

TWELVE PAGES.

THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE.

TWELVE PAGES.

EIGHTEENTH YEAR.

OMAHA, SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 17, 1889.—TWELVE PAGES.

NUMBER 247

OUR IMMENSE CASH PURCHASE OF $12,000 LADIES' MUSLIN UNDERWEAR

HAS ARRIVED AND WILL BE PLACED ON SALE MONDAY, FEB. 17th, AT

MAIL ORDERS
FROM THIS STOCK,
CAN BE FILLED
PROMPTLY,
AS THERE IS ENOUGH
TO LAST ABOUT 7 DAYS

THE FAIR

MAIL ORDERS
WILL BE FILLED
FROM THIS SALE
AS THE STOCK IS LARGE ENOUGH TO LAST
AT LEAST ONE WEEK

502, 504, 506, 508 and 510 SOUTH THIRTEENTH STREET, COR. HOWARD.

Our Mr. Brandeis, now in New York, guarantees this purchase to be of unusual importance. It comprises the entire ladies' muslin underwear stock of a large New York firm, retiring from active business, and is worth not less than Forty-Five Thousand dollars. The price and quality of these goods will surprise you.

FOR 15 cts.

FOR 25 cts.

FOR 39 cts.

FOR 50 cts.

FOR 69 cts.

FOR 75 cts.

FOR 98 cts

We give you choice of 500 dozen
LADIES' CHEMISE,
CORSET COVERS,
DRAWERS and
CHILDREN'S DRAWERS,
All made of good muslin, well
made and finished with tucks,
all at 15c.

We offer choice of 1,000 dozen
LADIES' NIGHT GOWNS,
CHEMISES, DRAWERS,
CORSET COVERS,
Made of Fruit of the Loom Muslin,
trimmed in Edgings, Ruffles,
Tucks, full size and well made,
all at 25c.

We offer you choice of 180 doz
MUSLIN CAEMISE,
Square or pointed yoke of solid
tuck embroidery
MUSLIN DRAWERS,
with ruffle of embroidery and 3
clusters of tucks.
Cambric Corset Covers, low neck
embroidered, on neck & sleeves.
39c.

We will give you a choice of a
GREAT VARIETY
Of Skirts, Gowns, Corset Covers, Chemises, Drawers, trimmed in Embroidery, Torchon Lace and Everlasting Trimming, fine tucks elegantly made and finished all at 50c.

From the manufacturers' stock,
perfect in every way, comprising
Gowns, Skirts, Chemises, Drawers,
many of them worth up to $1, at
69c

We give you choice of several very handsome styles of
GOWNS,
Made of the best Muslin, Yoke
of Hand Embroidery, Clusters
of Tucks between and finished with Cambric Ruffles, all at 75c

We offer the greatest bargain of all, nothing like it anywhere—
100 doz. of FIND GOWNS, trimmed
in Plat Val, Torchon, Fine Embroidery,
fine tucks, Mother Hubbard Yokes with Chemise Skirts, Drawers, and Corset Covers to Match, choice at
98c

The above may serve to show what we have in store for economical buyers. However, we must not omit to mention several extra bargains in Ladies' Skirts at $1.25 and $1.48. These are wonderfully cheap. Our Bridal Sets are magnificent and very reasonable in price. Infants' Long and Short Dresses, at 29c, 39c, 50c and upwards.

J. L. BRANDEIS & SONS | J. L. BRANDEIS & SONS
502, 504, 506, 508, 510 South 13th St. | 502, 504, 506, 508, 510 South 13th St. | 502, 504, 506, 508, 510 South 13th St. | 502, 504, 506, 508, 510 South 13th St. | 502, 504, 506, 508, 510 South 13th St. | 502, 504, 506, 508, 510 South 13th St. | 502, 504, 506, 508, 510 South 13th St.

THE LOCAL SPORTING FIELD.

Omaha's Base Ball Prospects For the Coming Season.

M'CORMICK'S RACING STABLES.

The Bench Show—Annual State Shooting Tournament—Miscellaneous.

Gosling—Questions and Answers and Casual Notes.

Fine Prospects for '89.

Matters of local base ball circles are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In the outset, it might be well to state that President McCormick, together with Secretary E. O. Brandt, Treasurer John Doherty, and the board of directors, together with Manager Selee, are pulling well together, and, judging from the precautions they have already taken, and the excellent policy adopted, they will give the city the best ball the coming season it has ever known. These officials are, likewise, fully convinced that the team secured is fully up to the standard of last season's crippled organization, and of this, even consider it marginally stronger. One thing is certain, so far as batting strength goes, the present team is eminently superior to that of '88, and if they made equally well, they will be able to put up a better record. The writer is not familiar with the records of the men engaged, only in a causal way, but knows enough to know that they play plain ball, fall easily, and Manager Selee would not have signed them. The element that operated against harmony in last season's work has been wholly eradicated, and such a thing as insubordination, carousing or indifferent action will be unimportant. When the new team comes into stress upon the morale of his team, and confidently avers that there is not a lusker, a disorner or intractable man among them. They are a steady going, robust, healthy, athletic set of young fellows, and are apt to develop into a team of notable promise.

The officials of the team are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In the outset, it might be well to state that President McCormick, together with Secretary E. O. Brandt, Treasurer John Doherty, and the board of directors, together with Manager Selee, are pulling well together, and, judging from the precautions they have already taken, and the excellent policy adopted, they will give the city the best ball the coming season it has ever known. These officials are, likewise, fully convinced that the team secured is fully up to the standard of last season's crippled organization, and of this, even consider it marginally stronger. One thing is certain, so far as batting strength goes, the present team is eminently superior to that of '88, and if they made equally well, they will be able to put up a better record. The writer is not familiar with the records of the men engaged, only in a causal way, but knows enough to know that they play plain ball, fall easily, and Manager Selee would not have signed them. The element that operated against harmony in last season's work has been wholly eradicated, and such a thing as insubordination, carousing or indifferent action will be unimportant. When the new team comes into stress upon the morale of his team, and confidently avers that there is not a lusker, a disorner or intractable man among them. They are a steady going, robust, healthy, athletic set of young fellows, and are apt to develop into a team of notable promise.

The officials of the team are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In the outset, it might be well to state that President McCormick, together with Secretary E. O. Brandt, Treasurer John Doherty, and the board of directors, together with Manager Selee, are pulling well together, and, judging from the precautions they have already taken, and the excellent policy adopted, they will give the city the best ball the coming season it has ever known. These officials are, likewise, fully convinced that the team secured is fully up to the standard of last season's crippled organization, and of this, even consider it marginally stronger. One thing is certain, so far as batting strength goes, the present team is eminently superior to that of '88, and if they made equally well, they will be able to put up a better record. The writer is not familiar with the records of the men engaged, only in a causal way, but knows enough to know that they play plain ball, fall easily, and Manager Selee would not have signed them. The element that operated against harmony in last season's work has been wholly eradicated, and such a thing as insubordination, carousing or indifferent action will be unimportant. When the new team comes into stress upon the morale of his team, and confidently avers that there is not a lusker, a disorner or intractable man among them. They are a steady going, robust, healthy, athletic set of young fellows, and are apt to develop into a team of notable promise.

The officials of the team are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In the outset, it might be well to state that President McCormick, together with Secretary E. O. Brandt, Treasurer John Doherty, and the board of directors, together with Manager Selee, are pulling well together, and, judging from the precautions they have already taken, and the excellent policy adopted, they will give the city the best ball the coming season it has ever known. These officials are, likewise, fully convinced that the team secured is fully up to the standard of last season's crippled organization, and of this, even consider it marginally stronger. One thing is certain, so far as batting strength goes, the present team is eminently superior to that of '88, and if they made equally well, they will be able to put up a better record. The writer is not familiar with the records of the men engaged, only in a causal way, but knows enough to know that they play plain ball, fall easily, and Manager Selee would not have signed them. The element that operated against harmony in last season's work has been wholly eradicated, and such a thing as insubordination, carousing or indifferent action will be unimportant. When the new team comes into stress upon the morale of his team, and confidently avers that there is not a lusker, a disorner or intractable man among them. They are a steady going, robust, healthy, athletic set of young fellows, and are apt to develop into a team of notable promise.

The officials of the team are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In the outset, it might be well to state that President McCormick, together with Secretary E. O. Brandt, Treasurer John Doherty, and the board of directors, together with Manager Selee, are pulling well together, and, judging from the precautions they have already taken, and the excellent policy adopted, they will give the city the best ball the coming season it has ever known. These officials are, likewise, fully convinced that the team secured is fully up to the standard of last season's crippled organization, and of this, even consider it marginally stronger. One thing is certain, so far as batting strength goes, the present team is eminently superior to that of '88, and if they made equally well, they will be able to put up a better record. The writer is not familiar with the records of the men engaged, only in a causal way, but knows enough to know that they play plain ball, fall easily, and Manager Selee would not have signed them. The element that operated against harmony in last season's work has been wholly eradicated, and such a thing as insubordination, carousing or indifferent action will be unimportant. When the new team comes into stress upon the morale of his team, and confidently avers that there is not a lusker, a disorner or intractable man among them. They are a steady going, robust, healthy, athletic set of young fellows, and are apt to develop into a team of notable promise.

The officials of the team are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In the outset, it might be well to state that President McCormick, together with Secretary E. O. Brandt, Treasurer John Doherty, and the board of directors, together with Manager Selee, are pulling well together, and, judging from the precautions they have already taken, and the excellent policy adopted, they will give the city the best ball the coming season it has ever known. These officials are, likewise, fully convinced that the team secured is fully up to the standard of last season's crippled organization, and of this, even consider it marginally stronger. One thing is certain, so far as batting strength goes, the present team is eminently superior to that of '88, and if they made equally well, they will be able to put up a better record. The writer is not familiar with the records of the men engaged, only in a causal way, but knows enough to know that they play plain ball, fall easily, and Manager Selee would not have signed them. The element that operated against harmony in last season's work has been wholly eradicated, and such a thing as insubordination, carousing or indifferent action will be unimportant. When the new team comes into stress upon the morale of his team, and confidently avers that there is not a lusker, a disorner or intractable man among them. They are a steady going, robust, healthy, athletic set of young fellows, and are apt to develop into a team of notable promise.

The officials of the team are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In the outset, it might be well to state that President McCormick, together with Secretary E. O. Brandt, Treasurer John Doherty, and the board of directors, together with Manager Selee, are pulling well together, and, judging from the precautions they have already taken, and the excellent policy adopted, they will give the city the best ball the coming season it has ever known. These officials are, likewise, fully convinced that the team secured is fully up to the standard of last season's crippled organization, and of this, even consider it marginally stronger. One thing is certain, so far as batting strength goes, the present team is eminently superior to that of '88, and if they made equally well, they will be able to put up a better record. The writer is not familiar with the records of the men engaged, only in a causal way, but knows enough to know that they play plain ball, fall easily, and Manager Selee would not have signed them. The element that operated against harmony in last season's work has been wholly eradicated, and such a thing as insubordination, carousing or indifferent action will be unimportant. When the new team comes into stress upon the morale of his team, and confidently avers that there is not a lusker, a disorner or intractable man among them. They are a steady going, robust, healthy, athletic set of young fellows, and are apt to develop into a team of notable promise.

The officials of the team are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In the outset, it might be well to state that President McCormick, together with Secretary E. O. Brandt, Treasurer John Doherty, and the board of directors, together with Manager Selee, are pulling well together, and, judging from the precautions they have already taken, and the excellent policy adopted, they will give the city the best ball the coming season it has ever known. These officials are, likewise, fully convinced that the team secured is fully up to the standard of last season's crippled organization, and of this, even consider it marginally stronger. One thing is certain, so far as batting strength goes, the present team is eminently superior to that of '88, and if they made equally well, they will be able to put up a better record. The writer is not familiar with the records of the men engaged, only in a causal way, but knows enough to know that they play plain ball, fall easily, and Manager Selee would not have signed them. The element that operated against harmony in last season's work has been wholly eradicated, and such a thing as insubordination, carousing or indifferent action will be unimportant. When the new team comes into stress upon the morale of his team, and confidently avers that there is not a lusker, a disorner or intractable man among them. They are a steady going, robust, healthy, athletic set of young fellows, and are apt to develop into a team of notable promise.

The officials of the team are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In the outset, it might be well to state that President McCormick, together with Secretary E. O. Brandt, Treasurer John Doherty, and the board of directors, together with Manager Selee, are pulling well together, and, judging from the precautions they have already taken, and the excellent policy adopted, they will give the city the best ball the coming season it has ever known. These officials are, likewise, fully convinced that the team secured is fully up to the standard of last season's crippled organization, and of this, even consider it marginally stronger. One thing is certain, so far as batting strength goes, the present team is eminently superior to that of '88, and if they made equally well, they will be able to put up a better record. The writer is not familiar with the records of the men engaged, only in a causal way, but knows enough to know that they play plain ball, fall easily, and Manager Selee would not have signed them. The element that operated against harmony in last season's work has been wholly eradicated, and such a thing as insubordination, carousing or indifferent action will be unimportant. When the new team comes into stress upon the morale of his team, and confidently avers that there is not a lusker, a disorner or intractable man among them. They are a steady going, robust, healthy, athletic set of young fellows, and are apt to develop into a team of notable promise.

The officials of the team are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In the outset, it might be well to state that President McCormick, together with Secretary E. O. Brandt, Treasurer John Doherty, and the board of directors, together with Manager Selee, are pulling well together, and, judging from the precautions they have already taken, and the excellent policy adopted, they will give the city the best ball the coming season it has ever known. These officials are, likewise, fully convinced that the team secured is fully up to the standard of last season's crippled organization, and of this, even consider it marginally stronger. One thing is certain, so far as batting strength goes, the present team is eminently superior to that of '88, and if they made equally well, they will be able to put up a better record. The writer is not familiar with the records of the men engaged, only in a causal way, but knows enough to know that they play plain ball, fall easily, and Manager Selee would not have signed them. The element that operated against harmony in last season's work has been wholly eradicated, and such a thing as insubordination, carousing or indifferent action will be unimportant. When the new team comes into stress upon the morale of his team, and confidently avers that there is not a lusker, a disorner or intractable man among them. They are a steady going, robust, healthy, athletic set of young fellows, and are apt to develop into a team of notable promise.

The officials of the team are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In the outset, it might be well to state that President McCormick, together with Secretary E. O. Brandt, Treasurer John Doherty, and the board of directors, together with Manager Selee, are pulling well together, and, judging from the precautions they have already taken, and the excellent policy adopted, they will give the city the best ball the coming season it has ever known. These officials are, likewise, fully convinced that the team secured is fully up to the standard of last season's crippled organization, and of this, even consider it marginally stronger. One thing is certain, so far as batting strength goes, the present team is eminently superior to that of '88, and if they made equally well, they will be able to put up a better record. The writer is not familiar with the records of the men engaged, only in a causal way, but knows enough to know that they play plain ball, fall easily, and Manager Selee would not have signed them. The element that operated against harmony in last season's work has been wholly eradicated, and such a thing as insubordination, carousing or indifferent action will be unimportant. When the new team comes into stress upon the morale of his team, and confidently avers that there is not a lusker, a disorner or intractable man among them. They are a steady going, robust, healthy, athletic set of young fellows, and are apt to develop into a team of notable promise.

The officials of the team are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In the outset, it might be well to state that President McCormick, together with Secretary E. O. Brandt, Treasurer John Doherty, and the board of directors, together with Manager Selee, are pulling well together, and, judging from the precautions they have already taken, and the excellent policy adopted, they will give the city the best ball the coming season it has ever known. These officials are, likewise, fully convinced that the team secured is fully up to the standard of last season's crippled organization, and of this, even consider it marginally stronger. One thing is certain, so far as batting strength goes, the present team is eminently superior to that of '88, and if they made equally well, they will be able to put up a better record. The writer is not familiar with the records of the men engaged, only in a causal way, but knows enough to know that they play plain ball, fall easily, and Manager Selee would not have signed them. The element that operated against harmony in last season's work has been wholly eradicated, and such a thing as insubordination, carousing or indifferent action will be unimportant. When the new team comes into stress upon the morale of his team, and confidently avers that there is not a lusker, a disorner or intractable man among them. They are a steady going, robust, healthy, athletic set of young fellows, and are apt to develop into a team of notable promise.

The officials of the team are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In the outset, it might be well to state that President McCormick, together with Secretary E. O. Brandt, Treasurer John Doherty, and the board of directors, together with Manager Selee, are pulling well together, and, judging from the precautions they have already taken, and the excellent policy adopted, they will give the city the best ball the coming season it has ever known. These officials are, likewise, fully convinced that the team secured is fully up to the standard of last season's crippled organization, and of this, even consider it marginally stronger. One thing is certain, so far as batting strength goes, the present team is eminently superior to that of '88, and if they made equally well, they will be able to put up a better record. The writer is not familiar with the records of the men engaged, only in a causal way, but knows enough to know that they play plain ball, fall easily, and Manager Selee would not have signed them. The element that operated against harmony in last season's work has been wholly eradicated, and such a thing as insubordination, carousing or indifferent action will be unimportant. When the new team comes into stress upon the morale of his team, and confidently avers that there is not a lusker, a disorner or intractable man among them. They are a steady going, robust, healthy, athletic set of young fellows, and are apt to develop into a team of notable promise.

The officials of the team are particularly quiet just now, but a glance at the situation so far as Omaha is concerned, her conditions and prospects cannot fail to be of interest to the patrons of the game. In