That is always the heaviest month in the year, as then the first half of the taxes are due.

Mr. Isaac Piles, formerly of this city, but now a merchant of Yankton, Dak., has purchased the entire stock of boots and shoes of the late J. M. Phillips. He has not yet de-cided whether to remove the stock to Yankton, or to again become a resident of Council Bluffs, but it is expected that he will again go into business here permanently.

The Council Bluffs ball team, of the season of 1888, will visit Plattsmouth, on the 30th inst, to play the team of that city. These clubs played a twelve inning game last sea-son, with a score of 7 to 6. The game will doubtless be very interesting, and arrangements have been made to take those who de-sire to go from this city at $1 for the round

Mr. William L. Dalney and Miss Maggie E. Bolan, both of this city, were married, yesterday morning, at 11 o'clock, in Omaha. The newly wedded couple left over the Northwestern for Chicago, where they will visit for a week, after which they will proceed to Washington, thence to Houston, Tex., where they will make their future home. Both are well-known in this city, and the best wishes of many friends go with them.

Esther May, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clemenson, died yesterday morning. The little one was in her usual piace at Sunday school at the Broad-way M. E. church Sunday afternoon, when she was taken violently ill. She was removed to her home and grew rapidly worse, until death relieved her sufferings twelve hours afterward. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the residence, 228 South First street. Friends invited without further notice.

William Lawrence is in durance vile awaiting a hearing on the charge of larceny. It is said that he is a worthless fellow, and that to his wife it will be an infinite relief if he is sent to jail. It is also alleged that when he can not find anything else to steal, he takes the money she carns by washing and spends it. She says that she can earn a comfortable living if he is only kept away Numerous petit larcenies in the eastern part of the city are laid at his door. He has partially confessed to some of hem, and will be kept out of mischief for a while, at least.

Judge Carson held court in the south room, having exchanged with Judge Macy, who goes to Avoca. Judge Carson will remain here the rest of this week, and open at Avoca a week from to-day. He yesterday issued a decree of divorce in the case of Anna C. Gregory vs Charles Gregory. None of the other cases in the day's arraignment were ready for trial, and no business was were ready for trial, and no business was transacted in the afternoon.

Not Up to the Test.

There is grief in store for a number of Omaha gasoline and kerosene merchants who have been vending their wares in Council Bluffs for some time past. It seems that the official test is about ten degrees higher in Iowa than in Nebraska. The Iowa test is 105 degrees and the Nebraska test is 100 degrees. The other five degrees is made in the difference between the cups used in testing, the Iowa inspectors using the Elliott and the Nebraska inspectors the Foster cup.

The result is that oil is sold in Iowa that will not stand the Iowa test. Said Deputy Inspector Lynchard, yesterday, "These Omaha parties are doubtless doing this in ignorance of the law on the matter and I want to warn them that they must desist. If they do not, I shall have to prosecute them, and the penalty will not be pleasant for them." Hereafter it will be unpleasant for any Omaha firm which tries to dispose of oil in the state without having it inspected here as required by law.

Council Bluff. Appreciates Fine Art. The Chicago Fine Art Portrait company is having its share of patronage among the leading people of this city, and rightly. This company has long been acknowledged as doing the finest erayon work in that city, and that their success in Council Bluffs is assured is beyond question. Visit their gallery at Trouble in the Family.

The domestic troubles of a Gardner town ship family will be aired in Justice Barrett's court next Monday. The outbreak is caused by a rupture between R. C. Harris and William McCampbell. McCampbell states that Harris' wife left him about three weeks, on account of his alleged familiarity with the servant girl. Last Friday evening, as McCampbell was returning home from the city, he met Harris. The latter demanded o know the whereabouts of his wife, and McCampbell said he knew nothing about it. Harris drew a revolver, and, pointing it at "Mac," exclaimed: "D-n you, here is the thing that will make you tell." McCampbell drove on home, and was not further mo-lested. Harris claims that McCampbell as sisted in spiriting away his wife, and that in the encounter Friday evening he became vio-lently demonstrative. These are the stories told by the two men. In the meantime Mrs. Harris is in hiding, and a wrathy husband holds the fort alone.

Changing the Motor Line.

Colonci F. C. Reed, of the Manawa motor line, states that he will shorten his line to the lake this week, by changing its course just after it leaves the city limits. It now turns west from Ninth to Eleventh street, thence south to Ray's landing. It will continue straight south on Ninth street after the change is made, leaving Ray's landing two blocks to the west. This will do away with two curves, and will shorten the road a quarter of a mile. This will lessen the running time very perceptibly, as good speed can be maintained throughout the entire dis-tance. The work will be completed by the end of the week.

St. Bernard's Bazaar.

The bazaar for the benefit of St. Bernard's hospital opened at the Masonic temple last evening. The attendance was fairly good for the opening night. The hall was very attractively decorated, and the numerous booths showed to good advantage. Notice able among the booths were those of the Med ical Staff, Ancient Order of Hibernia ns, In-isfail, St. Francis' and St. Peter's societies. All were tastefully conceived, and filled to repletion with various articles for sale, the useful as well as the ornamental. No special programme was arranged for last evening and the visitors employed their time to good advantage in looking over the large and varied collections. Supper was served in the ante-room, the coffee being prepared by a traveling representative of Woods' Acme coffee house. This evening the special at-traction will be a quadrille party.

H. hall Sunday morning to St. Bridget's Roman Catholic church to hear the venera ble patriarch, the Rev. Futher Arnold Damon, S. J., preach. Division No. 3, A. O. H., is one of the finest orders of which South Omaha can boast.

A RATTLESNAKE INDUSTRY.

Ingenious Method the Yankees Have of Catching Dangerons Reptiles.

They hunt the rattlesnake every sumcountry for his oi is believed to be a cure for deafness. and such is worth $2 an ounce, says an Adams, Mass., correspondent of the New York World. But the Yankee hunter's native ingenuity has hit upon an ingenious method of capturing the festive rattler, which may not be very brave, but is certainly very effective. Choosing a red-hot summer day in the dry season, the rattlesnake hunter saunters forth into the region where the reptiles are known to abound One man carries a fish-pole another a sharp scythe. The fish-pole has a stout wire attached to it, and there is an ordinary pickeral hook on the end of the wire. Moving cautiously through the grass so as not to distur the sleeping snake, who is always found basking in the warm sun near a loose ledge or rock, one of the men prods his snakeship more or less gently with the fish pole, being careful also to hold the hook invitingly near the rattler's head. Like any other sleeper suddenly interrupted, the snake wakes up angry makes a dart at the nearest irritating object, which is the fish hook, and very accommodatingly allows the sharp tines to penetrate his jaws. He may rattle and hiss and wriggle and writhe and shoot out ounces of his deadly poison, but the poison meets but the vacant air. The man with the fish pole holds the en trapped rattlesnake at a safe distance, while his comrade moves up and, with one well-aimed blow of his trusty scythe, severs the snake's head from his body. The body then is de-posited in a bag and the hunters go in search of other game.

The most famous hunter of rattlesnakes after this provincial manner is Isaac Spurr, who lives in the southen part of the county, near Mount Ever-ett, a region long noted for its snakes. Spurr always goes out just before a storm, for at that time, he says, experi-ence proves, the rattler comes out of his hole. He has caught thousands of these snakes in his time, and has acquired such knowledge of their habits that he can trap one every time. Years ago he found them much more plentiful and much larger. He caught one once which was eleven feet long and thirty-five years old. When Spurr dressed the snake for his oil, he found a young woodchuck in the stomach Spurr's reputation as a snake catcher extends far and wide, and when the zoological folks want a snake for exhibition they always drop Spurr a line, and they are rarely disappointed. Three rattlers caught by him were taken to the Central park zoo and are here now.
