WANTED TO DIE.

A Council Bluffs Man Saved a Lunatic From a Fatal Leap.

Mr. Edward Cash, who lives in Council Bluffs, but works in this city, tells a strange story of how he saved the life of two fellow-townsmen he helped Monday night to save an attempt to jump from plunging from the Omaha & Council Bluffs bridge into a watery grave.

It was between 11 and 12 o'clock and Mr. Cash was on his way to his home in company with the two men mentioned above. It was a bright moonlight night. As they neared the middle of the bridge they saw a man remove his overcoat and coat, and folding them carefully deposit them on the walk.

Fearing the stranger meditated suicide, they quickened their footsteps, but none too soon because when the man saw them approaching he suddenly leaped upon the railing preparatory to making the fatal plunge. Cash and his friends rushed forward and seized him as he was struggling to get over the rail and pulled him back on the bridge.

He endeavored to break away from them, but they finally managed to overpower him. "Let me go," he pleaded, "I have lived alone in the world."

They refused, however, to comply with his request, and handing him his clothes made him put them on, and the company with him went on alone in the world," he continued, "and have no friends or anybody who cares for me. I might as well die as live."

Mr. Cash took possession of a package of letters and the picture of a young lady the stranger held in his hand, and led him to his home in the Bluffs. On further questioning it was ascertained that the man had come nothing since the day before and Mr. Cash's wife prepared a supper for him. But the stranger did not eat a mouthful. He begged so piteously for Mr. Cash to give back to him the package of letters and picture he had in his hands when he was about to take the fatal plunge, that the memories were returned.

The photograph represented the attractive face of a young lady of probably nineteen years; she was apparently a brunette, with brown eyes and bangs neatly curled. He spoke of her as "Lulu" and said: "They have taken her away from me and I am alone in the world."

Mr. Cash gave the stranger a bed in the second story of his house and wished him a good night's rest. This morning when he awoke he found the stranger in the room and the bed had not been occupied. No trace whatever of the stranger was to be seen, there was nothing to disprove the belief that he was finally successful in taking his life.

Mr. Cash describes him as a small man of probably thirty years of age, with a high forehead. He had blue eyes, a dark mustache and a beard of probably two weeks' growth.

Desires to Bear Testimony. Henry Thorne, traveling secretary of the Y. M. C. A., writes from Exeter Hall, Strand, London, February 2, 1888: "I desire to bear my testimony to the value of ALCOCK'S PAIN EXPELLERS. I have used them for pains in the back and side arising from rheumatic and other causes never without deriving benefit from their application. They are easily applied and very comforting. Those engaged as I am in public work which involves exposure to sudden changes of temperature will do well to keep a supply of ALCOCK'S PAIN EXPELLERS in their portmanteaus."

Specifications. The board of public works resumed the revision of specifications yesterday, after granting to the Omaha Street Railway company permission to extend its line on North Twenty-fourth street from Grant to Miami.

At noon, the board, having completed the revision of all the specifications except for sidewalk contracts, adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning. A review of the work which shows no changes made in the specifications for curbing, sewerage, grading and paving, except that in wood paving two gallons of tar shall be used to one square yard instead of three, as heretofore.

The revision of the specifications for sidewalks will be considered tomorrow. These were talked over in the morning and during the discussion a member asked if the specifications weren't generally disregarded. "I know of our inspectors," said the chairman. "That was when Pat Ford laid a sidewalk of chalk rock."

Why didn't the sidewalk inspector stop him?" was asked. "Well, I don't suppose," said Major Balcomb, "that he felt like telling a city councilman that he couldn't lay his sidewalk as he chose."

In Town and Hamlet. The seeds of impotent and feeble remittent fever, typhoid and bear evil fruit. No community has altogether escaped it. In populous wards of large cities bad sewage and other impurities, and the stagnant water in sunken lots breed it. There is at once a remedy and a means of prevention. Its name is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is, without exception, the most potent association in existence to the malarial virus. Fortified with this incomparable, avian specific, miasmatic influences may be encountered with absolute impunity. Disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, begotten by miasma-tainted water, or any other cause, succumb to the Bitters, and the most obstinate cases of kidney and bladder troubles are surely removable by its use when it is given a persistent trial.

An Undutiful Son. Young McNamara swore out a complaint against his father, claiming that he was a slave, but the latter testified that he shot the son merely to call the police, and this statement being satisfactory to the judge, the complaint against him was dismissed.

The young man claimed that he had received nothing but abuse from his father for some time, and, further, that he had no recollection of any of his misdeeds of Monday night. As young McNamara, however, had fought the officer who arrested him, he was fined $30 and costs. Having no money he will work it out in jail.

Waiting for a Complaint. Officers Ellis and Shoon, who visited Cut-off island on Sunday under the instruction of Chief Seavey, found the following saloon-keepers selling liquor: Leonard Bloedel, Sullivan & O'Brien, Van Orman & Nelson and Captain Kent. The chief says that these cases do not come within the jurisdiction of the police court, but if anybody will file a complaint against these liquor dealers he will furnish sufficient testimony to convict them.

Acain Kidnapped. Five weeks ago H. M. Donald separated from his wife in this city and took with him his young child. He was preparing to depart for some point away before he could escape his wife was on his trail in quest of the child. She followed him to the Burlington depot where she created a panic among the passengers. Donald, unknown to her, quietly hid himself and when the train was about to depart he made his escape. At this point the matter rested until Monday when the wife ascertained where her baby was and after a struggle with her brother-in-law succeeded in securing possession of the child and fleeing to the city.

The Judge and the Commission. Judge Croft feels flattered by the action of the board of trade in favorably considering and recommending him as a successor to Walker on the interstate commission. "But," said his honor, "I don't know whether the position is one which I am capable of filling. I would rather not say anything about it now. My attention was called to the matter this morning by Mr. Marpe and it surprised me very much. Generally speaking, it occurs to me that the office is surrounded with great responsibility. Plenty of hard work, and keeps a man away from his home and family a great deal of the time. The responsibility and hard work, however, would not be distasteful to me. I have noticed that there is a strong movement being made to secure a western man for the vacancy, and I believe that the railroad interests west of the Mississippi river demand a western man; but, personally, I have not given the matter a moment's consideration, and would not like to say what I would do should the appointment be tendered me.

Hon. W. J. Connell, said: "I think the recommendation good one, and I will do all I can assist in getting the appointment for Judge Croft. He is an independent man, a good judge of law, upright and honorable, and believes that the people as well as corporations have some rights."

The resolutions of the Omaha Central Labor Union were adopted and a journey to meet in Knights of Labor hall Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Permanent Cure. I have been a victim for twenty years of contagious blood poison of the worst type. Portions of my body and my arms have been covered with ulcers and sores. In that time I had a great many kinds of treatment. Potash, mercury and sarsaparilla mixtures only made me worse. When I began to take Swift's Specific I was in a terrible condition, but in a month I was completely cured. S. S. S. is the remedy for blood diseases.

JOHN B. WELLS, 31 Washington St., Atlanta, Ga.

Poisoned. My blood was badly poisoned last year, which got my whole system out of order—disensed, and a constant source of suffering; no appetite and no enjoyment of life. I bought a bottle of Swift's Specific and took it, and it brought me right out. No better remedy was ever used for blood diseases than Swift's Specific.

A Twelve-Year-Old Forger. C. J. Phillips was again at the police court yesterday morning endeavoring to have his twelve-year-old protege, Johnny Ford, sent to the reform school. The latest crime alleged against the lad is forgery. He had written an order for $1 on Mr. Fox, the grocer at Sixteenth and Ninth, and signed his father's name to it. The crude manner in which the order was written aroused Mr. Fox's suspicions. Nevertheless, he paid the money. Later Mr. Fox mentioned the matter to Mr. Phillips, and the forgery was revealed. Mr. Phillips has the note in his possession, and will use it in evidence against the young criminal.

Architect Myers. The county commissioners were expecting Architect Myers yesterday. When he comes, they hope to effect a satisfactory settlement of all the difficulties existing between them and him, relative to work on the new county hospital.

Messrs. O'Keefe, Anderson and Turner were at the headquarters in the morning waiting for the gentleman, but up to noon the latter had not put in an appearance.

O'Keefe, on the question of dispensing with Myers's services, said he could not predict what action would be taken. The board has the county attorney's opinion which, in substance, holds that Myers cannot, on the charges preferred against him, be dismissed.

Dundee Place Improvements. The Patrick Land company yesterday awarded a contract to George Canfield & Co. for the removal of about 90,000 yards of earth in Dundee Place for grading the street north of Underwood avenue and east of Wilson street.

Mr. Kurtz, the general manager, said that Canfield & Co. were the lowest responsible bidders, and for that reason he awarded the contract to them.

Special Easter Offerings.

This is the week for Boys Clothing and we propose to make it memorable. You should see our goods before you supply your boys with an Easter outfit. Equally astonishing values will be offered in long pants suits, of which we have an immense assortment. All the approved styles in chevot, plaids, etc., for spring wear. We have long pants suits from $2.50 upward.

All our Boys Clothing is strong, reliable and will give satisfaction—every garment we sell is warranted.

Our Men's Suit stock does not need much advertising this spring. It is well known that we always carry the largest stock. The stores are scarce that can show a line of Spring Suits worthy of comparison with ours. And we want it understood right here that we not only have the largest stock but also that in this stock can be found suits as choice as any house can show them, or as any tailor can produce. We have a line of Dress Suits—Prince Alberts and three button Cutaways— which in quality of material, cut and make are equal to the best custom work. Our fine Silk lined Prince Alberts are marvels of beauty and fit and the only difference between them and those of the fine Merchant tailors is the great difference in the price. We are selling these goods at the same low rate of profit as we sell all our other goods, and whoever buys a Dress Suit with out at least looking at ours, fails to consult his own interest.

Don't forget our new Shoe Department.
