

LINCOLN NEWS AND NOTES.

The New German Catholic Church to Be Dedicated To-Day.

DISTRICT COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Pigott's Blackmailing Letters Read Before the Parnell Commission.

LINCOLN BERARD OF THE OMAHA BEE.

1029 P STREET.

Tomorrow the new German Catholic church, of Francis De Sales, will be dedicated and blessed by Bishop Boncompagni, of the Lincoln diocese.

The interior is chaste, and there is seating capacity for a congregation of about four hundred people. The decoration of the altar is temporary, a magnificent high altar, not being furnished, nor likely to be before the great festival of Easter. Under the church is a large, well-lighted school room, with several retiring rooms. Below that again is another school room, of about the same size. The whole cost of the structure will amount to about $5,000. The location of the church is on the corner of J and Nineteenth streets, near the capitol, and the building is in the middle of the valley. On the grounds is the rectory—a commodious house, and there is to be built, between the church and the rectory, a school building, which will be under the charge of the school to be conducted Sundays and week days. In June last Bishop Boncompagni decided upon a pilgrimage to the Germans, and, on his invitation, the Rev. H. M. Roth, who is now rector of the parish, assumed charge of the pilgrimage. He commences his tour on seven people, holding services in the Fitzgerald hall, and now there are between seventy and eighty fathers, and a large number of train conductors from Omaha, conveying representatives of Catholic societies. These will be met by the Catholic societies of Lincoln, and there will be a large gathering of the church. The services will be elaborate. The mass will be St. Clair's "G." Father Roth has written a book on the pilgrimage to the Germans, and Father Walsh, of St. Theresa, sub-deacon, Father Glauber is the German preacher of the day, and will address the people.

The Pigott Inquiries.

The sensation of the hour in England and America is the case of Richard Pigott, the now notorious forger and blackmailer, before the London Times' commission of inquiry. The commission is enabled to place before its readers to-day the full account as given by Pigott to blackmail the Irish Land League in 1887 through its treasurer, Hon. Patrick Egan, and Egan's spirited reply thereto, all of which were read before the commission.

On this day I received an anonymous letter, stating that on the Monday following a couple of gentlemen would call upon me and ask me to sign a statement, which, if accepted, would turn out very greatly to my advantage. Accordingly on Monday evening they came out to my house in the Kingdom. I have not the faintest idea who they are. The interview lasted a couple of hours, and I have not yet seen the statement which they asked me to sign. I have not yet seen the statement which they asked me to sign. I have not yet seen the statement which they asked me to sign.

Some Ugly Rumors.

Rumor has it that the senate and house committees appointed to investigate the asylum explosion are slushing at a round rate. The committee of the house seems to be in a hurry to get the matter over with, and is slushing at a round rate. The committee of the house seems to be in a hurry to get the matter over with, and is slushing at a round rate.

The District Court.

This is an off day in the district court of Lancaster county. Judge Field and his associate, Judge H. M. Roth, are in court. The court is in session, and the judge is in court.

BEVERIES.

Collection of internal revenue yesterday was $5,366.72. The sale of brandy and cigars advertised for Friday, by the collector of internal revenue, was postponed, that day being observed as a general holiday.

City News and Notes.

The following Omaha gentlemen registered at the Capital hotel yesterday: Frank McDonald, W. K. Mount, Victor Wahl, Mort Meyer, T. K. Soudborough and R. F. Bacon. The Nebraska Editorial Association contemplates a most enjoyable excursion during the month of July. It is understood that the boys will go to St. Paul, Tacoma, Washington, Portland, Oregon, and back from there to Portland, Oregon, thence home over the Union Pacific. Editor Washburn has arrangements well in hand, and the trip is a sure thing.

On the Way Home.

The strong south wind of Wednesday sent the volumes of smoke from the great chimneys of the Union Pacific shops and the smelting works, swirling through the streets, besmoking the lines of freight cars, beginning the squatty dwellings and filling with soot the eyes and nostrils of a reporter, as he plodded along the railroad tracks in the direction of the Cass street entrance to the Union Pacific shops.
