MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. Plumbing company.

Conrad wood, E. E. Mayne, 619 B'way.

A decision has been rendered against "the squatters" who have been claiming some bottom property on the ground of possession.

The George Washington social at the Presbyterian church this evening promises to be a unique and interesting entertainment.

A case of scarlet fever has been reported to the city clerk by Dr. Lacey. The patient is the child of the family of Mr. Fausell, 2003 Fourth avenue.

Members of the Eisenman home are requested to meet at No. 4 house this afternoon at 2 o'clock sharp for the purpose of electing judges and clerks for the various wards at the coming elections, and the establishment of polling places.

Colonel D. B. Dalley is quite jubilant over a promising trial which was held Wednesday by his pining mare, Mattie Harle. The youngster is by Cyclone, and the colonel expects it to develop into a flyer.

Murphy, who stole a coat from a dummy in front of Eisenman's, was fined $10 and costs, and sent to jail in default. He persistently maintained his innocence, and said that he was unable to divulge the hiding place of the stolen garment.

Alex Hamilton, booter, was the only new case in police court yesterday morning. He was fined $5.00.

The continued cases of Pat Feeley and John Murphy were disposed of. The case of Feeley, who was charged with stealing coal from a car in the "Q" freight yard, was dismissed on motion of the prosecution.

Pat Hopkins, a laborer living on the bottoms, was arraigned before Squire Schurz yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on his wife. He denied the soft impeachment, but was found guilty and fined $10 and costs. His wife said that he was able to pay the fine, but he insisted that he was not, and was committed to jail for three days in default.

J. N. Cochran, of No. 3 house, aspires to the local coupling championship, and challenges all local couplers for a match for $25 a side, the contest to be either a standing coupling or a run of fifty yards, break coupling and start pipe. He has devoted considerable time to it during the past few weeks, and has the necessary scientific twist down him.

The Eisenman racing team's grand masquerade ball will be given at the Masonic temple this evening. The team will make a short parade at 2 o'clock in masquerade costume, with their new cart, and will wind up with a short exhibition run on Broadway, connecting with the hydrant at the corner of Bryant street, and attaching the pipe in front of Eisenman's store. There will be a large attendance at the ball, as nearly three hundred tickets are already sold.

It has been suggested that Secretary Zevinsky, of the railroad commission, be sent with the Dodge Light Guards, on the Washington trip, to scatter advertisements of Council Bluffs. It does not appear clear just how much opportunity will be afforded him to scatter political matter as the train speeds through the country. The Light Guards themselves will doubtless do all they can to advertise the city, as they have been generously supported in the securing of the needed funds to make the trip.

J. L. Farman, the Upper Broadway clothing merchant, has gone to the wall, much to the surprise of his fellow business men. His stock was taken possession of by Sheriff O'Neil yesterday morning. Attachments have been levied on the goods by the following parties: Strauss, Goodman, Yondorf & Co., $948.75; M. D. Wells & Co., $750; M. E. Smith & Co., $768.19; Church, Brown & Co., $106.79. Mr. Farman has been in business here for many years, and has been considered financially reliable and in all respects trustworthy. It is hoped that he may be able to clear up his present troubles.

We have a stock of groceries in this city for trade. One-third cash. Council Bluffs Investment Co., No. 10 Pearl st.

The Guards Farewell Hop.

The farewell party of the Dodge Light Guards at Armory hall last evening was an enjoyable affair, being the most successful as a society event of any of the parties given by the Guards this season. A large number were present from Omaha, among them being Messrs. Cotter, McGarr, Gadd, Fried, Cox, Kehoe, Porterfield, Crane and Mittauer and the Misses Smith, Fitzpatrick, Richards and Cotter.

Try our XXX bottled beer. Special rates on all orders from L. M. Finkelstein.

DOINGS OF THE DISTRICT COURT.

Several Civil Cases on Hand—The Cultivation of Local Talent—The Elephantine Fire Truck to Be Sold.

The City's Elephant.

There are very few of those who have resided in this city for the last sixteen months who have forgotten the mammoth howl that was raised over the purchase of a "dress parade" hook and ladder truck. The immense affair was one of the largest made, and would be of inestimable value in cities where ten-story buildings predominate. However, the majority of people saw at once that it would be practically useless here, where the height of the buildings does not exceed four stories. Notwithstanding the vigorous kicking, the truck was bought at a cost of $2,800, and a new building erected to accommodate it at a cost of several thousand more. This by no means completed the outlay for this expensive plaything. A pair of medium-sized, three-year-old colts were purchased to furnish motive power for the "White Elephant," as the huge truck was derisively named. As it weighed 7,500 pounds and the horses were driven at a gallop, of course it was but a short time until the animals were used up, and a heavier pair, costing $500, was purchased. One of these animals is of no value as a fire department horse, and will soon be condemned.

But even here the outlay did not cease. It was necessary to increase the size of the fire department by about half a dozen men, in order to man the new apparatus. By footing up the total of all the bills, it will be seen that the council indulged in a most expensive luxury. This perhaps, would not have occasioned such a severe protest if the apparatus had proved of any value to the city. In all the time it has been in use, it has never been of the least use, although it is hailed out for exercise whenever there is an alarm turned in from a box on the paved streets near its station.

The great eighty-five foot ladder has never been raised except for practice, and when shorter ladders are required, the little one horse truck is always on hand first, and supplies the necessary apparatus.

The city has supported this luxury for a little over a year. At last, however, it is rumored that there is to be a change. A resolution will be presented to the council at the meeting this evening to the effect that the truck be sold, as unsuitable to the needs of this city, and recommending that it be sold, and another one of smaller size purchased in its place. It is stated that Alderman Wadsworth, chairman of the fire committee, will father the resolution and use his best efforts to have it adopted. If the alderman does succeed in effecting his purpose, he will be entitled to great credit for very materially decreasing the city's expenditure of cash, as well as greatly improving the fire protection.

Picked trips and pigs' feet at Tibbits', 643 Broadway.

Harrison's Inauguration.

The Wabash Western railway announces that tickets will be sold from all stations to Washington and return for the inauguration of President Harrison, at half fare.

Rate for round trip from Council Bluffs, Ia., $30. Tickets will be on sale February 27 to March 2, good returning until March 10, 1889. For further particulars apply at the Wabash Western ticket office, 421 Broadway.

In District Court.

In the district court yesterday morning the jury in the case of Fair vs. city of Council Bluffs was instructed and sent out.

The case of W. J. Connor vs. J. T. Stewart was settled and the case dismissed.

The case of Geiner vs. city of Council Bluffs was passed to the next term. In this case damages are claimed on three charges—putting the Indian creek ditch into Olive street, change of grade and turning the Olive street sewer into Indian creek.

After disposing of these cases a jury was empaneled in the case of Smith vs. Macrae. This suit is brought to enforce the payment of a commission on five acres of land sold by the plaintiff, Forrest Smith, during the boom, for the defendant, Dr. D. Macrae. The case occupied the remainder of the day and was not completed when court adjourned last evening.

I have moved my office to Omaha, at which all orders will be received and from which all deliveries will be made by wagon. L. M. FINKELSTEIN.

All grades hard coal. C. B. Fuel Co.

Home Talent.

The Innisfail society, composed of young folks, has considerable talent in both drama and music. Just now its members are quite busy preparing for the presentation of a romantic four-act drama, "Peep o' Day," an Irish play of thrilling interest. It will be presented in the opera house March 1, and for the benefit of St. Bernard's hospital. There will be about twenty-five persons in the play. Among them will be several who are already favorites here, such as Ed. Cogley, the Hughes brothers, Miss Celia Hughes, Hubert Finley and Miss May Finley. The young folks have been rehearsing for six weeks.

Money loaned at L. B. Craft's & Co.'s loan office on furniture, pianos, horses, wagons, personal property of all kinds, and all other articles of value without removal. All business strictly confidential.

J. G. Tipton's real estate, 527 B'way.

The local teams that are already organized to take part in the June tournament, it will be very strange if some of the prizes are not captured by Council Bluffs muscle. All professionals are barred, and amateurs will have a fair chance to distinguish themselves. Aside from the regular sprinters, the couplers and ladder climbers are already doing good work. Of the former, Charles Nicholson and Miles Schofield will do the pipe work for the Eisenman team, and Philip Betz and Frank Mithen for the Rescue. They are all making remarkably good time for the practice they have had. P. J. Officer will do the ladder climbing for the Bradley hook and ladder company, and as he is a crack long distance runner, he will have plenty of wind after the run to carry him to the top of the ladder in very quick time. The outlook for the boys is very promising, and they will be supplied with first-class apparatus. The Eisenman team has just received one of the finest racing carts in the country, and Mr. Thomas Bowman, who is now in the east, will purchase a cart for the Rescue company before his return. The "Bradley Hooks" will have the use of the light truck belonging to the city and one of the thirty foot ladders. As soon as they are ready to begin training the ladder men on the truck will be transferred to one of the fire department wagons fixed up for the purpose, the council giving them free use of the truck until after the tournament. There is to be no half way work in fitting up the local teams, and there will have to be some record breaking if they are beaten.

Notice the beautiful finish given collars, cuffs and shirts by Cascade Laundry company.

Parties having temperance billiard halls and restaurants will do well to take the exclusive sale of my temperance beer. L. M. FINKELSTEIN.

Dr. C. C. Hazen, dentist, Opera house block.

Highway Robbery.

City Scurvenger Rockowitz was the victim of an assault and robbery Wednesday night. He attended the ball given in Smith's hall, in the southern part of the city, and left at a late hour to go home. When a short distance from the hall he was struck over the head with some heavy weapon and knocked senseless. His assailant then relieved him of his overcoat and $5 in money. Mr. Rockowitz was discovered shortly afterward and taken home. His injuries are severe, but not fatal. There is no clue to the cowardly highwayman.

Oakland.

Rev. Vander, who lectured for the Grand Army on Wednesday and Thursday nights, remained over Sunday, preaching Saturday night and Sunday to a large audience at the Christian church.

Mr. G. Thompson, from Cheyenne county, Kansas, is paying his sister, Mrs. Thompson, a short visit.

The Teacher's meeting, which was held Saturday, February 18, was not well attended on account of the cold.

The mad dog excitement has about passed over.

Mrs. Pierce, living southwest of Oakland, died suddenly Friday night, the 15th inst., from congestive chills, and her husband is considered dangerously sick with lung trouble.

Mr. Robbins, who has been quite sick, is better.

Mr. Tompkins, living near Oakland, buried one of his children.

The city has supported this luxury for a little over a year. At last, however, it is rumored that there is to be a change. A Long Suffering Evangelist Soundly Thrashed a Tormentor.

H. O. Wills, ex-burglar, convict, drunkard, and tough, was converted five years ago, and since then has done excellent evangelic work among the lower classes without once falling from grace, says a Detroit dispatch. Many of his old associates have frequently reviled and taunted him as he passed along the streets, but though a giant in size, Wills never lifted his hand or voice in retaliation until today. This morning he met in a street car William Dalton, who has always tormented Wills on sight, calling him vile names and mocking his ways as an evangelist. Wills begged Dalton to desist, as there were ladies in the car, but he refused. One by one Dalton's language compelled the ladies to leave the car. Just then Dalton heard something drop. Wills, with an audible prayer for forgiveness, grasped Dalton by the coat collar and began swinging him at arm's length around the car, while he applied his open hand to exposed parts of Dalton's anatomy. Wills mopped every part of the car with the person of his tormentor. The swish-swish of the body around the car could be heard a block away, above the din and roar of the busy thoroughfare. The conductor grew pale with fright. Dalton cried for mercy, but not until he was thoroughly whipped did Wills release him. Then, with a parting shake of the trembling man, the evangelist said: "Now, you go home and thank God that I didn't kill you." Dalton ran and fell down in the car, went like a child and prayed for forgiveness. He then went before a police justice and paid for the assault.
