CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, March 21 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- The May wheat shorts were 'milked" to-day. Hutchinson and Fairbank were seen at their best in their famous roles of dairy maids. The labor of milking the bears was to them a pleasure, and it seemed to be attended by no risks. In their hurry to get through the unpleasant performance as quickly as possible, the bears neglected to give expression to their customary notes of sorrow for "poor Fairbank." They even neglected to figure on what his losses ought to be up to date. May wheat closed yesterday afternoon at 96% c. It opened to-day at about 97% @98c. By 11 o'clock, an hour and a half after the opening, the price was about $1. The extreme outside was $1.0014, or 31/c better than yesterday's final quotations. On this bulge, which was a strictly local affair, there was very liberal realizing, and the price worked back to 9814c. The market, however, failed to go to pieces, and there was some recovery from the decline. The other markets and the late futures in this market reflected only in a minor key the strength in Chicago May. To-day's boom may be described truthfully as "shorts" bulge." The bears have been getting very reckless recently, and they "sold themselves in the hole." The concentrated buying by the Fairbank-Hutchinson party has been heavy for several days, and it evidently apsorbed all the wheat for sale. To use a common phrase, "the crowd was baled out." Anything was likely to turn the market up. The publication in the Daily Business of yesterday of a summary of the figures of the London Miller on the question of the sup-plies of wheat for Europe for the remainder of the crop year, and the reproduction in the Tribune this morning of the same conclu-sions, was one of the things that caused the strong opening. The many evidences that have been accumulating of late of the re-newed activity in the consumption and exnewed activity in the consumption and ex-port trade was another factor, and the actual oversold state of the market was still another. The appearance of Lyon and other stalwart buils in the pit bidding for large blocks was the only additional force needed to start the ball rolling, and that was supplied. This in brief explains the origin and cause of to ball rolling, and that was supplied. This in brief explains the origin and cause of today's bulge. Undoubtedly the great amount of long wheat bought at cheaper figures came out on the advance, but the short interest was so large and the change of sentiment so general that the market did not stay down. May worked back to 98½c, but rallied to 99½c, and held steady at about 99c during the last end of the session. Right at the last the market advanced to 99½c and closed there. The trading in May was very heavy, and in July a fair volume of business was done, but the excitement was less. The opening was at 86½c, or ½c better than yesterday. The highest point touched on the first flurry was 87c. The market settled back nearly to 86c, and on the subsequent rallies only advanced to 86½c, closing at 86½c.

The corn market opened firmer, and at a slight advance, partly in sympathy with the strength in the wheat market. There was again some evening up in the matter of some shorts taking profits and longs submitting to moderate losses, but on the whole the volume of business was of a light order and mainly local in character. The closing prices show an improvement of 3/cc over those ruling at the corresponding time yes-

Oats were firmer though rather quiet aside from May, in which there was fair trading. One or two of the prominent operators bought considerable of the month named at 2534@2534c, chiefly to cover shorts, with the receiving houses the principal sellers. There was a moderate call for June around 2534c, with 2534c barely touched, while July was

Receipts and estimates for to-morrow were fair, while nothing of consequence was withdrawn from store and little disposition was shown to purchase No. 2 regular, with prices much the same as recently, around 25% @25% to go to store.

In provisions the business transacted was disappointingly restricted. The opening showed a continuation of yesterday's bull movement, and for pork the prices indicated an advance on the early transactions of 17%c. for lard of 23c and for short ribs of 73c. In the merning trade, in fact, the feeling was decidedly strong, and for a time the outlook promised all that the holders could desire. Before the session had progressed far, however, it became apparent that the buyers had no intention to follow another rise in the market. They limited their demand or withdrew altogether, and when parties anxious to realize offered their property they found it hard to sell. The buyers only purchased when the prices asked by the sellers suited them, and with the excessive offer-ings the prices pursued the only course open for them, and that was to drop to a lower level. During the better portion of the day the tendency was bearish, and from the best quotations established pork sold off 27%c. lard 7%c and short ribs 12%c. The closings. however, were the same as yesterday to 21/4 lower for lard, and only 21/40 off for pork and short ribs.

The receipts were larger than on any other day of the week and some of the buyers were inclined to hold off and wait for lower prices. The demand, however, proved to be pretty good and the market for all desirable cattle was quite active. New York, March 21 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. !- STOCKS-In the stock market this morning, as for several days past, Chicago Gas led the movement and showed a marked strength, advancing rapidly 11/4 per cent to 47%, with Chicago buying. The rest of the activity, what little there was, was confined to the grangers and coalers, and 90 per cent of all the trading was in less than a dozen stocks. First prices were little changed from the close yesterday. The market, though not active, was unsettled. There was a fractional advance in Wheeling and Lake Erie, and a loss of 1/2 per cent in Rock Island. The slight fractional advance early was wiped out by the decline before 11 a. m ... which left everything on the list below the opening figures. On the decline, Rock Island lost % and Atchison %, leading the list downward. The active stocks of the morning were Chicago Gas, Atchison, St. Paul, Burlington, Reading, Lackawanna and Northwestern. Later in the forencon the active list was reduced to Chicago Gas, Burlington and Atchison, when a firmer feeling prevailed and the first named stock touched the highest point of the day, while the others showed but fractional advances. At noon list downward. The active stocks of the the market was dull and prices were barely up to the opening figures, with sales of 96,540 shares. Toward the close in stocks the market was not specially active, but there was generally a firm feeling. Chicago Gas continued to lead the list and reached the high point of 48%, but weakened before the close to 47%, showing a 1% advance for the day. There was more than usual attention given to St. Paul preferred, because of the favorable results expected from the meeting today. This stock was at 100 at the close, an advance of 36 per cent. THE SIOUX RESERVATION.

The Indians Likely to Accept the New

Proposition. CHAMBERLAIN, So. Dak., March 21 .-[Special to THE BEE. |-The Sioux bill, as it passed the late congress and was approved by President Cleveland, is more favorable to the Indians than the bill they refused to accept last year. It gives them $1.25 per acre for 11,000,000 acres, which was the price they asked a year ago, and in addition gives Red Cloud and and his tribe $25,000 to reimburse them for ponies taken away from them by the government troops in 1868. Your cor respondent having interviewed a number of the leading chiefs at the Crow Creek and Lower Brule agencies, finds them all in favor of the bill. The Indians at these agencies were the only ones who accepted the last bill. Reports received here from Standing Rock are to the effect that John Grass, Gall and other chiefs who opposed the last bill so bitterly, were circulating petitions in favor of the bill.

The commission will probably be appointed in a few days, as reports from Washington state that Secretary Noble is in favor of rushing the matter. The commission will be composed of Indian Rights, Indian Defense men and two Dakotians
Hon. John H. King, of this city, and Dr. S.
V. McGillicuddy, of the Hills, are mentioned as probable members of the commission.
