County Clerk Roche stated yesterday that he believed the house committee on privileges and elections had not opened the ballot boxes recently sent to the legislature, and that there was no poll books in them to be exam-ined, as reported Mr. Roche claims to have all the poll books of the recent election in his possession, as well as the keys to the

Philip Lang's Settlement.

Philip Lang, the Farnam street shoe man. has compromised with his creditors paying them 75 cents on the dollar, the amount aggregating $5,250, the stock being valued at about $13,000. As a consequence of this agreement, Mr. Lang is now conducting his business in the same manner, as he did be-fore his recent temporary arrangement with Father and Daughter Separated.

Christof Doering and his bride, formerly Louisa Zimmerman, left for Kansas City last night. The report in a morning paper to the effect that the twain was not brought back by Detective Blaufuss, is denied by the detective, who states that he accompanied them and had them under surveillance at all times enroute from Leavenworth to Omaha.

Before leaving this place Mr.

Zimmerman, the father of the girl, tendered the couple $50, through a messenger, but the money was declined. The father refused to be reconciled, and refused to see his daughter, requesting them to keep out of his sight.

Ought to go to Niagara Falls. Sam Dates an expressman, charged a lady to for hauling a couple of trunks only a short distance. The legal rate was only $1, but the lady offered Dates, who is a negro, $3 in payment of the bill. He would not accept this, and also refused to give up her trunks unless she paid the extortionate fee of $6. She therefore caused his arrest on the charge of larceny. The judge offered to re-lease him if he would settle matters with the lady according to the legal rates, which he most gladly accepted.

Opening the Slots. The Cable company has placed several men at work along its lines opening the cable slots which the cold weather has decreased beyond the usual width of five-eighths of an inch. The workmen use a steel wedge inch. The workmen use a steel wedge which they drive to the head, forcing an opening about an inch in width. They then insert a wrench with which they tighten the bolts and which draws back the guide rails to the required width. The work is not un-attended by danger as the wedge is sometimes squeezed from the slot and flies fre-quently to a distance of fifty feet. A blow from the wedge would cause painful results. The Express Companies Defiant Relative to the action taken by the produce commission men in sending out circulars instructing their country correspondents to ship produce by freight, in-stead of by express, Charles Potter, of the Wells-Fargo Express company, stated that it would not materially decrease the business of his company. The latter was paying little or no attention to the commission men, as far as their proposed boycott, which he didn't consider a boycott, was concerned. "There are two seasons of the year that they cannot ship eggs by freight," he said. "That is when the weather is extremely cold or when it is intensely hot. So, you see, they will have to patronize some express company in order to save perishable goods."

The First Baptist Church. Rev. A. W. Lamar was the presiding moderator at the annual meeting of the First Baptist church last night. The attendance was quite large and the reports of the various officers were gratifying. The membership is

The net increase in membership is 57. The treasurer, M. G. Maclend, reported that the receipts of the church for the past year for expenses and benevolent purposes were $11,130.34. The expenditures were $10,924.78; leaving a balance on hand of were $10,924.78, leaving a balance on hand of $211.50.

EIGHTY-FIVE CARS REFUSED. Why Has the Rock Island Sent Its

Stock Away? A recent action of the Rock Island, which a great part of its rolling stock was called in from the service of Omaha and South Omaha, fas caused considerable comment in railway circles and also resulted in much complaint on the part of the shippers. Yesterday Himebaugh & Merriam requested eighty-five Rock Island freight cars for shipping purposes, but were informed by the local agent of the company here that his road could not accommodate them. The grain merchants immediately telegraphed to the officials at Chicago, and received reply that no cars could be furnished. Inquiry at the terminal in the Bluffs revealed the fact that but a few cars were available. Just what this means has not as yet been developed, and the attaches of the road at this point when questioned. tioned this morning could give no explana-tion of the situation. It is stated that the Rock Island officials have given out that they are using all their cars in handling the ice crop at various sections of the United States, but this is regarded as a very poor excuse for but this is regarded as a very poor excuse for the attitude they have taken toward the Omaha shipper. It is whispered that the Rock Island is about to tie up with some other system, but just what the combination is could not be ascertained. The Union ele-vator company was compelled to shut down to-day, the cars not being obtained.

Pride, general castern agent of the Chicago & Northwestern, with headquarters at New York City, was presented, and talked to some length on the benefits that have resulted from similar organizations in New York Citicago St. Louis benefits that have resulted from similar or-ganizations in New York, Chicago, St. Louis and such points of prominence. The pur-pose of the organization is to consider local matters pertaining to freight rates, and the handling of traffic generally. The organization was permanently effected with W. N. Babeock, of the Chicago & North-wasters as absignment. Daniel King, who western, as chairman. Daniel King, who represented J. O. Phillippi, of the Missouri Pacific, was chosen temporary secretary. The meeting adjourned to convene next Mon-day at the Millard.

Officials Consult.

Ed Dickinson, general superintendent of the Union Pacific, has gone to Chicago, whither he will consult with Vice President Holcombe and Assistant General Manager Mellen. Just what will result is a matter of much conjecture at headquarters

Railroad Notes.

The obsequies of Superintendent McConiff, of the Burlington, were held at Lincoln yes-terday. All the engines on his division of the system were heavily draped in mourning, and the engine on the overland that arrived in Omaha this morning was also draped to his memory. A number of his associates in ranway circles, including J. Phillippi of the Missouri Pacific and Assistant General Engint. Agent Smith and Assistant General Freight Agent Smith of the Burlington, left Omaha yesterday to be present at the funeral. His successor has not been appointed as yet.

The Union Pacific has instructed its general attorney to draft a bill to be submitted to the legislature creating an inspector of locomotive engines.

It is reported that W. H. Murphy, formerly of this place, now purchasing agent of the Rio Grande, is dying at Salt Lake City. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul evening train for Chicago will leave Omaha at 6:35 p. m. with vestibule cars on and after B. A. Branch, western traveling passenger

JIM CREIGHTON'S COURTESY. He Welcomes "Bee" Reporters to the Jefferson Square Parlor.

Reporters, and especially those of Tur. BEE, are among the "not wanted" at Rooms 23 and 24 in the Ware building-the place where frequent and protracted meetings are being held by the Jefferson square boomers. Every individual who enters the sacred precincts of these apartments is suspected of being connected with the tabooed class.

About noon an innocent-looking young man About noon an innocent-looking young man dropped into Room 23 and addressing Mr. Creighton and J. B. Furay, who were seated at a table examining some lithographs of Jef-ferson square showing the elevation and other alleged advantages possessed by that much mooted spot as a location for the new city hall, said:

"Can either of you gentlemen tell me if a gentleman named Collins [for instance] has been here this morning!" "Collins! You must mean Major Collins.
No, he hasn't been here this morning."
"That's funny," said he of the innocent countenance. "He said that he had to attend a meeting here this morning and told me to meet him here at 12. Has there been me to meet him here at 12. Has there been no meeting here this morning?"

"Sav, young man," said Mr. Creighton, "how long have you been with The Bee? We know most of your men, but you are a new one to us. There, there, don't deny it. You are welcome. Come up any time, and we will tell you all we know," with a wink at Mr. Furay.

The young man was courteously dismissed.

two men ffrom Fort Omaha were in Crissey's drug store (on the corner of Twenty-fourth and Lake, returning from the city, when they were startled by the cries of some female, seemingly in distress. They hurriedly followed up the first scream, when louder and more piercing than before came the cries of "Murder! Murder!" At that moment they perceived two figures only a few feet from the sidewalk in a hot struggle, and as they neared the scene the taller of the two took to flight. The men stopped to inquire from the woman the cause of the trouble, but she was out of breath and it took her some moments to recover her-self. When she did so she stated that she self. When she did so she stated that she had just gotten off the car and was on her way home when a man suddenly stepped be-fore her, seizing her wrist, and dragged her to the spot where she was then standing. The villain claimed to be "Jack the Ripper." The men gave chase, but were unsuccessful. They reported the matter at the fort, and some six men volunteered to hunt him up. The party had not returned as late as yesterday morning.

Martin's First Wife.

The first wife of Dan Martin, the alleged bigamist, is here with her child from St. Joseph, and produces her marriage certificate as evidence of her marriage with Daniel. She is willing to swear that no dij vorce has been issued. Her husband came to Omaha to secure work and instead of sending for his family, it is alleged be illegally regreated. he illegally married Miss Douglass. Mrs. Martin No. 1 had a long talk with Chief Seavey and will be retained as the principal witness against her husbana. Jim Douglass, a relative of the second wife, is determined to push the matter and see that Martin gets the punishment he deserves. A communica-tion from one of the street-car drivers to The Ber denies the assertion that the streetcar drivers, of whom Martin was one, at-tempted to assist him at the time of his arrest, or were even willing to shield him from the punishment he deserved.

Get Out Your Sealskins. "It means more trouble!"

Sergeant Welsh of the weather bureau glanced over the top of a letter and made the above remark yesterday morning, as he was slowly walking up the stairs of the government building. "War troubles in the Samoa affair?"

"No. Don't you know this is a pretty nice day and that the temperature all over the country has taken a tumble to itself. How is the weather! Well, there is no variation in the temperature here, but there has been a great drop through-out the entire northwest, and it means colder weather in a few days. The indications now, however, are for warmer weather, but a rising like to-day at this season of the year is indicative of a big change. Cold invariably follows an unusual warm spell at this time of the year. It is sure to come, but it may be several days getting here. It will be warmer to-morrow, and then in two or three days watch my flag.1 The temperature was high away up in Montana. At Fort Assinaboine there was a rise of 25°. At Fort Custer the mercury jumped up 26°. At Helena there was a rise of 20°. At Fort Buford and North Platte the same rise was experienced.
