HARMONY WILL PREVAIL.

Indications That There Will be No Strike This Season.

A REVIEW OF THE SITUATION.

The Questions at Issue Between the Master and Journeymen Plumbers—Reduced Labor at the Shops.

Unity Prevails. There is no reason to believe that there will be any serious trouble between workmen and their employers in Omaha this spring. There is a little ill feeling existing between the journeymen and master plumbers, but it is now hoped that anything in the way of a lock-out or a strike will be averted.

It is true that there has been a strike of the journeymen tailors this spring, but that was finally satisfactorily ended, and although in this strike both sides were stubborn and the men remained out five or six weeks, it is the only strike that has been on and only a comparatively few men were affected.

In the railroad circles there seems to be unusual tranquility, except, perhaps, on the Union Pacific, where there is some dissatisfaction among the men. Especially in the shops who are inclined to find fault with the reduction of time and wages which went into effect last Monday. A majority of the men, or a large portion at least, would prefer to work eight hours and receive more pay. There have been some utterances among the younger men over this change, but it is not an unusual thing that results will ensue from this, or that, in fact, there will be any trouble upon any of the roads running into this city.

The bricklayers, carpenters, plasterers and kindred tradesmen seem to be satisfied with existing scales and contractors and builders anticipate no delay in building this year on account of strikes.

An occasional rumble is heard from the Typographical union, but well informed men in the organization say that there will be no trouble this spring.

Said a veteran K. of L. man, a day or two ago, "It is just as natural for workingmen to strike in the spring as it is for the grass to grow, but I think this year will be an exception to the rule, and am willing to wager a new hat that there will be no strike this season."

THE SICKNESS AND DEATH OF HIS BROTHER.

Charles L. Marsh. (Typographical union, No. 190, will consider important business of a social nature at a meeting to be held next Sunday.

The situation among the plumbers is unchanged. The journeymen do not seem to be disposed to take action, neither do the masters' association. The latter await the word of M. A. Free alone to order a lock-out, and a reporter dropped in for his side of the matter.

"Here it is in a nutshell," said he. "The journeymen and master plumbers made certain agreements a year ago, and one of these was that one or the other should be employed to every four journeymen. I intend now to stick this thing out and I will not give up on one side. I have been fined $50 by the union which I shall not pay. I have here in my desk 138 applications from men in the east who are anxious to go to work for me, so that there are no lack of work. I don't want to make trouble or cause a lockout if I can help it, nor will I unless absolutely compelled to protect myself."

The journeymen contended that they are not trying to run the business of their employers, but simply ask for that which is right and equitable. They held a meeting Thursday and Friday nights, but took no definite action.

A Little Strike. The strike among the men employed by waterworks company on the Farnam street trenches, caused a little ripple in labor circles this week. The men's wages were reduced, on Thursday, from $1.75 to $1.50 per day, and as soon as the men were notified of the reduction, 125 of them walked out. The company asserted that it would be able to get other men to work immediately, but failed to do so. The strikers hung about the works, and three men were arrested for joining in a strike on the trenches, but there were no serious outbreaks. The men are still out, and no shovellers have been hired to take their places. They say that they will not return to work for less than $1.75, and the company says it will not pay more than $1.50, and there the matter stands.

Labor Notes. There is plenty of work in Omaha for day laborers.

Everything is again serene among the tailors.

The journeymen plumbers, in anticipation of a strike, have published in eastern papers a statement of the situation here and warned all members of the craft to keep away from Omaha.

There are a great many carpenters in the city who are not satisfied with the course of Union No. 55 and who have taken steps to organize another union. The first meeting was held last Monday night, when preliminary steps were taken towards organization.

THE SOLDIERS' HOME MUDDLE.

Grand Island Citizens Insist on Hammond's Removal.

THE CAUSE OF THEIR ANIMOSITY.

A Probability That the Governor Will Make Another Inquiry into the Affairs of the Institution.

LINCOLN BUREAU OF THE OMAHA BEE, 1029 P STREET, LINCOLN, April 20.

Grand Island is anxious to get rid of Commandant Hammond, of the soldiers' and sailors' home. In fact, the citizens of the place are more anxious for his resignation than the inmates of the charitable institution; and, moreover, they want one of their number appointed in his stead. It is learned that petitions numerously signed have been received by the board of public lands and buildings and by the advisory board of the home, praying that recommendations be passed to the governor asking for his resignation. It is also learned that this will not be done. The governor was present at the recent meeting of the board, and he fully, said a member of the board to-day, "and he certainly can act with wisdom without advice from us. As the papers have stated, there has been some kicking on the retention of Hammond, but he is a pretty good old fellow, cranky, perhaps, and petulant, but whatever he does is done honestly, and I believe with pure motives. Most of the inmates, in fact, look upon him as a very kindly man, and they are not at all dissatisfied with his management of the institution. It is my opinion that the shoe pinches Grand Island because Hammond bids where he can buy the cheapest. He gave the contract for the furniture of the home to a Kearney firm because the same class of furniture could be bought there at a lower price than at Grand Island. Other incidents of this kind could be mentioned. Business men there want to furnish the supplies for the home at their own figures, without competition, because 'the old man' will not testify to their whims he has fallen into bad repute. This is a man who wears an iron effective because five or six old rogues charge abuse, insubordination to act, lack of clothes and other things equally absurd and nonsensical. I don't not that Hammond is something of an old bore. We all know that he is very irritable and manifests too much temper at times. The trouble is, Hammond is not a soldier, but a civilian, and if he is removed it will be because of results of this human frailty. But it won't do to appoint a Grand Island man in his place. Whenever this is done there will be trouble in earnest. In my judgment, if Hammond is to be removed, it should be done by some person with conscience enough to spend the state's money where it will go the farthest."

It is said that Governor Thayer has gone to Grand Island to take another peep into affairs at the home. But this is not certain. He left yesterday ostensibly for Kearney, and it will not be surprising if he answers a summons to the former place before he returns. The board of public lands and buildings is evidently anxious that he shall act in the matter without pressure or restraint.

Poor Unclewized Lincoln. Despite the efforts of Stewart McCongia and W. H. Billingsley, before the city council last night, the ordinance providing for Sunday opening of the Edson Museum, was defeated. The petitions of the church people, the remarks of Father Walsh and Councilmen Pace, Bushnell and Dear did, most excellent service. It had been given out before the meeting of the council that enough votes had been secured to insure the passage of the ordinance law, and the friends of Sackett & Lawler were all hand feeling in jubilant spirits. McCongia addressed the council nearly an hour, and the friends of the museum, the church and churches, and closed his plea in behalf of the Museum, to take the place of the churches, and prayed the passage of the law to show to the world that Lincoln was advanced in civilization and freedom. Billingsley followed. He, too, talked for a half hour or more.

A SUICIDE AT SCRIBNER.

A Despondent Old Man Shoots Himself in the Mouth.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

The Assistant Doorkeeper of the Late Nebraska Senate Missing—Thurston County Democrats Issue a Call.

An Old Man Tired of Life.

PREMONT, Neb., April 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Mr. Blessing, a man between sixty and seventy years of age, committed suicide at Scribner to-day about noon by shooting himself in the mouth with a revolver. He has been despondent for a long time, and he told some friends of his intention to take his own life.

Newport Celebrating.

NEWPORT, Neb., April 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Newport is to-day celebrating her first victorious step toward regaining the seat of Loup county. The supreme court has ordered the canvassing board to assemble and recount all precincts in the county before May 1, 1889, and especially Lay and Gray, which County Clerk Phillips and the canvassing board refused to count. As a consequence to this, Newport will commence a contest suit to see what right Basset had to add fifty votes to their poll books after the polls closed on election night. Criminal arrests will at once be made for what members of the Basset election board bootleggers and repeaters still remain in this country. But many of them during the past month have succeeded in shaking the dust of the village off their feet and have sought new pastures.

Thurston Democrats Stirring.

PENDER, Neb., April 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The democrats of Thurston county, to-day, issued a call for a county convention to be held at this place on Saturday, April 24, at 3 p. m. There are six precincts in the county which are entitled to an aggregate of twenty-six delegates, nine of whom come from Winnebago precinct, the Indian stronghold. The republicans have not called a county convention yet, but will probably not lose much more time in doing so. A lively struggle for supremacy is looked for between the two parties in the new county, with the chance for success pretty evenly divided. It is claimed, however, by the independent electors, that the republicans have the inside track.

A Mysterious Disappearance.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., April 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Mrs. E. L. Gillespie, of Valentine, wife of the assistant doorkeeper of the last senate, was in the city yesterday. She was in search of her husband, who mysteriously disappeared from home a day or two ago. She took with him upon his departure a trunk, in which, among other things, he packed a number of his wife's garments. She is at a loss to understand his actions, and has no idea as to his whereabouts. She thinks perhaps his mind is affected.

The Fremont Postmaster.

FREMONT, Neb., April 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The fight for the Fremont postmaster's office has been going on for some time, and which has recently assumed somewhat complicated conditions, was settled to-day by Congressman Dorsey announcing it as his intention to at once recommend the appointment of H. C. Wolcott, to whom he has practically pledged for several weeks. Wolcott is an old soldier, and this fact has strong weight in his favor.

TRIED TO TAKE A STREET CAR.

Dakota City, Neb., April 20. [Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—A gang of toughs undertook to take possession of the street car at Covington to-day. The driver, as-

ASSAULT WITH INTENT TO KILL.

Dakota City, Neb., April 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—A warrant was sworn out to-day by W. H. Kennedy for the arrest of a young fellow named Johns, charging him with assault with intent to kill. Kennedy is doubtful, as he is an old man, while Johns is a mere lad. He was fined $10 and costs, amounting to $25.

Will Banquet Mr. Egan.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—A committee met to-night to arrange for a reception to be tendered to Patrick Egan before he leaves for his post as minister to Chili. The conclusion was reached as far as possible, a secret, but it was learned that a banquet at the Capital hotel will be part of the festivities.

The Blair Post-office Contest.

BLAIR, Neb., April 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—It is reported on the streets to-day that the applicants for the Blair post-office, George S. Cook and Diana Allberg, are to determine who shall be the successful one by an election. The date is not yet set, but it is to be held in the near future. Only republicans will have a vote.

The Smead System.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., April 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The board of education to-day made a contract for putting into the new $200,000 school house, the Smead system of heating and ventilation and the dry closet system. Work on the building has commenced.

A Watch Stolen.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., April 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—While absent from the house for a few moments to-day, Mrs. Robert Griebel had a valuable gold watch and chain stolen from her house. No clue to the thief.

The New York Fire.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Four fire engines and two fire boats were busy this morning throwing water on the ruins of the warehouses and elevators destroyed in last night's fire. Two thousand barrels of oil are still burning at the Wilcox refinery. The people injured are not called for by the fire department, and no further details are anticipated.

The New York Central's Loss.

The New York Central's loss is footed up by its officials as $4,400,000, but more than half of the burned property was useless to the company and need not be replaced. Another half million and over is covered by insurance, so that the actual net loss of the company, chiefly on freight for which it is responsible, is about $300,000. Depew stated to-day that the total loss to property consumed by fire will not be far from $3,000,000.

Hell Not Come Back.

NEW YORK, April 20.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—William M. Callender, the missing president of Callender Insulating and Water Proofing company, is not expected to return. Mr. Callender is supposed to be in England, of which country he is a native, and the members of the property company say they don't know who is going to pay them their arrears of salaries. The company was incorporated in 1878 under the laws of this state, with a capital stock of $250,000. Its financial affairs now stand: Liabilities, $1,425,000; assets, about $17,000; net liabilities, $1,398,000.

A War Concert.

Taking into consideration the charitable object for which they were given the Drummer boys' concerts, yesterday afternoon and last night at the Grand opera house, were not nearly so well attended as they should have been. Artistically, however, they were quite successful. An excellent program of instrumental and vocal music had been arranged, but two or three of the local singers failed to respond, which meant that they should have been replaced. The major in charge supplied all vacancies and afforded those present a very enjoyable evening. The major is a drummer, and no mistake. "Marching Through Georgia," "The Girl I Left Behind Me," "Army Sick Call" and a "Dixie" were the songs which were sung. He also gave imitations on his drum of a battle, which showed wonderful skill. A quartette of male singers rendered three or four familiar old war songs, and Mrs. Bouscaren sang two or three solos.

Articles of Incorporation.

Articles of incorporation of two publishing companies were filed yesterday with the county clerk. One is the H. C. C. Publishing company, with a capital stock of $3,000. The incorporators are M. H. Kramer, Fred Benzinger and W. A. Chandler. The other is the Omaha Dispatch Publishing company. It is organized for an existing business, with a capital stock of $75,000. The incorporators are J. C. Wilcox, W. W. Lowe, F. O. Orff, Sturges Whitlock and J. O. Fisher.

A Watch Recovered.

Sergeant Cronahy, last night, recovered from Woley's pawnshop, at the corner of eleventh and Farnam, a gold watch, valued at $35, that was sold by Edholm & Aiken, last October, to Mattie Reed, and stolen shortly afterwards by the Reed woman's cook, Mrs. Arrie Fletcher, colored. The thief was arrested, Edholm & Aiken, who sold the watch on the installment plan, offered a reward of $25 for its recovery.

Depots Abandoned.

The army quartermaster's depot at Cheyenne has been abandoned. The ordnance department will also be suspended, and both of the departments will be removed to Omaha. Orders have also been issued for the abandonment of Fort Laramie, which is at present headquarters of the Seventh infantry. Two of the companies have been ordered to Fort DuChesne, and it is probable that the remainder ones will go to Fort Sidney and Fort McKinney.

Urging Groff's Appointment.

The Douglas county bar association held a meeting in the district court yesterday and endorsed Judge L. A. Groff for a position on the inter-state commerce commission. He has been endorsed by the board of trade. The bar passed resolutions eminently befitting Judge Groff, and requesting Senators Maclure and Paddock to urge President Harrison to make the appointment.

Personal Paragraphs.

Fourteen members of the Minneapolis base ball club are at the Barker Hotel, in the city, visiting her daughter, Mrs. P. A. Stevens. T. J. Hill, of Freeport, Ill., is registered at the Barker. Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton left Omaha last evening for New York. Her address will be 15 Broad street, New York, care of Robert L. Stanton, esq. Officer Rowden mourns the loss of a pair of new gloves which some of the street gang over whom he had charge, stole from him. Weekly Bank Statement. New York, April 20.—The weekly bank statement shows the reserve has increased $8,021,000. The banks now hold $13,097,000 in excess of legal requirements.
