Unnecessary Arrests.

Mayor Broatch was interviewed concerning the communication of Councilman Kaspar in which it is alleged that a great many unnecessary arrests are made by the police. The mayor says that the matter is to be carefully looked into, and the records of the jail and court will be compared for the rext few days, and if there appears to be an undue number of arrests an explanation will be asked from the officers making the arrests, and an effort made to stop an indiscriminate use of official power.

Orde ed to Change.

31 Broadway, New York.

The officers and attaches at army headquarters are plunged in sorrow over the loss of an associate and friend. Yestesday Colonel Hall, chief inspector for many years of the department of the Piatte, received an engraved document from Washington ordering him to report for duty without delay at Los Angelos, Cal., as inspector of the department of Arizona. The captain will be succeeded here by Major Vroom, promoted from a captaincy in the Third cavalry. The order for Colonel Hall's removal seems to have been very much of a surprise. No one, not even the colonel himself, appears to have had any premonition of such a change. His popularity among the officers and men here is so great that, said Major Breck, "We are all broken up over the certainty of losing

New Shooting Grounds-Wednesday's Benefit-The Fair Wheelers. A committee of the Omaha Gun club visited the lows side yesterday afternoon for the purpose of selecting new shooting grounds. This they succeeded in accomplishing, securing the best and most available grounds to be had within a radius of five miles. They are just across the river within easy reach by the motor line, being only an eight-minute ride from the Millard corner. These grounds will be nicely fitted with a small club house. They will provide for trap shooting and a superb rifle range. It is quite probable that the Council Bluffs club will unite with Omaha in fitting up this new site. The grand annual shooting tourna-

WHAT PEOPLE TALK ABOUT.

Views and Interviews Caught In Hotels and Elsewhere.

FROM OMAHA'S SUNDAY GUESTS.

Hon. Church Howe Commends the Legislature On the Theory That It Might Be Doing Worse.

Mr. Howe Speaks. In strict and faithful observance of his reg ularly established custom, Senator Church Howe came up from Lincoln Saturday to attend church where he can hear an eloquent sermon and pass the Sabbath without growing weary of it. Mr. Howe says that when Saturday adjournment comes he is very glad to get away from the tiresome old capital and go where dry, uninteresting legislative discussion is not constantly grating on his ears. Replying to reportorial inquiries for informa-tion concerning business transacted this sestion concerning business transacted this ses-sion the senator stated that thus far there has been no bad legislation. "You may also say that the good amounts to very little. That too is an advantage the state should rejoice over. The less legisla-tion the better, it would be a blessing if our sixty day sessions came around only once in six years. Take the 500 hills introduced and not more than one bills introduced and not more the one-twentieth of them deserve recognition. But twentieth of them deserve recognition. But they take up time and give fellows an opportunity to talk, consequently two-thirds of the time is simply wasted. However, if we can succeed in cutting the appropriations down from a half to a million dollars below what they were two years ago, the people will have no grounds for complaint at this legislature. Not a single "job" has been permitted to go through, though it is well known that several have knocked at the doors for admission," Mr. Howe thinks Nesbitt's jury bill, in which the commissioners of Douglas county are so deeply interested, is a splendid thing and ought to become a law. Its chief object, if passed, will be to knock out the great army of professional jurymen. great army of professional jurymen.

"What is your estimate, senator, of Har-rison's cabinet?"
"It is a purely business body of men, and they were undoubtedly selected solely from a business standpoint. Blaine and Windom we know all about. It is not necessary to discuss them. Noble is an excellent man, stands at the head of the of the St. Louis bar and is looked upon there as a man of su-perior ability and attainments. Tracy is one of the very brainiest and best men in the state of New York. I have known him for twenty years. He has a splendid record. All in all it is a very fine cabinet."

Hon. Wm. E. Douthill, a leading lawyer of Topeka, Kan., made his first visit to Omaha yesterday. Like all strangers he was greatly surprised at finding here such a large, well built and finely paved city. Mr. Douthill says that the Kansas politicians are making a great scrambic for appointment to federal positions under Harrison's administration, It is worse there than in Nebraska. For every office there are at least ten candidates. A few who have no hopes of winning any thing at home, have put in their ears for something outside. John M. Guthrie, judge of the district court at Topeka, is fishing for the chief justiceship of Oklahoma when that territory is opened for settlement, and S. B. Bradford, ex-attorney general wants to either be made chief justice of Utah or given some foreign mission

THE BEE man solicited Pat O. Hawes yesterday as one who ought to know all about it, for the names of Nebraskans who are eager to succeed some democrat in a govern-ment office. "What!" said he, indicating much astonishment at the request, "you don't expect me to glibly run off the names of 10,000 men, do you?" "I had no idea there were that many on the list."

"Well, that's about the size of the army. Several days ago I wrote to Senator Man-derson for a friend of mine who wanted an insignificant $1,500 a year appointment. This norning I received an answer from the sennich he says there are thirty at plicants for the same position. I expected to ask for an office myself, but have changed my mind, and will continue to saw wood."

George B. Wendling, a lawyer of Stubenville, Ill., who started out seven or eight years ago to annihilate Bob Ingersoll in the ecturing business, is at the Paxton. Mr. Wendling is an entertaining speaker, has a catchy way of sailing off into high flights of fancy, makes a good appearance on the plat-form, and since his subjects deal with religious topics and are full of sympathetic phrases he has become popular with a large class of people.

Reference to the appearance in Omaha, his week, of Madame Janauschek, drew from her manager yesterday, a little story of how the celebrated actress was recently victimized by a Kansas real estate agent. Five or six years ago she was induced to invest about $25,000 in lots in Emporia, a quiet, unenterprising county seat of 5,000 population, with plenty of shade trees, a few handsome residences, several two-story brick stores and the state normal school. After being led into the scheme, it was considered noth ing more than a natural consequence that she should make the sharper her agent.

In course of time, the fact became known that Madame Janauschek found herself sorely pressector ready money to meet demands made upon her from Germany, and, to raise it, she gave a blanket mortgage on the property. By and by, this mortgage came due. What, with meeting current expenses and the out-lays consequent upon her professional life, the famous tragic star had not been able to save very much. She succeeded in complet ing what seemed to be satisfactory arrange ments for paying the debt in small installments. This plan worked a little while, when, suddenly, the agent notified her that the bank which held the mortgage was impatient and would foreclose. Before she could do so all her holdings were gobbled up. How ever while the sound had her hope were the ever, while the agent had her money the actress got considerable experience.

Lyman Richardson is very enthusiastic over what he believes to be substantial pros-pects for Omaha's rapid advancement towards commercial and metropolitan supremacy. During the course of a brief conversation last evening he asserted that conversation last evening he asserted that more improvements of a permanent character will be made before next New Years than ever before, It is almost an assured fact that work will be commenced this spring on the new government building, the city hall is going ahead, a million dollar hotel is among the enterprises, I know of several large business blocks in contemplation, the consolidated cable and horse car companies will bond their property for $2,000,000 and spend half of that sum in extensions, the Patrick cable company is preparing to contract several miles of road, J. H. Millard and some of his friends have purchased the meter franchises, and they, too, anticipate extending their lines in all directions. With so much money going into improvements and plenty of work for great numbers of labor-ing men, I can't see why we are not bound to have along stretch of easy times.

John Ryan is a citizen of Hastings. He in-forms the writer that his town has had all it forms the writer that his town has had all it wants of the wild western boom business. Mr. Ryan was quietly enjoying an after-dinner eigar when interrupted with a question as to what preparations Hastings was making for improvements this year said he, "I don't know that we propose to do much of anything. The excitement created there two years ago by a gang of pernicious real estate agents injured us more than can be estate agents injured us more than can be estimated. They created a false impression and the town has not fully recovered from it. Compared in size and importance Hastings is certainly the third town in Nebraska and always will be, but that paper boom hurt her all the same. A great many men were induced there to spend more money than they had in the erection of buildings for which there was no legitimate demand and which are now translated in the proper in the paper in the paper. standing idle. However, business is good, the town continues to grow right along and everybody, including myself, appears to be

A BASE FABRICATION. John B. Sawbill Knocks the Bottom

Out of an Alleged Exposure.

Concerning the report that James W. Savage, the well known jurist, had withdrawn from Custer Post, G. A. R., for the reason that during the Grand Army parade in the fall of 1887 "one John B. Sawhill trailed the national emblem white passing by a portrait of President Cleveland." Mr. Sawhill enters a denial, and when questioned last night said: "I brand the report entire as a falsehood and the author a falsifier. In the first place Judge Savage was not in Omaha on On that day we did not march by posts; we marched by states. During the war I was a member of the Fourth cavalry, West Virginia. On the day of the parade referred to I marched with the West Virginia brigade, and Cartain Lorse West. and Captain James Weir, of Grand Island, was commander of our division. An ex-con-federate soldier marched beside me. When we reached the Paxton, where President Cleveland's portrait, together with Lincoln, frant and others, were displayed, Captain Weir gave a command to salute. I dipped the colors accordingly. That was and is the military form of salutation with the standard colors. The colors never touched the ground, neither did I think of any person being so ignorant as to not understand the form of sa-lute. That is all there is to the report—somebody wrote it who is ignorant of military etiquette. Now as regards the exciting scenes concerning it at the post, I will say that nothing of the kind ever transpired or was ever intimated. Judge Savage never orated on the subject, nor did anybody else, and I demand proof of the assertion to the contrary.

As to the withdrawal of Judge Savage, that is a fact, but he only asked that he be granted an honorable discharge and it was granted. This is not There are numerous cases where withdrawals are granted in the same way. Judge Savage gave no reason for his withdrawal and in fact was never at the post since his return from Europe, and was not very regular in his attendance at any time while he was a member. The whole report I deny in toto and pronounce a series of base fabrications. I am an old soldier; I fought to preserve the government. The war is over and its horrors should be forgotten. But I am patriotic and in this light I respect the executive power of the United States, whether it be in the ranks of the democratic or republican party. Grover Cleveland, while in the executive chair, was our president, and as an American citizen 1 respected him as Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, just the same and with the same loyalty as I do President Harrison. I never ict the colors go down under fire, in days of peace I will be among those who will keep the stars and stripes sus-pended from every mast, and no matter what the political creed of the chief executive may be, I will respect the dignity that high office. In referring to the Cus post alleged wrangle, I will say that last December I was unanimously elected its commander, being voted for alike by the democratic and republican members."
