloons open on January I, 1880. Of course, in addition to the 216 proprietors of saloons who have applied in time, there are a good many who may have filed their applications later on. In such cases no adjudication will be made by the license board at their meeting to morrow. This body will also hold a ing to morrow. This body will also hold a session on Monday next to complete their work. Just when and where they will organize is not very clear, Clerk Southard say-ing we will meet "where and when it is most convenient to the other two members,

Messrs. Bechel and Broatch."
When "touched" upon council affairs the urbanity of Mr. Southard vanished, and from being the most suave of corporate functionary he became decidedly beliggerent.
"Who will be the next president of the council?" he was asked.
"I neither know nor care," he replied. "I am not in the confidence of the president-It is an open secret, however, that Chief of Police Seavey's report, rendered to the mayor the other day will be a very potent factor in the decisions arrived at by the license board. It is said that Bechel has changed his mind in his attitude of hostility to the mayor and will act conjointly with Mr. Broatch in passing upon applications. "If this be correct, and there is little reason to doubt it," said a prominent county building attache, "there will be weeping and wailing and guashing of teeth." Many of those who are now running objectionable saloons will be refused licenses and then the sporting houses will be compelled to cease selling

AN OCTOGENARIAN GONE.

Sudden Death of Payson C. Stone, on Shorman Avenue. Thursday morning as Mr. Payson C. Stone, of 1408 Sherman avenue, was passing through a door way in his home, he suddenly fell upon his knees and then backward upon the floor. The strange look he gave his wife brought her to his side, and with his hand on her heart his life went out.

had arrived and all were agreed in that death was occasioned by a stoppage of the valuiar action of the heart.

The deceased was eighty years old. He was born in Vermont, June 15, 1808. He early caught the ploneer spirit, and at an early age settled in Niagara county, N. Y. But, with the ambition of young farmers of his time, the impulse was irresistible to push on farther west, Mount Vernon, O., Rockford, Mount Morris and Round Grove, near Morrison, Ill., were respectively his abiding places. From Round Grove he removed to Omaha about five years ago, and built him the home he occupied at the time of his death. For the first time in his long life, he withdrew from the activities which life, he withdrew from the activities which marked his career as a pioneer, and gave himself up, as one of his active temperament could do, to the well-earned rest which follows a life of toil. Aside from an occasional visit to his farm his life was one of serene waiting for the summons, which at last so suddenly came. He died firmly holding to the faith of his fathers and unquestioningly trusting in the promises which that belief inspired. He leaves besides his that belief inspired. He leaves besides his widow eight adult children. Mr. Emerson L. Stone, of the firm of Dewey & Stone of this city, is his eldest son, and the desire of the father to be near him had much to do with his selection of this city as a home for his declining years.

Stone was a fine representative of a type of men, all too rapidly disappearing —the sturdy pinneers who so well laid the foundations of this great western empire. By nature and education he was scrupulously honest, in every fibre of his being industrious, thrifty and yet most generous and kind, commanding general respect by his sterling worth and the affectionate regard of all who intimately knew him. Deserted From Fort Omaha.

Private O'Byrne, Company H, Second in fantry, Fort Omaha, mounted guard yester day morning and was put in charge of two prisoners detailed to assist in unloading coal cars at the side track. Arriving there he di vested himself of his beit and box, handed them and his musket to the colored prisoner named Mason and ordered him to report to the guard house. He and the other pris-oner, named Sullivan, then deserted. From investigation it was learned that it was a pre-arranged matter between O'Byrne and Sullivan, as the former has been in the guard house until the last few days. He is one of the recent batch of recruits. Both the pris-oners had received their sentences. Sullivan had three years, and Mason, who returned to the guard house, had five.

It's as plain as a Pike Staff that any article of Pastry or food flavored with adulterated flavoring cannot possess the wholesomeness or agreeable flavor of one in which a strictly pure Fruit Extract like one of Van Duzer's has been used. The Flavoring Extracts prepared by Van Duzer & Co. are from sound fruit, highly concentrated, contain more than usual quantity, and are therefore doubly economic. Their flavor is superb.
