CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23 - [Special Telegram to THE BEE . |- The wheat market was destitute of any especially interesting features to day. Until late trade was light and fluctuations within narrow limits. The outside markets and the local market inclined to weakness, and the news was not of a stimusating character. It had a dispiriting effect, so far as it was influential in any respect. The weather, to begin with, was locally milder, though the weather map indicates generally clear and colder weather. The amount on passage showed an increase of 1,096,000 bushels, according to Beerbohn We regret to notice a disposition on the part of the trade not to wait for Mr. Jones figures. He is a statistician who seems to be without honor at home. This is rough on Mr. Jones. The private and public advices from abroad are soft, as a rule, and the New York correspondents have learned that the stocks of wheat at Odessa are 4,500, 000 bushels larger than at the last report, and at Buda-Pesth 3,500,000 bushels larger Later in the day the stock houses were advised that $500,000 in gold was about to be shipped to Europe. It was accompanied by the estimate that $2,000,000 in gold would be shipped before the week ended. This was subsequently raised to $5,000,000. Tuesday is rather early to make estimates for the week, but New York's news scouts are equal to any emergency. Last, but not least, Bloom was known to be long 1,000,000 bushels or such a matter, and it is the religion of the scalping crowd to get after any fellow who buys anything and make him drop it. In justice, it must be said that the scalpers are impartial in their attentions and would just as soon "gun" for operators who make themselves conspicuous on the selling side. There was more or less "omet buying" during the first half of the session, and the price could not be crowded below $1.00%, and kept there, but the support was ithdrawn as the session advanced toward the close, and the crowd got right on top of the market. The result was that a decided weakness during the last hour emphasized the last few minutes. More excitement and life were compressed into the final half hour than in the whole of the day previously. The market broke right off from $1.00% and $1.00%, where it had been resting dormantly for an hour or more, to $1.00, and then to 99%c. The gunners apparently got the game they were after, and everybody had it that Bloom had thrown over his wheat. If it wasn't him it was somebody else. Cer-tainly a big lot of long wheat came out, and pold's." The close was square on the bottom, viz, 99%c, or 13%c lower than yesterday, May wheat opened at $1.00%, ranged to $1.00% at 10.00% (with the favorite position near the inside. When the market "got a move on" it went fast enough to suit the greatest lovers of activity, The break was, of course, the crowning, and in fact the only, incident of importance for the day. The significance of the break was variously commented on. To bears it looked like a forerunner of a big slump, and to bulls like a strategic movement on the part of their leaders to shake off an operator who rolls up a deal on a favorable market much as a boy rolls up a snow ball. Bloom does not call a town meeting for advice when to let go or to get out of a deal. The corn market opened without animation and inclining to weakness, perhaps more in sympathy with wheat than from any pro-

nine men out of ten agreed that it was "Leo-pold's." The close was square on the bottom, in sympathy with wheat than from any pro-nounced desire to sell corn short on its de-merits at the present prices. There seemed to be many friends for May corn at 26 4c; but the offerings were greater than they were inclined to take care of, and a lower level was reached. The great weakness of wheat toward the close held the market down, but May did not decline below 36%c, although there were sellers at that price tow. although there were sellers at that price tow ard the end Though quiet, there was a fair aggregate trade in oats early, at substantially yester-day's prices, with a tendency toward a weaker feeling. The speculative busi-ness was confined to May, which sold early at 27%, but declined % later, to 27%. It was believed that some long oats came out, with a fair general buying all around. The near months were dull, and June was in light request at nearly May prices. Of 92 cars inspected in, 24 cars were contract grade. The sales of cash were contract grade. The sales of cash were chiefly by sample.

Provisions were a little nervous. Under the influence of the small run of hogs, trading opened with a bullish inclination, and for pork the market advanced on the first prices made 1214c, lard 10c and short ribs 5c the upward turn, however, failed to encour-age buying the feeling weakened, and during age buying the feeling weakened, and during the last half of the day the improvement was was lost in short ribs and considerably more than lost in pork. Lard was relatively stronger than the other lines and closed on the average 7%c higher than yesterday. At the close short ribs showed no change, while pork was 50010 losses. pork was 5@10c lower.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Curcago, Jan. 22 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- CATTLE-Trade rather slow and prices only about steady. Kansas City reported 4,000, and many orders that would have been filled here were sent to that point. The shippers were not at all anxious, and the dressed beef operators were entirely indifferent. Two trains of thin Texans came in over the Alton road that came in direct competition with the native butchers' stock, which compelled the salesmen to come down a notch or two on what they were asking. Fancy cows and heifers, however, were sell ing as steady as yesterday. Bulls were plen-tiful, and sold rather lower. The stocker and feeder trade remains dull and unsatisfactory to all concerned, and scarcely a dozen loads changed hands yesterday, and the chances are that there will be no improvement on that limit demand to-day. Choice beeves $4.00@4.60; medium to good steers, 1350 to 1500 lbs, $3.50 (33.90; 1200 to 1350 lbs, $3.30(3.50; 950 to 1200 lbs, $2.90(3.30; stockers and feeders, $2.20(3)

Hogs-Trade was so slow that one would have supposed that a holiday had arrived, judging from the quietness that prevailed in the alleys and about the scale houses. The big packing firms were bearish, and orders were limited. The prices are now back again to about where they were on Saturday, or 5 @10c lower than yesterday morning, and all this in the face of the light run at all points. The decrease here, as compared with the same time last week, is about 40,000. The packers seem deter-mined to get prices down to $4.50, and per-haps under, before the next thirty days. The heavy classes are now down to the low-est figures for this packing season. The The heavy classes are now down to the low-est figures for this packing season. The bulk of the sales to day show up at about $4.90, a few going as low as $4.75@4.85, and the best heavy at $4.95@5.05. There were but few buyers for light sorts. In some of the divisions not a buyer was seen during the forencon, and prices were almost nominal at $4.05@5.05.

FINANCIAL.

New York, Jan. 22 .- [Special Telegram to THE BES. |-STOCKS-The stock market this morning opened steady, the prices showing only a slight change from last evening's close. Atchison, however, was quite strong, the first price being 3/2 per cent higher, and it advanced 1/4 per cent on the purchases of a prominent German banking house that bought about 10,000 shares. This stimulated the balance of the list, and prices advanced fractionally. Pullman continued in its upward course, and touched the highest point in its history, $1.95. Missouri Pacific exhibited some strength which was due mainly to the operations of room traders. was a good selling of Northwestern on a bad showing in the earnings of last month. London was doing very little in the market. The reduction in the Illinois Central dividend to a 5 per cent basis was not much of a surprise to the street, as it had generally been anticipated. The traders who have been selling St. Paul short, expecting it to break with Atchison, have come to the conclusion that the money was not on the short side, and have begun builting it. It is believed that the Drexel-Morgan syndicate are supporting the stock, and that if they can get a sufficient short interest in it they will give it an upward twist. Notwithstanding the advances in coalers, the bears claim that the insiders continue to sell Lackawanna. The Chicago operators were buying grangers, particularly Northwest, but it is thought to be only covering short contracts. The commission houses are conservatively bullish, and buy the good classes of stocks on slumps. Money continues easy at 134/42 per cent Towards noon the market relapsed into dullness, but the undertone was firm. There was less activity during the afternoon, but the close was easy. Late dispatches from Chicago announcing the cut in the eastbound passenger rates at Kansas City by the Alton, induced some selling at 114 per cent up from the opening price, finally closing with a net gain of % per cent for the day. OMAHA LIVE STOCK. Cattle.

Tuesday, Jan. 22, 1889. The market was fully 25c higher than last Friday, and the bulk of the cattle changed hands before the close, but there was not as much life to the trade as salesmen would like to see. The feeling still prevails that the advance is dependent upon the very light receipts. There were some very good cattle on sale, as high as $4.20 being paid for one bunch, with the bulk selling at $3.15@ 3.75. There were also some very choice cows on sale which sold at $2.50@3.00, but $2.00@2.50 brought good stuff. There were no feeders here to speak of.

Hogs. There is very little to say about the hog market. The receipts were light, and the market was fairly active at steady prices. The hogs were all sold early. The bulk of the hogs sold at $4.0, both heavy and light hogs bringing that price. Sheep.

The supply was very large and the market was firm and active, about everything being sold. It is probably the largest number of sheep ever sold here in a single day. Receipts. Cattle....
