Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock the funeral of J. H. Cress occurred at Broadway Methodist church, the Rev. D. C. Franklin officiating. Notwithstanding the early hour a large number of friends of the bereaved family gathered to express by their presence their sympathy for the bereaved wife and children. Within a few months a husband and two children have gone out from her by the hand of death. The case is a peculiarly sad one and it appeals strongly for sympathy. The interment was in Fairview cemetery. Mrs. Cress will immediately close her relations in Council Bluffs and go to be friends in Illinois to her friends in Illinois.

Donovan a Winner. The race at the driving park yesterday afternoon between J. C. Reynolds' chestnut filly, Sangaraw, and J. Davis' chestnut gelding, Donovan, was attended by a very good-sized crowd, in fact, it was frequently remarked that nearly as many people turned out to see a single half mile dash as were present last spring at the four days' running meeting given by the association. The affair was a match race for $200 a side, and attracted considerable attention among local horsemen for some time past, as both animals are very speedy, and were fit to run for a man's life. The day was very pleasant, the only disagreeable feature being a lively breeze that blew rather too forcibly from the northwest. The track was in splendid con-dition considering the time of year, and everybody was confident of a good race. They were not disappointed.

It was previously announced that the horses would be sent off at half past 2, but it was a quarter after 3 before the jockeys and starters met at the half mile post for their starters met at the half mile post for their preliminary skirmish.

Enoch Turner came up from Maryville, Mo., yesterday noon for the express purpose of riding Donoyan, and Lon Johnson backed the mare. J. T. Stewart, Colonel W. F. Sapp and Charles Gregory occupied places in the judges' stand, Theodore Bray and Henry Meyers officiated as starters, and Charles Stewart and Thomas. Howman pre-Charles Stewart and Thomas Bowman pre-sided over the stop watches. Both horses showed up well as they were given a little warming up, the mare being especially keep and showing a world of speed. They were sent off to a spiendid start on the second trial, with Sangaraw at the pole, but Donovan slipped as he got the word, and Turuer came within an ace of going over his head. He re-covered quickly, however, and was soon busily at work to make up nearly a length of lost ground. The pace was set very fast from the start, and the first quarter was traversed in 24 3-5 seconds. As they swung into the stretch Johnson foolishly let go of the mare's head, and she began to "wabble."

Donovan crept up, but the mare swerved over in front of him, and he then tried to pass on the inside. Johnson began to drive, but Turner was riding for blood, and the boy's efforts availed nothing. The horse came along straight and swift as a bullet, and went under the wire a half length winner without a stroke of the whip. It was an exhibition of the fleest riding seen on this exhibition of the finest riding seen on this track in many a day, and Turner sustained his reputation as a successful jocrey. The time was 50 1-5 seconds. The spectators were satisfied, especially those who placed their cash in the property of the potential was seen to have a second seen as the second right place. The betting was not heavy, as odds of $8 to $6 on Donovan found few takers. It was remarked that with a different rider on Sangaraw the result might have been dif-ferent, but it was one of the chances that are inevitably found on the race track, and the loser could only smile grimly and hope for better results next time.

The District Court.

The attachment cases against E. L. Yoder, of Minden, occupied Judge Deemer's attention in the district court yesterday forenoon. Fremont Benjamin, esq., appeared for the defense, and Sapp & Pusy for the creditors. During the afternoon the matter was resumed, and Mr. Benjamin tried to push them through in the absence of opposing counsel, but the court would not have it, and the cases will come up again this morning.

The grand jury was empannelled at 2 o'clock, and set to work. Several of the regular panel were excused, and I. N. Boren, of Crescent, was sworn in to make up the required number. The other six members are J. P. Allensworth, Silver Creek; William Bunch, Rockford; F. W. Edwards, Lewis; James Osborne, Hazel Dell; O. W. Pierce, Washington, and Edward Walsh,

Five prisoners confined in the county jail were then brought into court and attorneys assigned to their defense.

Uncle Sam's Justice.

The last batch of indictments returned by the federal grand jury before their adjournment was filed in the United States court yesterday morning. There were five of them, and three of the indicted parties are under arrest. They are Haner, Hawkins and Sweet, the men arrested some time since for counterfeiting. They were ar raigned immediately, pleaded not guilty, and were remanded to jail. They will be brought up again this morning, when they will probably withdraw the former plea and plead milty. Otherwise arrangements will be nade to continue their cases until next term. J. H. Davis pleaded to sending obscene literature through the mails, and was sen tenced to five days in the Polk county jail He has already been in jail three months in Marian county applications and the months in Marian county awaiting trial.

M. Lucas pleaded guilty to a similar offense, and was fined $10 and costs.

Mrs. Dorris Meyer, of Denison, pleaded guilty to wilfully omitting to post her special postage stamp in a conspicuous place, and Attacking an Attorney. Mr. Cornish, of the Omaha firm of Bartlett & Cornish, attorneys, appeared before Judge Love, in the feneral court yesterday morning, and petitioned for the disbarment of Colonel D. B. Dailey, ex-county prosecuting attorney, and a highly respected resident of this city. Mr. Cornish appeared for Mrs. Eliza D. Slack, and represented that Colonel Dailey, as attorney for Mrs. Slack on a former occasion, had withheld $400 that he had collected for his client and illegally converted to his own use. This was the ground alleged for the desired disbarment. The matter was an intense surprise to every spectator in the court room, as well as for the members of the bar.

"If the court please," continued Mr. Cornish, "I should like to have the matter disposed of by the 1st of May, as I wish to leave then on a European trip." Notwithstanding an experience of thirty years on the federal bench, Judge Love was staggered by the request for such speedy action, and for some time stared blankly over his spectacles at the motionless figure before

"It seems to me." said the court, "that a charge of this magnitude must be of considerable importance, at least to the defendant, and one that must not be recklessly has-tened. The case must go over until next term. In the meantime the defendant is or-dered to appear and show cause, and file his

The Omaha disciple of Coke and Blackstone looked in dumb surprise at a judge who would not disbar an attorney without a hear-ing in order to accommodate a man with little ing in order to accommodate a man with little leisure time who wanted to take a trip across the mighty deep. He shouldered his grief as best he could and closed up his business as quickly as possible. Colonel Dally piaced the matter in the hands of Messrs. Sapp & Pusey, and his answer was filed in a short time. It was not very lengthy, and placed a very different coloring on the matter. It contained a full recital of the facts leading to the present proceeding, and is herewith the present proceeding, and is herewith

THE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

It Takes Up the Case of the Grand Trunk Railroad.

WASHINGTON, April 4 .- The inter-state

ommerce commission to-day began its hearing in the case of the Grand Trunk railway company, of Canada, upon the charge con tained in the order of the commission issued

March 26 last, of violating the inter-state commerce law by granting rebates on traffic taken from points in the United States to points in Canada, and by charging less than their published rates on such shipments. Otto Kirschner appeared as counsel for the Grand Trunk company. The information, upon which the citation was issued, was at least in part furnished by the Michigan Centrai railroad, which was represented by Ashley Pond as Counsel, and Mr. Ledgard as its president.

In opening the case, Pond said it was freely admitted that the Grand Trunk company has charged to large shippers of coal and coke from Buffalo and Black Rock a rate considerably less than the published fate, which he held to be a direct violation of the inter-state commerce law. Pischer on he which he held to be a direct violation of the inter-state commerce law. Rischner, on behalf of his company, denied that any rebates had been allowed shippers on business originating in the United States. Special rates, however, had been made with receivers of coal in Canada, which were in some cases less than the requirer tariff rates.

in the contracts made with shippers. Kirsch-ner contended that this traffic, from points in the United States to points in Canada, did not come within the control or jurisdiction of the inter-state commerce commission. The amended inter-state commerce act says that the provisions of the act shall apply "to any common carrier engaged in transportation any common carrier engaged in transportation from any place in the United States to an adjacent foreign country," and he contended that the proper interpretation of the mean-ing of the words would be to the border of an adjacent foreign country, and not "into" that foreign country. Kirschner insisted that it was not within the jurisdiction of congress to regulate commerce into another country. It might be very proper, he thought, to regulate traffic from a point in the United States through a foreign country to another point in the United States, or from one state to another, but not into a foreign country.

He asked ten days to file a printed brief, which was granted.

Anarchistic Fire Bugs.

JERSEY CITY, N. J. April 4 .- The leader of the gang of fire bugs who have been fleecing insurance companys was arrested in this city yesterday. The prisoner, B. Beume, was taken to Brooklyn, where three others of the gang are in custody. The method of the gang was to rent stores, put in a stock, and obtain heavy insurance on the stock and fixtures. When preparations were made for an incendury blaze a lamp would be broken, Near it were placed bladders filled with ben-which a fuse was attached. The gang is charged with having started two fires in Brooklyn, and it is believed that they have been operating in Jersey City. The men are anarchists and belong to a Chicago band.

PITTSBURG, April 4 .- Edward Deitz, a aborer who resided with his wife and family in this city, killed one of his children this morning, a girl three years old, by cutting her throat with a razor, and then ended his own life in a like manner. The deed was the outcome of a quarrel between Deitz and his wife, which started last night,

The cause of the tragedy was the refusal of Mrs. Deitz to send for the eldest daughter, Lena, who was living out as a domestic, to come home. Deitz wanted his wife to live out and the daughter to take her place. After driving Mrs. Deitz and all the children but the baby from the house, Deitz sent a mes-sage to Lena that if she was not at home in an hour he would kill every one in the family. She did not obey him, and the re-fusal of the others to return probably alone provented the monster from putting his threat into execution.

Slack in said action and to others at her request and direction by D. B. Dailey were fairly and reasonably worth the sum of $750, which had not been paid prior to the receipt of the money in controversy in this action, and that the same has not been paid or settled for by defendants with D. WASHINGTON, April 4 .- Assistant Secretary Busey has rendered a decision on the application of John P. Davis for a dependent father's pension on account of the death of his son, Samuel, formerly of the Tenth Ohio volunteers. In 1863 the soldier was a regimental hospital nurse at Crab Orchard, Ky. One night, feeling ill, he took a swallow of tincture of aconite, mistaking it for brandy. He nearly died at the time and never afterward recovered. He died from disease of the lungs and all the vital organs, produced by the poison. A former decision, which held that the soldier's death was not a result of any disability incurred in the line of duty, but the result of his own discretion, is reversed, and the application allowed.
