

THE CITY.

The city offices were all closed yesterday. There was a meeting of Oklahoma boomers last night at Twelfth and Cuming streets. Yesterday was quiet in police circles. Only three arrests being made up to 5:30 p. m. They were all vagrants. No business was transacted at the government building yesterday, as it was the anniversary of George Washington's birth.

IRON CLAD RULES. Aimed at Lawyers, They Hit Reporters Hardest. New rules have gone into effect at police headquarters, and in future no attorney will be allowed to look for clients among the prisoners behind the bars. No friends will be allowed to speak to the unfortunate unless the chief, the mayor or the police judge shall give a written order to that effect. Newspaper reporters are also placed under the ban and are not allowed to use the telephone, or interview a prisoner, unless by written permission. The rules now to be observed are as follows: No smoking allowed. No person not belonging to the police department is allowed to use the telephone. No person not belonging to the police department or in charge of the police is allowed inside the railing and partition next to the cells. No person not belonging to the police department is allowed to speak to prisoners while in their cells. Female prisoners are brought into the police court no person will be permitted to speak to any of them unless having a written order from the mayor, the police judge or chief of police. Any person having such written order to speak to a prisoner, the captain will detail an officer to take such prisoner into the police court to see the party, who desires an interview. No police officer will be allowed to furnish food for any prisoner. If any prisoner wishes to send a message, and has money to pay for it, the jailor, after being informed of the nature of the message, may call for it and give it to the prisoner. The jailor will give all reasonable information to citizens inquiring after persons confined in the jail, but will not furnish the names of prisoners, date of arrest, or cause of arrest, by whom arrested and the charges against them. This book to be kept on the desk outside of the railing night and day. The cells must be whitewashed every Monday and washed out every day. Prisoners permitted to work out their time at the station must, when not at work, be locked up. The popular blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla, is having a tremendous sale this season. Nearly everybody takes it. Try it yourself.

OBLECTED TO FREEZING. Horses Refuse to Stand Unsheltered in the Cold. The cold weather was accountable for a number of runaway accidents. One team, attached to the carriage of William Wallace, cashier of the Omaha National bank, undertook to warm themselves by a dash from the corner of Tenth and Howard streets to Sixteenth street and California, where they were stopped by John Straub, a driver in the employ of William Stevers. He checked them before any material damage was done, but did it at the cost of his horse. Another horse ran away from near the corner of Seventeenth and Farnam, and at latest accounts was in the neighborhood of Lake street, where a third claimed the right-of-way west along St. Mary's avenue. In each case they were left standing too long in the cold. If you need a perfect tonic or a blood purifier, take Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic. It is made of the best of the roots of the stomach, kidneys and liver. Can be taken by the most delicate. Price 50 cents. Goodman Drug Co.

CONCERNED AND THE POSTMASTER. "I am not going to Washington to endeavor to stop the Potomac river," said Hon. W. J. Connel. "I am taking no laws with me and will introduce no measures until after I shall have become thoroughly acclimated. I shall return on March 10. During my absence my business in the city will be conducted by my assistant, Mr. J. W. Wallace, of Sidney, Neb., who has been in my office for a couple of years. As regards my preference for postmaster I am in favor of Woodard, though I do not know who the other candidates are. I am in favor of Woodard simply because I desire to reflect the republican sentiment of this city, which I understand has been liberally endorsed him. "I did not know Mayor Faray was in the field, but he would make a strong man." Mr. Connel remarked that person in question is a resident of some other city because the most reliable records have failed to produce a record of his name in this city bearing that name. The circumstances attending the suicide of the woman in Chicago, who claimed to be the wife of an Omaha real estate agent named Tucker, have reached the city, though the whereabouts of the man to whom she claimed to be married are shrouded in mystery. It is now thought that the woman in question is a resident of some other city because the most reliable records have failed to produce a record of his name in this city bearing that name. The suicide was a pretty girl, whose beauty and youthfulness attracted the attention of her parents and her fiancé, who brought sorrow to her parents and her fiancé to the death of an abandoned and depraved woman. She resided in Keokuk until a few years ago, when she came to Omaha. Her sister Birdie was also led into a reckless life and several years ago charged Dr. Kennedy, who played with Omaha clubs of '88, with seduction. The charge was made just as he was about entering the National league, but was afterwards withdrawn. The New York girls, how pretty they look with the new "Helle" Jane Hading veil, to be had of dealers by the yard at 50 cents up.

She Got Her Machine. Mrs. Anna Porter, alias Mrs. Anna Russell, brought suit in Justice Kroeger's court against a barber named Maker to recover a sewing machine, and was the suit. Porter's real name is Mrs. Anna Russell. Her husband lives in Kansas City. She had a great fancy to a man named Porter and the two eloped, coming to Omaha a few weeks ago. She and her husband were with Porter as his wife. She had a sewing machine sent to her from Kansas City. She gave her husband ten to one to get it at the depot. Porter got the machine, but meeting Maker sold it to him for $10 and has since returned to his room on Webster street, where his people will have been waiting for him. By accident she learned of the disposition of the machine and brought suit against him, when the above facts are gleaned from her testimony. She has recovered the machine, and Porter is also anxious to return to avoid prosecution. Pen's soap is the most elegant toilet article. Will be Sentenced To-day. A Campbell, the driver in the employ of Jim Stephenson, who was arrested on the charge of appropriating some of Jim's money, was arraigned and pleaded guilty, but yesterday being a legal holiday the judge postponed the sentence until to-day.

Wants a Claim Club Bath. John Murphy, at whose approach every nose curled, was arraigned for drunkenness. He wore two shirts and said that whenever the outer one got dirty he used it for an undershirt and then washed the one that had served for that purpose. A shirt would thus last five or six weeks without being washed. His honor sent him to the county jail for five days so that he could get clean shirts washed and get a good bath in the bargain. Going to the Insurrection. Among the distinguished guests that arrived from the west was Russell B. Harrison, son of the president-elect. He is on his way to Washington, whether he will attend the inauguration exercises. He is a guest of Governor Saunders, where Mrs. Harrison is sojourning. The latter will accompany him to Washington, though it is as yet undecided as to whether Governor and Mrs. Saunders will join them. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison will leave to-day. Didn't Think It Was Loaded. Considerable consternation was caused in court by the end of the gravel being on a tangent with his honor was pointing the desk with it. The flying missile flew straight at the head of Attorney Simons, who escaped an ugly contusion by ducking his cap. The judge was talking at the time but the accident so rattled him that he stopped right in the middle of a sentence and could not remember afterwards where he had left off.

YOUNG MEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB. There will be a meeting of the Young Men's Republican club on Saturday evening at 7:30 at 311 South sixteenth street. Business of importance will come up, and every member of club is requested to be present. A Runaway. A horse took flight at the cars near the Union Pacific depot, and running north on Tenth street was not stopped until he had succeeded in completely demolishing the truck to which he was attached. The steed was stopped at Jim Stephenson's barn. Retained at the Open Door. Thursday night a black and white dog, connected with the "Open Door" at 2630 Capitol avenue, received a number of calls from ladies and gentlemen interested in the work being done there. A number gave most substantial proof of their interest by showing and other contributions, and Mr. Clark has determined to have a general reception day once every month. An Excursion to Lincoln. The Burlington has made a special rate to Lincoln and return of one fare for the round trip from Omaha, the same to apply Sunday next, the occasion being the dedication of the German Catholic church at that place. A special train, leaving here at 8 a. m. Sunday morning, will be run, and it is thought that a large delegation from Omaha, together with members of civic societies, will attend.

WRESTLING CHALLENGE ACCEPTED. The challenge of George B. Stewart, of the Paxton barber shop, to wrestle any 150-pound barber for $100 aside, best three in five falls, catch-as-catch-can, has been accepted by P. C. Merry, of South Omaha, through a letter to The Bee. Merry says he will meet Stewart at 8:30 a. m. next Monday at the Diamond, where he will make a deposit of $50, and agree on the time when the match will take place. FULL WEIGHT PURE.
