

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

OFFICE, NO 12 PEARL STREET. Delivered by carrier in Any Part of the City a Twenty Cent Per Week.

MINOR MENTION. N. Y. Plumbing Company.

Coal and wood, E. E. Mayne, 619 B'way. The art exhibit will continue during Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Regular convocation of Star chapter, No. 57, R. A. M., this evening at 8 o'clock sharp.

The new running cart for the Rescue racing team is expected to arrive here today.

George W. Fable drove over to Omaha yesterday and had a collision. The buggy was badly smashed, but no one injured.

Rev. Dr. Cooley and J. E. Harkness will address the citizens of Glenwood this evening in the interest of the Chautauqua movement.

Corra Tanner appears at Dohany's to-morrow evening in "Fascination," and Josie Sisson, in "Little Nugget," is booked for April 6.

At the meeting of the Royal Arcanum next Friday evening Fairmount and Fidelity councils will be consolidated, and will thereafter be known as the "Royal Arcanum."

The electric motor company is increasing the size of its car horse to double its present capacity. The addition is made to provide accommodation for the open summer cars that are expected to arrive.

About five acres of the ground surrounding Manawa hotel will today be seeded to lawn grass, and with careful attention will in a short time add much to the appearance of the place.

The jury in the case of Bergman vs. Omaha & St. Louis railway company returned a sealed verdict at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. It will not be opened until this morning, but it is generally understood to be for the defendant.

A party of about thirty Omaha friends surprised the family of Mr. Vien Wolcott, 1004 Fifth avenue, Saturday evening. The visitors brought music and refreshments, and evening was passed very pleasantly in dancing and other social amusements.

The electric light company will start up the new machinery to-night on the arc lights, and to-morrow will be moving the old machinery into the new building. It is expected to complete the change in ten days, in which case the new machinery will be started up by the 12th of the month.

It is stated that the headquarters of Division Superintendent Roscoe, of the Union Pacific, are to be removed to the city on the river. It is understood that he will prefer a request for the change, on the grounds that his work can be best performed at the same place where the train dispatchers are located.

John Smith, J. Wustaff, James Dixon and Peter Johnson were arrested yesterday afternoon for driving a motor car. They were driving about the city shouting and attracting general attention, when Officer Cusack saw them and arrested them.

Harry Winter, of the Ogden, is on the warpath. He is endeavoring to prevent the telephone company from erecting a pole in front of the door of that popular hostelry, but before it could be served the pole was erected. "That pole must come down if I have to chop it down with an ax," says the genial Harry, but he will first try the city council.

The meat market at the corner of Sixteenth and Ninth street was burglarized Saturday night, and a quantity of meat stolen. Yesterday Officer "Thorn" captured the burglar, and the thieves. They are Fred Harter and Clarence Blakeley, a couple of seventeen years. Some hams, pickled pork and beef were found when they had been taken.

Both the prisoners are tough characters and have been in the toils before. They will have a hearing this morning on the charge of burglary.

Western Lumber and Supply Co. Between 18th and 14th streets, and 2d and 3d avenues, telephone No. 241.

E. W. RAYMOND, Manager. For $25.00—The N. Y. Plumbing Co. will put a lead service pipe and hydrant in your yard; also 50 feet extra hose. Call at once at 114 Main street.

The finest line of spring goods to be found in the market is at A. Reiter's, No. 310 Broadway.

Blank books made to order. Can furnish patent binding for parties wishing the same. Call and see samples at room 1, Everett block, 7th and Pearl streets.

MORHOUSE & Co. Done In Remembrance. "This do in remembrance of Me." Luke 22:19, was the text from which Dr. Stephen Phelps preached yesterday morning. The occasion was the quarterly administration of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper and the admission of new members into the Presbyterian church.

The supper as a memorial of Christ's life and death was the subject of a most clear and practical discourse. Why it is called "a supper" was answered in three facts: The original one which Jesus had conceived in his mind, was held at evening; it embraced eating and drinking and it takes the place of the Passover supper.

The importance is seen in the fact that three evangelists give a complete description of it in all its details, and Paul makes special mention of it.

The desire to be remembered is truly human and its expression by Jesus shows His humanity. His remembrance is not only for us but for Him, for He represents us, our griefs and sorrows, in His mediatory position with the Father. In this supper all this is brought vividly to our minds. This keeping of His injunction is to be until He comes—that is, until the close of the Christian dispensation.

This exhibits the sympathy of Jesus and the unity of His church. For two thousand years the greatest and best of all lands have gathered around the sacramental board. All ranks are leveled and into all human hearts comes, by divine gift, the exaltation of grace to a brotherhood with Jesus. It is seemingly a little thing, but Christ lays great stress upon little things.

"Whoever gives to one of these little ones a cup of cold water shall not lose his reward." "I was hungry and ye gave me meat; thirsty and ye gave me drink; naked and ye clothed me," etc. These may seem small things to us, but they are noble acts in the sight of God, and will win us recognition from the Father. Faith is a small thing—a slipper—but by its exercise the wealth of immortality opens the human eyes and comes into human experience. The elements—bread and wine—are simple things, but they memorialize the greatest events in the world's history. Kings have builded vast monuments to perpetuate their names, and deeds, but Jesus' name and acts are engraved in the hearts and lives of men, and in these simple elements of bread and wine they are brought to our perpetual remembrance and loving recognition. Thus it is that a simple thing is a more effective memorial than a more elaborate thing. The little shoes, hidden away in the bureau drawer, with the bit of faded ribbon upon the beaten doll, bring to the mother a more vivid remembrance of her lost darling than does the tall marble shaft in the churchyard.

"Do this," said Jesus, and let no one add to the simplicity of His service. If any one is added to its observance it is made complex and it was not so intended by Christ himself. The breaking of the bread and the pouring of the wine indicate the violence of the Savior's death, and nothing must interfere with our full appreciation of that fact. "Eat ye all;" each one must eat for himself. Individual responsibility is indicated here. The eating together indicates the community of the saints.

At the close of the service fifteen new members were taken into the church. A beautiful song service was rendered by Mesdames Judd and Ward.

ART IN COUNCIL BLUFFS.

A Creditable Showing as the Result of Local Talent.

THE CITY'S PIG IN THE CLOVER.

Who Will Get into Office?—Staking the Thirsty—The Rifle-men—Possible Races.

The Art Loan exhibition which was open for public inspection during the past week under the supervision of Misses Helise and Hatcher was a most successful affair.

The patronage was fairly liberal, but its greatest success was in directions other than its financial results. It has demonstrated that Council Bluffs is possessed of more than the average talent; that it covers a large field in art; that it embraces an unusually large number of persons, and that the artistic instinct is well developed, not only in those who paint but as well in those who love and admire, but have never faced the easel and pallet. In fact, during the past few years there has been an entire revolution in this direction.

The studio and drawing room were more than crowded. The chromo and cheap painting have given place to the best pictures the age has produced. This development has brought out a large number who seek neither praise nor profit from their efforts, but who have, during their leisure hours, produced many bits of great art work.

This culture has received a most decided impetus from the teachers at St. Francis academy, whose efforts have been conscientious and painstaking, as well as being well up in their methods. Some of the best contributions to the present collection are the products of their pupils.

Prominent in the exhibit is the work of Miss Blanche Arkwright, who received good tutorage at the hands of the sisters. She has done several good pieces in oil, but her best work is in black and white. A portrait of herself, crayon, "Study of a Dog," crayon, two studies of roses and magnolias, and "Hush," are among the best things she has produced. She has eleven pieces in this collection. They are all copies.

Miss Belle Hatcher contributes nineteen pieces and all are good. They cover a great variety of subjects and show considerable skill in execution as well as in the subjects covered. A small pastoral piece is one of her most attractive as well as true subjects. A bit of wood, in which a cow in the middle-ground serves as the center from which a wonderful perspective is worked. Its coloring is naturally good. "Still Life," "Over Panel," (both original) are also good. Both are well drawn and naturally colored. "That's the Stuff" serves as a title to an oil. The group includes an old spectated man, seated at a deal table upon which are the bread, mustard and other accouters of a 10 o'clock lunch. A hungry man looks upon a glass of beer and the title is suggested. It is, in some respects, her best piece.

Miss Sophia D. Robe exhibits four pieces from her own brush. A charcoal sketch from life, (original) is a fine piece. Its drawing is particularly excellent. A hungry man looks upon a glass of beer and the title is suggested. It is, in some respects, her best piece.

Water works for quarter beginning April 1 are now due and payable at office of the company, 114 Main and 115 Pearl streets. Five per cent discount on all bills paid previous to April 10. Office open until 9 p. m. on Saturdays. Council Bluffs City Water Works Co.

Sure Shots. J. G. Tipton now wears the badge won by the Council Bluffs rifle club at the interstate match a short time ago with the Omaha club, he having made the best score. It was so voted at a meeting held Saturday night. He presented the club with a silver watch that is to be competed for by the club shots, the winner to hold it until defeated. It has been decided to hold regular shoots on the first and fourth Fridays of each month. A committee was appointed to confer with the Omaha rifle club relative to using jointly, in the summer time, the new grounds of the latter club on this side of the river.

The range of the Bluffs club, Rohrer's park is far better for winter practice, being better protected and warmer, but is too short for long range shooting in the summer. The matter of issuing another challenge to some outside club was discussed, but no definite action taken.

Dr. C. C. Hazen, dentist, Opera house block.

Organist. An efficient organist from the east desires a position as organist in Omaha or Council Bluffs. References: Max Meyer and Charles Baetens, 325 Paxton building, Omaha, or 129 Seventh street, Council Bluffs. Good testimonials shown.

Money loaned on furniture, pianos, diamonds, horses, buggies, etc., of value at low rates of interest. No publicity; fair and honorable dealing. A. A. Clark & Co., office cor. Broadway and Main, over American express.

Headquarters for builders' hardware, Ocell & Bryant, 513 Main street.

Won't Go Dry. "I tell you what's a fact, if I had been selling liquor to day I could have made a barrel of money," said one of the proprietors of a leading cigar store and billiard hall last evening. "It's no exaggeration to say that 150 men from Omaha have come in to get a drink. They come in and say, 'Give us some beer,' but I have to tell them we don't keep it. Then they grow confidential, give me a wink and slip out a quarter, but it's no go, and they have to leave as thirsty as they came. They all seem to have an idea that it can be had any where, but the river for the asking, but though that theory might hold good on week days, it is not so on Sunday. Of course, we all know it is easy enough to get a drink if anybody is 'on,' but a stranger can't invigorate at every street corner. It is surprising, though, how fast they learn the ropes, and have an idea it would make some folks' eyes stick out if they knew how much liquor had been sold in this city to-day. Nevertheless, there are no open saloons in Council Bluffs on Sunday—so the authorities say."

E. H. Sheafe & Co. offer bargains in city property, either improved or unimproved. Easy payments. Good lots on $10 payments.

Notice the beautiful finish given collars, cuffs and shirts by Cascade Laundry company.

Probable Races. At the meeting recently held by the stockholders of Union driving park, it was found that many of the stockholders were opposed to holding a spring running meeting, but it is reported as probable that several of the members will assume the responsibility and give a three or four days' running meeting next month. Some of the stockholders are interested in the tournament and thought they would have their hands full without the running meeting.

Rooms to rent in the Merriam block, S. B. Wadsworth & Co., 256 Main street.
