FORECAST OF THE CENSUS.

Estimated at Sixty-six Millions in 1890.

GENERAL BRISBIN'S FIGURES.

By Careful Research and Comparison He Arrives At the Above Conclusion—Figures Enough to Frighten.

A Scrup On the Census Bureau.

Four Months, Neb., April 15.—(Correspondence of THE BEE.)—What the next census will show is already beginning to agitate the public mind. Many estimates are being made of the population, but they all fall, I think, below the mark.

In 1790 we had only 3,929,214 inhabitants in the whole United States. Curiously enough, the total found in Massachusetts in that year in Massachusetts then in New York state, and nearly as many people lived in Connecticut, Maryland and South Carolina, each, as in either New York state or Pennsylvania, while Virginia had nearly half as many people as she has now.

Not a white soul lived then in Alabama, California, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, Ohio, Oregon, Wisconsin or any of the territories.

From 1790 to 1800 the increase of population in the United States was 30 per cent and in the year 1810 to 1820 it was 38 per cent and a fraction on 5,805,483; from 1820 to 1830, 33 per cent on 7,339,881; from 1830 to 1840, 32 per cent on 9,632,322; from 1840 to 1850, 32 per cent on 12,569,020; from 1850 to 1860, 33 per cent on 17,909,453; from 1860 to 1870, 33 per cent on 23,191,575; from 1870 to 1880, 33 per cent on 31,443,331; from 1880 to 1890, 33 per cent on 41,969,453; from 1890 to 1900, 33 per cent on 55,758,788; or say 1,564,673 souls per year.

The population according to the last census in the United States was 51,158,788. If we have increased we undoubtedly have, at the rate of 33 per cent per annum, then we had in 1881, 61,660,456 inhabitants; in 1882, 64,420,744; in 1883, 67,181,032; in 1884, 69,941,320; in 1885, 72,701,608; in 1886, 75,461,896; in 1887, 78,222,184; in 1888, 80,982,472; in 1889, 83,742,760; in 1890, 86,503,048; in 1891, 89,263,336; in 1892, 92,023,624; in 1893, 94,783,912; in 1894, 97,544,200; in 1895, 100,304,488;
