

WHO POSSESSES THE LAND?

Does the Omaha Colony Hold the Key to Oklahoma?

SOMEONE OPINES THE CONTRARY

Discussions in the Ranks of the Local About-to-be Pilgrims--

Statement of a Dis-gruntled Member.

Worth Investigating.

Conservative members of the organization of Oklahoma boomers in Omaha are, it is said, beginning to realize that the matter is not what it purports to be. From the commencement it was headed by an exclusive clique, and has been kept up solely because the enterprise enlisted support from a class of people not conversant with the situation. The Omaha colony is credited with 300 members on the books, and last night at a meeting of that body a minority of those who joined the organization at the outset, stated that if every name that was given in had been properly registered and the money accounted for, the list would represent at least 1,000 members. But with the 300 the exchequer is in a healthy condition when it is taken into consideration that each individual member pays an initiation fee of $3. According to the records of the secretary $1,000 have been paid in which under the current of the law, the money is to be expended for "incidental expenses, hall rent and salaries of officers." Another noticeable feature of the organization is the fact that prime farmers are among the members.

At a meeting held in college hall last night, young boys, young maidens, married women and men, gathered to hear the speaker pay their initiation fee, enrolled their names on the ledger as members. An individual who is a member of the farmers' organization, conversing with a reporter in the hall at the time, said:

"There, now, look there! Look at that fellow who has just paid his $3! That individual member pays an initiation fee of $3. According to the records of the secretary $1,000 have been paid in which under the current of the law, the money is to be expended for 'incidental expenses, hall rent and salaries of officers.' Another noticeable feature of the organization is the fact that prime farmers are among the members."

"Then the whole of this in a nutshell is that this system of colonization is one devised by the schemers to make money out of the ignorance of the people that patronize it. The filling of an entirely new and undeveloped territory with a concourse of the poorer class of humanity is not only a wrong doing but an outrage that should not be allowed."

The reporter questioned as to the details of the institution and found the above remarks to be but little overdrawn. The "colony," however, will move about April 18 to Oklahoma territory, and will be strong. Further details in connection have not as yet been arranged. Each colonist must bear his or her own expenses. A glance into its "official" circles last night revealed the fact that the secretary was salaried at $50 per month, the president at $75 per month and several other officers were to be paid with their salaries met out under the garb of "incidental expenses."

Sick headache is the bane of many lives; to cure and prevent this annoying complaint use Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Pills; they are agreeable to take and gentle in their action.

The council held a lengthy session last night lasting until 11:30 o'clock. An effort was made to cut out of the appropriation ordinance the pay of the special officers of the police force, which has been the subject of evidence against the violators of the Sunday closing ordinance. The ordinance was passed, however, and the council appointed a committee of five to investigate the charges against the police force and to examine into the general competency of the police officials.

Jennie Jackson, a frail fairy living on Tenth street, grew despondent last night over longing for the lover that never came, and attempted to get even with him by swallowing poison. Prompt medical attention gave her back with the joyous over-joy to shuffle off and she seemed to have changed her mind and was glad to get it.

The Haytien Republic Sold. Boston, April 2.—The closing episode in the record of the steamer Haytien Republic as a trader between Boston and Hayti occurred this morning when the craft that has been the object of so much argument was sold at auction for $41,000. The purchaser, William Lewis, of New Bedford, will fit the Republic out for the Behring Sea and Arctic ocean as a whaling supply steamer. When built she cost $13,000.

A Fatal Family Row. Chicago, April 2.—During a family row which occurred in the town of Lake Charles, Hutchinson, an employe in the stock yards, went to a fight with Patrick Reynolds, his brother-in-law. The latter struck Hutchinson with a water pitcher with such force that the handle was detached. In striking him back with the jagged handle one of the edges severed the jugular vein and Hutchinson fell to the floor and bled to death.

FINANCIAL. NEW YORK, April 2.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Stocks.—The opening of the stock market this morning was quiet and generally higher as compared with last evening's closing prices. Oregon Transcontinental being up 1/2 per cent, while four were lower, and many unchanged. The market was very circumscribed, as usual of late, and Atchison, New England Reading and Lackawanna monopolized the interest in speculation, although Union Pacific, Northwestern, Chicago Gas and Cotton Oil were more largely traded in than the general list. The improvement was carried little further after the morning, but the pressure brought against Atchison, New England and Union Pacific soon carried those shares fractionally below the opening figures and most of the list sympathized to some extent. Lackawanna, however, was particularly strong and quickly advanced 1/2 per cent, as did also San Francisco preferred, while common rose a point. The general list then rallied, while the market became dull and even weak and the shares were brought back to the opening prices. At 11 o'clock the market was dull and steady to firm generally, at about the first figures. There was a more pronounced strong tone in the stock market at 11 o'clock, most conspicuous in Chicago Gas, which rose 1/2 per cent, and Atchison and Missouri Pacific, both of which moved up 1/2 per cent. More animation also marked the dealings on upturn which continued to the end of the hour. Burlington later became prominent for strength, and moved up a point, while the movement extended to the entire list, and at noon the market was fairly active and strong at about the best prices of the morning.
