THE GROUND OF THEIR BELIEF

Members of the Board of Trade Talk on the City Hall Site.

THEY ARE ALMOST UNANIMOUS. Favor the Present Site on Grounds of Convenience, and in

They Prefer carnam Street.

Order to Keep Faith

With Investors.

The board of trade numbers among its members many of the heaviest taxpayers in Omaha. As a body it is therefore the best qualified of any to express a preference for the location of a city hall. The Bee has taken the sense of nearly the entire board upon the issue to be submitted to the voters of Omaha on February 5. It is in favor of the present site by a large majority. A few more expressions are appended, as follows: Joseph Garneau, jr.-I am emphatically in favor of Farnam street. It is the only place for it, for the reasons that it is the principal street of the city now and always will be; it is more central, and is opposite the court house. The buildings near it now are of a superior class, and those hereafter to be erected in that vicinity will be the same. The money aiready expended there cuts no figure in my opinion, as it is infinitesmal. I base my opinion solely upon the fact that the site, laying everything else aside, is more dostrable than Jefferson square.

Euclid Martin-I am in favor of baying it built at Eighteenth and Farnam, for several reasons. In the first place, as I understand it, the city hall was located at this point by a vote of the people, and, to re-locate it now, by another vote, would be very liable to end in legal controversies which would be liable to delay the building of the city hall several years. Another reason, it seems to me, why it should not be changed is that a good deal of property has changed hands, in the vicin-ity of Eighteenth and Farnam, since the location of the hall at that point, and I have no doubt many purchases have been made with the understanding that the site of the city ball was an established fact, and it would be unjust to such pur-chasers to now re-locate, even if it did not subject the city to any liability in the matter. The Farnam street site is a much better one from a business point of view, being situated near the court house, and I think it very desirable that these pub-lic buildings should be located as near together as possible. Besides this, in all the cities that I know anything about, built in simHar locations to Omana, the tendency is to build away from the river as the towns in-crease in size. This is especially true in the case of Cincinnati, St. Louis and Peoria, and the buildings lately creeted on Farnam street indicate that we are following their ex

Milton Rogers-I am in favor of the Farnam street site. I see no reason for changing the location that has already been de Charles Shiverick-I am in favor of the Farnam street site. It is more central. Samuel Rees-I favor Farnam street, if for no other reason than to save the amount of money already invested in the foundation and to keep faith with the eastern capitalists who have put up massive buildings in the vicinity on the assurance that the city hall was to be built on Farnam street. Further west will be the most populous portion of town and Farnam and Eighteenth the center. Even if you go north to-day, you cannot help noticing that the tide of population and buildings are flowing in a southwesterly direction from there. Jefferson square is on one side of the town now, and in a few years will be a suburb of the bottoms only.

Benjamin Gallagher-I favor the Farnam street site most assuredly, Henry Suessenbach—I favor the Farnam street site. Jefferson square is too much to one side of the town, and too near the railroad tracks, switches and smelting works. Dr. O. S. Wood-I favor Jefferson square, because I do not feel like climbing a bill when I have to go to the city hall. The pub-Alfred P. Hopkins—The Faraam street site is the most convenient and I favor it. It is accessable to the business man, taxpayer hall and county buildings. I am of the opinion that the nearer institutions of the public can be kept together, the better it will be for the public. Levi F. McKenna—I am not very well satisfied with either of the proposed loca-tions, but between Farnam street and Jefferson square I am in favor of the site on Farnam street. It is the most convenient, J. E. Markel—i am in favor of the present site on Farnam street. It is the most con-and individuals having business in the city

venient place at present and is far more available than at Jefferson square. P. C. Himebaugh—The Farnam street site is the nearest to the large business blocks already built. For this reason, and as a matter of convenience to the public, I am in favor of that site for the new city hall, Louis H. Korty—I am in favor of the Far-nam street site. It is by far more con-venient to the public than Jefferson square. People in paying their taxes are often com-pelled to search both county and city rec-ords, and the nearer these two institutions the county building and city hall—can be kept together the better convenience is af-

J. R. Harris—I am pronounced in favor of Farnam street as the site for the city hall. As a matter of public convenience it surpasses the Jefferson square site, and as a location it is preferable to that of Jefferson square.

street site and will vote that way. It is more convenient, more centrally located, and being closely situated to the county building it makes it by far the most desirable site of the two.

T. A. Creigh—I think the city hall should be on Eighteenth and Farnam. We have only one little bit of a square as a breathing spot, and we should keep it. All other cities have them, and from a business point of view I think the court house and city hall should be near each other. should be near each other. Fred J. Bothwick—My choice is the Far-nam street site, as it is convenient for all doing business at the county building, and besides the judgment of the people who voted for the site there are just as able to yoted for the site there are just as able to judge to-day as they were then. It would also be unfair to spend the money of the people on any other site.

John A. Creighton—I am for Jefferson square. Yes, I have some property near there, within a block or so. I think the site is more suitable for a city hall than the one on Farnam street. on Farnam street. William Flemming—I think it would be an act of injustice to parties who have purchased property and erected buildings on Farnam street in the vicinity of the present site, with the understanding that the city hall was to be built there, to now change the General E. F. Test—When it comes to a question of locating the city hall on Jefferson square as against Farnam street, you can count on my favoring Farnam street every time. I have no sympathy whatever with the gang of men that is seeking to relocate the city hall and that is at the head of the disturbing element in city politics. Any man who would make the assection that that he who would make the assertion that that he would gloat over the fact of crows roosting in the magnificent building that has been erected by The Bes deserves to be quaran-tined in his own house.
