A Runaway Couple Located.

P. W. Dwyer, who suddenly left the city with another man's wife about a year ago, has been located. He and the woman are living as man and wife at Persia, N. Y., and the chief of police there has in some way got an inkling of the scandal here. That official has written to Chief Seavey, asking if Dwyer is wanted here, and says that if he is he can readily be arrested.

Successful Stealings. For some time sneak thieves have been making successful raids on the store goods of S. M. Press, N street, South Omaha. First a pair of trousers was carried off, then a few evenings later a more successful raid was made, and five pairs of trousers were pathered up and taken away. A hill was given Mr. Press and his next-door neighbor was relieved of a sack of flour. Then Mr. Press' shoes were tried, and yesterday the best pair of trousers on the rack were carried off in broad daylight. There is no trace of the perpetrators.

LOSING THEIR HEADS. SEVERAL OLD SUITS.

Are Brought For Airing in the District Court.

"Bad" cases pending in the district court are not faring very well these days. No less than three have been nolled, and among them is one to which attaches quite a salacious and sensational story. It will be re membered that about one year ago the newspapers bristled with accounts of a marriage, in which Eavan L. James and Miss Minnie L. Day figured as the principals. It was written down then that Mr. James had this young lady forced upon him and, at the muz zle of a revolver, held against his head by her angry brother, he was com-pelled to go through the marriage ceremony. Rev. Henderson officiated. Because of the fact that he had been gay and succeeded under promises usual in such af-fairs, in ruining the girl, Eavan found it absolutely necessary to make here. absolutely necessary to make her reparation and take upon himself the binding yoke. Shortiy afterwards he instituted suit to have the marriage declared void. This morning Judge Wakeley called it up for trial. The lady and her witnesses were there but James failed to put in an appearance. Several months ago he wandered away and hid him-self in the wilds of Dakota. His lawyer said, "I will dismss the case. I don't think the marriage should be annulled."

the marriage should be annulled." Mrs. Peter Williams, who has been linger-ing in Jail under , a charge of adultery, preferred by her husband, was liberated and the case dismissed. Like pro-ceedings were also held against Thomas Tammershult, who it was alleged, attempted on the night of January 29 to shoot and wound Charles Schrauber. The latter, it seems, had ingratiated himself into the affections of Mr. Tammershult's wife, and the husband, catching them in a com-aromising position, lost his temper and made

The Kilburn case, in which possession of several town lots at Florence are involved, still occupies the attention of Judge Groff and jury. Mrs. Kilburn got a verdict in the one against C. Christian, giving her possession ad $1 damages. The Ballou Sherwood controversy was up for a few minutes in Judge Wakeley's room, but on account of the illness of an important witness had to be continued until next Tuesday. This is a suit brought by Ballou on a specific contract, to compel Sherwood to exchange his Palace stables for a lot of prop-erty, the amount involved being something like $100,000.

The CountyCommissioners Stultifying Themselves on CountyPrinting.

The county clerk's office and commission ers' apartment were invaded by a disturbing preeze yesterday which for two or three minutes threatened very disastrous results. The too previous attempts of certain pacties to get control of the official printing, exposed by The Bas yesterday not only brought them up standing, but cinched matters so tightly that the coid wave had a desperate howl from Vaughan and company to play with. The latter were on hand bright and early to annoy Mr. Roche and members of the board with their wild gesticulations and talk. These parties, it appears, were possessed of the idea that the only thing necessary was for them to hand in their bond and contract, and demand the printing. That other proceedings, before becoming legally quali-fied, were necessary, scems not to have been taken into consideration. On the advice of taken into consideration. On the advice of Deputy County Attorney Edgerton, who told him that the mere filing of bonds and contract were sufficient. Mr. Roche gave Vaughn one days printing, but, upon subse-quent information, which left him in doubt as to whether this publication would be ap-proved as legal, he withheld further orders, which act has created the disturbance. One proved as legal, he withheld further orders, which act has created the disturbance. One commissioner has aiready said he would not approve the bond and contract. The latter do not, he says, meet the of-fers made by Vaughn, to the effect that he would furnish $50,000 in sureties and bind himself to print and dis-tribute 10,000 copies of his paper every time an advertisement or report of board pro-

Said he: "What is all this holse and con-fusion about, any way. The commissioners have a right to let the printing to whoever they please. This claim and argument on circulation is a fraud, and in no other county do the boards pay any attention to it. We could give a contract to the Valley Times, the Watchman or any other exclusively weekly paper. It is not necessary to have it done in a daily. I don't see why we should pay $2,000 a year when we can get the printing for $500. If the county attorney told Mr. Roche that this bond and contract were all right it must be

The question evidently had a wakening effect, for Mr, Anderson braced up, assumed a confidential tone and cut loose. of our spring goods have now arrived and we have them on our counters.

As leaders in the clothing trade we are expected to be ahead in quantity of stock and variety of styles. Our exhibit will show that we have fully realized these expectations.

We invite inspection of our grand stock which by far exceeds that of any former season Three immense floors full of new goods. Such a stock was never shown in Omaha before

At the opening of the season it may not be out of place to emphasize the fact, that in the face of constantly increasing competition, our business has kept on growing larger and larger until now it is conceded by all that the Nebraska Clothing Company is the leading clothing house of the west, and sells more goods than any two or three of the largest houses in Omaha combined.

We mention this for the benefit of those who have not yet traded with us, It should go a long way toward convincing them that a house who is thus able, not only to hold its trade, but to increase it from season to season MUST offer inducements which can not be had elsewhere. Close buyers have recognized the vast difference between our prices and those of other houses.

To new customers we wish to say: we want you to try us. You take no chances in trad ing with us. We offer no goods that we can not warrant to give entire satisfaction, and we were the first to establish the rule of refunding your money in case your purchase is not entirely satisfactory.

We have always sold goods cheap but this season we will break the record. Prices talk and our prices this season will do more advertising for us than the newspapers.

The Horses Disappeared.

Thursday night George Baird, of Emerson, Neb., shipped a span of horses from that place to Florence. The horses were consigned to himself and were shipped over the St. Paul & Omaha railroad. In a box car the animals arrived at Florence before daylight yesterday morning. When the station agent arrived at the depot at 7 o'clock he discovered that the car had been broken open and that the horses were missing. The authorities were notified and search was commenced for the animals. At first it was thought they were stolen, but as Baird did not put in an appearance some of the railroad officials think that he arrived on the train with the horses and removed them without notifying the agent, in order that he might not have to pay the freight charges, which by a majority vote of its members. #### Omaha Got It.

Christie & Lowe, a firm of Omaha contractors, are constructing nine miles of cable railway in Deaver. They had to compete with Chicago, St. Louis, New York and Kansas City cable constructors, but they got the contract. The road which they will build will be on the same system as the one now operated in Omaha, with the exception now operated in Omaha, with the exception that the width of the tracks will be less and the conduit more shallow. The firm will complete the construction of the road so that it can be in operation by August 1. Work of construction was commenced this week. Fred McConnell has an agreement in con-nection with the Christie-Lowe contract, to furnish about one thousand car loads of broken stope in the building of the road. He has just returned from Denver, and will He has just returned from Denver, and will again go to that city next Tuesday.
