Does the Earth Really Move? Science says that it does, but we cannot help wondering sometimes if there isn't some mistake about it whon we see how stubbornly certain old fogies cling to their musty and antiquated ideas. It was believed once that consumption was incurable, and although it has been clearly demonstrated that it is not, thousands of old-time physicians close their eyes and put their hands to their ears and refuse to abandon the theory. But for all that the world moves on, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medcial Discovery continues to rescue sufferers from consumptives' graves. It is a sure cure for this dreaded disease, if taken in time. All scrofulous diseases—and consumption is included in the list-yield to it.

OVER A MILLION AND A HALF To Be Expended in Two Buildings in

Omaha This Year. "Omaha business men never did a better day's work than on Tuesday last," said a board of trade man Thursday, "and the time they spent in winning that election for Farnam street will be one of the best investments they ever made. People have talked of money being tight, and why was it! Just because the eastern capitalists were as well posted on the matter as themselves. A banker with $1,000,000 invested in a city is not likely to increase that amount so long as there is a possibility of the city being run by a gang of irresponsible tricksters, and its bonds and contracts repudiated or annulled just to suit their pleasure or gratify their malice. Now the citizens have pronounced in no uncertain voice that they won't let that stamp of men interfere with the good name and credit of Omaha, and their decision will be heard in every money center in the cast. It will quiet all fears, and the money will come out this way as freely as it ever did,

"There is just one thing left to make the vote of the people more emphatic, and that is for the mayor and council to take it up where the citizens left it. The latter voted that the city hall should be built at once, and it is in order for the council to endorse that vote and see that it is done. Let them prove to the world that they are business men in every sense of the word and men of the true western go ahead style. Let them, the true western go ahead style. Let them, at once, advertise for plans, rush the building up, and prove that they are acting in harmony with the better class of citizens that elected them. No one recognizes the truth of the saying, 'A house divided against itself cannot stand,' more than the men with money to invest, and rival cities have taken care to advertise the city hall trouble where it would do the most harm; so that it is left it would do the most harm; so that, it is left to the council to see that the end of the trouble is equally well advertised, and nothing will do it so well as a call for plans.

"And then, there is another thing for the business men of Omaha to do before they can rest on their oars. They have got their oars in now, and are in the right frame of mind to use their influence with the Nebraska congressional delegation. Let them urge upon the delegation the necessity of at once taking steps to induce the secretary of the interior to appoint his commission as speedily as possible for the purpose of condemning the land for the new postoffice. It can be done and the new site purchased in a short time so that the work on the building could commence almost immediately. Think what that would mean for the business men and working men of Omaha, $1,200,000 for the postofilee and $300,000 for the city hall, or a million and a half of outside money that will come here to stay. Think what the expenditure of that amount would mean to the merchants and think of the number of mechanics that would find work and the advertisement that Omeha would get abroad! There is $400,000 now available for the purchase of the site, and if the business men of Omaha will only follow up their victory of Tuesday, the result of that election will start a boom in this city that will leave all previous booms

Deputy Sheriff Louis Grebe made the arrest Thurspay evening, in Swift's packing house at South Omaha, of J. B. Newman, who is wanted at Greenfield, Ia., for forgery. Grebe received a letter nearly two weeks ago from Sheriff Kengery, of Adair county, asking him to keep a look-out for Newman. Last Monday he located his man, and notified Kengery to get his requisition papers and come on. The latter arrived last night, and left for hone the worning with the significant countries. and left for home this morning with the pris-oner. Newman disappeared from Greenfield last April and the authorities have been searching for him ever since. The check he forged was for $300. He worked in the rendering department at Swift's, and when confronted by the officer was very mach sur-prised. In order to prevent his employers finding out what was up, he got a five days' leave of absence to go away on a visit to his father, who, he said, is very ill.

INCOMPETENCE, NOT CRIME. Further Investigation Into the Trouble of Drs. Kelley and Bear. George P. Moore, of Norfolk, is in the city and was approached yesterday by a BEE reporter for information concerning the sensation which has thrown that usually quiet city into a ferment of excitement. For the past three days interest and animation have been running at a fever heat race, superinduced by the preliminary examination of Dr. Bear, who, subsequent to Dr. Kelly's arrest, was taken into custody as an accomplice in the malpractice with which he

"It will be remembered that an operation was performed on Caroline Soudier some weeks ago, from the effects of which she died, and so much mystery surrounded every movement made by those connected with the unfortunate girl's trouble, death and burial, that many people expresses suspicions of foul deeds. Shortly after the unfortunate girl had been buried her brother and sister, advised and urged by others, preferred charges of murder against Dr. Kelly, and an officer brought him into court. He waived preliminary examination and gave bonds in the sum of $5,000 for his appearance at the next term of the district court."

Mr. Moore says Dr. Kelly's arrest was brought about by parties up there who are envious and have taken advantage of the opportunity to make it unpleasant for him.
"Had it not been for the protection of thir y or forty friends I believe they would have lynched him the day he gave bail and was re-leased. The mon was very angry and howied through the streets like a mob of drunken cow-boys. One of the leaders had a rope in his pocket and they were anxious to use it The negro already spoken of so much as hav-ing figured in this affair manifested particufor anxiety to use violence. His actions are due to the fact that Dr. Kelly recently dis-charged him from the asylum where he was

Mr. Moore says that a grave but perfectly natural mistake was made and it may go rough with the physicians. However, Dr Bear seems anxious to face the music. He Bear seems anxious to face the music. He missied upon being tried immediately and County Attorney Weighdon accommodated him. The case was called before Justice George N. Beals last Tuesday and the lawyers were still speaking when Moore left there Thursday morning. An immense crowd of people had been in attendance from the first. County Attorney Weighdon is being assisted in the presentation by Law. is being assisted in the prosecution by Law-yer Mapes, Judge Holmes, Judge Barnes, and Mr. Pritchett, of this city, are pitted and Mr. Pritchett, of this city, are pitted against them on the side of the defense.

"The trial," says Moore, "was conducted somewhat differently from the usual custom adopted in criminal cases. The defense refused to introduce any testimony and the state's witnesses were given all the latitude they wanted. No objections were raised to them telling what they felt like telling regarding the matter. In that way we were treated to a flood of story about what this one and that me had said, heard or believed.

"When the prosecution could not think of anything further to draw out of a witness the lawyers on the other side would make suggestions and assist them instead of crossexamining. While the fact that Miss Souther had been pregnant and the operation resulted in the removal of a seven months old child, there is no evidence to establish proof of premeditated crime on the part of the doctors. She had always been considered a good, pure girl, and up to the very moment of the operation, strenuously denied ever having been intimate with any man. Ste not only denied it to her own folks, but to the girl whom she roomed with and was her closest confidential friend.

"Miss Sandier came to this country from Germany one year ago last October, and se-cured employment as a domestic in the asy-lum at Norfolk. In November last she began to show signs of being in an interesting condition and was subjected to a series of interviews, but denied everything. Her de-nials too were of that child-like, innocent character calculated to convince persons that she was telling the truth. On the 28th of November Dr. Teschican was called in, consulted, made an examination and told the girl that she was pregnant.
"All these points came out in the trial of Dr. Bear.

"It was also shown that she had been brought to Omaha and examined by a doctor here who corroborated Teschjean's opinion. However, after due and considerate deliberation and repeated consultations Drs. Kelly and Bear, it seems, concluded that the girl was afflicted with a tumor and would gratify her wishes by cutting it out, Dr. Kelly appeared to place more confidence in the truthfulness of her persistent denials than in the knowledge of other physicians. Her conduct had been such as to completely throw him off his guard. The operation, therefore, was proceeded with, but had not gone far until the doctors discovered that they had made a terrible mistake, and undertook to prevent it becoming known by spreading reports to the effect that the girl died from the effects of the removal of an ovarian tumor.

"This might have worked had it not been for the inquisitiveness of a woman in the asyium, whose curiosity led her to make inquiries. The name of the Omaha physician was not made known."

Paying an Election Bet. During the campaign last fall, Eddie Swobe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swobe, made an election wager with Mrs. Barton to the effect that if Harrison won she would give him a party, and if Cleveland were elected Eddie should buy her a five-pound box of candy. Mrs. Barton lost and paid the bet last night. Handsome invitations were sent out to about fifty friends of the
