Early in the session it was decided to have the work on the boiler houses commenced as soon as the contract could be let to responsible con-

Billings' resignation came up for consideration this morning. There was no vigorous sicking against accepting it. In fact the board seemed inclined to agree with the doc-tor that his day of usefulness as the head of the patho-biological laboratory had passed, and that it were better to severe relations abruptly. His resignation was accepted without a single sentimental tear, and on July 1 he will step down and out.

Wiles of a Bullder. Mrs. Catherine McLennan has commenced guit against John E. Douglas. Plaintiff's petition alleges that Mr. Douglas contracted to build a house for her for a stipulated sum; that during the progress of the building the entire price was paid in small amounts at divers times; that plaintiff was then compelled to advance over $1,000 more to escape builder's liens, after which Douglas made out a false bill for ma

Sad Death of mrs. Lawson. Two weeks ago last Tuesday the home of John Lawson, who lives near Riverton, was threatened by an approaching prairie fire. Accompanied by his wife, he went out to fight the fire and protect his property. The excitement of the work so affected Mrs. Lawson's mind that she afterward became insane, and it was finally deemed advisable to bring her to the hospital for the insane and subject her to treatment. Late vesterday afternoon Mr. Lawson arrived in the city with his wife and proceeded direct to the death. DAYLIGHT ROBBERY.

A Bold Case Reported and the Supposed Criminal Under Arrest

The boldest case of robbery that has drawn the attention of the Omaha police from their espionage of saloon men occurred at 4 o'clock yesterday after-William Preston, a well-known engineer, was in Kaufman's peer hail on Douglas street, near Thirteenth, when a smooth-faced, light-fingered gentleman, apparently intoxicated, engaged him in conversation a few minutes, and then left him. John Sidner, a fireman at No. 3 engine house, who was observing Mr. Preston, saw the stranger grab the latter's pocketbook as he started out of the building. He at once gave the alarm, and two police officers started in pursuit. The thief sprang into cab No. 17, which was standing in front of the saloon, and gave the cabma orders to drive rapidly to the Webster street station. Officers Culto the Webster street station. Officers Cul-len and Vaughn gave pursuit and caught len and Vaughn gave pursuit and caught their man at Davenport street, and took him to the police station. He gave his name as Scot Gilham, and claimed to be a printer by trade. He was taken to Chief Seavey's office and searched, and $18 found in his possession. Mr. Preston and two other witnesses positively identified the prisoner as the man who committed the robbery. The amount taken from Mr. Preston was $60. It is supposed that Gilham secreted a part of is supposed that Gilham secreted a part of the money stolen by him before the officers effected his capture. Chief Seavey ordered him locked up under the charge of being a 'suspicious character.'

THE OAKLAHOMA CROWD.

It Meets and Views the Promised Land Through Clouds of Smoke. About two hundred members of the Omaha colony of Oklahoma boomers met at the rooms of the Omaha Business college ast night and watched each other smoke strong pipes until half-past 8 o'clock, when the meeting was catled to order and Joseph Ferguson chosen temporary chairman. Mr. Ferguson gave an opportunity to any person who wished to sign the member ship books of the incorporation. The members kept on smoking.

The secretary read a telegram from Mr.
West, president of the colony, who is now in Washington, answering a number of questions on which the colony desired informa-tion. The telegram announced that home-stead claims cannot be filed by power of at-torney, and that members of the colony would not have any preference over any other individuals in filing claims around the Nebraska colony. The colony's prospects furnished a topic or a purposeless discussion that was continued until the supply of tobacco was ex-nausted, when the meeting adjourned.

The Council Committee Endeavoring to Ascertain the Cause.

The committees appointed, on a resolution of Mr. Kaspar, by the city council, to investigate the charges preferred against Police Officers Shoope, Ellis, Brady and McMahan, assembled with Mayor Broatch and Messrs. Hartman and Glibert, of the fire and police commission, at the mayor's office at 10 o'clock vesterday morning.

The committee consists of Kaspar, chairnan, and Shriver, Davis, Lowry and Chaffee,

The morning was consumed in talking over the relative powers of the city council and the board of fire and police commissioners.

Mayor Broatch held that the council has full and perfect right to enter into any investigation it may deem proper, appertaining to the municipal government; but, when it comes to the trial of a member of either the comes to the trial of a member of either the police or fire department, it has no jurisdiction whatever. "The commission," continued the mayor, "will do just what is right. We do not want an officer on the force who overrides his duties, and, if specific charges are made against all such offenders and presented to us we will rigidly investigate. sented to us, we will rigidly investigate them, and if they are sustained fire the offender without ceremony."

Commissioner Hartman relterated these sentiments, and in conclusion said that neither this committee, nor the council has any right to try these men; they can investi-gate, but not try, and present the result of their work to the commission, who will act in accordance with the evidence. If the council has the right to try and discharge men in these departments, it could try and lischarge every man on the force, from

Chief Seavy down,

Mr. Broatch added that the new city charter confers exclusive jurisdiction upon the board of commissioners' so far as the appointment, discharge, suspension or disci-plining of the police and firemen go, and, in proof of this, sent to the city clerk's office for the certified copy of that document.

This was brought, and, after the particular section referred to had been read and reread, the committee became convinced that they were without jurisdiction in trying these men, but still claimed the right to investigate into their action.

In this the mayor and commission concur red, and the committee then adjourned until 9 o'clock. Mr. Kaspar said that it was not the object of the committee to try and discharge any of these officers, but simply to gain by a thorough investigation, a knowledge of the general workings of the department.

The four officers named are charged with unfairly inducing certain saloon-keepers into committing crime, by going to their places in disguise, and on a plea of sickness in their families, getting them to sell them whisky; also with using a "pull" on several salconkeepers whose place they will pass blindfolded, that is, they couldn't see a man in the place if the barcouldn't see a man in the place if the bar room was crowded. Also for unjust arrests and a general abuse of the duties and powers. In speaking of Officer McMahan, or "Soda Water," as he is dubbed, Councilman Lowry grow very emphatic. He said that on Sunday evening this officer came out near his place, corner of Pacific and Eighth streets, and not only arrested two young boys of his neighbors, one the son of Joseph Kent, upon some trivial complaint, but actu-ally put the lads in irons and took them off to the station in the patrol wagou. The boys were acquitted.

"If that had been my boy," said Mr.
Lowry, "It would have been me or that boy, for I would have killed him before I would have seen the innocent boy dragged off in irons."

Mayor Broatch and Commissioner Hartman thought this was a very aggravated case, and the chief was notified to have Mc-Mahan before the commission next Saturday evening.

Mr. Kaspar said that the witnesses against officers above alluded to had been subpoenced by the committee, but they refused to come, and he supposed they had been fixed. They are to be again summoned before the committee this afternoon, and as the board of commissioners agrees with the committee, insomuch as their powers to investigate go, they will probably be on hand. The functions of the council, Mr. Broatch said, were purely legislative and not executive.

In the afternoon the investigating com-

Elin the afternoon the investigating com-mittee met at 2 o'clock, but again fuled to get down to the business of taking testi-mony. Mr. Chaffee, a member of the com-mittee, is absent from the city, and it was decided to take an adjournment until his re-turn on Monday. Councilman Ford is sec-onding the efforts of the committee, and has appointed himself a committee of one to work up syldence against the members of the police force, who were engaged in making whisky informers out of themselves. He is working on the theory that the saloon men are not breaking the Sunday order very are not breaking the Sunday order very seriously when a policeman has to go disguised as a working man—a very unnatural disguise, too, he thinks, for a policeman to assume—and beg for whisky to save his sick wife's life, in order to catch a saloon man breaking the law. It having been decided that the committee has authority to summon witnesses to appear before it and give evidence in the matters up for investigation, blank subpoenas have been printed for the occasion, and will be served by Sergeant-atarms Butler upon the witnesses desired for the investigation on Monday.

Chief of Police Seavey says he has not been officially notified of the investigation, and does not presume to know what object the committee hopes to attain.

KNAPP'S FALL.

The Soldier Beats the Hundred Mile

Record The 100-mile bicycle race between Wilbur Knapp and Ned Reading, the soldier, attracted a good crowd to the Coliseum yester day afternoon and evening. That the men were very evenly matched there is no question, for Reading was in fine form and plied the pedals like a thoroughbred racer, The two men went at it with a vengeance and kept neck and neck, to use a little turf par lance, for the first fifty miles, which was ridden in 2 hours and 45 minutes. The soldier had a great many staunch followers on hand and every one of his spurts was greeted by tremendous cheering. The Musical Union band, with its spirited music, added much to the enjoyment of the sport. Everything was progressing smoothly until about twenty minutes after 9, when Knapp, who was rid-ing class to Regulng, on turning the northing close to Reading, on turning the north-east curve in the track, went to slow up, but instead took a "header," lighting in the saw dust track and injuring himself quite so-verely. The unfortunate man was knocked insensible, and in this condition was carried from the track. He was fully fifteen min-utes in recovering and attempted to continue, but the task was too much and he gave up. It would have done no good, however, as Reading had gained four miles on him during his absence from the track. Many of those present thought that it would have been im-possible for him to have won under any circumstances, as Reading was reeling off the miles at a rate that justified the belief in his ability to beat Knapp on this occasion, at Reading completed the 100 miles in sfive

Indulgence in Contempt 1s Sometimes a Luxury. A display of temper cost Dr. Kuhlman $10 for contempt in Judge Berka's court yesterday afternoon. The state's case against James Ballance, charged with perjury, was being heard. In the suit of Dr. Kuhlman against the Hanover Fire Insurance company, to recover the insurance or his drug store on Thirteenth street, Ballance swore that he had delivered gasoline to Kuhlman, which was prohibited by the terms of the insurance company. Kuhlman had Ballance arrested on the charge of per-jury, alleging that he (Ballance) had never delivered any gasoline to the drug store at any time. In the trial of the cause before Judge Berka yesterday afternoon Dr. Kuhi-man took occasion to deny something that Fire Chief Galligan had stated as a fact. "Judge," said the chief in an indignant tone, "I don't want to be called a har here in the court room. If he'll come out side—"

"I meant what I said," retorted Kulhman "I meant what I said," retorted Kulhman.
"That will cost you $10," said Judge Berka, "and I mean what I say, and if you indulge in any more such language I will double the fine." The case was not concluded at 5 o'clock, and an adjournment was taken until to-morrow

Mission Work. The Women's Home and Foreign mission ary society were in session all day yesterday at the new Westminster Presbyterian church at Twenty-ninth and Mason streets. The afternoon exercises commenced at 2 o'clock, and were opened by the Half-hour devotion als, led by Mrs. J. R. Wilson. Responses were made by nearly all the delegates. The address of welcome was delivered by Mrs. J. G. Chapman, in which she dwelt strongly on the advantages to be gained by such meeting. The response of Mrs. Van Gaasbuh was very graceful. An interesting paper entitled "Tidings from the Home Field," was read by Mrs. Lett. The secretary's report was very encouraging, showing what had been accomplished during the past year, and the work that yet remained to be done. "First Fruits" was read by Mrs. Creigh, white "Tidings from the Foreign Fields" was the name of the paper read by Mrs. Fleming. Last evening the services consisted of addresses by Dr. Phelps, of Council Bluffs, and the Rev. W. J. Haraha.

The session closes at noon to-day. Gentle Rain. The rainfall Wednesday night, as taken at the United States Signal station, was 48-100 of an inch and extended generally over this County People. Platte county is engaged in the prosecution of a suit which has been undertaken to enable it to repudiate $100,000 of its bonds, and which, if successfully carried out, will have a considerable effect upon a number of people and institutions, among the latter being Creighton college, of this city. This institution invested $37,000 in the bonds in question and its friends are naturally solicitous lest it should be deprived of this valuable portion of its endowment.

CREIGHTON'S ENDOWMENT. Menanced by the Action of Platte

The bonds were issued about ten years ago The bonds were issued about ten years ago and were to be given to the first of two railroad companies which should build a line from Lincoln to Columbus, the latter being the county soat of Platte county. The companies seeking the bonus were the Lincoln & Northwestern and the Blue Valley & Northwestern. The former built the line and the latter has since been incorporated in the B. & M. system in this state. To it the bonds were given and upon them until about a were given and upon them until about a year ago, interest was paid at the rate of 8 per cent. Default on the interest at that time was made at the instance of James E. North, of Columbus, who, in the supreme court of this state en-joined the county commissioners of Platte county from levying a tax for the purpose of paying the accrued interest in the bonds. There was no defense made by the county, and accordingly default was entered. question, however, was one in which the state was interested because it held $35,000 of the bonds in the school fund.
The attorney general, as a consequence took the matter under consideration, and with James M. Woolworth, of this city, as counsel, will appear for the state, the understanding at the same time being that the defense they will make for the state will also hold as the defense of the other holders of the bonds. The parties defendant, to enumerate those to whom reference has already been made, are as follows: State made, are as follows: State of Nebraska, $35,000; Creighton college, Omaha, $37,000; a widow in Lincoln, $12,000; the estate of Mrs. John A. Creighton, $11, it is hoped will take place soon.

The grounds upon which the bonds are repudiated is that the call for the vote of the people for the issuance of the same did not state specifically to which road they were to be state specifically to which road theywere to be sissued, but rather that they were to be given to first of two lines which should be extended to Columbus. Otherwise the bonds were unassallable, having been registered and certified to by the proper state authorities. No question of their validity was ever raised until the objection made by North.

It is understood that many of the residents of Platte county are opposed to repudiating their negless halding that at best there is but the plea and the case stands for trial, which, their pledges, holding that at best there is but a technical objection, which, however vital, would in no way relieve them from the moral obligation they owe to the people whose money aided them in securing a railroad which has been of considerable import-ance to their city and county. If the repudi-ation should be sustained, the effect will be disastrous upon some of the bondholders.
