Colonel M. S. Hall is one of the early constructors of the Union Pacific railway, and at this time a prominent contractor and member of the Van Dyke coal company, has returned from Eldora Springs, Mo. Through the efficacy of the iron waters of these springs the colonel has fully recovered from an attack of rheumatism.

Another Bridge. There are rumors to the effect that at the next congress Senator Washburn will introduce a bill for another bridge over the Missouri river at this point, in favor of the Wisconsin & Southwestern line, which is now heading toward this city.

Little Sins. The mittimus has been issued for the arrest of H. H. Wandell, who was fined for obtaining money under false pretenses and has failed to pay the fine in the prescribed time.

James Mojca and Maria Wlosow were tried by jury yesterday on the charge of selling liquor on Sunday.

Paulistic Penitence. Charles Donnelly, better known as "Silvers," and who has been arraigned scores of times for various offenses, took a notion to Wednesday to beat one F. E. Allen. He accomplished his object, but by the time he had spoiled Allen's good luck he had fallen into the hands of a policeman. The judge fined him $17.50.

Done by a Bluff. The Pacific publishing company of Kansas City sent Herman Schultz here as their agent for pictures and German books. He had a large quantity of the articles with him, but his services being unsatisfactory a writ of replevin was issued to recover these goods and the money collected. He refused to give them at the time, but Clark took them from him into it by threats of incarceration in the city jail.

Omaha at Paris. The Omaha board of trade has taken up the matter of making an exhibit of Nebraska corn at the Paris exposition, and will probably succeed in accomplishing the desired object.

C. F. Murphy, general manager of the American Indian corn exhibit, at the exposition, was in the city Wednesday and laid the matter before the board of trade.

It is the intention to make the exhibit an extensive one—one that will be creditable to the state.

Family Rows. Judge Berka's alabaster face is being taken up these days principally in listening to petty family quarrels. On Wednesday Clo Wright was fined $5 and costs for abusing John Shower. Yesterday Shower was arrested and contributed $5 to the city coffers for having abused Wright.

It is trying on the constitution, but Judge Berka thinks he can stand it as long as the boys manage to pay their fines.

Army Examinations. An examination opened at the army headquarters yesterday for the purpose of examining such meritorious non-commissioned officers as may be recommended for promotion.

The following is the detail for the board of examiners: Major Edmund Butler, Second Infantry; Major Daniel W. Benham, Seventh Infantry; Captain William H. Clapp, Sixteenth Infantry; Captain Cyrus S. Roberts, Seventeenth Infantry; Captain Frederick H. E. Ebsen, Twenty-third Infantry.

First Lieutenant James B. Jackson, Seventh Infantry, is detailed as recorder for the board.

Public Works. The board of public works yesterday addressed a letter to the Omaha Horse Railway company and its legal successor, the Omaha Street Railway company, instructing it to replace the pavement torn up by the company without a permit, on Tenth street near Mason, on Sixth near Tenth, on Sixteenth near Tenth and on Sixteenth near First, and to take up a detached piece of track placed by the company on the intersection of Twentieth and Tenth.

Chairman Balcombe states that any further violation of the rules regulating the taking out of permits will be punished as a misdemeanor.

Prof. Wm. R. Thompson, M. D., of the University of the City of New York says that more adults are carried off in this country, by chronic kidney disease than by any other one malady, except consumption, and yet many people look upon a slight kidney difficulty as of little consequence.

Others take Warner's Safe Care and remove any possible danger. When kidney disease becomes chronic, or Bright's disease, it becomes a very serious matter.

ANOTHER BLUFFS MOTOR.

The Omaha Street Railway Company and the Union Pacific Bridge.

There is a project on foot which is calculated to still further increase the competition and rivalry which of late days has been engendered between the Omaha and Council Bluffs Motor and Bridge company on the one hand and the Omaha Street Railway company on the other. It is nothing more or less than the utilization of the wagon roads on the new city and Pacific bridge for motor tracks and running another motor to Council Bluffs by the Omaha Street railway company. The project would have a very serious effect on the Omaha Street railway company. The project would have a very serious effect on the Omaha Street railway company.

Wednesday Mr. Braslin, representative of the Manawa line in the Bluffs, with Frank Murphy, W. V. Morse and several others called on Mr. E. L. Kimball, the Union Pacific headquarters, and submitted the proposition to him, and formally made application for the franchise to build the tracks across the bridge. They guaranteed to extend there line to the western approach, across the structure and continue to connect with the Manawa motor along the new right of way to that lake. The proposition seemed to strike Mr. Kimball satisfactorily, but of course he could not grant the franchise until after the motor had been destroyed by the Douglas street motor, it is considered, will have a favorable effect upon the Omaha Street railway company in granting the franchise to build the motor line to the west.

The fact is the other that the wagon traffic on the new Union Pacific bridge has been practically destroyed, and that the motor line would in no manner interfere with what remains even if the company should see fit to hold the driveway open for its continuance.

The application referred to was acknowledged by one of the gentlemen present, who said that, if it were granted, the Omaha Street railway company would build to the Broadway depot and that he had no doubt that right of way could be secured on the east side of the bridge, and crossing the tracks the same informant said that they could be satisfactorily overcome for the present but there was no denying it that three weeks ago before long a victim on Tenth street, over which the motor could pass.

There is some danger, however, that this scheme may be opposed by influential members of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Bridge company who are also directors of the Union Pacific. Whether the latter would allow its interests to be jeopardized by a feeling of friendliness to the support of its stockholders, is to be determined.

If the plan should be determined upon, the result would be increased patronage of the Omaha Street railway company, and it could be made, by means of the Omaha company's lines in the city, to pass through the business district of Omaha.

How to Overcome the Dangers of Exposure.

Francis O'Reilly, the well-known livery man of No. 18, Prince street, New York, says of ALLOCK'S PAIN EXPELLERS: For the last forty-two years I have been engaged in the livery and hack business. I am greatly aided by my four boys. We are much exposed to the weather, and we have found ALLOCK'S PLASTERS of very great service. We use them as chest protectors, placing one on the chest and one on the pit of the stomach. They not only ward off the cold, but act as a tonic.

We are frequently affected with rheumatism, kinks in the back, and pains in the side; but one or two of ALLOCK'S PLASTERS quickly cure us. My wife and daughter have been using ALLOCK'S PLASTERS for weak back and think the world of them. I have now been using them for twenty years, and always have a box in the house."

Has He a Double?

C. W. Hamilton, of the United States National bank, has cause to remember D. H. Dorsett, of Chicago, conduit fame.

Speaking of him yesterday, Mr. Hamilton said that a few years ago Dorsett was in the livery and hack business in Chicago, and during his residence here he and Mr. Hamilton had some financial dealings which the latter has cause to regret.

"I do not care," said he, "to say much about Dorsett at present, as I do not think the proper time has arrived, but I will say something to say when the time does come."

Phi McShane also knew Dorsett. "I remember him," said he, "as a remarkably shrewd man. I have heard that he once did up Hamilton of the United States National, but I know nothing of the affair personally. I never had any dealings with him, but it will be remembered that Dorsett testified under oath in the councilman investigation, that he had never been in Omaha before."

The Stomach Distills Acids.

These, if existent in a natural quantity, and under the influence of the stomach, aid in the functions of digestion and assimilation. But the artificial acid resulting from the inability of the stomach to convert food received by it into sustenance, is the producer of indigestion and heartburn, which are the most harassing symptoms of dyspepsia. The best curative remedy is Chamberlain's Stomach and Bowel Remedy. It is more effective than carbonate of ammonia, or other alkaline salts. These invariably weaken the stomach without producing permanent benefit. No man is chronically dyspeptic, and consequently nervous, can be in possession of the full measure of vigor allowed by nature. Therefore, invigorate the system, and by so doing protect it from malaria, rheumatism and other serious maladies.

The Little Boy's Story.

C. J. Phillips, who had given into his care a little boy named John Ford to bring up, got tired of the job and decided to have him sent to the reform school. He caused the arrest of the lad on the charge of incorrigibility, and when the little fellow was arraigned, said that Johnny chewed tobacco and threw stones at passers by. Johnny testified that he was neglected by Phillips; that he wanted to go to school and Sunday school, but could not because he did not have clothes fit to wear, and also described how Phillips and his wife had mistreated him. After hearing the testimony Judge Berka released the little prisoner and informed Phillips that if he did not take better care of the boy he would be prosecuted himself.

Our Secret.—There's no secret.

An honest medicine doing all that is claimed for it, will win its way to popular favor. Paine's Celery Compound has won such favor.

Made from the most carefully selected celery, hops, buchu, sarsaparilla, dandelion, pipsissewa, and other medicinal herbs, it cannot harm a child.

The formula from which it is prepared was originated by the late Dr. Phelps, of Dartmouth Medical College, a physician of the widest experience. It is a scientific medicine.

We claim nothing for it that it will not do. Every user becomes a friend, and recommends it to his neighbors.

It is just the medicine you and everybody else need for spring. It will purify your blood, give a clear complexion; it will strengthen your nerves, impart life and vigor; it will regulate the kidneys and bowels, cleanse the system of all impurities; it is the medicine of today, meeting the want of everybody during the spring months.

An Imperative Necessity.

What pure air is to an unhealthy locality, what spring cleaning is to the neat housekeeper, so is Hood's Sarsaparilla to everybody, at this season. The body needs to be thoroughly renovated, the blood purified and vitalized, the germs of disease destroyed. Scrofula, salt rheum, and all other blood disorders are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the most popular and successful spring medicine.

The Sixth Ward Flizze.

C. R. Kelsay, secretary of the Sixth Ward Republican club, said that the meeting held last Monday night in which Birkhauser, Gue and Coryell undertook to denounce Mr. E. Rosewater and the Omaha Bee, was not a meeting of that organization at all and that neither the president nor the secretary was present or knew anything about it at the time.

John T. Dillon says he wishes it understood that he did not write the resolutions passed or was he the father of it, but simply read it as an accommodation to Gue, who claims he could not grant the franchise until after the motor had been destroyed by the Douglas street motor, it is considered, will have a favorable effect upon the Omaha Street railway company in granting the franchise to build the motor line to the west.

The Colony Incorporated.

The Omaha colony of Oklahoma boomers yesterday filed articles of incorporation with the county clerk. The capital stock is placed at $25,000, divided into 2,500 shares of $10 each. The names of the incorporators are: J. W. Ewart, Charles Burrell, A. W. Cowlin, H. C. Barnes and Jacob Kad.

J. B. West has been elected president, Thomas Burrell, vice president; J. W. Ewart, secretary, and Joseph Ferguson, treasurer. The colony consists of about four hundred people, will leave Omaha for the new El Dorado on the 15th, by a special train of ten coaches. At the meeting last night Captain Smith was congratulated of all charges.

Going North.

The Omaha street railway company has notified the board of public works that it is extending its line of double track street railway upon Twenty-sixth street northward to the city limits, and applies to the board to issue to it the necessary permits therefor. A permit is also applied for to construct a track upon Twenty-fourth street from Patrick avenue northward.

Twenty-fourth street is the one upon which the street railway will be extended. It is a street which has been closed for a week or two ago, effectually shutting out the motor company with double tracks. Sixteenth street is the one captured by the motor company.

Dizziness, nausea, drowsiness and distress after eating can be cured and prevented by taking Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Pills.

Must Leave the Country.

Frank Edwards and Frank Casey, the thieves who stole five pairs of pants from the Eric Clothing company, were sentenced and respectively to twenty-five and thirty days in the county jail, six on bread and water. One pair of pants was given by them to Charles Wilson to dispose of. He was also given thirty days, but the judge offered to suspend his sentence if he would get out of the city by noon. He agreed to this. He is an old jail-bird, as is also Casey. Edwards is a new offender and his sentence was made lighter accordingly.

Flames on the Sod.

The prairie fires on a small scale in the suburbs of the city have been keeping the firemen pretty busy of late. Yesterday department was called at 9:55 a. m., to Twenty-ninth and Hamilton streets, where the tall grass was found burning, and the flames were in the cotages in that vicinity. After considerable hard fighting the flames were extinguished before any damage was done.

The delicious fragrance, refreshing coolness and soft beauty imparted to the skin by Pozzoni's Powder commends it to all ladies.

Fisticuffs.

Mrs. Doc. Smith and Grant Kaensman, neighbors, got into a quarrel and had a fierce fight. A number of telling blows were given on each side. Mrs. Smith being somewhat larger and more muscular than her male adversary. The fight proved a draw, and the indignant neighbors who witnessed the affair swore out a warrant for the arrest of the two.

I cheerfully recommend Red Clover Tonic to those suffering from troubles of the stomach and liver.

Simon Fisher, the well-known and popular cashier of Max Meyer & Co., is to be married on next Wednesday, to Miss Adelle Blum, of Iowa City. Miss Blum is the daughter of a wealthy banker at that place.

Coming Nuptials.

The marriage will be attended by a large number of friends, and the bride will travel in a special car to and from the scene of Mr. Fisher's conquest.
