THE SPECULATIVE MARKETS.

Outside Business Decidedly On the Increase.

ANOTHER DECLINE IN CORN.

In Provisions the Bears Appear to Rule—Cattle Receipts Continue Heavy—Hogs Slow and Lower.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKETS.

CHICAGO, April 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The wheat market was quite weak and flabby at times to-day, but the average of the prices was lighter than yesterday's closing range, notably for the near by futures. The close was soft, however, at the inside prices. Two great factors to-day were the dry weather on one side, and the expectation of a bearish government crop report on the other. This report was not due until 3 o'clock this afternoon, but the majority of the local operators, under the leadership of Ream, sold wheat as though morally certain that the agricultural department was going to forecast an overwhelming crop this year. July wheat opened here at 83¾c. The market advanced to 84c, reacted ¼c, advanced with only a fractional set back to 84¾c, worked back to 84¼c, recovered to 84⅝@84¾c, and then shortly after noon sold off easily to 83¾c. The latter end of the session was not marked by especially exciting incidents, except that the weakness was emphasized to a considerable degree. The close was at 83¾c. After the break to 83¾c there occurred a rally to 84⅛c, but the market again yielded, and the price went to 83¾c. The volume of trade was large and on the whole satisfactory. The market is getting quite attractive on account of its freedom from manipulators' influences and outside business is decidedly on the increase. May and June were fairly active in a narrow way. As on yesterday the two months kept close together. May opened at 86⅛c, sold off ⅛c and advanced to 88¼c. The range for June was 86@88¾c. The close was 87c for May and 86¾c for June. New York was relatively stronger than Chicago. No new export business of importance was reported, but the prevailing belief is that the foreigners are buying wheat at the seaboard on soft spots. The markets there are now clearly down to a shipping basis, and if the foreigners have any use for wheat at all they will "nip it up." The dry weather is again becoming sufficiently general to be a source of apprehension. This is especially the case in the northwest. The recent rains in that section were mere sprinkles, and complaints are once more coming in from the winter wheat points. The long interest in this market for northwestern account is believed to be very heavy, and so long as the local weather features up there continue so very bullish there is little likelihood of the property coming out. The northwestern long interest, therefore, becomes a possible factor of great strength or great weakness, depending on the weather for the next few days or weeks.

The corn market opened active and weak and a further break in the price has to be recorded. The holders of May contracts are apparently unwilling to await the delivery of corn, and the free offerings from day to day have weakened their hands. The export demand shows no sign of diminishing, and there is no increase of receipts in this or the other markets to account in full for the increasing weakness prevailing here. The estimated receipts for to-day were 234 cars and the actual receipts were 245 cars, and for to-morrow they were estimated at 305 cars. When May corn first touched 34¾c there was a good demand, which caused a reaction to 34¾c and 35c, but free selling again caused a weakness, and the next dip was to 34⅝c. The decline in each case was stubbornly contested, but the bears were in the majority, a.... at every 1-16c decline some holdings were thrown over. The offerings were kept up on the same scale to the close, which was weak at the bottom prices of the day. The result is a decline since the close of the preceding day of ⅜c in May and ¼c each in June and July.

Oats were active and strong early, with quietude later, and a large part of the improvement was lost. The trading was centered in May, which advanced ¼@⅜c under good buying led by one or two prominent shorts reaching 26c. With these orders filled the market soon receded to nearly the inside point, with June and July in fair favor and relatively steadier. The receipts exceeded the expectations by fully 20 cars, while on the other hand, the withdrawals from store were more liberal and included 56,000 bushels. No. 2 oats to go to store sold at 25¼c, and the trading was chiefly by sample.

The bear side appeared to hold the balance of power in provisions. Trading opened with the market reasonably strong, but there was little or no outside demand, and the support it commanded came almost wholly from the shorts, who, for a time, purchased freely. When they stopped buying, however, the bear element met with no opposition in assuming control. Its support being withdrawn, trade was in good shape for a raid, and with a little hammering prices went to pieces. During the last hour or so of 'change decline followed decline, and at about 1 o'clock the day's lowest figures were touched. Based on yesterday's final quotations, the closings showed actual declines of 22½@27½c on pork, 5c on lard and 5@10c on short ribs.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, April 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—CATTLE—The receipts continue heavy and show an increase of 7,000 to 8,000 over the same time last week, but the demand seems equal to the supply. So far to-day buyers were plenty and as ready to make offers as at any time this week. Business ruled steady from the opening to the close, with little or no variation in prices as compared with yesterday. Light handy steers had the call, selling up to as high prices as at any time, in some cases higher than for the past eight or ten months, but these were isolated cases and occurred only when a salesman could get two or three bids on a load. There was a large number of Texans among the arrivals, and they were sold out at satisfactory prices. Cow stock of all descriptions is in good demand, and if bought right in the country ought to make shippers a fair profit. Veal calves are selling at low prices and losing money for shippers. Choice to extra beeves, $4.40@4.70; medium to good steers, 1350 to 1500 lbs, $3.80@4.30; 1200 to 1350 lbs, $3.50@3.90; 950 to 1200 lbs, $3.40@3.75; stockers and feeders, $2.50@3.70; cows, bulls and mixed, $1.75@3.30; bulk, $2.25@2.75; Texas steers, $3.40@4.85.

HOGS—Trade opened rather slow and prices dropped another nickel, making a decline of a good 10c the past two days. The bulk sold at $4.80@4.85 for mixed, closing at $4.75@4.80, with rough lots selling as low as $4.65@4.70. A few fancy heavy sold at $4.90@4.95, the same closing at $4.85@4.90. Light sorts were scarce and sold steady at $4.85@4.90.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, April 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—STOCKS—A good bull day in stocks was looked for to-day and transactions the first hour went far toward gratifying the desire in that direction. The market not only opened very active, but at fractional advances over the close and with strength enough to cause a very fair upward movement. As on the previous days, Atchison was the leading security in interest, and opened up ¼ and then fell back ½ before the end of the hour. The general list opened ⅛ to ¼ per cent better, and while the feeling was strong the fluctuations were narrow and insignificant. Manhattan was the exception and moved up 2 points the first hour. About 11 a. m. the activity was shared by Burlington, St. Paul, Lake Erie & Western preferred, and the advances were ⅝@¾ each. Atchison also regained its loss. After a slight reaction there was another upward movement about 11:30 a. m., which resulted in nothing remarkable except the additional advance in Manhattan, which in all rose 3¾ per cent. The action was within narrow limits until noon, when the best prices of the morning prevailed. The stock market was well sustained to the close. No better prices were reached after 12 o'clock, and after slight declines the list closed showing the following net gains over the close yesterday: Manhattan, 2¾; Louisville & Nashville, 1; Lake Shore and St. Paul, ¾ each; Union Pacific, Atchison, Burlington and Jersey Central, ½ to ¾; Reading, New England and Lackawanna, ⅝ each. It is believed that part of the strength in St. Paul is due to the favorable report on the property expected from the special investigation. There was good London buying also. The total sales for the day were 293,271 shares, including Northwestern 14,300; St. Paul, 47,300; Reading, 35,000; Louisville & Nashville, 19,500.

OMAHA LIVE STOCK.

Cattle.

Wednesday, April 10, 1889.

The market was in a very healthy condition and active at prices not essentially different from yesterday. The cattle were all sold early and the pens cleared before midday. Dressed beef and shipping steers sold at a range of $3.40@3.95, with the bulk at $3.60@3.90. The supply of butchers' stock was not so liberal as yesterday, and the market was strong and active. Everything desirable was picked up early, and no good butchers' stock was allowed to go begging for a buyer. The bulk of the cow stuff was sold at $2.70@3.15. A few light cattle were sold for feeders at strong prices.

Hogs.

The supply was the heaviest in some days, and the market, though more active than yesterday, was rather slow and 5c lower. A sort sold as high as $4.60, and there were a few trades at $4.55, but the great bulk of the sales was at $4.45@4.50.

Sheep.

There was not a load of sheep in the yards and nothing to make a market.
