

DAILY BEE. EVERY MORNING. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION...

A STUPID SLANDER. There is an adage that "you have to go away from home to learn the news..."

year are instructive. In New York the penitentiary convicts have been idle for many months...

It is not likely that the suggestion that General Harrison should recognize the colored race in constructing his cabinet will receive any consideration...

Special Train Puffs. The Press of the State Commend the Bee's Enterprise.

None Hope for Higgins. The License Board Refuses to Reconsider Their Recent Action.

Little Romances. Many years ago Albert Taylor, a first cousin of Governor Taylor's father, moved from Tennessee to Wisconsin...

Sworn Statement of Circulation. State of Nebraska, County of Douglas, I, A. D. ...

The "proof of the pudding is in the eating." The fact that the editor of THE BEE vainly tried for nearly three months to induce McShane and Cadet Taylor to join him in chartering a special newspaper train to connect with the B. & M. flyer, and offered to pay one-half of its cost (thirty dollars per day) if they would pay one-quarter each, that THE BEE finally offered to pay three-fourths of the entire expense if the Herald would pay the other fourth shows that no scheme for a newspaper monopoly was even thought of.

THE PEOPLE OF SEATTLE, WASHINGTON Territory have sent a petition to Washington under the name of Washington, under the plea that "this name has never in theory or in practice been associated with failure." Evidently the people of Seattle pin their faith on lucky names. But the inhabitants of the national capital are apparently too jealous to allow Washington to be used as the name of a state. They have already entered a protest that such a designation would tend to confusion. It certainly will be novel and interesting, when the question of naming Washington Territory comes before congress, to note what action will be taken in the matter, as it is more than probable that the post-office authorities will also take a hand in the battle.

GOVERNOR ADAMS' parting injunction to the legislature of Colorado in his message, has a word to say about the levying of taxes and the spending of the people's money which the legislature of Nebraska can as well take to heart. You will be thanked or condemned by the people of Nebraska in their noble action, "just in proportion as you are noble, and just in the measure as you are frugal and extravagant. The money belongs to the people and not to you, and as honest agents you should exercise at least the same care and economy as in the management of your own affairs. You would do well to remember the sentiment of the French king when he said: I would rather see my courtiers laugh at my extravagance."

NEBRASKA CURIOS. While waiting a log that had been chopped down a couple of years ago, V. S. Whitmore, of Beatrice, struck a stone as large as his two feet that weighed solid as a lump of iron. He says he never had a better heart of the tree. Just how it came there Mr. Whitmore could not understand. The tree was sufficiently large to indicate a growth of perhaps twenty years or more around the stone.

THE LICENSE BOARD Refuses to Reconsider Their Recent Action. The board of license commissioners met yesterday afternoon in the mayor's office at the city hall. The Mayor, President Lee and City Clerk Southard, were present. The board at once proceeded to business and granted licenses with but few remarks. There were several gentlemen watching the proceedings who were frequently questioned by the board as to the responsibility of certain persons unknown to the board who had signed the bond of some applicant. The following were granted licenses: William Schreyer, 311 South Tenth street, Adolph Reinhardt 1334 South Thirteenth street, A. M. Blair 1313 Pierce street, Matt Rosenthal 1313 South Tenth street, Charles Schuler 50 South Tenth street, A. Christoferson 414 South Tenth street, Laura Hansen 313 South Seventh street, H. Bierbach 413 West Fourteenth street, Henry Schreyer 3410 Cuming street, Max Schreyer 701 Leavenworth street, J. J. Conway 1034 South Sixteenth street, J. H. O'Rourke 1034 South Sixteenth street, Martin Henderson 2516 Cuming street, Harl and Kilgallon, 1123 Chicago street, Peter Ralant, 1030 Douglas street, J. Hoffman 401 South Thirteenth street, Fred Stein 1401 Jackson street, George Joseph Thierstein and Walnut streets, Walter Branson 511 South Tenth street, L. N. Guild 147 Dodg street, T. Mathison 507 South Eleventh street, Jacob Lutz 616 South Thirteenth street, Sam Davis 302 North Sixteenth street, J. G. Conroy 209 North Thirteenth street, Emil Galt 522 Douglas street, Joppa Grant 2001 Cuming street, Charles Stepp 1401 Cuming street, Charles Stepp, Oscar Harner, 1013 Farnam street, G. W. Wheeler 1722 St. Mary's avenue, Fred A. Fuller 120 North Twelfth street, M. J. Carroll 301 Webster street, J. J. Jetter & Young 723 Leavenworth street, Peter Steok 801 Leavenworth street, James Carr 1109 Farnam street, A. E. Flever 1101 South Tenth street, William Stoltenberg 1513 Chicago street, Ketchumark & Ryan State and Port streets, John Buck 1202 Cass street, Edward Kravitz 510 South Eleventh street, Jetter & Young 801 Jackson street, Thomas Deungh 1102 South Sixth street, Grimm & Thuman 402 South Fourth street, J. O'Connor & Muller 3802 North Sixteenth street.

THE most romantic marriage that ever occurred in Logan, O., took place recently at the residence of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. Ora Patterson. For some time Miss Minnie Ralston, a pretty little lady of Middleport, O., had been corresponding with Mr. Rupert of Pompei, Mich. He had proposed marriage in his letters. The other day he called on Miss Ralston and introduced himself. Mr. Rupert said "My clothes took rough and they are; but I have a big heart and a good bank account." He showed his prospective bride his bank book, and then said: "Will you marry me?" Miss Ralston replied, "I will." Mr. Rupert then reached for his pocket and pulled out a roll of paper, a large roll of money, and counted out five hundred one-dollar bills, which he handed to Miss Ralston, saying, "Here is a small wedding present for you." Mr. Patterson, who was present, then went for the license and the marriage ceremony was performed, and two more hearts were made happy. The groom is about forty-five, and the bride about twenty-five. Mr. Rupert is a wealthy farmer of Pompei, Mich., and he and his wife never saw each other until the day they were married.

BANK clearings have taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

It is to be hoped the new directors of the board of trade will be able to make the board more effective in promoting the commercial and industrial growth of this city.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

INDIANA is petitioning her state legislature to pass a high license bill. It is singular, but nevertheless true, that not a state in the union is ever anxious to try prohibition with the sad example of Iowa in view.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

INDIANA is petitioning her state legislature to pass a high license bill. It is singular, but nevertheless true, that not a state in the union is ever anxious to try prohibition with the sad example of Iowa in view.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

INDIANA is petitioning her state legislature to pass a high license bill. It is singular, but nevertheless true, that not a state in the union is ever anxious to try prohibition with the sad example of Iowa in view.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

INDIANA is petitioning her state legislature to pass a high license bill. It is singular, but nevertheless true, that not a state in the union is ever anxious to try prohibition with the sad example of Iowa in view.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.

THE BEE has taken a tumble for the first week of January, but Omaha has the good fortune to hold her head above water.