THE CONDITION OF TRADE.

The Money Market Continues Very Easy.

BORROWERS GET GOOD RATES.

Trust and Investment Companies Find Difficulty in Placing Their Funds-General Business Still Improving.

The Local Outlook. The money market continues very easy, and bankers report an abundance of funds on hand with which to meet all legitimate wants. Trust and investment companies find difficulty in placing their funds and rates and upon a pasis of security entirely satisfactory, the competition in their line being so great as to enable borrowers to obtain terms better than they should have if thoroughly conservative methods prevailed. Exchange is steady at the usual rate of $1 per 1,000 premium. General trade continues to improve, and while the volume of business is not entirely satisfactory, jobbers generally are feeling cheerful, and generally are feeling cheerful, and when they come to compare footings are feeling to admit that the totals to date are 73 equal to, if not in excess of those of 1888, and the indications are plain that the spring business will be much larger than was thought possible six weeks since. Collections are fair, though not so good as they should be, and a great many country traders are be-hind in settlements to date, but there have been fewer failures, and with bright, settled been fewer failures, and with bright, settled weather the outlook in this respect will, it is thought, materially improve. City trade is in pretty good shape all around and an average business is doing.

Prices are, as a rule, steady with an ad-vancing tendency in most lines. Sugars are excited and retiners are limiting their brok-ers' actions and accepting orners only sub-lect to confirmation. Standard grapulated ject to confirmation. Standard granulated is nearly le per pound higher than a week since. Coffees, dried fruits, oils and green sympathy with wheat. Lumber, hardware and building material, as a class, is moving under an active demand. Dry goods are in good demand for all varieties of spring goods and prices are very firm at quotations.

A statement of the money circulation of the United States on the 1st of the present month, issued by the treasury department gives the aggregate as $1,404,200,000, thus showing a contraction of $4,000,000 during the month of February, but an expansion of $33,000,000 as compared with one year ago.

The gold com and bullion in the treasury amounts to $326480,014; silver dollars and amounts to $326480,014; silver dollars an bullion, $268,791,087; legal tenders, $44,436

045; gold certificates in circulation, $128,895, 910; silver certificates in circulation, $247, 866,459; currency certificates, $15,920,000. The Nebraska state farmers' alliance estimates the amount of farm mortgages in the state as $150,000,000, which at 7 per cent drains the state to the extent of $10,500,000 per annum.

According to statistics compiled by the department of agriculture, the number of hogs in the United States in January last was 50, 301,502, against 44,346,525 in the same month last year, and 44,612,836 at a similar time 1887. In the twelve western packing states

-Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Kentucky and Tennessee-thsupply in the month mentioned was 33,946, 858 this year, 26,953,267 in 1888 and 27,316,95 in 1787. Jowa with 6,750,000 leads all her Next to Iowa comes Illinois with 5,275,000, and then Missouri, Ohio and Kansas. Eight of the twelve western packing states re-turn over 2,000,000 hogs, and fifteen states of the union over 1,000,000 each.

It is rumored that the sugar trust is considering the policy of forcing a sharp advance in prices for spot goods until the Spreckels refinery at Philadelphia is opened. The two leading features of the statistical situation are, first, the reduction in the stock of raw sugar in importers' hands, and second, the very slow marketing of Cuban sugar. It is stated that the stocks of raw sugar are fully 35,000 tons less th while the crop of Cuba is fully 100,000 tons less than the previous crop. Moreover, the crop of the British West Indies is considerably short of last year, and no known crop is any larger than last year, excepting that of the Philippine islands, which may show a moderate excess compared with last year. The imports into this country since January 1 from Cuba have only been 40,000 tons, as ngainst 79,038 tons last year. a difference of 39,036 tons. There is a deficiency of about 40,000 tons in the Louisiana crop, and this and the natural increase in the consumption will cause an increased consumption of foreign raw sugar of about 10 per cent.

Coffee is held firmly on account of the bad crop prospect. Present supplies are large, however, the visible supply at the American seaboard and affoat for our shores embrac-ing 479,721 bags of Rio and Santos coffees ing 449,721 bags of the and Santos coffees, against 402,396bags a year ago. There are 390,000 bags at Rio de Janeiro and 252,000 bags at Santos. At Havre the coffee supply reaches 455,000 bags, of which 260,000 bags are Brazilian. The official figures of the movement of the world for eight months movement of the world for eight months ending March 1, 1889, show the total visible supply to 3,250,953 bags, against 3,077,429 bags February 1, 1880, an increase of 173,524 bags. Compared with March 1, 1888, the supply is 300,000 bags more. Compared with March 1, 1887, the supply is now 905,000 bags less. The consumption of the world for eight months to March 1, 1889, was 6,239,814 bags, against 4,005,293 for the same period of 1887-88, and 6,695,812 for the same period of 1886-87.

Dried fruits are doing better and prices are stronger. California fine halved peaches show a decided improvement and are advancing; as they are not so plentiful as was first supposed. Raspberries are in good de mand at firm prices. Blackberries are sell-ing in very large quantities at the prices now offered. Cherries are also improving. Green teas are becoming stronger, as the disposition to pick up the "outside" lots has pretty well reduced the unconcentrated supply and left the principal second-hand ac-cumulations in better form.

OMAHA LIVE STOCK

Cattle.

Saturday, March 16, 1889. The majority of the salesmen were looking for liberal receipts and an easier market and for that very reason some were inclined to think that the market was in reality easier, but upon the whole there was hardly any quotable change, and what cattle changed hands went at about steady prices. About all the cattle offered in the market About all the cattle offered in the market found a buyer before the close, but the demand was not very extensive, and the packers especially did not appear to care for many cattle. The quality of the cattle was very good and there was at least one bunch of better and heavier cattle than has been here before this week, which sold at $1.90. Quite a string of cattle brought $3.50, but the bulk of the sales were at $2.90.63.35. The offerners of butchers' stock $2.90.63.35. The offerings of butchers' stock were light, and there were no very good cows on sale. The trade in feeders was lim-ited mostly to the sale of a few odds and Hogs. The receipts were light and there were not hogs enough in the yards to make very much of a market, but what there were sold at prices which would average a little stronger than the general market yesterday. The sales were nearly all at $4.45, with only one trade at $4.50.

Sheep. The receipts of sheep were liberal, but there were only two double decks which were good enough for the local packers and they sold quickly. The other seven decks were commonish Nebraska natives, with a few lambs. The market was firm and the demand good for anything desirable.

Fairbank's Movements Continue to Be a Mystery.

CORN GOES A LITTLE LOWER.

A Fairly Active Business in Oats-Provisions Continue Quiet-Cattle Slow and Uncertain-Hogs Brisk,

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET. Curcago, March 16 .- [Special Telegram to Tue Hee 1-This was the day wheat should have sold off. The storms which have been breeding for a week or ten days have invariably dissipated into thin air before reaching the winter wheat belt, and the weather is now as balmy and beautiful as it has been at any time yet. The speculative sentiment everywhere is bearish, and the whole world is impatient to sell everything that grows. The bearish influences seem to be culminat ing, and to-day nobody could be found who had any bull news or bull views to communiate. Oh, yes, at the opening somebody said Bradstreet had estimated the world's surplus of wheat at 109,000,000 bushels. That was supposed to be a bullish item. Later when the figures were changed to 190,000,000 bushels the bears were jubilant. Meantime, bushels the bears were jubilant. Meantime, nowever, May wheat had climbed from 9514c to 98c, and July wheat from 8614c to 87%c, and it only worked back 34@34c on the collapse of the last forlorn hope of the built posts. That, too, was thought most singular. It was thought to be especially so in view of the news that was circulated that Fairbank had sold out his wheat. This time there was not the faintest shadow of a doubt about it. The market should have broken all to usees not the faintest shadow of a doubt about it. The market should have broken all to bieces on this news, but it didn't. Hutchinson's buying was quoted as the reason why it didn't break, but Hutch himself was a liberal seller at times. Altogether the situation was badly mixed. The keenest people on the floor are by no means certain that the Fairbank party is out of wheat, that it was trying to get out of wheat, or that it wants to be out of wheat. On the contrary, they have seen a good many little things wants to be out of wheat. On the contrary, they have seen a good many little things which lead them to think that "the deal" is more nearly tied up at this moment than it has been at any time since last fall. This, however, may be mere conjecture on their part and is only printed as part of the floor gossip. After the first advance in May wheat to 98c it declined \(\frac{1}{2} \) can d then spurted up to 98\(\frac{1}{2} \) c. During the last hour the price fluctuated between \(\frac{1}{2} \) (\(\frac{1}{2} \) (\(\frac{1}{2} \) and the close was \(97\) (c. The tone seemed weak and there appeared to be plenty of wheat for sale, but the market was not one to invite reckless shorting. July wheat opened at \(80\) (c) and ranged at \(80\) (d) wheat opened at 86½ and ranged at 86½ 6 87½ c, closing at 86½ 686½ c. The final figures show a 161½ c gain in May and ½ 6½ c gain in July. The speculative transactions were quite up to the recent average. Hutchinson's buying and alleged selling of Fairbank's wheat were the principal features. The receipts of corn were heavier by 61 cars than were anticipated in the estimates made yesterday, and the bright dry weather is daily converting more corn from the lower grade into the contract grade. These were the principal causes of the downward tendency displayed by the market, but the lower outside markets and a rise in ocean freights were also contributory factors to the weakness. The outgoings from the Atlantic ports comparatively light and were securing concessions on prices of the lower grades. lower prices reached in the speculative market were not productive of any activity. The outside orders were few, and the local operators have lost all interest in a market, showing such indifferent pros-pects for any immediate profit, whichever side of it they might take. The opening side of it they might take. The opening transactions showed an easier feeling to prevail and there was not any substantial recovery during the day; 35% was momentarily reached for May, but there was very little sold at that figure. The close was at a recovery of % from the lowest price during the day, and was % cunder the ruling price of Friday.

on Friday. ness in oats to-pay and the feeling was stronger most of the session, but the full advance was not maintained. May opened at about 25%c but with good fair buying and the moderate offerings the price was gradually advanced to 25%c. At this point there was pretty fair seiling. were quiet, with sales of car lots at 24@24%c. In provisions, yesterday's quiet feeling was continued. Cash buyers took hold sparingly and in the line of speculation trading was slow and almost wholly professional. Out-siders of all classes found the market unattractive, and as some weak-kneed holders were inclined to crowd sales, the movement was a little bearish. There was no serious depression, yet in pork the day closed with an average decline of 10c, and in lard and short ribs of 71/4c.

FINANCIAL

NEW YORK, March 16. - [Special Telegram to THE BEE, 1-STOCKS-The stock market to day consisted of a flurry at the start, with prices off 1/4 to 1/4 per cent from last night, a slight rally toward noon and closing above the closing prices of Friday. The cheerfu talk circulated so freely after hours yesterday led many to believe that even if there should be a flurry and a break in prices early to-day, that it would be the end of the pres ent depression. While the stocks generally did not close at the bottom figures, there ap pears to be little to base hopes on for any radical change of sentiment. The sam bearish feeling prevailed with the trade London cabled as reasons for selling specula tive sales on this side, the rate cutting, gold shipments and the feeling in Paris. As af fecting trade, the acceptance of Chairman Walker does not outweigh the fact that rates are again being cut and that roads es sential to the success of the association are not yet included in the agreement. Good authority says the traffic return continues fairly ahead of last year, however, and the rest of the difficulty is the dissatisfaction of the investors with the manner in which the corporations have been managed. The most active stocks during the morning were St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Reading and Burling ton, all of which lost 1/4 to 1/4 per cent early. but gained strength the last hour and closed steady at Friday's figures, except Burlington, which was 1/4 per cent lower. Activity and a slight return of strength after 11 o'clock caused some progress all through the list, with grangers to the front. The total sales for the day were 168,592. WEEKLY BUSINESS REVIEW.

Interest Rates Still Easy Despite Increased Demand.

COLLECTIONS ARE VERY FAIR

A Disposition Shown on the Part of Loaners to Put Their Funds Into Long Investments.

The Business Resume.

CHICAGO, March 9.— Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The chief features of the money market are continued easiness in rates despite an increased demand. The chief borowers are merchants and manufacturers who are preparing for the spring trade. Lumbermen are also asking for more favors than at any time in months, as they are breaking up their logging camps and require considerable money to pay their men and prepare for the season's business that is before them. There is an increasing supply of nearly all descriptions of paper at the banks and on the street, but no trouble is experienced in placing it, owing to the liberal amount of money awaiting profitable investment. Call loans were freely made at 5 per cent and time loans at 6 per cent. The bulk of and time loans at 6 per cent. The bulk of the commercial paper aftout pays 6 per cent the commercial paper afloat pays 6 per cent and some readily commands 7 per cent. A liberal amount of money is being placed on real estate at 5 and 6 per cent. In many instances there is more disposition on the part of loaners to put their funds into long investments at low figures, where a sure return is promised, than to let it out for short terms at a slightly higher rate. Collections are all that can be expected at this season and a fairly healthy condition of affairs exists in nearly all lines of business. The eastern loan market is not particularly The eastern loan market is not particularly active, but a steady feeling exists. The market for New York exchange was rather market for New York exchange was rather dull and unsettled, sales being made at a wide range. Seliers as a rule were not disposed to accept the terms bid by buyers and at times it was difficult to make trades. Transactions were made at 25@60c discount per $1,000 and closed at 50@60c. Foreign exchange met with more demand and during the early part of the week it was easier, rates declining k@k@ke owing to the slightly inthe early part of the week it was easier, rates declining \(\frac{1}{2} \) (a)\(\frac{1}{2} \) owing to the slightly increased offerings of bills drawn mostly against shipments of corn and provisions. Sixty days documentary bills on London sold at \(\frac{1}{2} \) (a)\(\frac{1}{2} \) (a)\(\frac{1}{2} \) and closed at \(\frac{1}{2} \) (a)\(\frac{1}{2} \) (a)\(\frac{1}{2} \). The fairly favorable weather has stimulated the jobbing trade in nearly all branches, especially in the dry goods, clothing, millingry and boot and shoe lines, most of the jobbing houses having about all the orders they can conveniently provide for. Hardware was active. Sugars and the orders they can conveniently provide for. Hardware was active. Sugars and coffees also sold more freely, and a steady feeling prevailed on staples of all descriptions. The New York stock market while exhibiting increased activity was considerably unsettled, the snarp advances being followed by declines that carried the stocks lower than before. St. Paul was the leading feature, and during the latter part of the week prices were irregular. The action of its directors in declaring a dividend of 2 per cent on preferred stock created surprise, as cent on preferred stock created surprise, as an impression existed that it had not been earned. The directors, however, easily overcame the difficulty by changing the year, making it end June 30, instead of December 31, as heretofore. The road earned 3 per cent the first half of 1888, but hardly 1 per cent the last half, and is expected to earn 2 per cent the first half of this year. London was a liberal seller during the pected to earn 2 per cent the first half of this year. London was a liberal seller during the most of the week, but a buyer latter. Stocks that has loaned flat in the road was called in on Thursday, and the pice advanced to 4 premium. This induced free buying, particularly by the shorts, and prices advanced 2½, but the outside figures were not maintained. The news from London and Paris was emphatically bearish. In the copper stocks in Paris the liquidation was heavy and at times the feeling was panicky, at times the feeling was panicky, and a large shrinkage in values re-sulted. Strenuous efforts were made to bolster the market for such shares to allow the insiders to get out, but they were in the main unsuccessful, and sharp depressions ing abroad brought in free selling orders for American securities in New York. These, coupled with a reduction in the price of an-thracite coal, made the bears more courageous, and a free selling of the general list ensued, which established a lower range of prices, with exception of Pullman, which de-clined 8 points, and Oregon Navigation 4% points. The losses did not average over 1 point. The bond market exhibited fair untivity, but no special changes occurred. The aggregate sales on the New York stock exchange for the week were 1,608,000 shares. With the weather rather spring-like, there is noticeably a gradual improvement in all departments of trade. Reports from the interior indicate that the farmers are progressing with their spring work in some sections and making preparations in others. Some produce is being forwarded to the small stations, but the bulk of the grain received at the leading markets is being trans-ferred from the interior elevators. Speculative trading was active in the leading articles, attended with more than the usual fluctuations in prices. In fact it has been a sparring contest between the bull and bear interests, and the result was generally favor-able to the latter in the grain markets and to the former in provisions. The supplies of grain have gradually decreased and there has been no material enlargement in the supplies of provisions. Operators appear to be transferring their contracts ahead some-what, July delivery attracting more atten-tion both in grain and provisions. Advices from the foreigs markets have not been particularly favorable to the long interest of the domestic markets and have to a great extent followed the course of the markets at Chicago. The shipments from here have been moderately large and the rate cutting in freights from the far western cutting in freights from the far western points has enlarged the through movement of grain to the seaboard. The approach of the opening of lake navigation has led to an improved inquiry for vessels, but only a few engagements have been made. Considerable money has been forwarded to the interior, which would indicate an active business during the spring months. The crop prospects are favorable, both at home and abroad, and spring seeding is progressing in the west and southwest. The movement of live stock has been moderately free to all the leading westbeen moderately free to all the leading west-ern markets, especially of cattle and hogs. Packing operations are progressing quite actively, and returns for the west since March I show an increase of 133,000 hogs, compared with the "cturns for the corresponding time in 1888.

Sports in Earn's.

Sporting men, or at least a few of them, are beginning to fight among thems lives on the alleged "faked" bi eyele races that have and were to have taken place at the Coliseum. One of the 'cyclists, named Charles W. Ashinger, commenced suit yesterday in Judge Wade's court to recover $50 from John J. Hardin. Ashinger assorts that he put up the money to do a race with one of the other regulates. The money was put up with Hardin on the condition that each side make the stakes on the same day. The other party falled to come to time, and now Hardin refuses to refund the $50 to Ashinger. The court set the case for hearing on Tuesday mechanics.

L. L. Staub, who was charged with criminal libel, at the instigation of Charles Nor-ling, was dismissed yesterday in Justice Read's court for want of prosecution. Nor-ling claimed, when he made the complaint, that Staub maliciously accused him of inr-
