William Jackson was hauled out of a Pierce street drive yesterday morning by the police. He was on the warpath, and traces of his handiwork were visible on the disfigured faces of several of the female inmates of the den.

Deputy City Clerk Burke is still missing, but a gentleman of this city who is well acquainted with him, stated yesterday that he had seen him recently, and that he is within seventy-five miles of here, in a small town where he is doing clerical work.

A hunting party, consisting of A. W. Weisinger, Dr. George Brown and William Keeline, with their tents, guns and dogs, left for Honey creek yesterday morning to lay in a year's supply of ducks.

There will undoubtedly be much disappointment in store for the Omahans who visit this city to-day, for the purpose of finding prohibition forgetfulness, unless they happen to understand the back door racket, for on this side of the river, as well as in Omaha, the mayor has decreed against white open Sunday boozing.

The original Nashville students are to give one of their charming concerts in the Masonic temple hall on the evening of the 25th. These colored singers have visited Council Bluffs before, and there jubilee songs have awakened here much enthusiasm.

The Burke tract is building up rapidly with nice new residences and is a most desirable place for a home.
