HE LIKED TO WEAR A STAR.

Gas Burke is one of the ex-policemen who refused to part with his star after the great decapitation of officers nearly two years ago, and has kept it ever since as a relic of departed power. It is said that he has flushed out the majesty of the law, and that the star proved an impulsive one, and the possession caused his arrest. The police magistrate lectured him soundly for impersonating an officer, and confiscated the stellar ornament, which it is said, was the chief of police. With this Burke was released.

FIFTH FOUR YEARS OLD.

WHICH OUGHT TO BE REMOVED FROM THE ALLEYS.

To ascertain who is to blame for the present wretched condition of the streets and alleys, a visit was made to the rooms of the board of public works yesterday. In response to a query, Secretary Wappich said that, as yet, the alleys had never been swept. He added that the board of public works had nothing to do with the matter whatever, that it was under the supervision of the board of health, and must be properly attended to through the medium of the chief of police. This is all provided for by city ordinance, over which the board of public works has no control.

Dr. Hortmann, who has been dangerously ill for two or three months, is rapidly convalescing and in a few days hopes to be about town again.

10 o'clock Thursday morning Bishop Worthington will hold a "quiet day for women" at Trinity cathedral for all of the Episcopal churches of Omaha.

J. W. Cooper, an abstractor, who was charged with obtaining personal property under false pretenses, was discharged yesterday in Justice Wade's court.

Garfield $10 and costs, Emma Ross $5 and costs, and Effie Smith $5 and costs. Quietness will reign in that locality for some days, as neither Doe or the Ross girl can pay their fines.

"No they cannot," was the rejoinder to this question, "because they have no right to demand a dollar unless it is so ordered by the city council."

"It is the council's business, then, to see to the alleys at all seasons of the year?"

"Yes, sir, that is the case. Officers Pulaski and Hinchee, however, act as sanitary inspectors through the summer months, and it is their duty to call to the attention of property holders to clean their abutting alleys when their condition justifies such an order; and, in case of non-compliance they must file the information against the offenders in police court."

"When will the spring renovation begin?"

"Just as soon as the council orders it and designates the streets to be swept and cleaned."

A JOB FOR SOMEBODY.

Mr. James says that is the Design of a Teachers' School.

to that the constable twisted the woman's arm until she shrieked with pain, and then struck her a terrible blow in the breast that almost knocked her down. At the time she held a sucking infant in one of her arms. Mrs. Willemanns called out for her husband, who came to the rescue and protected her when Eddy threw back his coat and showed his star, this being the first intimation it is said, he had given of his being an officer. Eddy was arrested and the case is now being given enough ventilation before Judge Berkha Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Willemanns are both German and speak English with difficulty.

A COMMON SENSE REMEDY.

In the matter of curatives what you want is something that will do its work while you continue to do yours—a remedy that will give you no inconvenience nor interfere with your business. Such a remedy is ALLCOCK'S POISON PLASTERS. These plasters are purely vegetable and absolutely harmless. They require no change of diet and are not effected by wet or cold. Their action does not interfere with labor or business; you can toil and yet be cured while hard at work. They are sure that the youngest, the oldest, the most delicate person of either sex can use them with great benefit.

A JOB FOR SOMEBODY.

Mr. James says that is the Design of a Teachers' School.

Mr. James, the superintendent of schools, does not favor the move of the board of education, proposed at Tuesday night's meeting, of establishing a teachers' training school in connection with the high school. He considers it a needless extra expense to the city of at least $3,000 a year. The results, he said, could hardly be bettered. He holds it better for Omaha to let the state educate the teachers as it is now doing. There is a normal school at Peru provided specially for the training of teachers. He says, further, that there are two theories prevalent among the people concerning education, one being that the best way to teach is diametrically opposite. One is that the public schools are for the best interests of the pupils; that the money contributed for the purposes of education should be applied with discretion. The other is that the money people give for schools are run for charitable purposes, so that certain poor or unfortunate creatures can have a job. This latter theory, he says, is ridiculous, but the actions and reasoning of many persons show that the absurd notion exists.

The superintendent expressed the fear that it is this second charitable theory that influences some of the supporters of the proposed innovation, and that the greatest argument in its support will be that it will give somebody a job.

GUESTS AT THE CENTRAL STATION.

John Kearney, late of Chicago, arrived in Omaha Tuesday over the Burlington. The price of a ticket was very exorbitant John chose the more economical method of making the journey in a box car. The first duties he had to perform were to sweep the spirits off draught and to wash the floor. Kearney had quite made the rounds he was indoctrinated by something very similar to virtue, and a member of the metropolitan police kindly escorted him to the central station, where he received the treatment he needed. When he went to settle he was charged just $4, thus saving him $100. Kearney being here with a view though he assured Judge Berkha that he had $50 when he arrived. The usual charge is $5, but Mr. Kearney being here with a view to locating, the rates were made according to scale.

FOORTY DAYS OF FASTING.

The Penitential Season of Lent begins Tuesday.

The day was one of general rejoicing in catholic countries. It was the carnival of Italians, the Mardi Gras of the French, and pancake Tuesday in "Ye merrie Engeland of old tyme."

It is a great notwithstanding that the officers mentioned look only for nuisances in the alleys and have never had anything to do with the sweeping or scrapping of them. As a consequence, in some places the dirt is so thick that the public can hardly walk on it.

"People owners," said a taxpayer, "are not, and cannot be expected to, scrape the alleys any more than they are expected to sweep or scrape the streets. It's about time that the council and the board of public works did something to clean up this sanitary reform. The alleys need cleaning as regularly, and in some instances more regularly, than do the streets."
